ORDER

Before: CALLAHAN, NGUYEN, and HURWITZ, Circuit Judges.

The district court certified that this appeal is frivolous and revoked appellant's in forma pauperis status. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). On October 9, 2019, this court ordered appellant to explain in writing why this appeal should not be dismissed as frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2) (court shall dismiss case at any time, if court determines it is frivolous or malicious).

Upon a review of the record and responses to the October 9, 2019 order, we conclude this appeal is frivolous. We therefore deny appellant's motion to proceed in forma pauperis (Docket Entry No. 4) and dismiss this appeal as frivolous, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2).

Case No. 18-CV-03420-LHK

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO DISMISS WITH PREJUDICE

Re: Dkt. No. 21

Plaintiff, a former federal prisoner proceeding pro se, filed a civil rights complaint under 42 U.S.C. § 1983, and claimed he was detained in Santa Rita County Jail (“SRC Jail”) for 11 days past his release date. Defendant SRC Jail moved to dismiss (“Motion”), and argued that plaintiff’s claim was time-barred and that judicially noticeable facts showed plaintiff failed to state a claim. See Dkt. No. 21. Defendant also asked the Court to take judicial notice of three documents in support of the motion to dismiss (“RJN”). See Dkt. No. 21-01. Plaintiff did not file an opposition, and defendant did not file a reply.

For the reasons stated below, the Court GRANTS defendant's RJN and Motion.

1 I. BACKGROUND

2 A. Plaintiff's Injury

3 On December 21, 1994, plaintiff was sentenced to 360 months in custody. Am. Compl.,
4 Ex. A. On April 21, 2015, plaintiff's sentence was reduced to 292 months. Id. Plaintiff was
5 released from federal prison on September 16, 2015, and was assigned to live in a "halfway
6 house" in San Francisco. Id. After plaintiff suffered some undisclosed injury, he was taken to a
7 hospital in Oakland and then a hospital in San Leandro. Id. at 5. Upon plaintiff's release from the 8 San Leandro hospital, U.S. Marshals transported plaintiff to SRC Jail. Id.

9 Plaintiff alleged that he should have been released from SRC Jail on November 1, 2015,
10 because his sentence reduction took effect on that date. Id. at 11. SRC Jail did not release
11 plaintiff until November 12, 2015. Id. at 8. Plaintiff alleged that SRC Jail "maintains computer 12 files that list all inmates currently serving time," and implied that his correct release date should 13 have been in those files. Id. at 13.

14 Defendant represented that the Federal Bureau of Prisons ("BOP") sent "a letter plus
15 attachments" to SRC Jail, which "stated that [plaintiff's] release date was November 12, 2015."
16 Mot. at 2; see also R.J.N. & Exs.

17 B. Proceedings in this Court

18 Plaintiff filed the instant civil rights suit on May 29, 2018. Dkt. No. 1-1 (stating the Court
19 received plaintiff's complaint on that date). Prisoners are entitled to benefit from the "mailbox
20 rule," under which a complaint is deemed filed from the moment the prisoner hands the complaint
21 to prison authorities for mailing. See Douglas v. Noelle, 567 F.3d 1103, 1109 (9th Cir. 2009)
22 (applying the mailbox rule to prisoner's § 1983 complaint) (relying on Houston v. Lack, 487 U.S.
23 266 (1988)). However, plaintiff is no longer "an 'inmate confined in an institution,'" and so "is 24 not entitled to the benefit of the prison mailbox rule." McCloskey v. Borders, No. 18-55179, 2018
25 WL 2221884, at *1 (9th Cir. Apr. 20, 2018) (citation omitted).

26 The Court dismissed plaintiff's complaint with leave to amend and explained that plaintiff
27 could not pursue claims against SRC Jail unless he identified some policy of the jail that led to his
28

1 injury. See Dkt. No. 10. The Court also dismissed the BOP from suit, because “there is no
2 indication that the federal government has waived sovereign immunity.” Id. at 2. Finally, the
3 Court outlined the procedures plaintiff must follow in order to bring a claim against the BOP
4 under the Federal Tort Claims Act. Id. at 3-4.

5 Plaintiff filed an amended complaint (“Amended Complaint”) and explained that SRC Jail
6 must have some policy of verifying an inmate’s release date. See Am. Compl. at 13. The 7 Amended Complaint did not seek to bring a Federal Tort Claims Act claim against the BOP. See
8 generally, id.

9 The Court found that, liberally construed, plaintiff had stated a cognizable claim that his 10 constitutional rights were violated. See Dkt. No. 17 at 2. On November 14, 2018, the Court
11 ordered defendant to respond to plaintiff's Amended Complaint. See id.

12 Defendant moved to dismiss and sought judicial notice of three documents in support of 13 that motion. See Mot, RJN. Plaintiff did not file an opposition, and defendant did not file a reply.
14 See generally, Dkt.

II. REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

Defendant sought judicial notice of three documents submitted in support of the motion to dismiss: a letter from the BOP to SRC Jail, which identified plaintiff's release date as "11-12-15"; a document entitled "Supervision Release Plan" from the BOP, which likewise identified plaintiff's release date as "11-12-2015"; and a "Notice of Release and Arrival" from the BOP, which again identified plaintiff's release date as "11-12-2015" (together, "BOP Documents").

Defendant argued that judicial notice is proper because plaintiff referred to the BOP Documents in his Amended Complaint. See RJN at 1. Although courts generally are confined to the pleadings on a Rule 12(c) motion, “[a] court may, however, consider certain materials – documents attached to the complaint, documents incorporated by reference in the complaint, or matters of judicial notice – without converting the motion to dismiss into a motion for summary judgment.” United States v. Ritchie, 342 F.3d 903, 908 (9th Cir. 2003); In re Silicon Graphics

1 Inc. Sec. Litig., 183 F.3d 970, 986 (9th Cir. 1999).

2 Here, as justification for holding SRC Jail liable, plaintiff stated, “It is presumed that the
3 BOP provided [SRC Jail] with a copy of the plaintiff’s ‘official’ release date. And the [SRC] Jail
4 applied their policy used to verify the plaintiff’s official release date.” Am. Compl. at 13. The 5 Amended Complaint thereby referred to any document in which the BOP informed defendant of 6 plaintiff’s release date, and so judicial notice of the BOP Documents is proper.

7 Defendant argued, in the alternative, that the BOP Documents are within a class of 8 documents of which courts routinely take judicial notice. See RJN at 1 (citing Laboy v. Colvin, 9 631 F. App’x 468, 469 n.1 (9th Cir. 2016) (taking judicial notice of a letter from a federal agency)).
10 Defendant appears to be correct; the Ninth Circuit has recognized that “courts routinely take 11 judicial notice of letters published by the government.” Smith v. Los Angeles Unified Sch. Dist.,
12 830 F.3d 843, 851 n.10 (9th Cir. 2016). Accordingly, the Court may properly take judicial notice
13 of the fact that the BOP Documents identified plaintiff’s release date as November 12, 2015. See
14 Cal. Sportfishing Prot. All. v. Shiloh Grp., LLC, 268 F. Supp. 3d 1029, 1038 (N.D. Cal. 2017)
15 (taking judicial notice of a letter from a public agency for the existence of that letter’s contents).¹
16 The Court does not, however, assume that the BOP calculated plaintiff’s release date correctly.
17 See id. (distinguishing between taking judicial notice of the existence of a document’s contents, 18 and of the truth of the document’s contents).

19 Accordingly, the RJN is GRANTED.

20 III. LEGAL STANDARD

21 Dismissal for failure to state a claim is a ruling on a question of law. See Parks Sch. of 22 Bus., Inc., v. Symington, 51 F.3d 1480, 1483 (9th Cir. 1995). “The issue is not whether plaintiff

24 ¹ See also Foronda v. Wells Fargo Home Mortg., Inc., No. 14-CV-03513-LHK, 2014 WL
25 6706815, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2014) (taking judicial notice of, inter alia, a letter from the 26 Office of Thrift Supervision because “[t]hese documents are true and correct copies of government records and public documents not subject to reasonable dispute”); Smith v. Cty. of Santa Cruz, No.
27 13-CV-00595-LHK, 2014 WL 1118014, at *4 n.2 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 19, 2014) (taking judicial notice of a letter from a County Planning Department to the plaintiff, because the letter was “obviously [a] public record[]”).
