

Lynn Smith
Brian Smith
416 Salem Avenue
Spring Lake, N.J. 07762
appealscourt@optonline.net
(732) 363-4451

April 18, 2019

Jeff Atkins, Esquire
Office of the Clerk
Supreme Court of the United States
Office of the Clerk
1 First Street, NE
Washington, D.C. 20543

Re: Application for Extension of Time to File According to Rule 33.1

Dear Mr. Atkins:

We appreciated your timely return of our call today.

Even though we are paying a $300 filing fee, we have been made indigent over the course of this litigation which started in 2009.

An initial reading of the Order and a summary of Rule 33.1 gave us the impression that printing the Writ would not be a problem. However, we now see that more is involved than first thought. We are now in the process of reviewing companies that sell the required papers and covers, and will be ordering what is needed for the filing of the petition.

Once we have the paper, we will manage to get the 40-booklets printed, but it will more than likely carry us past the April 22, 2019 date to get them to the Court.

We would appreciate anywhere from a 7-14-day extension to make sure this is done right.

Even without the significant cost of hiring a professional printing company, it will be a hardship money and timewise. However, since this is an effort which

- (1) could result in 201 families being returned up to $617 million in cash and $5 Billion in assets; and
- (2) will highlight what has been done to innocent hardworking families in New Jersey over the last ten years in the wake of the major banks receiving their bailouts from the Financial Crisis of 2007-2008, we are up to the task; we simply need the extension of 7-14 days.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Lynn Smith".A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Ryan Smith".