

Docket No.

Supreme Court of the United States

In re: Glenn Kingham §
v. § Habeas
Lori Davis TDC Director § Appeals Court for the service Ed Marshall § Fifth Circuit No. 17-20095

Application to Extend Time for Justice Neil Gorsuch

Rule 22 Extension of time to file Certiorari review of Fifth Circuit ruling is sought for Glenn Kingham.

A single judge denied COA on February 05, 2018.

Motion for panel rehearing was denied April 18, 2018.

This habeas involved many substantial right violations including the Brady rule but no findings of facts or ruling in law, conclusions was simply stated "denied".

Applicant did his due diligence to obtain the evidence, discovery, confrontation clause, including motion for discovery over a year before trial. Assertions at all three ~~fore~~ hearings, including obvious statements of "not waiving any rights", defence ~~he~~ needs discovery pre-trial to prepare if he decides to speak for himself.

The only evidence was an on scene police video that has exculpatory evidence within and on the video. This video was withheld from defence pre-trial. Defence was forced under threat and duress to go to trial absent his right to effective assistance of counsel inter alia.

The exculpatory evidence was continued to be withheld post conviction.

The 230th district court of Harris County, Texas is using incompetent or friendly counsel for the court to assist in United States Constitutional violations of federally protected rights to secure convictions.

This court imposed, rather than by my consent ^{counsel} withheld exculpatory evidence from the accused pre-trial and post conviction. The Harris County district attorneys office would use this court help to deny the accused the video pre trial.

This tactic was used by the State for over 1 year and 8 months to deny and withhold this video.

The accused asserted first hand knowledge of the "Terry" decision and Motion to Quash indictment due to fraud because he knew to stop was fabricated to the grand jury. Once the state became aware of the accused asserting his rights and knowledge of the tainted affidavit each acted together to deny due process and secure a Constitutionally infirm indictment and conviction.

Post conviction attempts through CAAPS was tried for almost 2 years to obtain the evidence from a Roger Denley, the States friendly counsel of the court, who had no loyalty to the falsely accused.

Its not until a Title 42 section 1983 complaint was filed against the Webster Police Department and their officer T. Pham that defence introduced a copy of this video from the custodial of records. Public information Act requests from this Webster police department was ignored for over 1 year, but defence team for this City thinking its the evidence for his client has finally given the wrongfully imprisoned the evidence he needs to prove his innocence.

Habeas applicant is not a legal technician and has had to learn legal arguments along the way while fighting his conviction and his §1983. The Fifth Circuit had recently ordered plaintiff to file a Brief. Plaintiff needed and received an extension to cover the facts and argue the legal issues. It's only recent that he has completed that ~~extensive~~ research.

Attention can be directed to Certiorari review but time is needed. I ask that a one time extension of 60 days be given to aid in defendant being able to argue the case and present properly Certiorari review if need be.

I pray this extension will be granted by the Court. Under rule 13.5 copies were sent to state under their local rule for 2nd or successive habeas. Attached are all that left of those orders which were just statements of "denial".
