Question Presented

Can the state appeal court deny me my Constitutional Rights to my freedom, liberty, justice and due process of appealing it's denial of my petition for an extraordinary writ by refusing to give me a written reason or precedent as to why it denied my Petition For An Extraordinary Writ?

COURT

PETITION FOR WRIT OF CERTIORARI

Petitioner respectfully prays that a Writ of Certiorari be issued to review the judgement below

Opinion

The opinion of The Third District Court of Appeal State of Florida
Appendix B: ORDER Denying motion for Rehearing.

Jurisdiction

The date that the highest state court decided my case was on December 6, 2018, a copy of that decision appears at Appendix B.

Constitutional Provision

• Violation of Due Process of Appellate Review

• Violation of Freedom, Liberty and Justice.

Statement of The Case

- 1) ON October 25, 2018 IN aid of The Third District Court OF Appeal For The State OF Florida appellate jurisdiction in case number 3D16-2468, the petitioner filed a Petition For AN Extraordinary Writ, asking the court to appoint him an appellate attorney to file an appropriate 3.800 motion that the court had ordered and of which the trial court had prevented the petitioner from filing unless it was filed by a license member of the Florida Bar.
- 2) On November 14, 2018 The Third District Court OF Appeal State OF Florida, denied the petitioners Petition For AN Extraordinary Writ without telling the petitioner why it was denying the Writ or citing any precedent supporting it's denial.
- 3) On November 26, 2018 the petitioner filed a Motion For Re-hearing asking the Third District Court of Appeal State OF Florida to provide him with a copy telling him why the court denied his extraordinary writ or citing precedent supporting its denial, of the petitioners extraordinary writ.

4) On December 6, 2019 The Third District Court of Appeal State of Florida denied the petitioners Motion For Rehearing without addressing the merits of why it denied the petitioners writ.

5) On February 22, 2019 the petitioner filed Writ of Certiorari with the United States Supreme Court / copy filed with Attorney General State of Florida.

Reason For Granting Petition

The petitioner states that the reason this court should grant this petition is because without a written reason or cited precedent attached to it's denial the appeal court prevents, deprives and denies the petitioner and his writ's underlying claim due process of appellate and this court review.
