JUDICIAL NOTICE AND ADOPTION

The Appellant respectfully moves this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court to take judicial notice pursuant to Fla. Stat. Chapter 90.202(5)(b)(7)(11)(12), 190.203; Fla. R. App. P. 9.140(h)(i), that he is adopting his 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief filed in the trial Court, reviewed by the lower tribunal and all its claims on January 14, 2019, for review on this Petition for Certiorari.

He believes that this petition is being filed in good faith and that this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court will reasonably find reversible errors in the lower Court's ruling with the specific legal and factual grounds presented thereto for that opinion.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In this Petition for Certiorari, the Petitioner will be referred to as Appellant.
The State of Florida as Respondent.

This Petition for Review on Certiorari is being filed in good faith in accordance with the U.S. Supreme Court's Rules 10-14, because of an existence of conflicts created by the lower Court with other Appellate Courts when it per curiam affirmed the trial Court's silent ruling. That, ruling by the three Judge panel not only created a conflict with other Courts but as well as with its own prior rulings, which gave rise to this Petitioner for Review on Certiorari being filed.

Where the petitioner establishes that such conflict does exist by the lower Court's per curiam affirmed and by virtue of this Honorable Court, It does not require anything less, but to resolve such conflicts as they existed in this case in order to promote confidence and public trust in the judicial system. It would constitute a mockery of justice should the Court ignore such gross miscarriage of justice perpetuated against the Appellant.

Any failure in resolving such conflicts would eviscerate the only force of this Honorable Court with the capability and the duty to address this issue as it has occurred in this case.

SUMMARY OF THE ARGUMENT

After the Appellant filed his notice of appeal, he never received any notice from the lower Court. Instead on July 29, 2019 he received the Order per curiam affirm. (See attached Exhibit A1). In rendering this order, the panel may have overlooked the law of the case doctrine that holds a decision rendered in a former appeal of a case is binding in a later appeal as it applies in this case. The Appellant subsequently filed for an En Banc Rehearing on August 5, 2019, to no avail. (See attached Exhibit A2)

This Motion for Certiorari has ensued as a result of the panel's per curiam affirm the trial Court's procedural errors in summarily denying the Appellant's 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief, without attachment of any portion of the record that conclusively refute the claims raised, failed to address the merits, nor elaborate on its rationale for the denial, expressly and directly conflicts with the opinion of the Court in Smith v. State, 719 So. 2d 1017 (Fla. 4th DCA 1998); Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(d).

Consequently, the claims remains unrefuted and should be accepted as truth by this Honorable Court and take the appropriate action in favor of the Appellant by reversing and remanding to the trial Court for evidentiary hearing or attachment of portions of the record showing that Appellant was not entitled to relief for ineffective assistance of counsel as required by due process.

On July 29, 1991, the Appellant timely and properly filed his 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief pursuant to Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850, claiming ineffective assistance of trial counsel and prosecutorial misconduct, clearly demonstrated prima facie ground for relief. On July 31, 1991, the Clerk of the Court received the petition and it was summarily denied on the exact same day without attachment of any portion of the record to conclusively show that the petition was entitled to no relief. (See attached Exhibit A3).

The denial was in violation of the Appellant's Procedural Rights to Due Process in light of the adoption of Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(d),(f)(2); Fla. R. App. P. 9.141(2)(d). The Legislature had promulgated the above procedural laws that prescribed the steps for having a right of duty judicially enforced. Furthermore, the trial Court was obligated to follow the above established rules and principles for the protection and enforcement of the Appellant's rights to a fair hearing. Such power is vested upon the trial Court, but failed to comply with the due process standards of fairness and justice when it summarily denied the Appellant's 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief.

Ever since, the Appellant, throughout the years has repeatedly informed the lower Court of the procedural errors committed by the trial Court when the original 3.850 Motion was filed. Instead of addressing the merits, each time the Appellant filed a Petition, the trial Court always denied the petition as being successive or procedural barred or insufficient to avoid addressing the merits. (See attached Exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8).

Because the 3.850 Motion was timely filed and the merits of the issues were not properly addressed neither resolved by the Court, thus under the doctrine of equitable tolling, the Appellant was entitled to refile his 3.850 Motion until the issues are resolved on the merits. Consequently, on January 14, 2019, he filed the present 3.850 Motion currently on appeal, because the trial Court has also committed procedural errors when it summarily denied the Motion without addressing the merits nor any attachment of the record nor its rationale for the denial. (See attached Exhibit B).

However, on a Motion for Rehearing filed on February 27, 2019, after receiving the denial order on February 19, 2019, in which Appellant requested that should the Court find no merits, the law requires that the record that refutes all the claims should be attached with the Court's ruling or should it find that the Motion is successive, the record shall also be attached showing the successiveness with the previous ruling on the merits including the Court's reason or rationale.

It was therefore unconscionable, an affront to the sense of justice for the trial Court to have neglected to do the above when it rendered the final order denying the Appellant's 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief on April 29, 2019, as being insufficient, given the Appellant 30 days to appeal, a clear procedural error. (See attached Exhibit #8).

Therefore, the panel's per curiam ruling was contrary to "Stare Decisi Doctrine," under which a Court must follow earlier judicial decisions when the same point arise again in litigation. Thus in this case, it creates a conflict with the opinion of other Courts on this issue.

Consequently, a Review on Certiorari has become imperative in order to resolve such conflict with other sister Courts, created by the panel when it per curiam affirmed the lower tribunal's silent ruling. (See Wilson v. Sellers, U.S. Case No. 16-6855, April 17, 2018.

APPELLANT'S ARGUMENTS ON CONFLICT

QUESTION ONE

WHETHER THE ORDER ENTERED ON JULY 24, 2019, BY THE THREE JUDGE PANEL, PER CURIAM AFFIRMED THE TRIAL COURT'S ERRONEOUS RULING CREATED A CONFLICT WITH OTHER COURTS PERTAINING TO THE CLAIMS PRESENTED FOR REVIEW IN THE APPELLANT'S 3.850 MOTION?

The Due Process Clause of the 5th and 14th Amendments of the U.S. Constitution prohibit the government from unfairly or arbitrarily depriving a person of liberty...Such rights are so fundamentally important as to require compliance with due process standards of fairness and justice.

The Appellant was deprived of such rights when the panel may have misapprehended the law as it should have been applied in this case when it per curiam affirmed the trial Court's erroneous ruling.

As a matter of fact, the Appellant clearly elaborated in his Motion for Post Conviction Relief how he was a victim of a fundamental miscarriage of justice where the trial Court ignored the law that should have been applied. The Appellant also pointed out all the facts and laws that the panel has misapprehended in its review of the lower Court's ruling when it per curiam affirming the trial Court's silent ruling.

The panel has also overlooked the fact that the Appellant's claims were never addressed by the trial Court on its merits, therefore remain unresolved. A conflict is therefore created where the panel ignored the “Stare Decisis Doctrine” for failure to follow prior precedent from earlier judicial decision on the same point as it applies in this case.

Wherefore, for the general welfare of the public or great public interest, a Review on Certiorari has become necessary in order to correct such gross miscarriage of justice as it occurred in this case. Because, it is a procedural error for the trial Court not to attached portion of the record when it summarily denied the Appellant’s 3.850 Motion.

APPELLANT'S ARGUMENTS ON PROCEDURAL ERRORS

QUESTION TWO

WHETHER THE TRIAL COURT COMMITTED
PROCEDURAL ERRORS WHEN IT SUMMARILY
DENIED A PROPERLY FILED AND SUFFICIENTLY
PLED 3.850 MOTION FOR POST CONVICTION
RELIEF FILED ON JULY 31, 1991 WITHOUT ATTACHMENT OF ANY PORTION OF THE RECORD THAT CONCLUSIVELY SHOWS THE MOVANT WAS ENTITLED TO NO RELIEF?

PROCEDURAL ERROR
ARGUMENT

The Appellant on July 29, 1991, timely and properly filed his 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief, clearly demonstrated prima facie grounds for relief. The trial court procedurally unconscionably with extreme unfairness summarily denied the Motion the same day it was received by the Clerk of Court on July 31, 1991, without attachment of any portion of the record to show that the Appellant was entitled to no relief. (See attached Exhibit A3)

The substantive unconscionability of the Court's unfairness is that, in spite of the undisputed facts that actually existed and presented in support of the Appellant's claims, the Court disregarded the following legislative facts that explain the rationality of the law to be applied that is essential to the issues at hand:

- 1. The Court failed to render a non final order allowing the Petitioner at least one opportunity of (60) days to amend the petition to correct any deficiency in violation of Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(f)(2); U.S. C. Amend. 6.
- 2. The Court did not attach any portion of the record, showing that the Petitioner is entitled to no relief.

- 3. The Court never ordered a show cause to the Respondent.
- 4. The Court never ordered an evidentiary hearing in violation of Fla. Crim. P. 3.850(d), Fla. R. App. P. 9.141(2)(d).
- 5. The Court never notified the Petitioner that he has 30 days to appeal that unjust ruling.
- 6. The Court never stated or elaborated on the reason or its rationale in its order. (See attached Exhibit A3)

Therefore, his 3.850 Motion was never properly pled nor disposed on the merits as required by the above enacted laws. The Court's procedural errors in denying the Motion, expressly and directly conflicted with prior opinion of the lower court, the 3rd District Court of Appeal in:

Perez v. State*, 746 So. 2d 521 (Fla. 3rd DCA 1999)
Roth v. State, 479 So. 2d 848 (Fla. 3rd DCA 1985)
Cueto v. State, 88 So. 3d 1064; 37 Fla. L. Weekly (Fla. App. 3rd DCA 2012)

In Foster v. State, 993 So. 2d 97 (Fla. 1st DCA 2005) the Court held:

"...It is reversible error for trial Judge to neglect to attach the relevant files to the order denying the Motion, as required by the rule."

Also in conflict with the following Courts:

Spera v. State*, 971 So. 2d 754 (Fla. 2007);
Gallo v. State, No. 4 D14-3424, May 13, 2015;
Nelson v. State, 875 So. 2d at 583 (Fla. 2004);
Dries v. State, 899 So. 2d 489 (Fla. 2d DCA 2005);
Lewis v. State, 51 So. 3d 618 (Fla. 1st DCA 2011);
Pierre v. State, 973 So. 2d 647 (Fla. 5th DCA 2005).

Since the alleged procedural errors appear on the face of the record, this U.S. Supreme Court is entitled to review the merits of the claims and the previous order of summary denial, because it conflicted the following:

Hutchins v. State*, 750 So. 2d 119 (Fla. 2nd DCA 1999);
Williams v. State, 358 So. 2d 1165 (1978);
Jacobs v. State, 880 So. 2d 548 (2004), No. SC02-107;
Scott v. State, 658 So. 2d 558 (Fla. 1st DCA 1995);
Ames v. State, 518 So. 2d 465 (Fla. 1st DCA 1988).

Furthermore, when the trial court entered its order on July 31, 1991, it was improperly done in violation of the procedural rules of law, thus tolled the time, because the claims were not conclusively refuted by the record, were not properly addressed, nor disposed on the merits.

Thus, pursuant to the doctrine of equitable tolling, the Motion was timely filed and improperly denied, there remains, therefore, a gap for the Defendant to refile with a timely Post Conviction Motion. However, the trial court never provided the Appellant with an opportunity to fill that gap with a properly refilled Motion for Post Conviction Relief, before the deadline expired. Therefore, it would be grossly unfair and unjust to penalize the Appellant for the Court's procedural errors.

The Appellant, therefore had the right under Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(f) to file a successive 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief, raising the same claim, to fill the gap after the deadline pursuant to the doctrine of equitable tolling.

Furthermore, the restriction against successive Motion on the same grounds is applied only when the grounds raised were previously adjudicated on their merits and not where the previous Motion was summarily denied. In this case, Appellant's case was never adjudicated on the merits. (See attached Exhibit A3)(see Ames v. State, supra).

Consequently, on January 14, 2019, the Appellant filed the present extraordinary pleading currently on appeal, titled "Second or Successive 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief, pursuant to Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(h)(2).

Upon receipt of the Motion a show cause was ordered, but the Respondent failed to address the merits of the claims, instead requested that the Appellant be sanctioned. (See attached Exhibit C).

The trial Court should have considered the merits of the claims raised in the Motion. In spite of the preponderance of clear and convincing evidence presented in the Motion that a manifest injustice has indeed occurred in this case, still the trial Court refused to address the merits of the claims. Thus, committed procedural errors when it summarily denied the Motion without attachments of that portion of the file and record necessary to accompany the order denying the Motion, in violation of Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(d); (f)(2), (h)(2). (See attached Exhibit B).

Such grossly unfair ruling expressly and directly conflicts with the opinion of the Court in Ames v. State, supra. (See attached Exhibit D).

Neither the trial Court ever attached evidence showing the successiveness with the previous ruling on the merits, nor any evidence that conclusively refute the claims on the merits, nor the Court's reasons or rationale.

Such grossly unfair ruling violated the Appellant's procedural due process rights, because the exact basis of the order denying the Motion was not clear nor ever stated, the case should be remanded to the trial Court for attachments, or for further proceedings on the merits, consistent with the applicable law.

After consideration of the unique procedural history of this case, this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court should conclude that good cause existed to allow the successive filing pursuant to Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(h)(2), and reverse the lower court's ruling.

In Coleman v. State, 128 So. 3d 193, 194 (Fla. 5th DCA 2013) the Court held:

"...To prevent a manifest injustice and a denial of due process, post conviction relief may be afforded when a litigant raising a successive claim." U.S.C. Amend. 14; Thornton v. State, 963 So. 2d 8004 (Fla. 3rd DA 2007).

APPELLANT'S ARGUMENTS ON PROCEDURAL ERRORS

QUESTION THREE

WHETHER THE APPELLANT WAS PROCEDURALLY PREJUDICED WHEN THE TRIAL COURT FAILED TO ADDRESS THE MERITS OF THE CLAIMS RAISED IN HIS 3.850
MOTION FOR POST CONVICTION RELIEF
FILED ON JANUARY 14, 2019 THUS DEPRIVED
HIM OF HIS CONSTITUTIONAL PROCEDURAL RIGHTS TO DUE PROCESS WITHOUT ATTACHMENT OF THE RECORD?

PROCEDURAL ERROR
ARGUMENT

When the Appellant filed his second or successive 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief in the trial court, it was because the original 3.850 when it was timely filed was never disposed of on the merits as required by procedural due process. Until this day, the issues remain unresolved nor refuted by the record.

The law makes it absolutely clear that:

“A successive Motion raising the same grounds for relief can only be denied as an abuse of process if the prior determination was on the merits.” (See attached Exhibit D)

The law further states:

Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(f): In order to uphold a denial of a postconviction relief on that basis (successive motion), excerpts from the record demonstrating the successiveness of the motion must be attached to the order of denial.” (See Smith v. State, (supra).

When the trial Court erroneously denied the Appellant's 3.850 Motion, it failed to follow the above required procedures, thus making its ruling illegal, unconstitutional and should be voided.

Throughout the years the Appellant has repeatedly informed the Circuit Court and the lower Court of the fact that the Appellant's claims were never adjudicated on the merits, instead, the trial court denied relief, citing insufficient and the lower Court affirmed these erroneous rulings in per curiam decision without an opinion. (See attached Exhibit 1 through 8).

The Appellant now is respectfully requesting to this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court to direct the lower court to instruct the trial court to address the merits or attach portion of the record as required by procedural due process.

A review of the Appellant's second and successive 3.850 Motion will clearly demonstrate that he has been a victim of a fundamental miscarriage of justice. And, where there is such a "manifest injustice," it is the responsibility of the Court to correct such injustice as states in State v. McBride, 848 So.2d 287, 291-92 (Fla. 2003); Ranes v. State, 913 So.2d 742, 743 (Fla. 4th DCA 2005).

As demonstrated through the claims raised in his petition, the Appellant has been wrongly convicted or imprisoned in violation of his constitutional rights to due process.

When the trial court summarily denied the Petition without attachments of the record, neither stated its rationale, it violated the fundamental idea of justice and fairness, the basic principle that underlies the judicial system of this country. Thus, committed procedural errors that requires reversal and remand to the trial court for attachments of the record or conduct an evidentiary hearing.

QUESTION FOUR

WHETHER THE APPELLANT WAS PROCEDURALLY
PREJUDICED AND SUBSTANTIALLY, BECAUSE OF PROSECUTORIAL AND POLICE MISCONDUCT FOR WILLFULLY WITHHELD EXCULPATORY EVIDENCE
FAVORABLE TO THE DEFENSE AFTER IT WAS LEGALLY REQUESTED BY THE DEFENSE COUNSEL?

PROCEDURAL ERROR
ARGUMENT

The appellant in his 3.850 Motion for Post Conviction Relief, issued 10, currently on appeal clearly elaborated how he was procedurally prejudiced in the context of discovery violations when the police and the prosecutor willfully withheld the taped recording evidence from defense lawyer.

The evidence has become material when the accusers contradicted the content of the police report. Therefore, Defendant's preparation or strategy would have been materially different had the violation not occurred. The Appellant has fully explained in his 3.850 Motion issue 10, how this violation affects defense trial preparedness.

Consequently, the error substantially prejudiced his case to a point whereas it affected the jury's verdict, because the jury would have had the opportunity to hear the real truth about the accusation.

The Appellant is now praising this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court to take judicial notice of the following laws that the police and the prosecutor have violated pertaining to this issue:

Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.220(b)(1)(B) discovery obligation and 3.220(j) continuing duty to disclose. Fla. Rule of Court 4-3.8(c) "... The prosecutor in a criminal case shall make timely disclosure to the defense of all evidence known to the prosecutor..." Fed. R. Crim. P. 12(b)(3).

In Stipp v. State, 371 So. 2d 712 (Fla. 4th DCA 1979), the Court was concerned with the breaches of Rule 3.220(a)(1)(vi) and basic fairness.

In Farrell v. State, 317 So. 2d 142 (1975) the Court held:

"...Suppression by the prosecutor of evidence favorable to an accused upon request violated due process, irrespective of the good or bad faith of the prosecution...acts forbidden by Fed. and State Constitutions."

These violations were substantial and undeniably presented in the Motion, where they had a negative effect on defense counsel's ability to properly prepare for trial. Scipio v. State, 867 So. 2d 427 (Fla. 5th DCA 2004); State v. Evans, 770 So. 2d 1174, 1182 (Fla. 2000). (See attached Exhibit E)

It is, therefore procedurally unconscionably, despite of the above dispositive fact that is so decisively indicative of the discovery violation in this case and for the Court to ignore these judicial facts, is "beyond the pale."

The trial Court should have ordered an evidentiary hearing in order to determine to what extent these laws have been violated in this case. Instead, the Court committed procedural errors when it summarily denied the Appellant's second or successive 3.850 Motion without stating its rationale for the denial, nor attached any portion of the record that conclusively refute the claims.

Without the Court's rationale for the denial, there is no way the lower Appellate Court could determine the true intent of the trial Judge. Therefore, the claims were not formally disposed of on the merits, thus remain unrefuted by the record. This Honorable U.S. Supreme Court should reverse the lower Court's rulings with the instruction to remand to the trial Court for attachments of the record or for an evidentiary hearing on the merits of the claims in the interest of equal justice.

APPELLANT'S ARGUMENTS ON PROCEDURAL ERRORS

QUESTION FIVE

WHETHER THE APPELLANT WAS DENIED DUE PROCESS AND A FAIR TRIAL WHERE THE PROSECUTOR FAILED TO PROVE THE ESSENTIAL ELEMENT PERTAINING TO THE DATES OF THE ALLEGATION BEYOND A REASONABLE DOUBT AS REQUIRED FOR CONVICTION?

ARGUMENT ON PROCEDURAL ERROR

In the instant case, the Appellant was denied Due Process and a fair trial, because the prosecution did not prove the essential element of the charges pertaining to the date of the allegations beyond a reasonable doubt. The evidence presented through the testimony of the State's witnesses was insufficient to establish the dates of the allegation as required for conviction.

The jury charging document stated as follows:

"...Before you can find the Defendant guilty, the State must prove that the crime alleged in Counts II and VI were committed between December 1, 1985 and July 11, 1986..."

"...The State must prove that the crimes alleged in Counts I, IV, V, VII were committed between March 1st, 1986 and July 11, 1986." (Trial T. Pg. 602)

On direct examination, the following occurred: Date concerning R.L.

(Counts II and VI)

Q. ...From Christmas last year until July of 86, did you come to visit during that time?

A: No

Q: I want you to tell these people what happened with Sergo, Okay?

A: I don't remember the date.

Q: It was a long time ago wasn't it?

A: Yes (Trial (T. Pg. 302)

These answers did not prove between December 1985 and July 11, 1986.

On direct examination concerning the offense date on R.P. (Counts IV, V, VII):

By the prosecutor:

"...Over a year ago, lets go back to 1986.

Q: Can you tell these people exactly when it happened?

A: I don't remember. (Trial T. Pg. 194-198)

This answer did not prove between March 1st, 1986 and July 11, 1986.

Date concerning S.L. by Ms. Rifkin (Count I):

Q: How long after it happened did you tell?

A: I don't remember.

Q: How old were you when all this happened?

A: I don't know, I guess about nine or ten. (Trial T. Pg. 264, 265).

To be noted S.L. was born on October 1st 1975, therefore her testimony placed the date outside the bill of particular and did not prove between March 1st, 1986 and July 11, 1986. And, the State doctor stated that she could not tell when these things occurred. (Trial T. Pg. 415).

Furthermore, no adult parents were ever testified concerning when these things occurred. Therefore, no rational trier of facts viewing the above answers in light most favorable to the prosecution would have found the essential element of the alleged crime pertaining to any of the above dates were ever proven beyond a reasonable doubt.

As it can be seen in light of the holdings in Gisi v. State, and K.E.A. v. State, the Appellant should have been exonerated of all the charges. The holdings in Gisi v. State, 909 So. 2d 531 (Fla. 2d DCA 2005) states:

“The State has specifically alleged certain dates in a statement of particulars, and Defendant was entitled to an acquittal when the evidence failed to establish that the offense occurred on the date specified.”

The lower Court own holdings in K.E.A. v. State, 802 So. 2d 410, 412 (Fla. 3rd DCA 2001) states the following:

“...Because the police admitted that he did not remember. Judgment was reversed.”

Also in conflict with the following Courts:

Fiore v. White, 531 U.S. 225, 228-29 (2001)
U.S. v. Caruci, 364 F. 3d 339, 343 (1st Cir. 2004)
Clay v. State, 595 So. 2d 1052, 1053 (Fla. 4th DCA 1992)
U.S.C. Amend VI, XIV Fla. Const.
Art. 1, See 9, 16 (1968); Fed. R. Crim. P. 12.1; Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.6(1)
Miller v. State, 764 So. 2d 640 (Fla. 1st DCA 2000)

The above indicates that the Appellant was denied his procedural right to due process and a fair trial when trial Judge adjudicated him guilty in the absence of the sufficiency of the evidence.

This fundamental error was further amplified when the trial Court declined to review this issue when summarily denied the Appellant's 3.850 Motion currently on appeal. The procedural error needs to be corrected by this Honorable U.S. Supreme Court, because the trial Court failed to attach portions of the record, nor state its rationale for the denial.

Such erroneous ruling conflicted with the lower Court own prior holding in K.E.A. v. State, supra and should be reversed and remanded for attachments or conduct an evidentiary hearing as required by the Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850(d).

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE PETITION

Because the Appellant has been a victim of a fundamental miscarriage of justice that is apparent on the face of the record.

Most importantly, the lower Courts have overlooked prior precedent from its own Court rulings that should have been applied in this case conflicted with its own prior decision as well as other Court's. The lower Court have also misinterpreted in their reasoning the evidence, law and the facts presented to deny relief, rather applying the correct laws and statutes in this case as required by the Constitution.

Furthermore, such per curiam affirmed without an opinion provides no basis for the U.S. Supreme Court to determine the lower Court's rationale when it affirmed the trial Court's summarily denial without any attachments of the record, a silent ruling.

Therefore, the lower Court's per curiam affirmed is virtually meaningless and does not offer any real solution to the conflict created by the trial Court, instead it created additional conflict with its own prior decisions. Affirming a silent ruling is equivalent to affirming nothing from the trial Court. What a paradox!

CONCLUSION

As it can be seen through the above supporting facts and authorities, the Appellant was indeed a victim of a fundamental miscarriage of justice. He was procedurally prejudiced when the trial Judge summarily denied on July 31, 1991, the Appellant's original 3.850 timely filed Motion.

The Court then departed from the essential requirement of the law when it failed to render a non final order to provide a time frame within which to refile the Motion with any type of insufficiency remedied. The Court also failed to attach portions of the record showing that the Appellant was entitled to no relief. The Court failed to state its rationale for the denial. The Court failed to notify the Appellant that he has 30 days to appeal the adverse ruling.

Thus, the claims were never formally nor legally disposed of on the merits. Consequently, the two (2) years filing period provided by the Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.850 (b) had been tolled, making the Appellant entitled to equitable tolling.

In Brigham v. State, 950 So. 2d 1274 (Fla. 2d DCA 2007) the Court held:

“Insufficient motions should be denied without prejudiced to refile a sufficient amended motion within an appropriate time period set forth in the order before summary denial can be entertained.”

The trial Court therefore committed procedural error when it summarily denied the appellant second or successive 3.850 Motion on April 29, 2019, in a silent ruling. It is therefore unclear of the Court's true intention.

The trial Court also committed procedural error when it failed to attach portion of the record, also failed to state its rationale for the denial. This Honorable Court should therefore reverse the lower Court's erroneous ruling and remand for attachment of the record or conduct an evidentiary hearing or any other relief that this Honorable Court deemed just and proper be granted.

Done this 2nd day of October, 2019.
