CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS INVOLVED

1. (1st) First Amendment the Right to Redress
in the Bill of Rights U.S. Constitution
2. Article 3 section 1 Civil officers shall hold their offices during good behavior
3. The Judiciary Act of 1789
4. Judges Canons

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner had petitioned district Court judge Cormac Carney to disqualify himself due to his many improprieties, bias and erroneous decision making including but not limited to; refusal to appoint Counsel (5) five times in four (4) cases petitioner had filed in Riverside, California Federal Court, Ordering Sanctions against Petitioner for not traveling (105) one hundred and five miles to attend a video deposition when the rules of his Court clearly states the defendants were to come to the city where Plaintiff (Petitioner) lives, by refusing to make or send an order to serve all Parties and then dismissing the case due to "failure to prosecute," and by practicing law while on the bench giving defendants an advantage and violating the Judiciary Act of 1789 and Petitioner's 1st Amendment Right to Redress.

District Court Judges Cormac and Staton erred in not disqualifying himself and Staton agreed with him.

The 9th Circuit also agreed Cormac is allowed to practice law from the bench, deny appointment of Counsel to a black woman living below poverty who can not afford counsel and had been rejected by the PJI, NAACP, ACLU, MANN, NAMI, NOW, Rainbow Coalition, & Southern Poverty Law Center.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE PETITION

Petitioner is a disabled Black woman, a pro se litigant filing IN FORMER PAUPERS.

Petitioner is an American Citizen born in Compton, California.

This is Petitioner's third writ of Certiorari to the Supreme Court of the United States. (~~1~~ was denied)

(I will be reviewed in October 2019) (I will be filed soon).

These case have been deemed related by District Court Judge Cormac Carney, though they are not related.

Carney has denied Petitioner Appointment of Counsel stating, "Plaintiffs are not allowed appointment of counsel."

Carney has refused to disqualify himself due to his many improprieties, repeatedly.

Carney has practiced law while on the bench giving defendants tactical advantage.

Carney has obstructed justice in denying petitioner the right to redress, repeatedly.

Carney has allowed officers working under the color of law to repeatedly violate petitioner's constitutional rights.

The 9th circuit concurred with Carney.

Petitioner is of the disadvantaged class of people and can not afford counsel to represent petitioner's rights, guarantees privileges and interest in these Civil Rights Violation Cases.

"Equal Justice Under Law" is the Motto of the Federal Court but most Americans of Color can not afford Justice due to the fact that Reparations were never given though Congress did admit it was wrong to enslave my people, and Norman Rockwell called it "the problem we all live with" (1964) (SEE: EXHIBIT B).
In order to establish justice is in the Preamble for U.S. Constitution (SEE: EXHIBIT A).
Government intrusion is a problem nationwide for a long time (SEE: EXHIBIT C) and the judicial circuit allows it and the slaughter of unarmed people of Color born in this nation.

CONCLUSION

Appointment of Counsel for pro se litigants who have been wronged by their County, state, nation is necessary for Redress and Judges acting in good behavior.
The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

Barbara Eva Brown, in PRO PER
