RE: 19-7060

Dear clerk.

I can not get the prison to make legal copies for me. I've been a problem for a couple of months (very bad one. I have other legal endeavors).

All I can do is send notice to the respondent that I submitted this reply Brief and couldn't provide them a copy. I hope that works. Copies just aren't happening. IDOC is very access to court hostile.

Supreme Court of The United States

Kent Williams,
Petitioner,

No. 19-7060

vs.

Guard Brooks, ET AL.
Respondents.

REPLY BRIEF OF PETITIONER

I. The Respondent mistakes The Facts IN The Record

The Respondent's recital of the facts are quite embellished and wrong.^① one example is page 7 of their brief. they claim that the warden told them Williams posed a risk to expose them to some sort of communicable disease. They cite SER Vol II, SER 0055 para. 4. Besides its irrelevant (so a person who has AIDS / HIV cant sue? Thats heart breaking to see in America in 2020, and after so many wonderful advancement for gay people. I know this wouldnt happen out side of Idaho, we dont represent Americas' values) its just a blatant un truth. Just please rely on the record its self, not what we tell this court it allegedly says, of course.

II. THE ISSUES WERE DECIDED BELOW

- ① Petitioner has complained several times to the district court in a couple of laws this office is defending, about their made up facts and even misquoted case law (they didnt know I had the case, only annotated books are allowed - NO case law, its "information about other offenders cases"). IF they are lying to this court imagine their conduct in their friendly local courts.
- ②

Petitioner claimed that his constitutional and statutory (RLUIPA) petition and Religious rights were violated. The lower court disagreed, stating it was a discretionary decision of the district courts. Hence the Appeal. They made a wrong decision. The respondent and lower court should not get rewarded for wrong (or abbreviated) decisions.

The District court specifically addressed the religious argument and the right to petition, ~~mis~~ framing it instead as a discovery issue. When the District court puts over these two fundamental rights a rule that the warden must first approve of a prisoner to sue him, that is not a discovery violation, that is a denial of the right to petition and religious freedoms when that rule violates the first amendment and RLUIPA.

If the lower courts abbreviated decision is problematic then Petitioner asks this court to remand for it to develop the record - why was the lower courts (Districts) decision not a constitutional and statutory violation but a discretionary one? But it seems clear to the prose petitioner that the lower court just (wrongly) ruled against him and then this Appeal.

III This issue will affect All Prisoners
ZF ZT stands.

Any lawyer knows how it works. It's a copy cat business. This little trick will spread and be refined - The warden must first approve and clear a prisoner before they can sue. More than just medical screenings will be necessary, etc. Please see original opening brief. The right to petition is simply a fundamental Right enjoyed by ALL prisoners and the total vitiation of the RLUIPA is a chilling effect for all. All prisoners should have a clear understanding of the RLUIPA's protections. The Ninth circuit has held it meaningless.

Thank you so much for just hearing me, ZF this wasn't a proper appeal Zm very sorry to trouble this grand court.
