Ms. Dalessio: Based on the U.S. Code and appellate rules, it appears any petition to the Supreme Court would be untimely (see below) and should not be filed by the clerk.

Rule 13. Review on Certiorari: Time for Petitioning

1. Unless otherwise provided by law, a petition for a writ of certiorari to review a judgment in any case, civil or criminal, entered by a state court of last resort or a United States court of appeals (including the United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces) is timely when it is filed with the Clerk of this Court within 90 days after entry of the judgment. A petition for a writ of certiorari seeking review of a judgment of a lower state court that is subject to discretionary review by the state court of last resort is timely when it is filed with the Clerk within 90 days after entry of the order denying discretionary review.

2. The Clerk will not file any petition for a writ of certiorari that is jurisdictionally out of time. See, e. g., 28 U. S. C. §2101(c).

3. The time to file a petition for a writ of certiorari runs from the date of entry of the judgment or order sought to be reviewed, and not from the issuance date of the mandate (or its equivalent under local practice). But if a petition for rehearing is timely filed in the lower court by any party, or if the lower court appropriately entertains an untimely petition for rehearing or sua sponte considers rehearing, the time to file the petition for a writ of certiorari for all parties (whether or not they requested rehearing or joined in the petition for rehearing) runs from the date of the denial of rehearing or, if rehearing is granted, the subsequent entry of judgment.

The order denying your petition for rehearing was issued on October 30, 2020. (DktEntry 51). 90 days from October 30, 2020 is January 28, 2021.

That being said, if you do file appellate pleadings with the court in this matter, we will accept conformed copies of such pleadings via email. Our physical office is closed, so you do not need to serve additional paper copies.

Thank you,

Jayne L. Freeman

I'm planning to file a petition for writ of certiorari, and so I'm writing to ask if you would accept service by email.

The Court's order of April 15, 2020, encourages parties to reach agreement among each other to serve filings through electronic means only, eliminating the need for paper service.
