Update to January 18, 2022 Amended Corporate Disclosure Statements for Power Company Respondents

Dear Mr. Harris:

Pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 29.6, we write to update the Amended Corporate Disclosure Statements filed with the Brief for the Power Company Respondents on January 18, 2022.

On February 1, 2022, Exelon Corporation split into two independent publicly held entities: Exelon Corporation and Constellation Energy Corporation. Both entities continue to share the same interests in this litigation, and both continue to be represented by undersigned counsel.

We accordingly update the Amended Corporate Disclosure Statements filed with the Brief for the Power Company Respondents on January 18, 2022, by adding, after those Amended Corporate Disclosure Statements, the following additional corporate disclosure statement:

Constellation Energy Corporation states that it has no parent corporation and no publicly held company owns 10 percent or more of its stock.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
