LAREY DOUGLAS BROWN,

Petitioner-Appellant

v.

LORIE DAVIS, DIRECTOR, TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF CRIMINAL JUSTICE, CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTIONS DIVISION,

Respondent-Appellee

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas

ORDER:

Larey Douglas Brown, Texas prisoner # 1683629, moves for a certificate of appealability (COA) to appeal the district court's denial of his 28 U.S.C. § 2254 application challenging his 2010 convictions and sentences for three counts of aggravated sexual assault with a deadly weapon, one count of aggravated kidnapping with a deadly weapon, and one count of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon. He contends that the district court erred in applying the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act's deferential framework and denying his § 2254 application without conducting an evidentiary hearing. Brown also contends that the district court erred in denying his ineffective assistance of appellate counsel claims.

No. 17-41129

A COA may be issued “only if the applicant has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.” 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2). When the district court has rejected a constitutional claim on the merits, a COA will be granted only if the prisoner “demonstrate[s] that reasonable jurists would find the district court’s assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong” or that the issues presented are “adequate to deserve encouragement to proceed further.” Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). Brown has failed to make the requisite showing. See id.

Although Brown raised numerous other claims in his § 2254 application, he has failed to adequately brief them in his COA motion. Those claims are therefore abandoned. See Hughes v. Johnson, 191 F.3d 607, 613 (5th Cir. 1999).

Accordingly, Brown’s motion for a COA is DENIED. Brown’s motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis on appeal is also DENIED AS MOOT.
