JUDGMENT OF REVOCATION AND SENTENCE

Came on to be heard, as contemplated by Fed. R. Crim. P. 32.1, the motion of United States of America to revoke the term of supervised release imposed on defendant, ALFRED BROWN. After having considered the grounds of the government's motion, defendant's admissions, argument of counsel, and defendant's statement, the court has determined that the term of supervised release imposed on defendant should be revoked and that defendant should be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of 11 months and to serve a 24-month term of supervised release upon discharge from prison.

The court finds and concludes that:

- (a) Defendant was given, in a timely manner, written notice of his alleged violations of the term of supervised release upon which the motion to revoke is based;
- (b) The motion to revoke the term of supervised release was served on defendant in a timely manner prior to the hearing;

(c) There was a disclosure to defendant, and his attorney, of the evidence against defendant; and

(d) The hearing was held within a reasonable time.

Other findings and conclusions of the court were stated by the court into the record at the hearing. The court adopts all such findings and conclusions as part of this judgment.

In reaching the conclusions and making the determinations and rulings announced at the hearing, and as stated in this judgment, the court considered all relevant factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a) that are proper for consideration in a revocation context.

The court ORDERS, ADJUDGES, and DECREES that the term of supervised release, as provided by the judgment in this case signed February 17, 2017, imposed on defendant, ALFRED BROWN, be, and is hereby, revoked; and

The court further ORDERS, ADJUDGES, and DECREES that defendant, ALFRED BROWN, be, and is hereby, committed to the custody of the United States Bureau of Prisons to be imprisoned for a term of 11 months, to be followed by a term of supervised release of 24 months.

The court further ORDERS, ADJUDGES, and DECREES that, while on supervised release, defendant shall comply with the following Standard and Special Conditions of Supervision:
