EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE ORDER

The Executive Committee has become aware that Robert M. Kowalski has been loud and disrespectful of the court and court personnel. Further, he has become verbally combative with judges and often refuses to follow court procedures or respect the authority of the judge.

Mr. Kowalski's inappropriate conduct has raised concerns among the Court, the Clerk's Office, and the U.S. Marshals Service.

The Executive Committee finds that there is sufficient cause for concern regarding Mr. Kowalski's conduct if he is not escorted during his time in the Dirksen U.S. Courthouse in Chicago, Illinois or the Roszkowski U.S. Courthouse in Rockford, Illinois, therefore

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED That to maintain judicial security, Robert M. Kowalski is ordered to sign in upon arrival at the Dirksen U.S. Courthouse at 219 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60604 or at the Stanley J. Roszkowski U.S. Courthouse at 327 S. Church Street, Rockford, Illinois 61101, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED That a representative of the U.S. Marshals Service shall accompany Mr. Kowalski at all times while he is present in the Dirksen U.S. Courthouse or in the Stanley J. Roszkowski U.S. Courthouse, and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED That failure to comply with this order may lead to further sanctions. and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED That a miscellaneous file with the title "In the matter of Robert M. Kowalski" and case number 18 C 7228 shall serve as the repository of this order, and any order or minute order entered pursuant to this order. The Clerk will also maintain a miscellaneous docket associated with the file. All orders retained in the file will be entered on that docket following standard docketing procedures.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED That the Clerk shall cause a copy of this order to be emailed to Mr. Kowalski at Robert.224@icloud.com.

IN RE: ROBERT M. KOWALSKI,
Appellant.

Appeal from the United States District
Court for the Northern District of Illinois,
Eastern Division.

No. 18 C 7228

Rubén Castillo,
Chief Judge.

ORDER

The Executive Committee of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois issued an order requiring attorney Robert Kowalski to sign in upon entering the federal courthouses in the district and to be escorted by a United States Marshal while inside. Kowalski appeals that order, raising several constitutional arguments. But because the Executive Committee's order is not the result of judicial action, we dismiss the appeal for lack of jurisdiction.

* We have agreed to decide the case without oral argument because the brief and record adequately present the facts and legal arguments, and oral argument would not significantly aid the court. FED. R. APP. P. 34(a)(2)(C).

App D

According to the Executive Committee's order, it "became aware" that Kowalski "has been loud and disrespectful of the court and court personnel," "has become verbally combative with judges," and "often refuses to follow court procedures or respect the authority of the judge." On appeal, Kowalski disputes all these statements and challenges both the ex parte nature of the proceedings and the Executive Committee's power to enter the order restricting how he accesses the courthouses. The Committee, he argues, has "branded and silenced Attorney Kowalski as an enemy of the state," in violation of his constitutional rights to free speech, due process, confrontation, and trial by jury.

The Executive Committee can issue two types of orders: judicial and administrative. See In re Chapman, 328 F.3d 903, 904 (7th Cir. 2003); In re Palmisano, 70 F.3d 483, 484 (7th Cir. 1995). We have jurisdiction over appeals from the Executive Committee's judicial actions; administrative actions, on the other hand, are reviewed by this circuit's Judicial Council. See Chapman, 328 F.3d at 904. Here, the order requiring Kowalski to sign in and be escorted by a marshal while at the federal courthouses is administrative. See In re Long, 475 F.3d 880, 880–81 (7th Cir. 2007).

Kowalski tries to compare the order to other judicial actions, such as entering injunctions and imposing sanctions. See Chapman, 328 F.3d at 904–05 (filing restrictions are judicial actions); Palmisano, 70 F.3d at 484 (disbarment is judicial action). But no such order was issued against Kowalski. To curtail Kowalski's disruptive conduct, the Executive Committee issued the order in its "proprietary capacity, just like a restaurant that expels an unruly customer and forbids him to return." Long, 475 F.3d at 880–81. The order impacts only how Kowalski accesses the courthouses, not whether he may. See id. at 881. And although the Executive Committee threatened sanctions (which might include options that are judicial in nature) if Kowalski should fail to comply with its order, it has not yet done so.

We therefore lack jurisdiction to consider the order and DISMISS the appeal.
