DEFENDANT: EDWARD STEVEN FEENEY, JR.
CASE NUMBER: 3:17-CR-00052-001

Judgment Page: 4 of 7

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF SUPERVISION

As part of your supervised release, you must comply with the following standard conditions of supervision. These conditions are imposed because they establish the basic expectations for your behavior while on supervision and identify the minimum tools needed by probation officers to keep informed, report to the court about, and bring about improvements in your conduct and condition.

1. You must report to the probation office in the federal judicial district where you are authorized to reside within 72 hours of your release from imprisonment, unless the probation officer instructs you to report to a different probation office or within a different time frame.
2. After initially reporting to the probation office, you will receive instructions from the court or the probation officer about how and when you must report to the probation officer, and you must report to the probation officer as instructed.
3. You must not knowingly leave the federal judicial district where you are authorized to reside without first getting permission from the court or the probation officer.
4. You must answer truthfully the questions asked by your probation officer.
5. You must live at a place approved by the probation officer. If you plan to change where you live or anything about your living arrangements (such as the people you live with), you must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
6. You must allow the probation officer to visit you at any time at your home or elsewhere, and you must permit the probation officer to take any items prohibited by the conditions of your supervision that he or she observes in plain view.
7. You must work full time (at least 30 hours per week) at a lawful type of employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. If you do not have full-time employment you must try to find full-time employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. If you plan to change where you work or anything about your work (such as your position or your job responsibilities), you must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer at least 10 days in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
8. You must not communicate or interact with someone you know is engaged in criminal activity. If you know someone has been convicted of a felony, you must not knowingly communicate or interact with that person without first getting the permission of the probation officer.
9. If you are arrested or questioned by a law enforcement officer, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours.
10. You must not own, possess, or have access to a firearm, ammunition, destructive device, or dangerous weapon (i.e., anything that was designed, or was modified for, the specific purpose of causing bodily injury or death to another person such as nunchakus or tasers).
11. You must not act or make any agreement with a law enforcement agency to act as a confidential human source or informant without first getting the permission of the court.
12. If the probation officer determines that you pose a risk to another person (including an organization), the probation officer may require you to notify the person about the risk and you must comply with that instruction. The probation officer may contact the person and confirm that you have notified the person about the risk.
13. You must follow the instructions of the probation officer related to the conditions of supervision.

U.S. Probation Office Use Only

A U.S. probation officer has instructed me on the conditions specified by the court and has provided me with a written copy of this judgment containing these conditions. SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF SUPERVISION

You must participate in a program of testing and/or treatment for substance abuse, as directed by the Probation Officer, until such time as the defendant is released from the program by the Probation Office. At the direction of the probation office, you must receive a substance abuse evaluation and participate in inpatient and/or outpatient treatment, as recommended. Participation may also include compliance with a medication regimen. You will contribute to the costs of services rendered (co-payment) based on ability to pay or availability of third party payment. You must not use alcohol and/or other intoxicants during the course of supervision.

You must submit to a mental health evaluation. If treatment is recommended, you must participate in an approved treatment program and abide by all supplemental conditions of treatment. Participation may include inpatient/outpatient treatment and/or compliance with a medication regimen. You will contribute to the costs of services rendered (co-payment) based on ability to pay or availability of third party payment.

You must participate in an approved treatment program for anger control. Participation may include inpatient/outpatient treatment. You will contribute to the costs of services rendered (co-payment) based on ability to pay or availability of third party payment.

You must participate in a cognitive behavioral treatment program, which may include journaling and other curriculum requirements, as directed by the U.S. Probation Officer.

You will submit to a search of your person, property, residence, adjacent structures, office, vehicle, papers, computers (as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 1030(e)(1)), and other electronic communications or data storage devices or media, conducted by a U.S. Probation Officer. Failure to submit to a search may be grounds for revocation. You must warn any other residents or occupants that the premises and/or vehicle may be subject to searches pursuant to this condition. An officer may conduct a search pursuant to this condition only when reasonable suspicion exists that you have violated a condition of your release and/or that the area(s) or item(s) to be searched contain evidence of this violation or contain contraband. Any search must be conducted at a reasonable time and in a reasonable manner. This condition may be invoked with or without the assistance of law enforcement, including the U.S. Marshals Service.

United States Court of Appeals
For the Eighth Circuit

No. 18-3023

United States of America

Plaintiff - Appellee

v.

Edward Steven Feeney, Jr.

Defendant - Appellant

Appeal from United States District Court for the Southern District of Iowa - Davenport

Submitted: September 23, 2019
Filed: October 21, 2019
[Unpublished]

Before GRUENDER, ARNOLD, and GRASZ, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM

Edward Feeney Jr. pled guilty to violating federal drug laws. He was then sentenced to 262 months of imprisonment, to be followed by ten years of supervised release. Feeney offers two arguments contesting his sentence. First, he claims the district court¹ wrongly imposed the career offender enhancement under section 4B1.1 of the United States Sentencing Guidelines (“U.S.S.G.”). Second, he contends the district court’s written judgment conflicts with its oral pronouncement at sentencing.

Feeney’s first argument is controlled by our decision in United States v. Boleyn, 929 F.3d 932 (8th Cir. 2019). In Boleyn, we held Iowa’s definition of “aiding and abetting” is no broader than the generic definition implicit in the application notes of U.S.S.G. § 4B1.2. Id. at 940. We therefore concluded that Iowa Code § 124.401 does not encompass a broader swath of conduct than does U.S.S.G. § 4B1.2(b). Id. As Feeney’s argument is virtually identical to the one rejected in Boleyn, the district court rightly applied the enhancement.

Feeney’s second argument prevails. During the sentencing hearing, the district court ordered Feeney’s sentence “to be concurrent with Scott County FECR 382520 . . . and then consecutive to the two offenses listed in Paragraphs 50 and 51” of the presentence report. But the district court’s written judgment did not indicate whether Feeney’s sentence should run concurrently or consecutively with his undischarged state sentences. The government concedes the district court’s oral sentence controls. See United States v. Glass, 720 F.2d 21, 22 n.2 (8th Cir. 1983) (“Where an oral sentence and the written judgment conflict, the oral sentence controls.”).

In the interest of judicial economy, we modify the judgment to reflect the district court’s oral pronouncement: Feeney’s sentence is to run concurrently with FECR 382520, but consecutively with AGCR 382722 and FECR 382721. See U.S. v. Daniels, 477 Fed. Appx. 424, 427 (8th Cir. 2012) (unpublished) (“When there is no doubt as to the district court’s intent with regard to a sentence, the appellate court may modify the sentence instead of wasting judicial resources by remanding the case.”).

We therefore affirm the judgment as modified.
