1 JUDGE NAKEA: This is the matter of the Office of 2 Disciplinary Counsel v. Gary Victor Dubin, ODC number 16-0-217, 3 16-0-429, 17-0-54, 17-0-181, and 18-0-2. For the record, please.

4 MS. SALWIN: Rebecca Salwin on behalf of ODC.

5 MR. DUBIN: Gary Dubin, Respondent, with John Waihee, 6 co-counsel.

7 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. Before we hear, Mr. Dubin and 8 Ms. Salwin -- by the way, we're going to allow ten minutes for 9 each side. You get to go first. And let me know if you want me 10 to tell you how far you've gotten, if you want to save some time 11 for responding to Ms. Salwin, and I'll --

12 MR. DUBIN: Well, I appreciate it if I could reserve 13 maybe two or three minutes.

14 JUDGE NAKEA: Sure. Okay. And then, Ms. Salwin, do 15 you want to save two or three? I'll save you three.

16 MR. DUBIN: Okay.

17 JUDGE NAKEA: Before we begin, Mr. Horovitz would like 18 to say something.

19 MR. HOROVITZ: Thank you. I was asked by our counsel 20 Phil Lowenthal to describe my decision not recuse myself for the 21 last hearing, and then explain a bit about the underlying case 22 that Mr. Dubin cited in his briefing, so I'll do that.

23 The underlying case itself -- well, first of all, in 24 terms of before the hearing last fall for Mr. Dubin, I did 25 actually reach out to Judge Nakea and Mr. Lowenthal explaining

1 the case that we had been involved with, with Mr. Dubin's office.
2 Explaining the status of it and asking whether I did need to 3 recuse myself, and the answer came back no, I did not.

4 After the hearing -- my recollection is after the 5 hearing for Mr. Dubin and before we went into deliberations, Mr.
6 Dubin looked at me and acknowledged that he had a case with me, 7 but he didn't have a problem with that. I don't believe that 8 made it into the official record.

9 The underlying case was a commercial landlord/tenant 10 case, fairly straightforward. Initially, it was a corporate 11 tenant. Our firm represented the landlord. There's no personal 12 guarantees on the lease at all. So it was only against the 13 corporation. The corporation appeared pro se, initially, in the 14 case, and we got a fairly standard judgment and writ of 15 possession. This was a district court case.

16 After the judgment and writ were entered, the -- my 17 client took -- we took possession, and then we filed a motion for 18 default judgment once we knew the costs. At that point, Mr.
19 Dubin appeared and filed various motions to ask the Court to 20 reconsider its default judgments, and the judgments, and the 21 writ. The Court heard a hearing on that and denied those 22 motions, and Mr. Dubin took various appeals from those denials.

23 The notice of appeal -- there were three appeals that 24 were ultimately consolidated. The notice of appeal was 25 originally filed in March 1st, 2018. The underlying district

1 court case was filed in October of 2017. So, they were dated.
2 But the appeal was filed in March -- March 1st of 2018. Various 3 opening things were filed. Mr. Dubin, on March -- or May 16th, 4 obtained a standard 30-day extension of time to file his initial 5 opening brief, and the Court granted that, and the opening brief 6 was to be due on July 5th, 2018.

7 July 5th came and went without an opening brief being 8 filed, and then on July 17th, the Clerk of the Court issued to 9 Mr. Dubin a notice of default for the filing of the opening brief 10 and indicated that the matter would be -- and I'm quoting from 11 the pleading -- the matter will be called to the attention of the 12 Court on July 27th, 2018, for such action as the Court deems 13 proper and the appeal may be dismissed.

14 On July 27th, Mr. Dubin filed a motion to correct the 15 record from relief for default and to reset the briefing and 16 scheduling order. In a nutshell, he indicated he had 17 consolidated the three appeals, and they didn't -- had meant to 18 include the request to extend the time with -- you know, to file 19 the opening brief within that, but they didn't do that.

20 We didn't oppose that motion at all and the Court 21 granted him time, until September -- he had asked for 60 days and 22 the Court granted him those 60 days, until September 6th of 2018, 23 in which to file his opening brief.

24 On September 6th -- I'm sorry, let me go back. Yeah.
25 So on September 6th of 2018, Mr. Dubin filed a motion for leave

1 for an additional two weeks to file his opening brief. He 2 indicated that his office got a little backed up because of the 3 hurricane. Hurricane Lane had been coming through the Islands at 4 the time. And he stated in his brief, Declarant is cognizant of 5 this Court's policy to require request for briefing extensions to 6 be filed five days in advance. He stated he had tried to meet 7 that -- to meet the filing deadline, but it just became 8 impossible because of the hurricane.

9 Again, we didn't file any opposition to that. And then 10 the Court, on September 13th, issued its order granting. And 11 they added notations. Mr. Dubin had submitted a form order and 12 the Court added their own notations to the order and said: The 13 opening brief shall be filed on or before September 20th, 2018.
14 No further extensions of time will be granted, absent
15 extraordinary circumstances. And then it went on to say: A 16 motion for extension of time for a brief shall be filed at least 17 five days before the briefing is due. Further violations may 18 result in the motion being denied, sanctions, or both.

19 So at that point, the opening brief was due on 20 September 20th, and the Court stated that there would be no 21 further extensions absent further -- or absent extraordinary 22 circumstances and that had to be -- they had to be notified of 23 those at least five days before September 20th, 2018. So there 24 was no filing of any opening brief on September 20th. There was 25 no further filings in any of the deals -- or in the consolidated

1 appeal in October, November, December, or January of 2019.

2 In February 11th of 2019, our client contacted our 3 office and asked whether the appeal could simply be, you know, 4 moved -- you know, taken out -- taken off. And we, at that 5 point, indicated to our client that, you know, the way these 6 things happen is the Court will either dismiss it or you can file
7 a motion. And the Court -- and our client, could you please 8 simply file the motion.

9 So our office filed a motion to dismiss the appeal and 10 there were really two paragraphs, you know, as to why. We set 11 out the procedural history and just simply said, you know, the 12 Court had ordered that the opening brief be filed by September 13 20th, and no further extensions would be granted, and that there 14 was never any request to extend, so please just go ahead and 15 dismiss.

16 And then February 20th of 2019, Mr. Dubin files a 17 motion for leave to file a consolidated brief, essentially asking 18 for an additional extension. He indicated in his declaration -- 19 he stated, he was unaware that it had not been filed earlier and 20 that the opening brief herein will be filed today. It later 21 stated in his declaration -- and this was on February 20, 2019 -- 22 he stated: I am now preparing the opening brief, which will be 23 filed today. I would appreciate the Court's understanding.

24 There was no opening brief filed on February 20th. The 25 next filing was on March 4th, a supplemental declaration, where

1 he stated that shortly after filing the February 20th request, 2 half of my office personnel, including me, came down with the 3 flu, and I wound up spending most of my time in bed. If not 4 tonight, the consolidated brief will be filed tomorrow. And this 5 was on March 4th of 2019.

6 There was no opening brief filed on March 4th, and none
7 on March 5th, and none on March 6th, all of which were weekdays.
8 He ultimately filed his opening brief on March 7, 2019.

9 The Court then, on March 22nd, issued its order denying 10 the motion to dismiss the consolidated appeal, granting the 11 motion for leave to file a consolidated opening brief, and order 12 to show cause essentially stating that everyone deserves their 13 day in Court, so it will accept the March 7th opening brief, 14 which was fine, but it further stated: Within ten days from the 15 date of this order, Gary Victor Dubin shall show cause and 16 response in the form of a declaration, affidavit, or other sworn 17 statement indicating additional reasons, if any, why he failed to 18 timely file the opening brief or request an extension of time.
19 And, moreover, why he failed to file the opening brief on or 20 before March 5th, 2019, as indicated in his March 4th, 2019, 21 supplemental declaration. Failure to timely respond to this 22 order or to show good cause, may result in sanctions.

23 On April 1st, in response to that, Mr. Dubin filed a 24 declaration. The attorneys in our office handling the appeal -- 25 and I am still counsel of record of this. There are other

1 attorneys who are primarily handling it, but I am the counsel of 2 record. The other attorneys in the office did not feel that Mr.
3 Dubin's declaration adequately answered or even addressed what 4 the Court had ordered him to address in the order to show cause, 5 and so they filed a motion on April 4th.

6 A motion for sanctions and/or dismissal of the 7 consolidated appeal, basically stating that the Court had ordered 8 him to give some very specific information, and we don't think it 9 rose to the level of what the Court was asking and that the Court 10 should impose appropriate sanctions as it saw fit. Mr. Dubin, on 11 April 11th, had filed an opposition to that and that's where it 12 stands.

13 We had taken, you know, the Court's September 6th, 14 ruling to be fairly dispositive where they had stated that there 15 were no further extensions absent extraordinary circumstances, 16 and that nothing was filed within the time ordered by the Court.
17 So, at that point, you know, we viewed it fairly -- as a fairly 18 ministerial matter.

19 Again, you know, beyond that, there was simply no 20 activity from September through February of this year, when our 21 office filed the motion to dismiss. How the Court will treat the 22 motions, we don't know, it's still pending.

23 So with that disclosure, since my name is in the 24 current motion, I'm going to recuse myself from any further -- 25 any further hearing of the motion or deliberations. So I will

1 recuse myself and excuse myself from the hearing.

2 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. Anyone else wants -- do 3 either of you want to have them not participate in this matter?
4 Ms. Salwin, do you have any objections to the present group?

5 MS. SALWIN: No. No objections.

6 JUDGE NAKEA: Mr. Dubin.

7 MR. DUBIN: Of course.

8 JUDGE NAKEA: Well, no objections --

9 MR. DUBIN: Pardon?

10 JUDGE NAKEA: -- no objection to the remaining members 11 participating -- Members of the Board?

12 MR. DUBIN: Oh, no.

13 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. Thank you. Then, Mr. Dubin, 14 you're on.

15 MR. DUBIN: I've been ambushed again. He spent over 16 ten minutes, and I'm supposed to respond to him, and I only have 17 ten minutes for everything? I would ask that I be allowed to 18 respond to him without it coming out of my ten minutes.

19 JUDGE NAKEA: You know, I see some rational to that.

20 MR. DUBIN: I will be as brief as I can.

21 JUDGE NAKEA: No, you will be as brief as I give you.
22 Sure ten minutes sounds fair. Go ahead. Now, this is going to 23 -- you want to comment on what Mr. Horovitz just said?

24 MR. DUBIN: Just what he just said, yes.

25 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

1 MR. DUBIN: Yeah. First of all, as we know, Members of 2 the Board are restricted just like they were a judge. The Hawaii
3 Revised Code of Judicial Conduct, I have in front of me. Rule 4 2.11, talks about disqualification or recusal when there's an 5 appearance of impropriety. I don't know of any member of the 6 Hawaii Bar who would agree to have a board member, who was 7 against him in an open case. This was a lower court case and an 8 appeal.

9 Mr. Horovitz says that he made a disclosure to the 10 Board Chairman. That is not how the rules work. You make a 11 disclosure to the parties, not to another member of the panel.

12 The appeal was open at the time. Unfortunately, I was 13 unaware that the opening brief had not been filed by my office.
14 The way it works in the Intermediate Court of Appeals is that if 15 you don't file the opening brief in the set time, the Clerk sends 16 out a notice that the opening brief has not been filed. And many 17 times, opposing counsel will call you up and say, what's 18 happened, you missed the deadline for the opening brief. In this 19 case, extremely rare, the Clerk did not send out the notice.
20 Therefore, I was not aware of that.

21 We have about 300 cases in our office. We have, at any 22 one time, about 80 appeals in the Intermediate Court of Appeals 23 and in the Hawaii Supreme Court. I got overloaded and, not 24 unusual, I asked somebody else to prepare the opening brief. I 25 didn't know the opening brief was not prepared. The Clerk didn't

1 even send out the normal notice. But, of course, the Clerk's are 2 never sanctioned.

3 In the last three years, we've had a lot of difficulty 4 with deadlines. Because of these proceedings, I lost two 5 attorneys. I couldn't hire any other attorneys. The word gets 6 out about what's going on here. I lost three staff members. I'm 7 unable to replace them. Yes, we've had a difficult time because 8 of these proceedings in fulfilling our responsibilities to the 9 courts.

10 When I found out the opening brief had not been filed, 11 I immediately told the Court I'm going to file it. Fortunately, 12 I had done the work below, but it was complicated, and I did 13 contract an incredibly viscous flu. It puts you to sleep. And 14 so, it took me a little bit of time, and I filed the opening 15 brief.

16 What's submitted in the opening brief -- and you have a 17 copy -- the opening brief is based upon the unethical conduct of 18 Mr. Horovitz in serving my client in a way that he would never 19 know that the complaint had been served, then taking a default
20 judgment, and then violating every principle of Hawaii law 21 involving default judgments and went ahead, behind my back after 22 I had entered my notice of appearance, and got $112,000 judgment 23 against my client, which was never stated in the complaint. And 24 for those of you who don't know, when you get a default judgment, 25 you can't get more than what's in the complaint. So that appeals

1 filed on the basis of the unethical conduct of Mr. Horovitz.

2 Now because I hadn't been associated with the opening
3 brief for a while and not only that, I didn't -- I don't know Mr.
4 Horovitz. He doesn't practice in my kind of cases. I don't 5 these landlord/tenant things, normally. I only do it because I 6 have clients that then get in trouble with these kind of things.
7 So I didn't -- I don't know him.

8 When it came time -- and by the way, when my cases 9 began, he was not a member of the Board. He was not on any of 10 the letterheads I had seen. And I'm just frankly not really that 11 familiar with him. He sat over there, and I can't read -- I 12 can't read those name tags over there. Eighty years old, and I'm 13 pleased to say I've never had a major illness in my life, but the 14 eyes are not my strong point. It's not an uncommon thing. I'm 15 told one eye is farsighted and one eye is nearsighted. And my 16 whole life they fight each other, but the brain corrects the 17 thing and gives me -- gives me a good measure of accurate 18 eyesight, but I can't read the name tags. I can read his -- he 19 wasn't sitting here though, but I can't read the one at the far 20 end.

21 So I was just not familiar with him, and I don't know 22 any attorney in the state who had this kind of a case with Mr.
23 Horovitz. And with an appeal ongoing, would feel comfortable 24 having him as a judge in my case. His duty was to disclose it to 25 me in the beginning.

1 As you recall, Mr. Miller sat here, and he made the 2 disclosure. I don't know if Judge Nakea said you got to make the 3 disclosure or told him the same thing that Mr. Horovitz says he 4 was told by Judge Nakea, but Mr. Miller did. I don't know Mr.
5 Miller. He wasn't in the case below. He was briefing an appeal, 6 which I happened to win. But I've never met him before. There 7 was never a hearing. There was no acrimony in that case. It was 8 all a question of interpretation of the governing instruments of 9 an association. So I didn't feel any discomfort at all having 10 Mr. Miller on the case.

11 But I certainly -- if disclosure had been made to me in 12 the beginning, I would have objected to Mr. Horovitz because of 13 the nature of that case. Now I have not been sanctioned by the 14 ICA. They didn't sanction me.

15 I provided the panel with the relevant case law from 16 the United States Supreme Court on two death penalty cases. Mine 17 is also a death penalty case. A professional death penalty case.

18 JUDGE NAKEA: Mr. Dubin, I'm sorry to interrupt you, 19 but I need to get a new estimate for you about when you want me 20 to interrupt you to tell you how much time you have left. I 21 imagine that some of what you said already --

22 MR. DUBIN: No, I have to --

23 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

24 MR. DUBIN: -- as far as my --

25 JUDGE NAKEA: And I imagine some of what you already

1 have said would have been included, I would think, in what you 2 had planned to say for today's meeting.

3 MR. DUBIN: Well, I'm hoping that the panel has 4 questions for me.

5 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

6 MR. DUBIN: But as far as --

7 JUDGE NAKEA: All right. So --

8 MR. DUBIN: -- as far as this topic's concerned, I 9 agree.

10 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. So when would you like me to stop 11 you? Tell me now, do you want another seven minutes before I 12 tell you, you've only got three minutes left or?

14 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

15 MR. DUBIN: Thank you.

16 JUDGE NAKEA: I'm sorry for the interruption.

17 MR. DUBIN: You have before you six papers for this 18 hearing. You have two letters I sent to Judge Nakea when I 19 discovered more information on the conflicts. You have my 20 motion, you have my memorandum, and you have my supplemental 21 memorandum. I always mention that because one time I had a case 22 and when I was all done, I found out the judge hadn't gotten the 23 papers.

24 I want to spend my time on the Hughes matter. I've 25 read the opposition paper. I asked for an opportunity to reply.

1 Replies are normally whenever an adjudicated body allows it, but 2 I was not given the opportunity to reply, so I have to answer the 3 opposition now.

4 The opposition pretty much depends upon the Au case. I
5 ask you all to read the Au case. If you don't have a copy, I 6 would be happy to provide every member of the Board with a copy.
7 The Au case is misrepresented in the opposition paper. In Au -- 8 they pointed out that what happened in Au was he walked into the 9 -- I'm going to quote the case.

10 As between a judge already assigned to the Panel and a 11 lawyer who thereafter appears, in circumstances where the 12 appearance might cause an assigned judge to be recused, the 13 lawyer will go, and the judge will stay. A lawyer's acceptance 14 of employment solely or primarily for the purpose of 15 disqualifying a judge, creates the impression that, for a fee, 16 the lawyer is available for sheer manipulation of the judicial 17 system.

18 I did not enter the case for the purpose of 19 disqualifying Mr. Hughes. Mr. Hughes entered the case after I 20 was in the case. Now I don't know, but the Board Chairperson 21 assigns the Hearing Officer. Did Mr. Hughes tell Judge Nakea -- 22 or what would have happened if the Hearing Officer had told Judge 23 Nakea, I would like to discuss and disclose to you that my client 24 has an open case with Mr. Dubin on the other side as opposing 25 counsel, and my client would benefit if Mr. Dubin were disbarred?

1 Would Judge Nakea move on to the next name on the panel list?

2 Instead, Mr. Hughes appeared in the case.

3 Now we had a trial before Judge Marks. Mr. Hughes was 4 not in the case. Mr. Hughes came into the case for the appeal, 5 obviously, representing the insurance company. An appeal which 6 we won. I had never met Mr. Hughes. Hughes is a common name.
7 He was appointed as the hearing examiner. I had no recollection 8 that he had come in as an appellant attorney on the Moyle 9 (phonetic) case.

10 When later on someone in my office discovered it, at a 11 pretrial conference, which you're supposed to do, I confronted 12 Mr. Hughes, as you all know, you have the transcript, and I 13 objected to his being the hearing examiner. Well, he studied it, 14 and he told me later in a writing, and he sent it to everybody, 15 that he would not recuse himself, that the case was dormant.
16 Well, there's no such thing as a dormant case. The case is 17 either active or it's closed.

18 The case was open. It was open because, unfortunately, 19 Mr. Moyle had -- my client had died in a motorcycle accident and 20 his two surviving relatives was his mother and his brother. And 21 his mother, even at that time, was about 80, 85, and his brother 22 was having a series of operations.

23 In addition to that, they had the problem that to 24 continue the case, they would have to spend money to go to the 25 Probate Court to have a personal representative appointed. In

1 addition to that, Mr. Moyle had a will, and they were searching 2 for a copy of the will. And then to continue the case, it would 3 be a little bit difficult because Mr. Moyle was dead, so we would 4 be allowed to use the transcript of the trial, to some extent, 5 but the trial would probably have cost another $50,000 or more.

6 I take orders from my clients, it's not my case. So 7 they were very slow to figure out what to do. The mother wanted 8 us to pursue it and the brother, I can't go into all the details, 9 you know, some of this is attorney-client protected information, 10 but the brother wanted to settle the case.

11 And lo and behold, Mr. Hughes comes into the case, 12 creating an ethical problem on my part. Am I going to settle the 13 case while he's the hearing examiner and what -- and is that -- 14 is there a quid pro quo involved, et cetera? So I felt very 15 uncomfortable to that point trying to settle the case.

16 Now as far as my remedy is concerned, I have had 17 occasion to ask a judge to recuse himself. Never Judge Nakea.
18 There has to be grounds. And I have to file a writ of 19 prohibition, a writ of mandamus in the Hawaii Supreme Court, and 20 I'm always told you can appeal it if you want. We're not going 21 to hear it on a special writ.

22 So my alternative is what I did. I put it in my 23 opening brief, asking this Court to recognize that there was an 24 ethical problem with Judge Hughes. It's in my opening brief. I 25 asked this body for relief. That's what you're supposed to do.

1 That's what I did.

2 Now I didn't notice at the time that the intermediate 3 -- at the time of the pretrial hearing, but I did find out that 4 the Rules of the Disciplinary Board, your rules, Rule 20(e), says 5 that you can't file a motion unless it's ordered by the hearing 6 officer. And what good does it do, anyway, to file a motion that 7 the Hearing Officer said he's not going to disqualify himself
8 because the case is dormant. Look that up in the Black's 9 Dictionary, dormant. There's no such thing. A case is active, 10 or it's closed.

11 Now one last thing I want to say. How much time do I 12 have left?

13 JUDGE NAKA: It's just about -- you're approaching 14 your third minute.

15 MR. DUBIN: All right. Just one thing I want to say.
16 The relevant case is not the Au case. The relevant case is 17 Peters v. Jameson. Peters v. Jamieson, 48 Haw. 247 (1964). That 18 was the year I became a member of the bar. In this case there 19 were a lot of rulings that were suspicious by the judge, they 20 were an error. The Court said -- the Hawaii Supreme Court said, 21 we adhere to the rule that mere erroneous or adverse rulings by 22 the trial judge do not spell bias or prejudice and cannot be made 23 the basis for disqualification. But -- I'm still quoting -- when 24 other factors such as appear on the record in the instant case 25 are collectively considered together with such rulings, we do not

1 hesitate to hold that they do not form -- excuse me -- they do 2 form -- they do form a basis upon which bias and prejudice can be 3 predicated.

4 And in this case, it appears that Mr. Hughes did not -- 5 disclosed his conflict to Judge Nakea, at least to me. He 6 excluded witnesses. I couldn't call Ms. Andia, Harkey, the ICA.
7 All the people that were accusing me of this or that, I was not 8 able to call.

9 However, they selectively brought a lawyer in, in place 10 of Mr. Harkey, who I had no personal knowledge of anything, to 11 appear by telephone. Mr. Andia said, oh, Mrs. Andia is ill. So, 12 he said, okay, no proof of anything, we'll just have her 13 statements on the record made by Mr. Andia.

14 He refused a three member panel. I asked for a three 15 member panel for a complex case like this. He refused. He tried 16 all four cases together. If you're accused in a criminal case -- 17 and, by the way, it's recognized that these kinds of proceedings 18 are quasi criminal. In a criminal case, you can't try somebody 19 for murder, and arson, and hit and run all at the same time. But 20 that's what happened here.

21 And look at his one page, one paragraph conclusion
22 after weeks of oral testimony. Looking at the record as a whole, 23 he talks something about malum prohibitum, which is only in one 24 case. He just fused all the cases together. No separate 25 findings of fact by him. He adopted the prosecutor's findings of 1 fact and conclusions of law verbatim without even changing a 2 punctuation mark or a syllable.

3 JUDGE NAKEA: Mr. Dubin, you've got one minute left.

4 MR. DUBIN: Thank you. I'm just about done. He 5 omitted -- Mr. Hughes omitted any reference to any of my 6 defenses. And Mr. Andia, for example, had agreed. Right after 7 he had agreed, I had an obligation under the Hawaii Rules of 8 Professional Conduct to remove the money from the trust account, 9 but later on he objects, so then I offer to put it back. You 10 can't win.

11 And when the prosecutor, at the hearings, wanted to 12 quote something for the record, he let him put it in. When I 13 wanted to quote something for the record, I was not allowed.
14 Exculpatory evidence wasn't allowed on the issue of my experience 15 with Judge Real and the fact that the ODC found that I had done
16 nothing wrong. The prosecutor put on the record that I had done 17 something wrong and wouldn't allow in the record that the ODC had 18 cleared me.

19 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you, Mr. Dubin.

20 MR. DUBIN: And then --

21 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you.

22 MR. DUBIN: -- and then finally, Mr. Hughes had no 23 judicial experience.

24 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. Ms. Salwin.

25 MS. SALWIN: Yes. Mr. Dubin has had ample opportunity

1 to respond to what Mr. Horovitz told us, but the one thing he 2 didn't respond to was the first very thing that Mr. Horovitz
3 said, which was that Mr. Dubin came up to him before the hearing, 4 before the deliberations and said, I know we have a case 5 together, and I don't have a problem with it. I think it's 6 interesting that for how lengthy that was, Mr. Dubin didn't 7 acknowledge that.

8 Moving on. Mr. Dubin says that the reason he kept this 9 hearing officer's supposed conflict issue in his back pocket
10 until after he learned that Hearing Officer Hughes wanted him 11 disbarred, the reason that he did that is because that's the 12 proper procedure and there's no point in bringing a motion to 13 disqualify to the Hearing Officer himself.

14 That's sort of interesting because at the prehearing
15 conference where this all shook out, the ODC and the Hearing 16 Officer invited Mr. Dubin to file a motion right then and there 17 and what Mr. Dubin said was, well, the proper procedure is to 18 bring that to the attention of the Hearing Officer and the 19 Hearing Officer would make a decision. And if the Hearing 20 Officer doesn't recuse himself, of course, I would bring a motion 21 to disqualify the Hearing Officer. That's at page 4, lines 3 to 22 7.

23 So he's saying to the Hearing Officer at that time that 24 the proper procedure is to bring the motion to the Hearing 25 Officer. For the next year, he doesn't bring a motion. And I

1 will say, the Hearing Officer ruled on this and said, yes, that's 2 the proper procedure. Mr. Dubin said throughout, I will bring a 3 motion to disqualify the hearing examiner. He basically 4 threatened it over and over again, saying I will file a motion, I 5 will file the motion. He didn't file the motion for a year. He 6 waited to see what the Hearing Officer was going to say, and in 7 this case it was disbarment, and then he pulls this supposed 8 conflict out of his back pocket in order to try to thwart the 9 disbarment proceedings.

10 So just to do a quick timeline of that issue, in May 11 2017, the Hearing Officer discloses that they had had a case 12 together. That case was dormant in that it went up on appeal and 13 there was no activity in the case since 2012. It was neve
14 returned to the trial docket after an appeal. So he discloses 15 the issue. Mr. Dubin says in May 2017; I will file a motion to 16 disqualify the Hearing Officer. He doesn't.

17 April 2018, the Hearing Officer recommends disbarment, 18 so nearly a year later, and then like that, June 2018, Mr. Dubin 19 says that there's a conflict. This whole time there was a 20 conflict.

21 January 2019, so later, Mr. Dubin tries to revive this 22 dormant appeal. So he's right in that it is a little different 23 from the Au case. He's not creating a new case. He's a little 24 bit more clever. What he's doing is he's reviving an old case to 25 try to conjure up a conflict that way. So January, he revives

1 the case and April, he brings this motion.

2 All right. Similar kind of timeline with the 3 Disciplinary Board Member Horovitz. He gave you a very detailed 4 timeline, so I won't get too far into it, but just to line up 5 what happened in that appeal with what happened with the 6 disciplinary proceedings.

7 March 1, Mr. Dubin files a notice of appeal. In Mr.
8 Dubin's own filing, he lists Mr. Horovitz. He does not file an 9 opening brief as you heard Mr. Horovitz explain. Every now and 10 then he would pipe up with a motion for extension of time to file 11 an opening brief, but mostly he does nothing.

12 All right. So March to September 20th, that's when the 13 Court says final deadline, September 20th, to file your opening 14 brief. September 20th. He let that lapse. All right.

15 December 13th, that's when we all met in this room and 16 had the presentation on Mr. Dubin's disbarment. And then after 17 that is February 13th, the Board issues its decision to say we 18 also recommend disbarment. All right. And then like that again, 19 Mr. Dubin revives his appeal, February 20th, one week later.

20 Right. So for a year, he didn't file an opening brief.
21 And then one week after the Board issues its decision, he's 22 reviving that appeal that that he had with Mr. Horovitz. He 23 finally files his actual opening brief on March 7th, after asking 24 for another extension. And then right after he revives that 25 case, he brings this motion in April.

1 All right. So he lets it sit, lets it lag, no case
2 activity. He finds out he's up for disbarment, revives the case, 3 brings this motion. It's a pattern.

4 And the Hawaii Supreme Court has seen this pattern many 5 times with sanctioning attorneys, with criminal defendants, and 6 they have a word for it. It's called gamesmanship. That's the 7 word they use in ODC v. Au. They say -- they call it knowing 8 concealment of an ethical issue for strategic purposes. And they 9 say it cannot be tolerated, and it would tarnish the concept of 10 impartial justice. This very proceeding of I am going to claim a 11 conflict after the fact, because I don't like the ruling that the 12 adjudicant made. Or the way they phrased it is that litigants 13 cannot take the heads I win, tails you lose position of waiting 14 to see whether they win, and if they lose, moving to disqualify a 15 judge who voted against them, right. The Supreme Court has 16 handled this situation before, and they know it's gamesmanship.

17 The United States Supreme Court has seen it too, and 18 they say, a litigant who repeatedly stated to the Court that he 19 was happy to litigate here, we will not consider his claim to the 20 contrary now that he is back. That's Stern v. Marshall, a U.S.
21 Supreme Court case, 564 U.S. 462.

22 And the only other point I would like to make is that 23 the only legal grounds he cites for why this supposed conflict is 24 the reason that Mr. Horovitz couldn't have participated is 25 Judicial Canon 2.11, which discusses the appearance of

1 impropriety. Not that there's any actual evidence of bias or 2 foul play. In fact, he acknowledged the case law says just 3 because you lose that doesn't mean he's biased.

4 So the only thing he's citing to is 2.11, the 5 appearance of impropriety. And our Supreme Court has squarely 6 held that that is not a reason to overthrow a judge's decision
7 after the fact. A litigant, if they're going to claim appearance 8 of impropriety, they have to claim it before the decision gets 9 made. And that's State v. Gomez, a case from 2000, 93 Haw. 13.

10 I could bore you with the logical reasoning 11 underpinning it, but essentially appearance of impropriety, it 12 just has to be raised, or it's not preserved, and you've waived, 13 it, which is what Mr. Dubin did. He did it on purpose. It's 14 gamesmanship. He was just trying to get out of disbarment, and 15 it should not be tolerated. Thank you.

16 JUDGE NAKA: Ms. Salwin -- I'm sorry. Ms. Salwin and 17 Mr. Dubin --

18 MS. SALWIN: I was going to ask if Mr. Dubin had any 19 time for rebuttal remaining.

20 JUDGE NAKA: I'm sorry.

21 MS. SALWIN: I believe Mr. Dubin used his time for 22 rebuttal during his opening presentation.

23 JUDGE NAKA: So, as I was saying -- about to say --

24 MS. SALWIN: Oh, I'm sorry.

25 JUDGE NAKA: -- Ms. Salwin and Mr. Dubin, we are going

1 to go into deliberations, and we'll let you know our decision.

2 MR. DUBIN: I have final comments I would like to make.

3 JUDGE NAKEA: I'm sorry, Mr. Dubin, you knew the time 4 limits and you --

5 MR. DUBIN: Well --

6 JUDGE NAKEA: -- that's it, Mr. Dubin. Thank you.

7 MR. DUBIN: I'm accused of four things.

8 JUDGE NAKEA: Mr. Dubin, thank you.

9 MR. DUBIN: It's very unfair, because she doesn't have 10 the facts, and I have answers to all those things. The Board 11 should have my answers to all those things.

12 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you, Mr. Dubin. You had your 13 opportunity. You chose to spend your time on what you said.

14 MR. DUBIN: Ten minutes is hardly enough time to do 15 anything.

16 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you.

17 MS. SALWIN: Thank you.

18 JUDGE NAKEA: By the way, you had a total of 23
19 minutes. Thank you.

20 MR. DUBIN: I was ambushed by someone who took ten 21 minutes.

1 JUDGE NAKA: Thank you. This is the matter of the 2 Office of Disciplinary Counsel v. Gary Victor Dubin, ODC numbers
3 16-0-147, 16-0-151, 16-0-213, and 16-0-326. For the record, 4 please.

5 MS. SALWIN: Rebecca Salwin on behalf of Petitioner, 6 ODC.

7 MR. DUBIN: Gary Dubin and John Waihee on behalf of the 8 Respondent.

9 JUDGE NAKA: Thank you. I would ask both of you to 10 look around the table and see if there's anyone whose 11 participation you would object to. Before that, there are two 12 Board Members who wanted to make disclosures.

13 UNIDENTIFIED BOARD MEMBER: Yeah, I need to disclose
14 that I represent Jonah Kogan in the Christian Sacall (phonetic) 15 v. AOA at Hawaiian Monarch, and it's currently on appeal. So, 16 it's an active case.

17 JUDGE NAKA: Mr. Dubin, any comment or response?

18 MR. DUBIN: If you feel it's a problem, that's fine.

19 UNIDENTIFIED BOARD MEMBER: I think I can be fair.

20 JUDGE NAKA: Okay. Mr. O'Neill.

21 MR. O'NEILL: Mr. Dubin, I don't know you, but my 22 background, I was an IRS lawyer here in lawyer from 2000 -- no, 23 from 1981 to 2008, which encompasses the time frame that's 24 involved underlying the Joe Smith matter. I'm wanted to let you 25 know.

1 JUDGE NAKEA: And you had no exposure to that case?

2 MR. O'NEILL: No, I had no involvement in that case. I 3 was aware of it at the time.

4 MR. DUBIN: You feel you can be fair?

5 MR. O'NEILL: I do.

6 MR. DUBIN: I have no problem.

7 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. Yes.

8 UNIDENTIFIED BOARD MEMBER: I'll make a disclosure too 9 that I went to law school with Governor Waihee and worked on his 10 campaign way back when. I haven't seen him since then, but I 11 should make the disclosure.

12 JUDGE NAKEA: In addition to that, Ms. Salwin, Mr.
13 Dubin, objections to any other members participating?

14 MS. SALWIN: Not on behalf of ODC.

15 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

16 MR. DUBIN: No objection.

17 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. The time limits are as follows, 20 18 minutes per side. You being the movant will go first. I can 19 tell you at any point how much time you have left in case you 20 wanted to save some for rebuttal. And would you like me to 21 interrupt you and tell you when you reach a certain point?

22 MR. DUBIN: No, I'm going to keep time myself.

23 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. And you have one shot at it.

24 MS. SALWIN: Sure.

25 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. So, the floor is yours. I'm 1 sorry.

2 MS. SALWIN: Before we begin, Judge, there are two -- 3 as a housekeeping matter, there are two objections pending. I 4 don't know how important they are at this point, but I do think 5 just for the sake of the record, it's probably worth having a 6 ruling on them.

7 In DBF 82 and DBF 76, ODC objected to Mr. Dubin's
8 filings. In DBF 82, ODC objected because Mr. Dubin had filed two 9 opening briefs. One of the briefs he filed was timely and before 10 ODC filed its answering brief. One of the briefs he filed was 11 untimely and after ODC filed its answering brief. There are some 12 differences between the two briefs. At this point, I'm prepared 13 to make arguments and answer questions about both briefs, but I 14 do think it's worth knowing that that objection is still pending.

15 As to the other objection, that was an objection filed 16 in DBF number 76, stating that the 83 exhibits that Mr. Dubin 17 attached to his opening brief were untimely filed. But, again, 18 at this point, I think everyone is probably familiar with the 19 filings and prepared to discuss them, so.

20 JUDGE NAKA: Were these objections filed?

21 MS. SALWIN: They were filed. They were Board filed in 22 writing.

23 JUDGE NAKA: And not addressed?

24 MS. SALWIN: Mr. Dubin responded to them, but there was 25 no rulings on them. So, Mr. Dubin responded in DBF 77 and DBF

2 JUDGE NAKEA: Well, I would say let's argue about that 3 first.

4 MS. SALWIN: Okay.

5 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

6 MS. SALWIN: Well, the concern with the second opening 7 brief, of course, is that it was untimely filed, and it was filed 8 after ODC filed its answering brief, so preventing ODC from its 9 opportunity to respond. We've compared the two briefs. It does 10 raise -- the latter brief raises an due process argument.

11 The latter brief also changes throughout the phrase 12 that Mr. Dubin testified at the hearing to Mr. Dubin explained at 13 the hearing. I don't know what the purpose of that is, or if 14 that indicates he wasn't still obligated to tell the truth. I 15 think he was obligated to tell the truth either way, but those 16 are the differences that we could find, if there's other 17 differences throughout. I do think that we should be addressing 18 the original opening brief, which was filed timely on June 4th, 19 in DBF 74.

20 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay. I am at the point where I need to 21 consult with the Board on that particular -- well, probably all 22 of your objections.

23 MS. SALWIN: Okay.

24 JUDGE NAKEA: Did you want to respond to that, Mr.
25 Dubin?

1 MR. DUBIN: The briefs are essentially identical. The 2 Board has -- this is a very complex situation involving four 3 charges and yet if it was only one charge, I have the same time.
4 So, I did the best I could.

5 JUDGE NAKEA: Anything?

6 MS. SALWIN: But perhaps the Board would like to know 7 why he filed two different briefs -- two different opening 8 briefs.

9 JUDGE NAKEA: Did your second brief intend to 10 contradict your first brief?

11 MR. DUBIN: No, frankly, I don't even recall, but I
12 think it was for the purpose of adding the record references. I 13 think that was the difference. As I sit here, I don't recall 14 what the difference was, but it was no intention to change the 15 opening brief. I think it was the addition of the exhibits.

16 MS. SALWIN: The exhibits were filed well before the 17 second opening brief was filed. The exhibits were filed on June 18 15th. The second opening brief was filed on July 16th.

19 MR. DUBIN: And, as I recall, it was a mistake in the 20 titling of the fifth issue regarding -- which was the fourth, but 21 it was numbered five, regarding Kern. It was a typographical 22 mistake, which repeated, the heading for it, and in the heading 23 for Kern, and it did not contain the table of contents.

24 MS. SALWIN: There's a table contents in both briefs.

25 MR. DUBIN: But it was mistaken. You'll find that the

1 reference to Kern was mistakenly labeled Andia. That's what I 2 recall.

3 MS. SALWIN: We compared the two briefs and did not see 4 that change. What we saw was an additional due process argument, 5 a change of the phrase "testified at the hearing" to "explained 6 at the hearing," and a slightly lengthier caption to one of the 7 arguments, but the arguments itself was the same.

8 JUDGE NAKEA: Are you at a disadvantage if we proceed 9 with the second and first -- with both filings?

10 MS. SALWIN: Again, I'm prepared to answer questions 11 and make arguments about either brief. I do think that the 12 concern is that Mr. Dubin raised very generalized, unspecified 13 due process arguments in the latter brief, which ODC then didn't 14 have a chance to respond to because he filed that brief a few 15 hours after the ODC filed its answering brief.

16 So, the ODC filed its answering brief in the morning.
17 That afternoon, Mr. Dubin filed his second brief, which now has 18 new due process arguments in it.

19 JUDGE NAKEA: And there was -- was there another matter 20 that you wanted to address?

21 MS. SALWIN: The other matter is that he filed his 83 22 exhibits untimely by about 11 days, without seeking an extension 23 in advance.

24 JUDGE NAKEA: And are you objecting to that filing?

25 MS. SALWIN: No, because at this point, I've read all

1 the exhibits, so I've become familiar with them at this point.

2 JUDGE NAKA: Okay. So, you wouldn't feel prejudiced 3 if we proceed?

4 MS. SALWIN: I can't honestly say that I would.

5 JUDGE NAKA: Okay. So, we're limited to the raising 6 of the due process arguments?

7 MS. SALWIN: Correct.

8 JUDGE NAKA: Are you prepared to respond to those 9 today?

10 MS. SALWIN: I can respond to those.

11 JUDGE NAKA: Yes.

12 UNIDENTIFIED BOARD MEMBER: May I just ask what was the 13 new due process argument that was in the second brief?

14 MS. SALWIN: It was basically that he's been deprived 15 of due process, and the record is in shambles, I think, is the 16 extent to the argument.

17 JUDGE NAKA: Okay. Counsel, excuse me, should we have 18 a closed hearing to decide what to do with that?

19 MR. LOWENTHAL: Yes.

20 JUDGE NAKA: Yes, please. Thank you. We'll call you 21 back in.

22 (Closed Board hearing from 2:40 p.m. to 2:45 p.m.)

23 JUDGE NAKA: Thank you. The Board has decided to 24 proceed with the situation as it exists. Mr. Dubin, you've got 25 your 20 minutes.

1 MR. DUBIN: Judge Nakea, Judge Waihee, Members of the 2 Board, and Members of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel, I 3 appeared before many judges, including appellate judges, and 4 including the Royal Court, but I have never appeared before 20 5 judges in my life, so this is a new experience.

6 I would like to address five topics in the brief 20
7 minutes I have. One, I would like to talk briefly about myself; 8 second, I would like to talk about the charges; third, I would 9 like to talk about the Hearing Officer and the findings of fact 10 and conclusions of law; fourth, about the process; and then, 11 fifth, about your decision. Twenty minutes is hardly enough time 12 to cover everything. Normally, I don't do oral arguments with 13 notes, but I have them today, because I want to make sure that in 14 the brief time I have I cover everything.

15 I'm going to first tell you that I earned my right to 16 practice law. First in my class in high school, first in my 17 class in college, the top of my class in law school. I taught 18 law at Stanford, Berkley, Denver, Harvard, USC, UCLA, the RAND 19 Corporation. Fifty five years. Twenty in California, 35 in 20 Hawaii, and I have never been found guilty of any wrongdoing 21 involving a client of mine, and believe me, I've had thousands.

22 And I don't sit back and write wills. I'm a litigator, 23 where people have a lot of emotions. I've been years ago in 24 Judge Nakea's court where people are fighting. And some of my 25 clients, unfortunately, don't understand the legal system, and

1 they go after their attorney. There are some of my clients, I
2 have to say, have been dishonest, because I meet the general 3 public.

4 When I started to practice law, I represented the 5 National Football League, IBM in California, entertainers Sammy 6 Davis, Jr., Redd Foxx, Jerry Lewis. I never had a complaint.

7 When I came to Hawaii, I got involved in foreclosure 8 defense and people are losing their homes. They're going to be 9 thrown on the street, literally. They're very emotional. And 10 foreclosure defense attorneys know that they're going to get 11 complaints because the clients sometimes don't understand the 12 system and some of them ask for their money back.

13 I'm very proud of my record in Hawaii. You have a copy 14 of the testimonials. You got 12 pages, I think, of testimonials.
15 I've got more. How many lawyers in Hawaii had that many 16 testimonials? People thank me for saving their home, for saving 17 their families. It gives me a lot of satisfaction.

18 Also, because of the radio show, which I have shared 19 with Judge Waihee, I've gotten national recognition. I have 20 hundreds of thousands of listeners, and I'm so proud that some 21 people pro se, use the information on our show to save their 22 homes.

23 Let me go on to the charges. The Smith charge.
24 Supposedly, I lied on the solicitor's license ten years ago. You 25 know, a lot of states have statute of limitations on disciplinary

1 procedures. They don't go back ten years. You know, witnesses
2 die. It's kind of hard to prove things. But this all started 3 because the Disciplinary -- excuse me -- the Office of 4 Disciplinary Counsel filed a grievance because they said that the 5 Court had found me to have misrepresented my situation regarding 6 the income tax problem I had with the IRS. They didn't 7 understand the law. It was a -- it was a malum prohibitum 8 offense.

9 The prosecutor with DCCA who prosecuted me on the 10 record, and you have a copy of that, said they're not claiming 11 that I intentionally did anything. They're just claiming that 12 the wrong box was checked. Well, I found that -- my paralegal 13 testified that he was the one who checked the box, not me. The 14 standard is supposed to be clear and convincing evidence. There 15 was no evidence that I intentionally checked the wrong box, but 16 what evidence there was, was that I had been exonerated by the 17 IRS District Office in Seattle. They found that rather my having 18 failed to have filed tax returns -- in fact, they owed me 19 100,000, and I didn't have a file requirement in those three 20 years, and they credited me with $100,000.

21 The U.S. District Court, took with interest, $300,000 22 from me. So, I sued to get the money back. The IRS said they 23 couldn't give me the money, because the District Court had it. I 24 can't get the money unless I go back to my original case with 25 Judge Manuel Real. If anybody who knows Judge Manuel Real would

1 know you don't want to go before him. It's not worth 300,000, 2 but as soon as he passes away, I hope to get my $300,000 back 3 from the District Court.

4 But the point is there was no intent. There was no
5 proven intent. They just made a mistake. They didn't understand 6 what the law was. I appealed it to the Intermediate Court of 7 Appeals arguing that malum prohibitum without intent just made no 8 sense, but I didn't succeed with that particular appeal.

9 Let me move on -- let me say, is that a reason to 10 disbar an attorney? The peculiar thing was that at the same time 11 I'm publishing full page ads in the newspaper, on the ABA Journal 12 investigative report that found me to be innocent of the charges.
13 So, why would I not check the box when I was advertising all over 14 the place. I wanted everybody to know that I was innocent, 15 because I had suffered a lot of bad press. I wanted everybody to 16 know.

17 So, with that in mind, how could you find that I had 18 the intent to hide when I was publishing in the newspaper. I 19 would like to know from the Office of Disciplinary Counsel, why 20 the hearing examiner didn't comment on my defenses. He just 21 accepted the idea that I was found to have misrepresented. Okay.
22 I got to move on here.

23 The ICA. That I was late and had inadequate record
24 references. Well, as I say in the brief, the record references 25 were more than adequate and from what I gathered from the clerks

1 at the Intermediate Court of Appeals, over half of the appellate 2 bar would be disbarred if that were the grounds because a lot of 3 people are late. The ICA has this rule that you have to ask for 4 an extension within five days -- before five days of the 5 deadline. A lot of times emergencies arise. I would be 6 surprised if there is anybody here who practices appellate work
7 hasn't missed a deadline because of that. And I responded, and I 8 explained why, and I paid a $50 fine.

9 Three years later, the ICA refers me to the Office of 10 Disciplinary Counsel. Who are the ICA? Well, in the last 20 11 years I won more than 70 appeals and maybe 15 of the Hawaii 12 Supreme Court overruling the ICA. And I'm told that a couple of 13 people on the staff at the ICA don't like me. Maybe I had too 14 much success in reversing them, but nobody testified. Nobody 15 from the ICA testified. So, I paid a $50 fine. I think it's 16 double jeopardy after I pay the fine, three years later to 17 suddenly conclude that I should be referred for ethical charges.

18 Again, where is the intent? No one is claiming that I
19 intentionally intended to miss the deadline. Like that's all I 20 have to do in life is, you know, miss deadlines. There's no 21 intent. If you read the preamble to the Hawaii Rules of 22 Professional Conduct, you'll see where they talk about intent.

23 Let's talk about Andia. The funds were disputed. I 24 had nothing to do with the case after initially. For three years 25 I had nothing to do with the case. I had never talked to Andia,

1 never written him. The only -- when it came time, I didn't know
2 what was going on in the case. He paid $16,500. The case went 3 on for over three years, maybe four years. The lawyers of my 4 office filed a counterclaim and the Bank of America agreed to pay 5 132,000, just to get rid of the counterclaim. Now, a lot of my 6 clients would think that's a victory.

7 Up to that time, I only had about -- from Bank of 8 America, only about 300 or $400,000 settlements. Those were the 9 largest we ever had. But the guy had not paid us anything after 10 the initial retainer. And according to our records, he owed us 11 about 70,000.

12 So, I presented him with a bill, and I met with him.
13 And he agreed to accept the charges. And in the submission, in 14 our opening brief, you'll see he said okay. He said -- in an 15 email he said, yes, I accepted it, but yet he went -- a month 16 later he met with some friends of his and decided he would 17 object. What did I do when he said he would object?

18 First of all, there's a rule in the Hawaii Rules of 19 Professional Conduct that once he agreed, then I had an 20 obligation to take the money out. So, I took the money out. But 21 this all started because the Office of Disciplinary Counsel told 22 the reviewing board member that I had put the money in my 23 personal funds and that's what they said in the original 24 complaint against me. And then they had to change it. It went 25 into the client trust account. And why did it go in the client

1 trust account? Well, the settlement agreement provided that I
2 give them my W9 form, which I did. It was a mistake that I 3 wasn't -- that the (indiscernible) were not listed as part of the 4 receipt.

5 And the First Hawaiian Bank agreed -- they told me to 6 initial it, and they would put it in the client trust account.
7 And the money didn't go anywhere, and the client was notified.
8 And, in fact, there's a rule in the Professional Conduct that 9 says disputed funds have to stay in the client trust account 10 until the client agrees. When he agreed, the money came out of 11 the trust account.

12 Then he starts objecting over a month later. So, I 13 said, okay, I'll put the money back in. That wasn't good enough 14 for him. I said that I would go and submit it to -- the dispute 15 to the Bar. He didn't want to do that either. He just wanted to 16 go around town and go to the police, saying I had committed 17 forgery. Well, they didn't accept that.

18 But then, First Hawaiian Bank filed a lawsuit on the 19 issue. I filed a lawsuit. My lawsuit was before Judge Crandall.
20 She wanted to hear the facts, so she gave an order to show cause 21 that Andia should come into her court and explain his position, 22 and he didn't show up. And he didn't show up before Judge Chang 23 either. So, he had his chance. He didn't show up.

24 Originally, he said, well, it was a flat fee. Let's 25 talk about boxes being checked. The flat fee on my retainer

1 agreement was not checked. Peculiarly, the hearing examiner 2 supported my position because his conclusion was that I ought to 3 pay 19,000 to Andia and keep the rest of the 70,000. Andia 4 wanted to run off with all the money.

5 Lawyers should be paid for their services. We have a 6 right to be paid. He wanted to run off with everything. I did 7 the right thing. I put it in the trust account. He agreed, then 8 he disagreed. I was willing to put it back. Even the hearing 9 examiner concluded that I was entitled to about 50 of the 70,000, 10 indirectly. It also turned out that his real reason was he 11 wanted to hide the money from his ex-wife, because he wasn't 12 paying support and that's document in Ho'ohiki.

13 Also, I won a couple of big cases in the Hawaii Supreme 14 Court involving Gerry Mount. One of Andia's emails to me had a 15 copy to Gerry Mount. Gerry Mount is involved in sailing, as I 16 am, at the yacht club and apparently, he talked to Gerry Mount.
17 So, I asked the ODC to do an investigation of that and, of 18 course, they didn't bother.

19 The fourth one is Kern. It's all hearsay. Kern is not 20 my -- Kern was not my client. Why didn't they have Harkey 21 testify by phone? The ODC can pick and choose who they want, so 22 they bring the lawyer who represented Harkey. I never believed 23 that Harkey ever approved of that charge against me.

24 And I had to withdraw and so, I'll explain here, 25 because they were committing a fraud on the Nevada District

1 Court. They had picked me as -- Harkey had picked me as his 2 attorney, and then I get a notice that they're putting everything 3 in a trust and Nora, who was a suspended Wisconsin attorney, for 4 ethical reasons, was going to -- the trustee was going to control 5 me, and I said, I can't do that, because she couldn't come into 6 the case. So, that was a mess.

7 Let me talk to you about the process. Unfortunately, I 8 don't have too much time, but four cases were put together.
9 Disciplinary actions are quasi criminal. Whoever heard of trying 10 to a defendant on isolated cases -- criminal cases altogether. I 11 was prevented from calling adverse witnesses. Mrs. Andia, she 12 testified through her husband, but the hearing examiner said, 13 well, she's ill because Mr. Andia said she was ill, and she can't 14 come. I think she's the one who put in the anonymous Smith 15 letter.

16 There was no pre-screening. I asked to speak to the 17 Office of Disciplinary Counsel about these charges, and they said 18 after the petition is filed then they'll talk to me. One of the 19 investigators, Ms. Sink, she was with her husband's law firm when 20 he was filing -- when he put on that T.V. add, he was committing 21 legal malpractice. I had to hire an attorney, and then he took 22 it down.

23 He sued me twice for legal malpractice while she was in 24 the office and those cases were dismissed. And in the last one, 25 I got my attorney's fees. So, there's a lot of animus there, but

1 she was assigned as my investigator. And they had several 2 investigators, and I said, give me another investigator. They 3 never gave me another investigator.

4 The hearing examiner. I have an active case still 5 ongoing with him, but he would not disqualify himself. I asked 6 for a three judge panel --

7 JUDGE NAKEA: Excuse me, what was that noise?

8 MR. DUBIN: Oh, that meant my time was up. If I can 9 just finish.

10 JUDGE NAKEA: Okay.

11 MR. DUBIN: So, the hearing examiner, I asked for a 12 three judge panel, ignored. It comes time to file briefs in this 13 tribunal, I'm told it's got to be double spaced, 35 pages, 14 14 point type. It was an effort getting all my thoughts in. That's 15 not the requirement. You can go one-and-a-half spaces in the 16 Hawaii Supreme Court. And you can get an extension -- they'll 17 give you an extension. Of course, Judge Nakea was nice enough to 18 give me a 30 day extension. I only get 20 minutes to talk about 19 four charges. What if there was 50 charges? Would I still get 20 20 minutes? If it was one, I would get 20 minutes.

21 There was no decision by the hearing examiner on any of 22 these charges. Just one paragraph and one letter. It's 23 incomprehensible about cumulative effect of all these charges. I 24 don't understand what he meant, but it was adopted. He took -- 25 he took the ODC Prosecutor's findings of fact and conclusions of 1 law. And you can imagine, they were not favorable to me. And he 2 adopted them without a change in a comma, punctuation, or 3 syllable.

4 Well, I gave you some citations. Judges don't like 5 that, because they think, rightly so, you know, that maybe they 6 didn't -- maybe the hearing officer or the judge did not properly 7 understand.

8 And about your decision. Rule 24(d) and Rule 25. You 9 can affirm -- to me that's unthinkable -- but you can affirm the 10 hearing examiner, my opposing attorney in one case. And you can 11 read the transcripts if you want, he just gave the ODC everything 12 they wanted and denied me. And when it came to the IRS matter, I 13 pointed out that I was found not guilty of any professional 14 wrongdoing by the ODC, and the ODC Prosecutor wouldn't admit 15 that. And the hearing examiner said, well, I'm not going to 16 recognize that. I found it later. Denial of exculpatory 17 evidence.

18 MS. SALWIN: Judge, I believe we're over time.

19 JUDGE NAKA: Thank you.

20 MR. DUBIN: And in conclusion, my final words. I was 21 not told that I was threatened with disbarment until just before 22 the hearing. Had I been told that, I would have sought to keep 23 the thing private. The only thing it said in the petition was, 24 you'll find, that I'm going to take a course in ethics. That 25 trick exposed me to bad press. I have -- it has been in the 1 press that this group is considering disbarring me.

2 As a result, I've lost clients, I've lost cases, I've 3 had -- I've lost staff members, because why not? I'm supposedly 4 about to be disbarred. I was unable for two-and-a-half years to 5 accept pro hac vice appointments, to help people out in other 6 states where I'm not licensed because, ethically, the courts
7 would not allow me to come into their court. I've lost over $1 8 million in the costs, I gave each of you one of these, in the 9 time lost, and I can't explain to you in dollars and cents the 10 emotional aggravation this has caused me and my family. No 11 member of the Hawaii Bar should ever again be exposed to this 12 kind of treatment. Never again. Never again.

13 In concluding, Mr. Waihee, who I've gotten to know is 14 as fair a guy as I know Judge Nakea to be. He was there for all 15 of the hearings. And if you want really an unbiased opinion, you 16 can go and ask him. Thank you very much.

17 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. For the record, Mr. Dubin, 18 it's 27 minutes later. Thank you. Ms. Salwin.

19 MS. SALWIN: I would like to start by discussing the 20 Andia case, which is when Mr. Dubin forged his client's name on 21 the back of the check. And I don't say that glibly, I'm 22 referring to the statutory definition of forgery, 708-852, Hawaii 23 Revised Statutes, which defines forgery as: With the intent to 24 defraud, falsely endorsing a written instrument, which is a 25 commercial instrument. So, case law State v. Mason, has also

1 defined putting someone else's signature on the back of a check 2 as an act of forgery.

3 Mr. Dubin did forge his clients' names on the back of 4 his check. You'll see it in Exhibit B-6 from the hearing 5 exhibits. You can see that he even changed the handwriting on 6 the check, the way that he wrote Andia each time, so that it 7 looked like two different people had signed it. The As are 8 different, the Ns are different.

9 And you might be thinking, well, why would somebody 10 forge their clients' name on a check just to securely put it into 11 a trust account, because I had the same thought when I picked up 12 this case a few months ago. The truth is, he had no right to 13 those funds.

14 The check was made out exclusively to the clients, who 15 were under the impression from 2012, when they retained him, that 16 they were paying him a flat fee of $16,500. He didn't provide 17 them any invoices. He didn't provide them any charges while this 18 cases pended for three years. Then he got the check -- 19 settlement check from opposing counsel and, contrary to what he 20 just said, he did not notify the client that he received the 21 check. He took the check and without telling them, let alone 22 getting their authorization, he put their signature on the check, 23 so that he could put it into his bank account.

24 After the fact, he came up with some invoice that 25 justified, supposedly, the $70,000 worth of charges he had racked

1 up over the past three years. Mr. Andia testified that if he had 2 known that this was how he was going to be charged, he would have 3 shopped around for a different attorney. If he had known that 4 $70,000 was going to be taken out of his settlement funds, he 5 wouldn't have settled.

6 So, he was depriving his client of the chance to make 7 decisions about his client's money. Mr. Dubin wasn't entitled to 8 those funds. For the additional reason that the bill that he did 9 come up with, after the fact, vastly overcharges. And the 10 hearing officer wrote a very conservative hearing officer's 11 findings that only highlights the most clear cut case of 12 overcharging, which is $19,885. That's the conservative number.
13 That even by Mr. Dubin's own account is how much he overcharged 14 his client.

15 How did he do it? He told the Andias in their written 16 agreement that he would be charging associate's rates at 185 to 17 250 an hour. So no more than 250 an hour. But when the bill 18 came out, it lists these associates as being charged at 385 an 19 hour. So, when you do the math of the number of hours that the 20 associates got billed out at senior rates, it came out to 21 $19,885. That also includes an entire month where an associate 22 was being billed out at senior rates who didn't even have a 23 Hawaii license.

24 So, not only was he not a senior attorney, he wasn't an 25 associate, he wasn't a lawyer, and he was being billed out at

1 senior partner rates. And, again, that's just the most clear cut
2 and obvious example of the over charge. The hearing officer made 3 this finding at around 110 of the hearing officer's findings.

4 And as to the idea that the Andias had a flat -- did 5 not have a flat fee agreement because Mr. Dubin should have 6 checked the box, I believe what he's referring to is in Exhibit 7 B-3, which is the signed client -- legal services agreement with 8 the client, at the bottom it says: $16,500, and it checks that 9 this is for fees and costs as a retainer, not checked for flat 10 fee, right, but that's dated 2/21/12.

11 When you look up to their signature, their signature 12 was dated 2/17/12. So, what this money was for was written in 13 after they signed it and returned it to him. They even provided 14 -- and that's the next exhibit over -- before their copy of the 15 legal services agreement, which doesn't have any reference to 16 what the sixteen-five was for.

17 The other thing to point out about this case is that 18 when the Andias -- when Mr. Andia specifically asked Mr. Dubin 19 for a simple follow-up with what was happening with my 20 settlement, Mr. Dubin not only didn't tell him that he had 21 already received the settlement funds, already signed his name on 22 the check, and already put the money into the bank, he got 23 antagonistic. And if you can look quickly after we leave through 24 Exhibits B-10 through B-22, you can see as Mr. Andia stays 25 surprisingly composed and respectful throughout as he's asking

1 questions, I'm a bit confused about why we're getting invoiced.
2 We paid a $16,500 flat fee. And Mr. Dubin responds that:
3 Apparently, you thought you were getting a free ride. You're 4 finding phony reasons not to pay. You are not grateful. We have 5 been so successful. You must immediately secure new counsel. We 6 are immediately stopping working on your case because of your 7 attitude. Going over to B-14, he writes to Mr. Andia: Stop 8 making a complete ass of yourself.

9 Going over to B-18, Mr. Andia just lays out, very 10 objectively, here's the math, here's the rates I thought I was 11 being charged based on the legal services agreement. Based on 12 this, there's a discrepancy of $19,885. Mr. Dubin responds in B-13 19: These schedules periodically change.

14 Well, that wasn't true because these first year 15 associates and even the non-lawyer were being charged premium 16 rates from day one. So, it wasn't that they became more 17 experienced and became more valuable. They were charged those 18 rates from day one. He threatens them and says: If you keep 19 pushing this, I'm going to charge you a new invoice with 20 additional charges.

21 Going to B-20, Mr. Andia writes back: Thank you, Mr.
22 Dubin. Attached is the agreement I signed. Sincerely, Robert 23 King Andia. Dubin responds: You can tell whoever you are 24 speaking with behind the scenes that he can stick the agreement 25 you know where.

1 So, I would encourage everyone to take a quick scan 2 through those emails, because I think that's very telling of how 3 Mr. Dubin has treated his client during this case.

4 And to move on. There is a similar pattern that you
5 see in the Harkey/Kern matter. Charges $45,000 up front, leaves 6 thereafter. Spends about two months ignoring his client and 7 stringing them -- and stringing Mr. Kern along as Mr. Kern 8 actively seeks return of the funds or at least an accounting.

9 Mr. Dubin eventually, not to his client, but to the 10 ODC, a year-and-a-half later, provides an invoice. And, again, 11 even going conservatively, even if we choose to believe this 12 invoice that's unethical billing instances throughout that 13 invoice and that's exhibited in Respondent's Exhibit 1.

14 And if you compare that to volume 5 of the transcripts, 15 pages 1017 through 1023, Mr. Kern goes, and he highlights some of 16 the most egregious examples of improper billing, including that 17 according to this invoice on April 11th, Mr. Dubin earned 30.1
18 hours' worth of work in one day. There's instances of him 19 charging 12.5 hours for a six minute text exchange. Charging ten 20 hours for a one hour phone conversation that was, basically, just 21 asking someone respond to him as pro hac vice. Mr. Kern reached 22 out to that attorney and said, we didn't discuss this for ten 23 hours, we discussed it for less than one. So, that transcript 24 highlights the overbilling in that case.

25 But even by Mr. Dubin's own invoice, there's still

1 instances of him taking over $3,000 out of the client trust 2 account into his own account, before he earned it even by his 3 invoice, even if you believe that invoice.

4 Moving on to the DCCA case. You know, he says why
5 would I be hiding the fact that I had a situation with the IRS, 6 right. And he couldn't even say the words to you today that he 7 was convicted. He was convicted. There was no appeal. He tried 8 in venue, after venue to get that overturned. He stands 9 convicted. He couldn't even say the words to you. So, yes, he 10 had a motive to lie.

11 And he says that at the DCCA, they found that it wasn't 12 intentional. What they actually found was that they didn't need 13 to prove intent, to prove he made an untruthful statement. They 14 didn't to prove motive. And not only did they revoke his 15 license, they gave him a $1,000 fine.

16 He says that it was his paralegal that, Mr. Vu, who 17 made a mistake on the application, but when pressed at the 18 hearing, what came out is that Mr. Dubin was telling his 19 assistant my conviction has been overturned. I have been 20 exonerated. And at page 227 and 228 of that transcript, the 21 assistant said that Mr. Dubin even provided him a handwritten 22 letter purporting to be from the IRS, clearing him of his 23 conviction and that that's the information the assistant used 24 when filling out the application.

25 So, Mr. Dubin on the one hand is telling his assistant

1 my conviction has been overturned and on the other hand, hands 2 his assistant an application that asks about his conviction.
3 Then when he gets caught lying on the application, he turns 4 around and blames the assistant. When he was caught with that at 5 the hearing, he said: well, I didn't read the application before 6 I signed it.

7 But, of course, on the application he made changes, and 8 he hand wrote in changes where he wanted to change the answers
9 that his assistant had put. He changed a yes answer to a no 10 answer. He circled it, he wrote his initials, and he even 11 spelled out N-O in his own handwriting to make it abundantly 12 clear the answer that he wanted. When he was asked about that at 13 the hearing, he said, well, I only read the ones that were 14 already marked yes. If it was marked no, I didn't bother reading 15 it. So, these are the series of statements that he made about 16 that DCCA case.

17 Turning to the ICA case. He states that the ICA has 18 this unfair policy of requiring people to make extension motions 19 five days in advance, otherwise they fine you $50. Those are 20 inaccurate statements as well. His motions for extensions of 21 time occurred in the 2012 consolidated case, 2.5 months late.
22 Not five days early, not four days early, 2.5 months late. In 23 the 2013 appeal, it was three weeks late. And he was not fined 24 the routine $50, he was fined $150 and $200, respectively.

25 So, he is not like the entire bar who occasionally

1 misses a deadline. He dragged these cases out for years before 2 even filing a compliant opening brief.

3 Finally, as to the consent about the hearing officer 4 having an active case against him, that case has been inactive 5 since 2012. I have nothing further.

6 JUDGE NAKA: Thank you. The Members of the Board will 7 be entitled to ask questions of both parties.

8 MR. DUBIN: I would be happy to respond.

9 JUDGE NAKA: I know you would, Mr. Dubin, but your 27 10 minutes is 27 minutes.

11 MR. DUBIN: I know. We're talking about justice. The 12 Prosecutor will say anything they want.

13 JUDGE NAKA: You expected that, and I guess -- you 14 should have saved some time if you expect the prosecutors to say 15 anything they want. You should -- I'm not in a position to 16 lecture anybody. Sorry.

17 MR. DUBIN: I appreciate it.

18 JUDGE NAKA: Any questions? Any questions? No 19 questions?

20 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: I have one question.

21 JUDGE NAKA: For the record, please, you are?

22 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: Judy Schevtchuk. Mr. Dubin, I believe 23 you testified with regard to the Andia settlement check along the 24 lines of the First Hawaiian Bank had notified the client that the 25 settlement check had come in. I don't know if that was my -- if

1 I correctly heard that or not.

2 MR. DUBIN: No, I think you -- you misunderstood the 3 testimony. The check came in. I wasn't the assigned attorney, 4 so I didn't get any of this stuff at first. I just heard about 5 it when Andia was running to the opposing attorney, Patricia 6 McHenry, trying to get the check. That's when I got upset
7 because he was going to the opposing attorney. And she called 8 me, and she was upset that he was going to her. First Hawaiian 9 Bank had this policy where I initial it, they initial the check.
10 They approve the check. I initial the signature. There was no 11 question that I was signing it. They approved it.

12 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: The check that was made out to your 13 client?

14 MR. DUBIN: Right. Right. And it was a mistake 15 because the settlement agreement provided for my company. We 16 gave them our W9. Usually a check is made out to the law firm 17 and the client because otherwise we could go after our legal 18 fees. So, in just about every instance we ever had, the check 19 was made out to the law firm.

20 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: You stated that the check came into 21 your office, but not somebody -- that you weren't personally 22 handling the case at that point?

23 MR. DUBIN: That's right.

24 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: So, you had an associate that was 25 responsible for the case at the time of the settlement check?

1 MR. DUBIN: That's right. He would get all the stuff
2 involving Andia.

3 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: But he was still supervised by you?

4 MR. DUBIN: He was supervised by me, but the Office of 5 Disciplinary Counsel says -- excuse me, the Hawaii Rules of 6 Professional Conduct say when you supervise somebody, you know, 7 you're not liable ethically unless you had the intent to do
8 something wrong. So -- but that individual, Richard Forrester, 9 he was also accused by the Office of Disciplinary Counsel, and 10 they found him not to be liable for anything.

11 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: Thank you. No further questions.

12 JUDGE NAKA: Questions. For the record, please.

13 MR. BLACK: Brian Black. Do you agree with the ODC 14 that the hearing's officer in the case that you have with him has 15 been inactive since 2012?

16 MR. DUBIN: I'm sorry, I didn't hear you.

17 MR. BLACK: The case that you have with the hearing's 18 officer -- involving the hearing's officer, do you agree with the 19 ODC that that case has been inactive since 2012?

20 MR. DUBIN: I don't know what you mean by inactive.
21 It's still there. We haven't settled the case yet. The fact 22 that he would be involved created an ethical problem for me 23 because the client could think that I was negotiating that case.
24 That case has not yet been resolved. It was just delayed because 25 the client died in a motorcycle accident.

1 MR. BLACK: Do you -- did you raise this concern about 2 the hearing's officer to the hearing's officer --

3 MR. DUBIN: Yes.

4 MR. BLACK: -- or at the time?

5 MR. DUBIN: I raised it at a prehearing conference, and 6 he said he would take it under advisement, and then he submitted 7 something that said he could be -- he could be neutral. That's 8 on the record.

9 MR. BLACK: Okay. And your concern about his 10 participation, can you explain that to me?

11 MR. DUBIN: Well, I'm concerned -- I think anybody 12 would be concerned if an opposing counsel were the hearing 13 officer, and it puts me in an ethical dilemma with my client.
14 The heir is -- is on the mainland and the thing has still not 15 been resolved.

16 MR. BLACK: Thank you.

17 MR. DUBIN: You know, I asked for many things. I asked 18 for a three judge panel. I didn't get that either. He ignored 19 my requests.

20 JUDGE NAKA: Questions? Yes, for the record.

21 MR. JIM ON: Shelton Jim On for the record, please.
22 Mr. Dubin, you testified right before the hearing that you had 23 met with Mr. Andia, you had presented him the bill, and he 24 agreed. When did that take place? Before -- was it before or 25 after the check was deposited?

1 MR. DUBIN: The check was put in the trust account, he 2 was notified. He came in, we discussed it. He raised an 3 objection to the hours -- the billable hours, which -- it's Rule 4 1.15(e), does not even have the word billable -- the phrase
5 billable hours. And it says you can charge a reasonable fee, 6 including based upon the outcome.

7 So, I thought that was reasonable. And at first, he 8 objected to that, and then in the end he accepted it. And then 9 when we had our email correspondence after he says that he 10 disputed it. I reminded him -- and you have those emails -- that 11 he had agreed. He then said, yeah, I said okay. And this is 12 very important. He said -- he said it was okay because he was 13 afraid, he wouldn't get the -- he wouldn't get the money. The 14 check was waiting for him, if he didn't agree, but yet when he 15 got the check he waited, I think, it was ten days before he 16 cashed the check.

17 So, he comes up with, you know, every -- an answer for 18 everything, but the record doesn't bear that out. So, we met, 19 and he said he accepted it and in accordance with the Rule of 20 Professional Conduct, I'm obligated to take the money out of the 21 account immediately. So, that's the first time I took the money 22 out of the account after he acknowledged that he accepted -- he 23 accepted the distribution.

24 Then when he told me he didn't accept it, I said I'll 25 put the money back in, but at that time he seemed only to want to 1 go after me. He went to the police with a forgery charge.

2 Forgery requires intent. There's no intent here when you sign 3 your initials, and you put the money in the trust account, you 4 let them know it's in the trust account. So, the police didn't 5 do anything. It was not forgery by definition. And that was the 6 procedure with First Hawaiian Bank as well.

7 JUDGE NAKEA: Questions. Mr. Sing, for the record
8 please.

9 MR. SING: Richard Sing. I heard your questions 10 following or your answer following Mr. Black. My questions are 11 along the same lines. You suggested that you had been treated 12 unfairly by the process, and I'd like to -- you know, besides 13 that instance with the hearing's officer, what's the next biggest 14 thing --

15 MR. DUBIN: Well --

16 MR. SING: -- maybe you think were you treated 17 unfairly?

18 MR. DUBIN: -- when a lawyer is accused of wrongdoing, 19 they ought to talk to the lawyer because, you know, you're all 20 volunteers. So, this is taking your time. It has taken a lot of 21 my time. You would think that -- before the present regime came 22 in and which is no longer here, when there would be a complaint 23 filed, the investigator would call you up, and talk to you, and 24 get your side of the story. And then, you know, that would -- 25 that would all factor in, but I had no opportunity to explain any

1 of this.

2 And the clearest example is that the Board was told 3 that I had misrepresented when I hid my -- supposedly, hid my 4 criminal problem with Judge Real and the IRS. I could have 5 easily explained all that, but if you look at the cases, the 6 cases say it has nothing to do with intent.

7 But the key is if you look at the original complaint 8 against me, that charge merely says I was found guilty of 9 misrepresentation in that case, which I wasn't. And although the 10 license was revoked due to financial, I had -- I had given up the 11 license two years before. I started a mortgage company, because 12 I wanted to do something which was fair to the homeowner. And, 13 in reality, the mortgage industry was a bunch of thieves and the 14 guy running it was stealing money and giving people bad loans.

15 So, I fired him, I took over the mortgage company for 16 about three months in order to get the loans cleared. I never 17 intended -- when I became, you know, the solicitor in charge, I 18 never intended to run the place. And I ended it. And two years 19 later, they decided to prosecute me or to take away the license.
20 The actual license had been voluntarily surrendered. Yet, here, 21 it makes them look like they took my license away. There was no 22 license at that time.

23 But, in answer to your question, a lawyer ought to have 24 the ability to talk to the ODC. Instead, I was told by Dane 25 Percy, if I pronounced the name correctly, she said that I would

1 have an opportunity to talk to her after the Board decided -- 2 after the Members of the Board decided to prosecute me.

3 After that, it's been like a fast moving freight train.
4 I tried to get my facts in. And I don't think the ODC should be 5 a prosecutor, like a criminal prosecutor. They should want to 6 know the facts. And, yet, they twist everything.

7 MR. SING: Thank you, sir.

8 MS. SALWIN: To answer the previous question --

9 MR. JIM ON: Yes, I would like an answer. Shelton Jim 10 On. I would like an answer from Ms. Salwin about the previous 11 question about whether or not there was an acceptance.

12 MS. SALWIN: So, if you turn to page 4 of the 13 complaint, which was the Petitioner's Exhibit B-1, and that -- 14 the whole complaint is, actually, very organized and well laid 15 out. It explains that on November 3rd, is when the Dubin Offices 16 cashed that settlement check. On the 6th, the client, Mr. Andia, 17 happened to send an email just asking about the status. He got 18 emails back from an associate and from Mr. Dubin. That's also 19 the same day that the emails devolved into accusations and Mr.
20 Dubin fired his client on the 6th.

21 Then on November 10th, Mr. Dubin provided an invoice, 22 which included $8,000 to replenish the retainer even though the 23 client had been fired. Then on the 12th, the client went to Mr.
24 Dubin's office to work out this confusion about the invoices and 25 said that he left -- he said, okay, and left. He didn't want to

1 push it any further given the antagonistic emails and the fact
2 that there was this $8,000 check that he hadn't been able to cash 3 yet and that as soon as the check cleared, which was one month 4 later, he then continued bringing up the dispute directly with 5 Mr. Dubin on December 13th.

6 JUDGE NAKA: Mr. Black.

7 MR. BLACK: Brian Black. ODC, I would just like to 8 have your position regarding the conflicts with the hearing's 9 officer -- the alleged conflict of interest.

10 MS. SALWIN: My understanding is that there was no 11 conflict of interest, much like when a judge rules on a motion to 12 recuse himself. It was brought to the hearing officer's 13 attention. The case on Ho'ohiki has had no activity since 2012.
14 It sounds like, basically, the case went up for appeal, got 15 remanded, never got recalendared for anything. The hearing 16 officer, I believe, in his letter said that he tried to get it 17 recalendared, but basically the case just dropped after 2012, 18 because a party had died.

19 I think -- I don't -- and I don't know that much about 20 that exact case, but my general understanding, based on the 21 record, is that the fact that it's even open on Ho'ohiki is more 22 of a housekeeping oversight than a reflection of act of 23 litigation.

24 MR. BLACK: I would like to hear from Mr. Dubin.

25 JUDGE NAKA: Mr. Black, would like a response, I

1 guess.

2 MR. DUBIN: Well, we had a settlement offer of about 3 10,000 from the insurance company. When we were pondering that 4 -- the client was survived by his father, who is in ill health.
5 And that was the situation. The Court wanted us to bring in a 6 real party-in-interest when it looked like the father was going 7 to die. So, the case was open. It was never closed. It's still 8 open. We were -- we had a settlement offer from Mr. Hughes.

9 MS. PRICE: Leta Price. Mr. Dubin, did you have 10 permission from your clients to endorse the settlement check?

11 MR. DUBIN: Yes and no. It was by contract. We have a 12 lien on settlement proceeds. We had a procedure with First 13 Hawaiian Bank that we could put the money in the trust account 14 because if a client put in the trust account -- excuse me. If 15 the client would put the money in his account, it would take ten 16 days to clear. It would clear faster with my arrangement with 17 First Hawaiian Bank.

18 So, I asked First Hawaiian Bank and First Hawaiian Bank 19 said if I initial it, they'll put it in the trust account, as 20 long as the money is not taken out unless there's agreement.

21 MS. PRICE: Is that the yes part of your answer?

22 MR. DUBIN: Pardon?

23 MS. PRICE: Is that the yes part of your answer? Your 24 explanation, is that the yes part of your answer.

25 MR. DUBIN: That's the yes part.

1 MS. PRICE: Okay. And what is the no?

2 MR. DUBIN: The no is that there was -- there was no
3 injury. There was no harm, except the harm to my law firm 4 because even the hearing examiner concluded that about 51 percent
5 or 51,000 was ours. He didn't ask that -- what the client wanted 6 to do, the client wanted to run away with all the money.

7 MS. PRICE: Okay. Thank you. So, my question was did 8 you have permission from your clients to endorse the check, yes 9 or no?

10 MR. DUBIN: Yes, because there was a settlement. The 11 settlement agreement provided consideration for my law firm. The 12 negotiations of the settlement agreement, we had provided our W9 13 form. Everybody was surprised, including opposing counsel, when 14 the check was not made out to both of us.

15 MS. PRICE: So, when you received the check, the client 16 said, yes, Mr. Dubin, you can endorse the check that's payable to 17 us? Did they say that?

18 MR. DUBIN: The money went nowhere. That's one of the 19 benefits of the client trust account.

20 JUDGE NAKEA: Mr. Dubin, this is --

21 MS. PRICE: Just answer my question.

22 JUDGE NAKEA: -- excuse me. I think the question is 23 clear. Did they verbally say yes or in writing say yes you can 24 cash this particular check.

25 MS. PRICE: Correct. That's my question. Did they

1 verbally tell you, yes, you can cash my check, or do you have 2 anything in writing from your client that says, yes, you can cash 3 my settlement check?

4 MR. DUBIN: He did ratify it. So, obviously, I put the 5 check for safekeeping in the client trust account.

6 MS. PRICE: Did they give -- that's okay. Thank you, 7 Mr. Dubin. You've answered my question.

8 JUDGE NAKEA: Questions?

9 MR. HOROVITZ: And I have one last question on the 10 check as well.

11 JUDGE NAKEA: For the record, please.

12 MR. HOROVITZ: Peter Horovitz. You signed their names
13 on the back of the check, and you initialed it. That was all 14 your writing?

15 MR. DUBIN: Correct.

16 MR. HOROVITZ: Thank you.

17 MR. DUBIN: And First Hawaiian Bank initialed the check 18 as well.

19 MR. HOROVITZ: I understand. Thank you.

20 JUDGE NAKEA: Thank you. Questions.

21 MS. SALWIN: If it's helpful, the hearing officer's 22 report at findings 94 and 95, state that: Neither Mr. Dubin nor 23 the associate even told the Andias they got the settlement check, 24 and he found that he did not have their consent to endorse the 25 settlement check. And then it cites to the transcript where that 1 testimony came out.

2 MR. DUBIN: Well, that's written by the ODC, as was the 3 entire findings of fact and conclusions of law.

4 JUDGE NAKEA: Question. Yes.

5 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: Last question. Judy Schevtchuk. Mr.
6 Dubin, how much did your firm make at the end of the day in the 7 Andia matter?

8 MR. DUBIN: As approved by the hearing officer, 51,000
9 plus 16,500 for almost four years' worth of work and foreclosure 10 defense, plus the counterclaim, and the 132,000 from Bank of 11 America, which was the settlement of which the largest part went 12 to Andia.

13 MS. SCHEVTCHUK: Thank you.

14 JUDGE NAKEA: Questions. Yes.

15 MS. PRICE: Leta Price. Mr. Dubin, do you have other 16 situations or other cases where you receive settlement checks 17 made payable to your clients where you have endorsed their names?
18 Have you done that in the past?

19 MR. DUBIN: There probably were some of those and the 20 clients in all cases were most grateful because it speeded up the 21 process. It's in the client trust account. Disputed funds are 22 supposed to be put in the client trust account and there's a rule 23 that says that disputed funds are to be put in the client trust 24 account. These were disputed funds.

25 MS. PRICE: In those cases, did you have the client's

1 specific permission to endorse those checks?

2 MR. DUBIN: I really don't recall.

3 MS. PRICE: But you have signed and endorsed your 4 client's signatures on other checks?

5 MR. DUBIN: This is something that went -- this is 6 something that went back probably 25 years ago or so, when First 7 Hawaiian Bank approved the process, when I would have a check 8 that for one reason or another it was only made out to the 9 client. It might have even been a payment to me from somebody to 10 the client -- only to the client and the client gave it to me in 11 payment of a fee, and I talked it to the bank, and the bank said 12 it's okay to put it in your trust account.

13 UNIDENTIFIED MALE: Judge Crandall held it for us.
14 Judge Crandall held it for us.

15 MR. DUBIN: Yeah, this went before Judge Crandall and 16 Judge Gary Chang, and they gave Andia a chance to object, and 17 they didn't even show up, even with an order to show cause. So, 18 they had an opportunity to litigate this, and they didn't do it.
19 I just want to point out, there was no intent, like a forgery.
20 There was no intent to take the money for my own personal use, 21 and it was only released when I had to -- when, in fact, Andia 22 agreed to the distribution.

23 MS. PRICE: Leta Price. If First Hawaiian Bank allows 24 you to initial, as you stated, right, you just testified that, or 25 you just stated that First Hawaiian Bank allows this procedure

1 where you can just initial; is that correct? You worked out some 2 sort of procedure or process with First Hawaiian Bank?

3 MR. DUBIN: They thought it was appropriate.

4 MS. PRICE: Okay. Did they tell you to sign your 5 client's name?

6 MR. DUBIN: Yes.

7 MS. PRICE: In addition to your initial?

8 MR. DUBIN: Right. And then they had to initial the 9 check. So, a check was presented -- when a check was presented, 10 they would initial the check, because the banks were under a lot 11 of regulations, and they're very careful these days. As I say, 12 honestly, there's no intent on my part to take the money. They 13 were safe in the client trust account. It was disputed funds. I 14 was supposed -- the check was supposed to be made out to me and 15 to the Andias. As a practical matter, I suppose I could have 16 rejected the check, created a stink, and that would have delayed 17 things. It seemed to me, the best thing to do was to put it in 18 my account as disputed funds, and then work it out with the 19 Andias, which I did. And they admitted they agreed. And when 20 they, over a month later, said they disagreed, I said I'll put 21 the money back in. I'll mediate it or anything you want to do, 22 but at that point, all they wanted to do was go after me.

23 MS. PRICE: Thank you.

24 MS. SALWIN: I just want to add that, of course, that 25 may or may not be true about whatever he had worked out with

1 First Hawaiian Bank. Obviously, we don't know, because no one 2 from First Hawaiian testified and there was no email, or 3 declaration, or any evidence other than Mr. Dubin's testimony.
4 But, certainly, if that's an acceptable procedure, it's one that 5 requires the client consent at the risk of my sounding like a 6 broken record here, but also looking at the check on B-6, I mean, 7 the signatures -- the initials are supposedly making it clear 8 that he's signing on someone else's behalf is a little tiny 9 circle right next to the word Andia.

10 JUDGE NAKA: Questions. That's it. We're going into 11 deliberations, and we will notify you at a later date of our 12 decision. Thank you.

13 MR. DUBIN: Thank you very much.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF HAWAI'I

OFFICE OF DISCIPLINARY COUNSEL, Petitioner,

vs.

GARY VICTOR DUBIN,
Respondent.

ORIGINAL PROCEEDING

(ODC Case Nos. 16-O-147, 16-O-151, 16-O-213, and 16-O-326)

ORDER

(By: Recktenwald, C.J., Nakayama, McKenna, and Wilson, JJ., and Intermediate Court of Appeals Associate Judge Leonard, assigned by reason of vacancy)

Upon consideration of the October 14, 2020 motion, filed by Respondent Gary Dubin, for a stay of the November 9, 2020 effective date of his disbarment in this jurisdiction, the declaration and materials filed on October 18, 2020 by Respondent Dubin, which we deem additional argument and accompanying materials for the October 14, 2020 motion, the October 19, 2020 memorandum in opposition filed by the attorneys appearing on behalf of the Office of Disciplinary Counsel, and the record in this matter,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the motion is denied. The effective date of Respondent Dubin's disbarment remains November 9, 2020.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the clerk of this court shall transmit certified copies of this order and Respondent Dubin's October 14, 2020 motion, at Docket 248, to the appropriate clerk at the United States District Court for the District of Hawai'i and the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit.

DATED: Honolulu, Hawai'i, October 21, 2020.
