AFFIDAVIT OR DECLARATION IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR LEAVE TO PROCEED IN FORMA PAUPERIS

I, Anna Maria Agolli, am the petitioner in the above-entitled case. In support of my motion to proceed in forma pauperis, I state that because of my poverty I am unable to pay the costs of this case or to give security therefor; and I believe I am entitled to redress.

Adjust any amount that was received weekly, biweekly, quarterly, semiannually, or annually to show the monthly rate. Use gross amounts, that is, amounts before any deductions for taxes or otherwise.

**so until a downstairs apartment that was flush to the ground/no steps to go in and out became available in July 2018. I moved hoping to have to still rent the upstairs apartment for about a month or so additional, but in addition to my own disability which required me to organize the move by placing a box where it would remain until the movers came and fill and tape it shut and get help with the actual move, etc., I also had emergency kidney-related surgery right from the ER in August and thereafter another two surgeries, two with full anesthesia and the final with local. So the moving just sat, although I didn't have to go upstairs just to get inside my apartment. I paid $1034 rent on the old apartment up to June 24, and $1056 for the downstairs apt also (the July rent on which was partial at $785.48) since July 9 2018 ending June 30 2019. So to pay it, I emptied and eventually closed my savings account by January, and then started withdrawing from IRA to pay my rent, which is what the IRA is for since I don't own a home and don't have a way of earning anything extra given that I'm disabled. Thus far, the CD that in my July 9 2018 case was 5579.66 is gone because of this additional rent, plus I have withdrawn $1034 from the IRA in January, February and March 2019 rents on the upstairs apartment, along with $439.45 for Medical Guardian annual bill so that when I pay my visa it will cover my medic alert annual payment also because the savings (consisting of SSDI retro) was where I would get money to pay bills that my monthly SSDI would not cover. I rented another apartment March 11 2019 because the complex where I've been living since April 2003 is rehab'g the apartments and although I just moved to the ground apartment, when they move me out shortly and rehab it, I may not be moved back into the same apartment and it's the only 1 bedrm I know of there with no steps to enter and leave the apartment itself. The new apartment has elevators and caters to disabled and seniors. So I can no longer stay there and must move to a place where there are elevators prior to the property's deadline, which I have to pay for of March 11 2019, and move in as quickly as I can manage it. The first month's rent and other costs and security deposit (in the total amount of $2,187) will be coming out of the IRA also.

She's owed me as far back as the 1990s nor can I lend her anything else since before I went on disability when I was struggling myself and had to borrow money to pay medical costs myself because now that I'm disabled and older I have to make sure I can pay my own bills without hardship that I can no longer endure because of my own condition. Once my money is gone, I can't just go and get a job to make up the difference when my SSDI is insufficient. It's very expensive to be disabled.

Except for PEPCO, which I pay for by check, and other expenses that I must pay by cash or go get a money order or some other special arrangement, I pay for everything by Visa, food, clothing, home items including cleaning, laundry, prescription co-pays, fedex, etc. So I will state a monthly Visa average and give estimates of how that money is allocated more or less. I put food and vitamins, household items and other purchases (including that were related to the moving) and clothing in one bulk category under food. I purchases vitamins direct from a vitamin outlet, that is listed separately but still paid by visa. Fedex, Staples and USPS are lumped together and a good amount of those costs were spent in handling this and other cases that have become necessary because of the situation for which I filed this case originally in one aspect or another. Liberty Mutual insurance is listed separately for the 2 apartments in the complex, and I will have to get insurance for the new apartment shortly which will not be reflected here although what I stop paying for the two apartments gradually will have a new apartment to still pay rent insurance for. Medical Guardian, fax services, phone and internet, are listed separately although part of the same Visa bill. Walmart and Wayfair for some clothes but mostly household items most of which were related to the move also are lumped into the food category along with prescription drugs obtained at CVS, although Foer's purchases (which were always all and only prescriptions) is listed separately. Cabs is listed separately but since I pay MetroAccess with cash I don't list it at all although certainly I've made use of MetroAccess. Sometimes I wind up paying by cash and will probably not include these expenditures in the monthly average. If I've paid by money order or some way that either came out of cash I had in pocket or has some other receipt that I didn't throw out, I list that separately. I tend to pay lump sums especially for PEPCO and Verizon, in advance, to insure I don't wind up not paying those bills because of some physical disability issue that I cannot predict will interfere with my making payments. I list them, and unless I say otherwise, they are paid by Visa. Cash purchases I forego for the most part.

*first rent (1271), security deposit (916), both out of the IRA, and renter insurance (122) on visa, are not part of the average but are example of having to produce large sums that will become part of a budget but are additional expense at the moment in order to be able to take advantage of renting an available apartment at full price that will decrease when my name comes up on the list, because even though I pay my bills always and am punctual, properties with rents at even the same amount as I pay or less will consider my income too low and won't let me in. So if a HUD property calls me, I grab that property especially if I know my building will rehab all the apartments and has given all residents an 120-day notice to vacate and I am not being guaranteed the same apartment with no steps back after the property moves me out and back into another apartment and mine is the only apartment that I've noticed that has no steps to get in and out, plus no guarantee that I will be in accessible apartment during the rehab.

9. Do you expect any major changes to your monthly income or expenses or in your assets or liabilities during the next 12 months?

☒ Yes    ☐ No    If yes, describe on an attached sheet.

Had to continue paying 2 rents until I managed to organize enough to be able to call the movers & then cleaners to close up the #304 and then the #204 apartment. Relinquished keys for #304 on June 24 and #204 on June 30, which is a year of 2 rents. Signed lease for current address on record March 11 2019 & had to pay rent and security and ongoing rent until the move out was complete. At this point, I only have to pay the $1271/mo for rent (916) and meal program ($355), which I grabbed when it became available and thus had to pay 3 rents per month since March 11, but now only the one rent although there are posts that the rent will go up to $940 for those like myself whose turn has not yet come to pay 30% of income as rent unless the current residents manage to petition against it.

I'm disabled&unable to just do a job when I need extra money,I could not even rely on being able to do a little packing everyday so they don't wind up paying rent for a year on an apartment they're not living in.The nature of this case&all my writs in the past has to do w/something that endangers me&can cost me my life, almost has more than once in the past, so I don't have the option of just not doing anything but have to scramble&do whatever I can manage in what avenues are available,even if it's a shabby horrible job (like this writ will probably be considered)compared to what a lawyer would do for me,if I can get one who will just do the job&get paid for it instead of figuring how to settle and get his Laffey Matrix out of it or a nice lump sum at the cost of the justice&exposure of the matter I entrust to that lawyer.I need a correction or justice, not for a lawyer to make money off my living in danger.My disability ...

...alone costs me all sorts of money in cabs,extra time/rents in an apartment I want to leave, etc.,& I have this stuff too. I won't survive homelessness.My writs only reveal the tip of the iceberg in terms of how endangered I am. It's not good to have police want your demise be it physical or otherwise bec they refuse to legitimately arrest&prosecute violent crime&criminals bec they're friends w/Bishop Loverde, et al.When my money is gone,&it's the only hedge I have against the danger w/o actually taking me out of danger,I'm as good as dead.I'm disabled,I need access to money to do whatever becomes nec to be able to function&also spend money in court or cut around corrupt law enforcement to get what's right.I spent $150 in February to file something w/the court w/in the day that I couldn't do bec it was snowing &I fall suddenly w/o the danger of snow or ice as it is,&using MetroAccess is no guarantee of safety bec I have fallen even though I had taken MetroAccess,&I wound up in the ER. I must be able to pay expenses that come up suddenly like this.As you know,I can't call an ambulance from my home bec of the EMT/MPD issues at the crux of this writ&the previous one still unresolved..

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

UPDATES TO IFP July 22 2019

I moved out of 3304 6th Street SE #304 DC 20032 (hereafter, #304) on May 31 2019, having the apartment cleaned and relinquishing the keys June 24 2019. I moved remaining boxes out of 3304 6th Street SE #204 DC 20032 (hereafter, #204) June 28 2019, having the place cleaned and relinquishing the keys on June 30 2019. I paid for the move-out cleaning with checks, $340 total including tips for #304 and $109 for #204.

****The average for rents from March – July 2019, for all 3 apartments, is  $$14,389.20 / 5 = 2,877.84$ . Note that I paid 827.20 for #304 for the month of June because I relinquished the keys on June 24, so that is the pro rata amount for 24 days. However, I was told by the leasing manager at the inspection for #304 that there was no balance due with no further explanation and in spite of my telling her that my math was right, she returned the check for 827.20 to me and made me sign for it plus they sent me a check $207 in the mail. My math was not wrong but I'm not a lawyer and maybe there was some legal reason for this reimbursement. I have not cashed the check for $207 nor have I voided the $827.20 check yet because I don't know why they gave me that money and may have to give it back. Maybe I will give it back without having to. Once I relinquished the keys, this leasing manager, Nola Eaton, made herself hard to contact for the inspection, she no-showed for one appointment, and at the next attempt to do the inspection on #304, I wound up waiting in the empty #204 apartment for hours (used the toilet as a chair because there was no furniture to sit on) for her to acknowledge my voicemails and emails, until she finally deigned to do the inspection, which is when she gave back the $827.20 check and told me I would be getting more reimbursement when I told her I was not leaving a forwarding address. She didn't say what these additional reimbursements were but asked if I didn't want to leave a forwarding address to be able to receive them. I still left no forwarding address, although I was curious about this additional reimbursements that she didn't explain beyond as a reason to leave a forwarding address. I didn't want to leave a forwarding address because Nola Eaton put a notice on my #304 door in mid-late-January, a good amount of time after the rent check could so easily be proven that it had cleared, saying that I had failed to pay the rent and what the penalty, etc., plus rent amount that was immediately due or else there might be legal action. This was right after I made a legitimate complaint about her, which behavior she continued to exhibit even though I complained and was told that I had to get what I needed from Nola Eaton even though I inquired elsewhere and complained that she ignored communication too often, etc. (Eaton's lack of response caused me to lose an apartment at Victory Square that was offered, although I miraculously still got the HUD apartment I now live in shortly thereafter.) When I saw the false no rent notice, I complained to her direct supervisor and requested she be fired, but she was not only still working there when I left 6 months later but as to the false non-payment of rent notice, there was never an apology or explanation, not even a statement that they were mistaken and just pay the next rent when due, there was no communication, nothing at all. So, I have to wonder if I'm going to get harassment or some legal action about that free money and need to return it. Thank God I video-taped the conversation wherein I told her my math was right and all they sent me was information that reflected there was no balance due and they gave the $827.20 back along with a check for $207, which when I added it, amounts to $1034.20, comes to just about one month's rent. I was curious what this additional reimbursement would be about and to see if they offered further explanation because I certainly wouldn't be going by what Nola Eaton said, and I can't say that I really know even now. They mailed the check to my #304 address and USPS forwarded it to my current address. I also inquired about inspection promptly upon relinquishing the keys for #204 and as of today, July 21 2019, I have not heard from her yet. Anyway, there's $1034.20 floating around that I may have to return. MPD would frequently spend time in the leasing office when I had called to make a report, which usually they would not take. Someone who treats someone the way Eaton treated me is possibly unaware of the magnitude of her actions or assured there will be no consequences.

So I was paying $2090/month total for both #204 and #304 apartment, plus rent on the 4201 Butterworth apartment since March 11 2019, in the amount of $916/mo. for the rent and as of June 1 2019, an additional $355/mo for the mandatory meal program ($1271 per month), plus a security deposit of $916. I also paid $591 pro-rated for March.

I paid via credit card to First Choice Movers for the May 31 #304 move and discarding the majority of the furniture, $165 deposit and $1,222.50, and this amount is reflected in the Visa averages for this updated period. I paid UTeam $308.88 on Visa for the additional move from #204 on June 28 2019, and a tip by check for $38. I paid for the move-out cleaning by check, $340 for the #304 apartment and $109 for the #204 apartment, including tips.

To update #4 of the IFP declaration...

As of June 28 2019 Capital One IRA balance is 16,270.01 and checking is still $5.71.

Based on Bank of America statements ending June 30 2019 for all the IRAs and the $799 distribution I made in July, the current balance total without calculating the insignificant amount of interest should be $255,711.12.

As of the Bank of America May 30 - June 26 2019, Checking ending balance was $1,419.73

I took IRA distributions from January - June 30 2019 in the amount of $10,808.65 transferred to my checking plus an additional $799 in July 2019 to insure the Visa payment went through on July 11, most of the distributions were to pay rents but also for Medical Guardian annual bill and a new mattress, the move and clean up.

January 11 2019 $1034 for #304 rent
February 8 2019 $1034 for #304 rent
March 5 2019 $1034 for #304 rent
March 8 2019 $439.45 for annual Medical Guardian
April 2 2019 $1034 for #304
April 5 2019 $591 for rent on new apartment (hereafter SFT)
May 3 2019 $1254 for SFT
June 3 2019 $1034 for #304 rent

June 25 2019 $1167.20 for moving and cleaning paid via Visa and via check
July 2019 $799 to pay for the new mattress.

#8 Update, additional to the costs already on the IFP, these additional sheets include averages of Visa payments for the period February 15 - July 14 2019. There might be some overlap at February/March 2019 because when I first filled in the IFP sheets, this writ was due March 14 and I pulled information from the February/March 2019 visa statement and added whatever new information I could recall offhand. I still have no spouse so all the answers pertain only to me.

Rent has been $1056 for #204 apartment from July 9 2018 when I accepted the keys, through June 30 2019 and $1034 for #304 apartment from before I moved into #204 through June 24 (****see information above for more detail).

Property taxes were included in the rents at 3304 6th Street apartments, I presume this is applicable to the current apartment too.

Utilities, no real change, $50-80 per month still but as of the end of June, I closed my accounts with Pepco. The new apartment includes utilities. At the end of August 2018 I ended my account with Verizon. In May 2018 I signed on with T-Mobile with a new phone and phone number and kept this in lieu of the landline with Verizon, this includes data and messaging, $86.66/month with some variation depending upon whatever can happen with such contracts. I use a fax service that is $10/month unless I go over their limit, in which case it will cost by the page. I continue to pay for the Yahoo website $119.40 once a year. I canceled Liberty Mutual Renter's insurance for #304 as of June 24 and on #204 as of June 30 -- I had to pay $3 extra for #304 and I got a $4 refund on the #204. I will only need to maintain the renters insurance for the 4201 Butterworth apartment at $122/year that I paid for in March.

Home repair and maintenance, food, dry-cleaning and laundry, Medical and dental. I lump these together because I still use my Visa to buy everything as long as another type of payment is not required instead. For instance, I buy food at a Whole Foods, but also at CVS along with prescriptions. My prescriptions usually average less than $10/month because I have QMB, so I just lump that together with other purchases. Haven't been to a dentist for many years so there's no point itinerating medical costs when most of those get paid or lowered by Medicare and QMB. I get food at Bed Bath & Beyond as well as household products. I get household products as well as clothing etc., from Walmart. So all that is lumped together and averaged here for the months February - July, 5 bills covering 7 months, for this update also. I usually don't keep track of cash transactions because I rarely use cash.

Food and Miscellaneous as described average: 687.55

Fedex (not including the cost for this writ, of course): 140

USPS (not including the cost for this writ): 32.34

Envelopes (bought at CVS) 5.33

Liberty Mutual (Renter's insurance #304 paid month by month since July in anticipation of moving):
13.6+

(+for some reason, this amount sounds wrong, but I can't go through the amounts again, it doesn't make that much of a difference, what I think it should be is about $30 a month since July 2018.

Liberty Mutual (Renter's insurance 4201 Butterworth) 24.4

Moving costs (that were paid with Visa only): 350.91

Fax: 10

T-Mobile: 86.66

Best Buy: 13.35

Taxi: 26.80

New Mattress: 159.8***

***I bought a mattress for $999 in July 2018 and requested a refund which I'm supposed to get soon hopefully. In June 2019 I bought a $799 mattress to replace that, for which this is an average of these 5 additional visa bills, I also averaged checks by 5 too..

Amazon 39.32 (my walker/wheelchair broke and I am using instead a walker I had dropped down the flight of stairs going to #304 apartment and was held together with tape. I bought a mobility unit (chose the wrong kind in error and wound up keeping it because I didn't have time to return it and also I had no reason to think the walker held together by tape wouldn't come apart so at least I had something I could use instead that was better than my cane from long ago) in case the taped up one broke while I was waiting for the scooter my doctor prescribed. The taped together walker did in fact lost a taped together piece but it's still working, but I have the other one in case it predictably abandons me hopefully before I leave my house so I can remedy it.

Visa bill average was as follows, total visa bills February – July is $8,064.08 / 5 = 1,612.82.

Averages by check:

Movers and cleaners: 49.4

Did not keep track of MetroAccess use because I pay for this with cash.

All totals were averaged, divided by 5, including the ones not paid by visa but by check, even if I paid such things as the moving expenses and mattresses all at once.

This is as accurate as I could make it in the time I devoted to this. Thank you for your patience.
