Dear Mr. Bowell:

The order of this court filed March 25, 2020, denying the above-referenced accusation, was final forthwith and may not be reconsidered or reinstated. Please rest assured, however, that the entire court considered the accusation against an attorney, and the contentions made therein, and the denial expresses the court’s decision in this matter.

"MOTION FOR LEAVE TO FILE NEW U.S. SUPREME COURT PRECEDENTS REOPENING 9/11/19 HABEAS APPLICATION RECONSIDERATION MANDATORY PROVISIONS WARRANTING MY IMMEDIATE RELEASE AND DISMISSAL OF CONVICTION," CONSTRUED AS A MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION FILED ON JANUARY 15, 2020 BY JAMES BOWELL, PRO SE ("PETITIONER"). NO APPEARANCE BY A RESPONDENT. DENIED.

IN 2000, PETITIONER WAS CONVICTED BY A JURY OF FAILURE TO REGISTER AS A SEX OFFENDER (FORMER PEN. CODE, § 290, SUBD. (G)(2), NOW § 290.018, SUBD. (B)). HE WAS SENTENCED UNDER THE THREE STRIKES LAW (PEN. CODE, §§ 667, SUBDS. (B)-(I), 1170.12,

CASE NO. BA191442
DEF NO. 01

DATE PRINTED 02/05/20

SUBDS. (A)-(D)) TO 25 YEARS TO LIFE IN STATE PRISON. (ABSTRACT OF JUDGMENT, DATED SEPT. 7, 2000, CASE NO. BA191442, ATTACHED TO THE PETITION.) THE JUDGMENT WAS AFFIRMED IN FULL ON APPEAL. (PEOPLE V. BOWELL (AUG. 28, 2001, B144266) [NONPUB. OPN.].) PETITIONER IS CURRENTLY INCARCERATED AT RICHARD J. DONOVAN CORRECTIONAL FACILITY, LOCATED IN SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA.

ON JUNE 7, 2019, PETITIONER FILED A PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS CONTENDING THAT HIS UNLAWFUL FAILURE IN 1999 TO REGISTER AS A SEXUAL OFFENDER WAS IMPROPER USED BOTH TO VIOLATE HIS PAROLE AND TO INITIAL A NEW CRIMINAL FILING FOR THAT OFFENSE IN VIOLATION OF THE DOUBLE JEOPARDY PROHIBITION. THIS PETITION WAS DENIED BY THE COURT ON JULY 2, 2019. (MINUTE ORDER DATED

JULY 2, 2019, CASE NO. BA191442.) THE COURT ALSO NOTES THAT THIS CLAIM, AS WELL AS RELATED CLAIMS CONTENDING THAT HIS SENTENCE WAS UNAUTHORIZED, HAS BEEN RAISED AND REJECTED NUMEROUS TIMES BY THE COURT. (SEE MINUTE ORDERS DATED MAY 9, 2002, OCT. 7, 2003, JAN. 10, 2007, APR. 25, 2007, APR. 24, 2009, JAN. 4, 2010, SEPT. 10, 2010, JULY 22, 2011, JULY 6, 2012, JAN. 21, 2016, FEB. 11, 2016, CASE NO. BA191442.)

ON AUGUST 23, 2019, PETITIONER FILED ANOTHER PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS CONTAINING THE SAME ALLEGATIONS REGARDING HIS "UNAUTHORIZED SENTENCE." THE COURT DENIED THIS PETITION ON SEPTEMBER 9, 2019 ON THE GROUNDS THAT THE PETITION PRESENTED CLAIMS RAISED AND REJECTED IN PRIOR HABEAS PETITIONS, AND PETITIONER HAS NOT ALLEGED FACTS ESTABLISHING AN EXCEPTION TO THE RULE BARRING RECONSIDERATION OF CLAIMS PREVIOUSLY REJECTED. (IN RE CLARK (1993) 5 CAL.4TH 750, 797.) PETITIONER WAS INFORMED THAT IF HE IS DISSATISFIED WITH THIS COURT'S RULING ON HIS PETITION, HIS REMEDY IS NOT TO FILE ANOTHER PETITION AND INSTEAD IS TO FILE A PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IN THE COURT OF APPEAL. "BECAUSE NO APPEAL LIES FROM THE DENIAL OF A PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS, A PRISONER WHOSE PETITION

HAS BEEN DENIED BY THE SUPERIOR COURT CAN OBTAIN REVIEW OF HIS CLAIMS ONLY BY THE FILING OF A NEW PETITION IN THE COURT OF APPEAL." (ID. AT P. 767, N. 7.) SUCH SUCCESSIVE CLAIMS CONSTITUTE AN ABUSE OF THE WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS. (ID. AT P. 769; IN RE RENO (2012) 55 CAL.4TH 428, 455; IN RE MARTINEZ (2009) 46 CAL.4TH 945, 956; EX PARTE MILLER (1941) 17 CAL.2D 734, 735.)

ON JANUARY 15, 2020, PETITIONER FILED THE INSTANT MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION ASKING THAT THE COURT "REOPEN" A "9/11/19 HABEAS APPLICATION." PETITIONER COULD BE REFERRING TO HIS AUGUST 23, 2019 PETITION, WHICH WAS DENIED BY THIS COURT ON SEPTEMBER 9, 2019. INITIALLY, THE COURT IS FINDS THAT THE CASE AUTHORITY CITED BY PETITIONER HAS NO RELEVANCE TO ANY OF HIS CLAIM(S). FOR INSTANCE, U.S. V. DAVIS (2019) 139 S.CT. 2319

CASE NO. BA191442

DATE PRINTED 02/05/20

HELD THAT THE RESIDUAL CLAUSE OF SECTION 924 OF TITLE 18 OF THE UNITED STATES CODE IS UNCONSTITUTIONALLY VAGUE. IN PEOPLE V. WILEY (2019) 36 CAL.APP.5TH 1063, THE COURT OF APPEAL HELD THAT SECTION 1385 DOES NOT AUTHORIZE A TRIAL COURT TO DISMISS A PAROLE REVOCATION PETITION IN THE FURTHERANCE OF JUSTICE. THE COURT OF APPEAL AFFIRMED AN ORDER REVOKING THE DEFENDANT'S PAROLE AND REMANDING HIM TO THE CDCR. THE REMAINING CASES CITED BY PETITIONER CONCERN THE FEDERAL STATUTE (18 U.S.C. § 3583) GOVERNING REVOCATION OF SUPERVISED RELEASE, WHICH IS NOT AT ISSUE IN PETITIONER'S CASE.

FINALLY, AS PETITIONER HAS BEEN INFORMED NUMEROUS TIMES IN THE PAST, IF HE IS DISSATISFIED WITH THIS COURT'S RULING ON HIS

BOARD OF PAROLE HEARINGSP.O. BOX 4036

BOWELL, JAMES EDWARD #H04180
C 012 2221001LP
RJD-C

James Edward Bowell:

This is in response to your letter dated January 13, 2020. In your letter, you appear to be: (1) raising concerns with the legality of your sentence for failing to register and your incarceration for that sentence based on your belief that you should only be subject to 180 days of imprisonment following a parole revocation, (2) asserting your belief that you have been and continued to be falsely imprisoned, (3) demanding the Board release and discharge you from CDCR, and (4) requesting the Board to "recall" your sentence. Because the Board has already responded to multiple previous letters from you regarding the same or similar issues to those you raise in this letter, your letter has now been referred to me. My responses to each of the issues I identified in your letter is below. The Board now considers all of these matters closed and will no longer respond to any correspondence from you that raises any of the issues resolved below.

First, you appear to be raising concerns with the legality of your sentence for 1999 conviction of failing to register as a sex offender. As explained to you in our previous responses to your letters, the Board has no involvement in the conviction and sentencing of criminal defendants. Rather, that power lies solely with the California judicial system. If you believe your sentence is incorrect, your remedy is to raise those issues with the specific Superior Court that issued your sentence.

I note, however, that you appear to base your concerns regarding the legality of your sentence on California Penal Code section 3057 and the 2008 edition of the California Criminal Law Procedure and Practice guidebook, both of which you attached to your letter. You appear to have received incorrect information as these legal sources are out of date and further, they do not relate to a new conviction, which is the basis of your current incarceration. Neither of these cited materials has any legal relevance to your case.

Penal Code section 3057 governs confinement upon revocation of parole; however, your conviction for failing to register as a sex offender is not a parole violation. Rather, this was charged as a separate and independent crime. Additionally, the sentence for this new felony was imposed in accordance with California's three-strike laws. Therefore, section 3057 has no legal applicability to your case and further the explanation of the law from the guidebook do not relate to your current incarceration.

The Board considers this issue to be resolved as it relates to our agency, and we will no longer respond to any further questions from you with respect to your conviction and sentence for failing to register as a sex offender.

Second, you allege that you have been and continue to be "falsely imprisoned" for your current offense of failing to register. Here again, the Board has no jurisdiction over your physical custody. Concerns about your custody must be directed to the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) and the Superior Court that issued your current conviction and sentence. The Board considers this issue to be resolved as it relates to our agency, and we will no longer respond to any further questions from you with respect to your current incarceration.

BOARD OF PAROLE HEARINGS
P.O. BOX 4036
SACRAMENTO, CA 95812-4036

Third, the Board may only release an inmate from his or her life term if the inmate has both (1) reached at least one parole eligibility date and (2) demonstrated that he or she is suitable for parole. Your earliest parole eligibility date is currently calculated by CDCR to be in 2023. Therefore, you are currently scheduled to receive a hearing before the Board approximately one year prior in 2022, during which the hearing panel will assess your suitability for parole at that time. Since you have not yet reached any parole eligibility dates, the Board has not yet acquired legal jurisdiction to assess your suitability and has no legal authority to release or discharge you at this time. Consequently, the Board considers this issue to be resolved as it relates to our agency, and we will no longer respond to any further questions from you with respect to immediately releasing or discharging you from your sentence based on your concerns about the legality of that sentence.

Fourth, you claim that the Board has a "duty to recall [your] sentence." Here again, you appear to have received incorrect information about the laws governing the Board. The Board has no legal authority to "recall" an inmate's sentence. That power lies solely with the sentencing court. While the Board may submit recommendations to courts under certain unique circumstances, any recommendations to courts are solely within the discretion of the Board, meaning the Board has no "duty" to act in any case. Consequently, the Board considers this issue to be resolved as it relates to our agency, and we will no longer respond to any further questions from you with respect to recalling your sentence based on your concerns about the legality of that sentence.

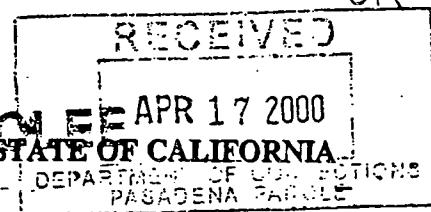

As noted above, the Board now considers all of these matters to be resolved as they relate to our agency. The Board will not respond to any further letters from you that attempt to re-raise any of the issues addressed above. You remain free to write to the Board regarding any future issues involving your parole consideration hearings before the Board.

Sincerely,

APPEAL DECISION

Introduction

Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations (15 CCR), § 2600 et seq., sets forth parole supervision and revocation criteria and procedures, implementing California Penal Code (PC) § 3052 et seq. Parolee rights are specified at 15 CCR § 2643. Appeals from parole revocation hearings are governed by 15 CCR §§ 2050-3056.

Decision on Appeal

The parolee wishes to avoid the consequences of an unconditional waiver. On May 14, 1999, the parolee signed an unconditional waiver, waiving his right to request a revocation hearing or to contest the charges. The Office of Policy and Appeals will not address the issues raised in the appeal regarding the good cause finding for charges 1, 2 and 3 at this time. An unconditional waiver includes a waiver of any right to a personal appearance before the BPT to contest the charges against the parolee but is not an admission of guilt (15 CCR § 2641(a)). Pursuant to the guidelines set forth in Administrative Directive (AD) 85/6, the parolee's case was reviewed by a BPT deputy commissioner and a proposed return to custody of 10 months – ineligible was assessed. The hearing agent then presented the proposed assessment to the parolee as the return to custody period if he desired to waive the hearing. The parolee accepted the offer, as evidence by the signing of the Form 1101, Waiver of Revocation Hearing (Unconditional). There is no supporting evidence to indicate the parolee was unable to submit a knowledgeable waiver.

Exhaustion of Remedies

Since all grounds of appeal must be included in the same appeal (15 CCR § 2052(a)(2)), this decision is the final administrative decision on all issues from the decision in question. No further appeals or requests for review based on the issues from this decision will be accepted. f.8.

The existence of any fact which would bring a person under this paragraph shall be alleged in the information or indictment and either admitted by the defendant in open court, or found to be true by the jury trying the issue of guilt or by the court where guilt is established by plea of guilty or nolo contendere or by trial by the court sitting without a jury.

(h) Violation; parole revocation. Whenever any person is released on parole or probation and is required to register under this section but fails to do so within the time prescribed, the Board of Prison Terms, the Youthful Offender Parole Board, or the court, as the case may be, shall order the parole or probation of the person revoked.

(i) Confidential records. The statements, photographs, and fingerprints herein required shall not be open to inspection by the public or by any person other than a regularly employed peace or other law enforcement officer.

(j) Temporary release; notice to local law enforcement agency. In any case in which a person who would be required to register pursuant to this section for a felony conviction is to be temporarily sent outside the institution where he or she is confined on any assignment within a city or county including fire, fighting, disaster, control, or of whatever nature the assignment may be, the local law enforcement agency having jurisdiction over the place or places where the assignment shall occur shall be notified within a reasonable time prior to removal from the institution. This provision does not apply to any person temporarily released under guard from the institution where he or she is confined.

(k) Mentally disordered sex offender defined. As used in this section, "mentally disordered sex offender" includes any person who has been determined to be a sexual psychopath or a mentally disordered sex offender under any provision which, on or before January 1, 1976, was contained in Division 6 (commencing with Section 6000) of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(l) Notice of reduction or registration period. Every person who, prior to January 1, 1985, is required to register under this section, shall be notified whenever he or she next registers of the reduction of the registration period from 30 to 14 days. This notice shall be provided in writing by the registering agency or agencies. Failure to receive this notification shall be a defense against the penalties prescribed by subdivision (l) if the person did register within 30 days. (Added by Stats. 1985, c. 1474, § 2. Amended by Stats. 1986, c. 1299, § 7; Stats. 1987, c. 753, § 3; Stats. 1987, c. 1418, § 3.1; Stats. 1989, c. 1316, § 2; Stats. 1989, c. 1402, § 5; Stats. 1989, c. 1407, § 4.)

Former § 290 was repealed by its own terms on Jan. 1, 1988. Under the provisions of § 5 of Stats. 1989, c. 1407, the 1989 amendments of this section by c. 1316, c. 1402 and c. 1407 were given effect and incorporated in the form set forth in § 4 of c. 1407.

Upon a finding of good cause to believe that a parolee has committed a subsequent act of misconduct and utilizing procedures governing parole revocation proceedings, the parole authority may extend the period of confinement pursuant to parole revocation as follows: (1) not more than 180 days for an act punishable as a felony, whether or not prosecution is undertaken, (2) not more than 90 days for an act punishable as a misdemeanor, whether or not prosecution is undertaken, and (3) not more than 30 days for an act defined as a serious disciplinary offense pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 2932.

Worktime credit must be earned and may be forfeited pursuant to the provisions of Section 2932.

Worktime credit forfeited shall not be restored.

(2) The following parolees shall not be eligible for credit under this subdivision:

(D) Parolees who were revoked for any reason if they had been granted parole after conviction of any of the offenses specified in subparagraph (C).

(E) Parolees who the parole authority finds at a revocation hearing to be unsuitable for reduction of the period of confinement because of the circumstances and gravity of the parole violation, or because of prior criminal history. B. Grounds for Parole Revocation

M7.8

1. In General

The following are examples of good cause to revoke parole:

- Violating any general or special condition of parole (a standard condition of parole enjoins the parolee not to engage in criminal conduct) (15 Cal Code Regs §§2512(a), 2513; In re Monzo (1973) 33 CA3d 144, 146, 108 CR 795);
- Absconding from parole (15 Cal Code Regs §2616(a)(5); see also 15 Cal Code Regs §§2000(b)(75), 2637(b)(1), 2731(a), 2732(a));
- Failing to sign a parole agreement containing lawfully imposed conditions of parole a statement regarding registration under the Sex Offender Registration Act (Pen C §§290-290.023), when required (Pen C §3060.5);
- Failing to provide blood or saliva samples, if required (Pen C §3060.5);
- Failing to be tested or examined for tuberculosis when that medical procedure has been required (Pen C §3053(b)); and
- Failing to pay court-ordered restitution imposed as a condition of parole (Pen C §3000(b)(6)).

For limitations on revocation of parole for parolees who have committed nonviolent drug possession offenses, or drug-related parole violations, see §47.30.

479

2. For Psychiatric Treatment

- Under 15 Cal Code Regs §2646(d), parole may be revoked for psychiatric treatment when all the following conditions are met:
 - The hearing panel finds that the parolee has engaged in conduct indicating that his or her mental condition has deteriorated to such an extent that he or she is likely under Pen C §1168 for a crime other than first or second degree murder is no later than 30 days after the completion of 3 years of continuous parole. Pen C §3001(b). The presumptive parole discharge date is no later than 30 days after completion of 5 years of continuous parole for an individual paroled after a conviction of second degree murder, and 7 years of continuous parole for an individual paroled after a conviction of first degree murder. Pen C §3000.1(b). See also 15 Cal Code Regs §2535.

Retention on parole after the presumptive discharge date is initiated by a request from the Division of Adult Parole Operations (DAPo) and requires a finding of good cause by the BPH. Pen C §3001; 15 Cal Code Regs §2535. The BPH's decision must be made within the 30-day period; otherwise, parole terminates by operation of law and the BPH loses jurisdiction over the parolee. In re Carr (1995) 38 CA4th 209, 213, 45 CR2d 34.

A parolee has no right to a hearing or to be present during the BPH's review of DAPo's request for retention. However, within 10 days after the BPH action, the agent of record (AOR) must provide the parolee with a copy of CDCR Form 1632 (Discharge Review Report) and BPH Form 1130 (BPH Decision). If the BPH decides to retain the parolee, the notification must include the reasons for that decision and CDCR Form 602 (Inmate/Parolee Appeal). DOM §81080.1.2. The CDCR must also notify the parolee that he or she has been retained. See In re Ruzicka (1991) 230 CA3d 595, 281 CR 435. The remedy for CDCR failure to notify the parolee of review was an administrative appeal of the decision; however, those appeal regulations (former 15 Cal Code Regs §2535(c)) have been repealed.

► Note: Factors listed in 15 Cal Code Regs §2535(d)(1)-(5) are used to determine whether there is good cause to retain on parole. Generally, the BPH will note applicable reasons under Title 15, without further comment, on the back of the form ordering retention. Retention is usually based on DAPo's recommendation and the commitment offense or offenses, with great consideration given to public safety.

IV. REVOCATION OF PAROLE

§47.7

A. Consequences of Parole Revocation

Revocation can result in the parolee's receiving up to 1 year of imprisonment for each return to custody. Pen C §3057(a). Acts of misconduct in prison while serving a revocation term may result in up to a total of 12 additional months of custody (called a revocation extension), with maximums of 180 days of custody assessed for each act punishable as a felony, 90 days for each act punishable as a misdemeanor, and 30 days for each act amounting to a serious rule violation. Pen C §3057(c). Currently the BPH initiates revocation extension proceedings only for violations amounting to misdemeanor or felony crimes.

Does Penal Code section 1385¹ authorize a trial court to dismiss a parole revocation petition "in furtherance of justice"? No. The authority to dismiss conferred by section 1385, subdivision (a) is addressed to the criminal charges or allegations in the indictment or information, so we reject defendant Barry Wiley's assertion that the trial court abused its discretion when it declined to dismiss his parole violation petition. We therefore affirm the order revoking Wiley's parole and remanding him to the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR).

BACKGROUND

In 1991 Wiley was convicted of offenses including first degree murder, second degree robbery, and kidnapping. He was sentenced to 26 years to life in prison.

On March 9, 2017, Wiley was released on parole. Between August and November 2017 he violated his parole conditions and the rules of Geo Care Parolee Services Center (Geo Care), his transitional housing and sober living environment program, by drinking alcohol on four occasions. He also failed to register as a sex offender as required under section 290.

On February 11, 2018, Wiley violated parole by returning to Geo Care after his midnight curfew. He had previously been referred to multiple programs for substance abuse and sex-offender treatment, medical and mental health care, and other services, but failed to make use of them. Wiley's parole agent considered intermediate sanctions for the curfew violation such as additional referrals to outpatient or residential treatment facilities but concluded such measures would be insufficient in light of Wiley's poor performance on parole. According to the parole violation report, Wiley's behavior was "destructive to maintaining his sobriety. His less than stellar compliance while on parole supervision has exhausted the multiple service providers that have attempted to provide him the multidisciplinary support, guidance and direction to address his dual diagnosis, [so] it appears that a referral to the Court is appropriate at this time." Wiley's failures to follow Geo Care rules also resulted in his termination from the program.

The Division of Adult Parole Operations filed a parole revocation petition based on three grounds: (1) the curfew violation; (2) Wiley's failure to remain in a transitional housing program and sober living environment for at least six months; and (3) his failure to obey his parole agent's directive to stay out of Golden Gate Park.

After a contested evidentiary hearing the court found that Wiley violated parole by returning to Geo Care after curfew. It found the remaining two allegations were unsubstantiated.

Wiley argued reincarceration was an excessive sanction for the curfew violation and urged the court to dismiss the parole revocation petition in the interest of justice pursuant to section 1385. The court said it did not disagree as a factual matter, but that it lacked the legal authority to dismiss the petition. It explained: "my understanding of Penal Code section 3000.08(h) and the provisions around that and realignment statutes overall is what I said is that--so as to other petitions to revoke parole, the Court has much more authority. And as to lifers, the legislature gave the authority, once there's any violation, essentially, and a petition's been filed and a finding--well, and a petition's been filed and the evidence supports a finding of a violation, that I have to find a violation and return the parolee to CDCR and the jurisdiction of BPH for a determination of how to respond to that violation. Is that what I want to do? No. And, you know, that's on the record. But it's what I feel like I have to do."

The court revoked Wiley's parole and remanded him to the CDCR's custody. This appeal is timely.

DISCUSSION

For most parolees, the court may modify or revoke parole upon finding a violation if the interests of justice so require. (§§ 1203.2, 300.08, subd. (f).) In doing so, the court may order the parolee to serve up to 180 days in jail. (§ 3000.08, subds. (f), (g).) But when a parolee subject to supervision under section 3000.1 (for murder offenses) or section 3000, subdivision (b) (4) (for certain sex offenses) has violated parole, he or she "shall be remanded to the custody of the [CDCR] and the jurisdiction of the Board of Parole Hearings for the purpose of future parole consideration." (§ 3000.08, subd. (h).)

Section 1385, subdivision (a) provides: "The judge or magistrate may, either of his or her own motion or upon the application of the prosecuting attorney, and in furtherance of justice, order an action to be dismissed." Wiley contends this provision authorized the trial court to dismiss the parole revocation petition, and, therefore, that the court's failure to recognize its power to do so requires reversal and remand for an informed exercise of discretion. The Attorney General asserts parole revocation proceedings are not "actions" within the meaning of section 1385, and therefore that the order should be affirmed. The issue is one of statutory construction subject to independent review. (People v. Von Wahle (2016) 3 Cal.App.5th 1187, 1196 (Von Wahle)).

Von Wahle addressed a closely related issue: whether section 1385 authorizes the trial court to terminate a defendant's parole term when sentencing him in another case. The appellate court concluded it does not. It explained: "Section 1385 permits a court, "in furtherance of justice, [to] order an action to be dismissed." [Citation.] Although the statute literally authorizes a court to dismiss only an entire criminal action, [the California Supreme Court has] held it also permits courts to dismiss, or "strike," factual allegations relevant to sentencing, such as those that expose the defendant to an increased sentence. [Citations.] However, the court's power under section 1385 is not unlimited; it reaches only the "individual charges and allegations in a criminal action." [Citation.] Thus, a court may not strike facts that need not be charged or alleged such as the sentencing factors that guide the court's decisions whether to grant probation [citation] or to select the upper, middle or lower term for an offense." (Von Wahle, supra, 3 Cal.App.5th at p. 1197). "The only action that may be dismissed under . . . section 1385, subdivision (a), is a criminal action or a part thereof" [Citation.] [Citation.] A period of parole is not a criminal action or a part thereof as contemplated by section 1385. Rather, it is "a form of punishment accruing directly from the underlying conviction." (Ibid, quoting In re Varnell (2003) 30 Cal.4th 1132, 1137 (Varnell)).

The Von Wahle court expressed no opinion concerning whether a court may dismiss a parole revocation proceeding, as opposed to striking a term of parole, under section 1385. (Von Wahle, supra, 3 Cal.App.5th at p. 1198, fn. 6.) Faced squarely with that question, we conclude section 1385 does not apply. Simply put, a parole revocation proceeding is not an "action or a part thereof as contemplated by section 1385." (Id. at p. 1197.) A criminal "action" is defined as "[t]he proceeding by which a party charged with a public offense is accused and brought to trial and punishment." (§ 683.) Parole revocation petitions and hearings do not fit within that definition, as they occur after the proceeding by which the defendant is brought to trial and punished. "[T]he revocation of parole is not part of a criminal prosecution. . . . Parole arises after the end of the criminal prosecution, including imposition of sentence." (Morrissey v. Brewer (1972) 408 U.S. 471, 480, internal citation omitted; see Williams v. Superior Court (2014) 230 Cal.App.4th 636, 647, disapproved on another point in People v. DeLeon (2017) 3 Cal.5th 640, 653 (Williams)). Nor can such proceedings plausibly be classified as "part" of an action, which for purposes of section 1385 means "charges or allegations in an indictment or information." (People

v. Hernandez (2000) 22 Cal.4th 512, 523 (holding sanity proceedings do not constitute an "action" or part thereof for purposes of section 1385, subdivision (a)); Varnell, supra, 30 Cal.4th at p. 1137 [sentencing factors not subject to section 1385 dismissal because they "are not included as offenses or allegations in an accusatory pleading"]; Von Wahle, supra, 3 Cal.App.5th at p. 1197.) The conclusion from these authorities that probation revocation petitions are not actions or parts thereof for purposes of section 1385 is inescapable.

Wiley disagrees. He relies on People v. Chavez (2018) 4 Cal.5th 771, 784 (Chavez) to argue a parole revocation proceeding is part of a criminal action because "the procedure permits resumption of the defendant's 'punishment'." But authorities such as Varnell (sentencing factors) and Von Wahle (parole) show that the potential to affect punishment does not convert a proceeding into an "action" for purposes of section 1385. Chavez says nothing different. There, rather than construing the term "action" in the provision, the Court addressed when an action may be dismissed. Specifically, Chavez asks whether section 1385 authorizes trial courts to dismiss a criminal action after the defendant has successfully completed probation. (4 Cal.5th at pp. 779, 780.) Under the established principle that section 1385 does not authorize dismissals after a judgment has become final, the Court reasoned that where the trial court suspends imposition or execution of sentence and grants probation there is no final judgment, so it may dismiss the criminal action throughout (although not after) the probationary period. (Id. at pp. 782-787.) Nothing in any of this suggests a parole revocation proceeding is an "action" subject to dismissal under section 1385.²

We understand the trial court's concern about the result dictated by the statutory scheme. Nonetheless, the Legislature's directive is clear, and we are not at liberty to alter it. "Courts must take a statute as they find it, and if its operation results in inequality or hardship in some cases, the remedy therefor lies with the legislative authority." (Unzueta v. Ocean View School Dist. (1992) 6 Cal.App.4th 1689, 1697.)

DISPOSITION

The order revoking parole is affirmed.

² Because we conclude section 1385 does not encompass parole revocation petitions, we do not address Wiley's further contention that no other statutes have eliminated the power to dismiss them.

II

[LEdHR4] [4]^{LEDHR(4) HN3} The heart of the Ex Post Facto Clause, U.S. Const., Art. I, § 9, bars application of a law "that changes the punishment, and inflicts a greater punishment, than the law annexed to the crime, when committed . . ." Calder v. Bull, 3 Dall. 386, 390 (1798) (emphasis deleted). To prevail on this sort of ex post facto claim, Johnson must show both that the law he challenges operates retroactively (that it applies to conduct completed before its enactment) and that it raises the penalty from whatever the law provided when he acted. See California Dept. of Corrections v. Morales, 514 U.S. 499, 506-507, n. 3, 131 L. Ed. 2d 588, 115 S. Ct. 1597 (1995).

The Sixth Circuit, as mentioned earlier, disposed of the ex post facto challenge by applying its earlier cases holding the application of § 3583(h) not retroactive at all: revocation of [*700] of supervised release "imposes punishment for defendants' new offenses for violating the conditions of their supervised release." United States v. Page, 131 F.3d 1173, 1176 (1997). On this theory, that is, if the violation of the conditions of supervised release occurred after the enactment of § 3583(h), as Johnson's did, the new law could be given effect without applying it to events before its enactment.

[LEdHR5] [5]^{LEDHR(5) HN4} While this understanding of revocation of supervised release has some intuitive appeal, the Government [*736] disavows it, and wisely so in view of the serious constitutional questions that would be raised by construing revocation and reimprisonment as punishment for the violation of the conditions of supervised release. Although such violations often lead to reimprisonment, the violative conduct need not be criminal and need only be found by a judge under a preponderance of the evidence standard, not by a jury beyond a reasonable doubt. See 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e)(3) (1988 ed., Supp. V). Where the acts of violation are criminal in their own right, they may be the basis for separate prosecution, which would raise an issue of double jeopardy if the revocation of supervised release were also punishment for the same offense. Treating postrevocation sanctions as part of the penalty for the initial offense, however (as most courts have done), avoids these difficulties. See, e.g., United States v. Wyatt, 102 F.3d 241, 244-245 18011 (CA7 1996) (rejecting double jeopardy challenge on ground that sanctions for violating the conditions of supervised release are part of the original sentence); United States v. Beals, 87 F.3d 854, 859-860 (CA7 1996) (noting that punishment for noncriminal violations must be justified by reference to original crimes), overruled on other grounds, United States v. Withers, 128 F.3d 1167 (1997); United States v. Meeks, 25 F.3d 1117, 1123 (CA2 1994) (noting absence of constitutional procedural protections in revocation proceedings). Cf. Gagnon v. Scarpelli, 411 U.S. 778, 782, 36 L. Ed. 2d 656, 93 S. Ct. 1756 (1973) ("Probation revocation . . . is not a stage of a criminal [*701] prosecution"). For that matter, such treatment is all but entailed by our summary affirmance of Greenfield v. Scafati, 277 F. Supp. 644 (Mass. 1967) (three-judge court), summarily aff'd, 390 U.S. 713, 20 L. Ed. 2d 250, 88 S. Ct. 1409 (1968), in which a three-judge panel forbade on ex post facto grounds the application of a Massachusetts statute imposing sanctions for violation of parole to a prisoner originally sentenced before its enactment. We therefore attribute postrevocation penalties to the original conviction.

[LEdHR2B] [2B]^{LEDHR(2B) HN5} [LEdHR6] [6]^{LEDHR(6) HN6} Since postrevocation penalties relate to the original offense, to sentence Johnson to a further term of supervised

DEPARTMENT NO. 129 HON. KATHLEEN PARKER, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA,) Plaintiff,)
vs.) NO. A-325882
JAMES EDWARD BOWELL,) PLEA
Defendant.)

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA; TUESDAY, JUNE 29, 1976; 2:07 P.M.

----oo----

On the above date, the defendant being present in court represented by counsel, ABBOTT C. BERNAY, Esq. and FREDERICK M. GOLDBERG, Esq.; the People being represented by JOHN WATSON, Deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles County, the following proceedings were had:

(LEWIS S. HOLTON,-Official Reporter, CSR 1212.)

----oo----

THE COURT: The People against James Edward Bowell.

1 MR. B. BERNAY: In the Bowell matter, Your Honor, may I
2 state to the court for the record that Mr. Frederick Goldberg,
3 one of my partners, is also associated in this case on behalf
4 of this defendant, and is standing now with the defendant and 5 myself before the court.

6 THE COURT: I understand there is to be a plea in this
7 matter pursuant to a plea bargain.

8 MR. BERNAY: Yes, there is, Your Honor.

9 It has been discussed, and the defendant has 10 indicated his willingness to take the plea.

11 THE COURT: You may proceed.

12 MR. WATSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 James Edward Bowell, is that your true name, sir?

14 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

15 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, you are charged in 12 counts in 16 Information A-325882 with various felonies.

17 Your attorneys have indicated you wish to plead
18 guilty to four of those felonies in return for a case settlement
19 or a plea bargain.

20 Is that what you want to do?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, in order to do that, you have 23 to give up certain constitutional rights that I will explain to 24 you.

25 You have the right to a trial, either a trial by 26 jury, where 12 people are selected from the community to hear
27 all the evidence for you and against you, and they decide if 28 you are innocent or guilty. Before they could find you guilty,

1 12 of them would have to agree that you have been proven guilty
2 beyond a reasonable doubt.

3 You are also entitled to a court trial, where the 4 judge sitting alone decides the issue of your innocence of guilt.
5 If you plead guilty, you will be giving up your
6 right to any kind of trial.

7 Do you understand that, and is that what you want
8 to do, Mr. Bowell?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes..

10 MR. WATSON: You also have the right to remain silent,
11 and that means to force the people to prove the charges against 12 you.

13 You can avoid incriminating yourself. If you
14 plead guilty, Mr. Bowell, you will be giving up that right, you
15 will be incriminating yourself by admitting the truth of four 16 of these charges.

17 Do you understand that, and do you wish to give 18 up that right?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

20 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, you also have the right to 21 present a defense, and that means to call all witnesses to the 22 witness stand, use the subpoena power of the court to bring 23 people in to tell your side of the story.

24 If you plead guilty, Mr. Bowell, there isn't going
25 to be a trial, so you will be giving up that right, you wouldn't 26 have the opportunity to call witnesses.

27 Do you understand that, and do you give it up?

28 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

1 MR. WATSON: You also have the right to confront and
2 cross-examine the witnesses against you.

3 That means to have them called up to the witness
4 stand, where you could see them and you could hear them, and 5 your attorney could ask them questions.

6 If you plead guilty, there is not going to be a
7 trial, no witnesses will be called, and you will be giving up
8 your right to confront and cross-examine them.

9 Do you understand that, and is that what you want
10 to do?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 MR. WATSON: Now, this is a plea bargain, Mr. Bowell, 13 that your attorneys have indicated you wish to enter into.

14 First, on your part, that you would plead guilty
15 to Count I of the Information, which charges a robbery in the 16 first degree, that is a felony in this state, and that you would 17 admit two of the allegations that are contained in Count I of 18 the Information in the last paragraph, one of them being an 19 allegation that you used a firearm during the offense, within the 20 meaning of Penal Code Section 12022.5 and, further, that the 21 offense comes within the provisions of 1203.06 (a)(1) of the 22 Penal Code, and I will explain that to you a little later.

23 Further, that you plead guilty to Count III of 24 the Information, which also alleges a first degree robbery, and 25 that is a felony; and to Count VII of the Information, that is 26 a first degree robbery, also a felony; and to Count X of the 27 Information, kidnapping, and that is a felony.

28 In return for the plea on those latter three counts,

1 all the allegations would be stricken.

2 Further, Mr. Bowell, that to maintain this plea
3 bargain, you would have to cooperate completely with the 4 authorities, the district attorney's office through myself, and
5 the police department, and that means to give complete, truthful
6 statements to the district attorney and the police department,
7 to cooperate fully in the recovery or locating any stolen
8 property you know about now, and to cooperate in clearing up
9 any unsolved crimes that you know about now;

10 Further, and perhaps most importantly, to testify
11 in trials where the district attorney's office requests you to,
12 especially the trials against Robert Rubin and Raymond Knaeble,
13 and there might be trials against other people that we don't
14 know about now.

15 In return for this the district attorney's office
16 represented by myself, would move to dismiss the remaining eight 17 counts against you after you had cooperated in the ways that 18 I have just got done describing.

19 Your sentencing hearing, what would happen to 20 you, would be continued or put back until you had cooperated,
21 and then after you had cooperated, or after these trials, then
22 the sentencing would take place.

23 You will have to give up your right to an 24 immediate sentence for that to happen; you understand that?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

26 MR. WATSON: Do you give up that right?

27 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

28 MR. BERNAY: There is a matter of immunity, too, for any

1 other crime he may have committed.

2 MR. WATSON: I have got another page and a half,
3 Mr. Bernay.

4 I have also agreed to represent the People at the 5 probation and sentence, and not to argue for consecutive time
6 in state prison.

7 If your attorney asks for concurrent time, I
8 would not ask for consecutive time for these four crimes if 9 you have been 100 percent cooperative and truthful with us in 10 the meantime.

11 Further, you would not be prosecutive for any
12 of these other crimes that you reveal to us that we don't know
13 about, that didn't involve harm to the victim, physical harm
14 to the victim. If they involve physical harm to the victim,
15 you wouldn't get immunity for them, but like a burglary in a 16 house where no one is present, crimes such as those, you would 17 get immunity.

18 Do you understand what I have said, Mr. Bowell?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

20 MR. WATSON: Is that the plea bargain that you have 21 agreed to join in?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

23 MR. WATSON: Have you had an opportunity to talk this 24 over with your attorney Mr. Bernay?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

26 MR. WATSON: You have talked to him quite a bit in fact,
27 have you not?

28 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

1 MR. BERNAY: Also Mr. Goldberg today.

2 MR. WATSON: Now, I want to go through these counts
3 briefly, Mr. Bowell.

4 Count I charges you with robbery. That is in 5 violation of Section 211 of the Penal Code, it is a felony, and 6 it charges that in 1976, on February 25th, you used force and 7 fear to take personal property from the person, possession, and 8 immediate presence of Henry and Grace Salvatori in Los Angeles
9 County.

10 Do you understand that, sir?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 MR. WATSON: Okay.. Is that what you did?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

14 MR. WATSON: And this property we are talking about is 15 seven or $800 in cash, $250,000 in silver service, and about 16 $250 in precious stones and jewels.

17 Is that true?

All property was returned.

f.8.

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

19 MR. WATSON: Now, pursuant to that count, Mr. Bowell, 20 there is an allegation that you used a firearm, that you had 21 a gun, and that you displayed it during this crime.

22 Is that true, sir?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 MR. WATSON: Okay. There is a further allegation pursuant 25 to 1203.06 (a)(1), and that provision provides that for certain 26 crimes, and this Count I is one of them, that probation is not 27 to be granted.

28 Do you understand that?

1 THE DEFENDANT: I do now, yes.

2 MR. WATSON: Okay. Count III of the Information alleges
3 a robbery in violation of Section 211 of the Penal Code, a
4 felony, committed in Los Angeles County on February 22nd, 1976,
5 and it says that you took personal property by force and fear
6 from the person, possession, and immediate presence of 7 Bruce A. Thabit.

8 Do you understand that?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 MR. WATSON: Do you know who Mr. Thabit is?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 MR. WATSON: He testified at the preliminary hearing,
13 do you recall that?

14 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

15 MR. WATSON: And he testified losing the chess set and 16 large chess pieces; you recall that?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

18 MR. WATSON: Did you take those in the manner I just 19 described to you, sir?

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

21 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, Count VII charges you with 22 violation of Section 211, Penal Code, robbery, a felony, and 23 it alleges that you committed it on February 23rd, 1976 in 24 Los Angeles County, taking by force and fear personal property
25 from the person, possession, and immediate presence of Mort Olshan, Sylvia Olshan, and Maria Adkins.

26 Do you understand that, sir?

27 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

1 MR. WATSON: And you saw each of these people testify
2 at the preliminary hearing, did you not?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

4 MR. WATSON: You heard Mrs. Olshan having a diamond
5 removed from around her neck, and I think one from her hand?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

7 MR. WATSON: Did you do that, sir, in the manner I have 8 described here?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, Count X charges you with 11 kidnapping, in violation of Section 207 of the Penal Code, a 12 felony.

13 It alleges that on March 17th, 1976 in Los Angeles
14 County you willfully, unlawfully, and feloniously, and forcibly
15 took and carried away Frank and Susan Georgianni.

16 Do you understand those allegations, sir?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

18 MR. WATSON: On that occasion you made them get into 19 a car at gun point, and drove them to various parts of the 20 county, did you not?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

22 MR. WATSON: All the facts and allegations I have 23 suggested to you in these four counts, and the use of the 24 firearm, and the fact that Count I prohibits probation, are all
25 these things true, do you admit the truth of all these things,
26 sir?

27 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

28 MR. WATSON: Now, the allegation under 12022.5 provides

1 that a person who is found to have used a firearm during the 2 commission of a robbery receives an additional punishment of 3 a term of five years in state prison. The punishment for each
4 of those robberies, Counts I, III, and VII, they can have a
5 maximum term of five years to life in the state prison, and 6 Count X, the kidnapping, is a term of one to 25 years in the 7 state prison.

8 Do you understand that, sir?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 MR. WATSON: Your possible sentence also could include
11 probation with or without a term in the county jail.

12 If you were put on probation, if you violated
13 probation, you could then be returned to prison, or sent to 14 prison, but it could also include a fine.

15 Do you also understand that?

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

17 MR. WATSON: We have also discussed with the court the 18 possibility of you being sentenced under the Interstate
19 Compact where your state prison time could be done in another
20 state under another name; do you understand that?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

22 MR. WATSON: As part of the plea bargain, if you request
23 that, then I will ask the judge to sentence you under those 24 sections, and I will do whatever I can to cooperate with the 25 prison authorities in this state to see that you qualify for 26 that program; do you understand that?

27 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

28 MR. WATSON: That is, if you want it. It will be up to

1 you?

2 MR. GOLDBERG: I think you might add there is the
3 possibility of Youth Authority.

4 MR. WATSON: He is 20 years old at this time, that's 5 true.

6 Do you have any questions you want to ask me
7 at this time, Mr. Bowell?

8 THE DEFENDANT: On this plea bargain, does that mean
9 that's what I am definitely going to have to take, or the 10 sentence is?

11 MR. WATSON: No. The maximum possible sentence, what 12 I described to you, that is to say, five years to life for 13 each of those robberies, an additional five year term for that 14 1202.5 use allegation, that you had a firearm, those are the 15 maximum possible punishments.

16 You could receive theoretically nothing. It's 17 all up to the judge, whether you go to state prison, whether 18 you go to state prison consecutive, whether you go to 19 Youth Authority, you could go to state prison under a special 20 provision called 1168, where the judge could bring you back in 21 six months, or a 1202(b) where, because of your age, you would 22 be eligible for parole in six months, you might not go to 23 prison at all, you might be put on probation, and as a condition
24 of probation you might be required to do some time in the 25 county jail, up to a year, maybe no time at all; you might 26 only be required to pay a fine, and it might be none of these 27 things.

28 In reality, however, Mr. Bowell, these are very

1 serious crimes, so those minor punishments are probably not
2 realistic of what the final punishment will be, it is all up
3 to the judge.

4 Yourself, your attorneys, the probation department,
5 myself, can all make our arguments to the judge, but the 6 judge will decide what your punishment is after reviewing your 7 background, your explanations, the facts of these crimes, et 8 cetera.

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

10 MR. WATSON: Does that answer the question you asked?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes. Thank you.

12 MR. WATSON: Would you like to ask me anything else?

13 THE DEFENDANT: No.

14 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, we will also cooperate with you
15 in obtaining keep-away status for you in the county jail if 16 you want it.

17 Do you want that now?

18 THE DEFENDANT: No.

19 MR. WATSON: All right. If you change your mind,
20 communicate that to your attorneys or to the sheriffs, who will
21 communicate that to me, if we can change that, too; you understand
22 that?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

24 MR. WATSON: I want to stress to you, Mr. Bowell, the 25 underlying things that are going to make this work is 100 percent
26 truthful cooperation by you; you understand that?

27 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

28 MR. WATSON: May I take the plea?

1 THE DEFENDANT: I have one more question, please.

2 THE COURT: Yes.

3 THE DEFENDANT: About the newspapers, how is it going
4 to be written up in the newspapers?

5 THE COURT: Well, I cannot control what is in the 6 newspapers, but I am going to, I believe I have agreed with the 7 attorneys that I am not going to issue a press release here.
8 As far as you pleading guilty to four counts, those are public
9 records, public documents, but what the conditions of that 10 agreement are, the press is not going to find out from me, and 11 will not find out from the police department. I mean we will 12 do our best not to have it in the papers; you understand that?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes. Thank you.

14 MR. WATSON: Is there anything else?

15 THE DEFENDANT: No.

16 MR. WATSON: Mr. Bowell, as to Count I of the Information
17 A-325882, charging you with first degree robbery, a felony, how 18 do you plead, guilty or not guilty? James E. Bowell

19 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

20 MR. WATSON: As to the two allegations, Mr. Bowell, first 21 of all that you used a firearm within the meaning of Penal Code
22 Section 12022.5, and secondly, that this crime is not one for 23 which probation can be granted pursuant to 1203.06 (a)(1), do
24 you admit those allegations, sir?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

26 MR. WATSON: Now, as to Counts III and IV, both charging
27 you with first degree robbery, felonies, and to Count X charging 28 you with kidnapping, 207, how do you plead, sir? Not Guilty.
f.b.

1 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

2 MR. BERNAY: The defendant wishes to make application
3 for probation at the proper time, and waives time.

4 THE COURT: All right. We will be dark during July.
5 It will take approximately three weeks to get a probation report
6 and I believe it is the agreement of all parties that, in any 7 event, this probation and sentence hearing would go over until 8 after the conclusion of the trial of the codefendant.

9 MR. BERNAY: That's correct, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: I believe that is set for sometime in 11 August.

12 MR. WATSON: Late August, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: That is set for August 30th.

14 MR. BERNAY: I think we perhaps ought to delay the 15 application until the Probation Department can then reflect 16 on the report what has been done by way of cooperation. There's 17 no point filing the application now.

18 THE COURT: I would say this, Mr. Bernay, from a 19 practical stand point, if I put a probation report over until 20 next year sometime, the probation officer wouldn't get around
21 to do it until three weeks, and have it in court whatever date
22 next year I put it. The more time you give the Probation
23 Department, the more time they will use, so they aren't going 24 to at this time write a probation report and get it right into 25 the court.

26 I might, in my minute order, state that the 27 Probation Department is to include the disposition as far as 28 the codefendant is concerned, and the facts as to whether the

1 defendant has or has not cooperated as he has agreed to do.
2 That information can be furnished the Probation Department by
3 the district attorney.

4 MR. BERNAY: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I think then we should put this matter over
7 until about the 1st of October.

8 MR. BERNAY: That's fine.

10 MR. WATSON: Agreeable.
11

12 THE COURT: All right. How about October 7th?
13 MR. BERNAY: That is agreeable. Time is waived.
14 THE COURT: Is that agreeable to you, Mr. Bowell?
15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.
16

17 THE COURT: You understand in any sentence you may 18 receive in this matter, you will be given credit for the time
19 that you spend in custody from the date of arrest to the day
20 sentence is imposed?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.
22

23 THE COURT: All right; October 7th.
24

25 (The proceedings in the hereinbefore-
26 entitled cause were continued to Thursday,
27 October 7, 1976.)

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

FOR THE COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

DEPARTMENT NO. 129

HON. KATHLEEN PARKER, JUDGE

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
Plaintiff,
vs.
JAMES EDWARD BOWELL,
Defendant.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1977, 11:00 A.M.

Upon the above date, the defendant being present in court and represented by counsel, Abbott C. Bernay, the People being represented by J. Watson, Deputy District Attorney of Los Angeles County, the following proceedings were held:

(Anthony M. Gonzalez, Official Reporter.)

THE COURT: People versus Bowell.

This matter is on calendar for probation and sentence hearing.

Do you waive arraignment for judgment?

1 now be pronounced as to each count, Counts I, III, VII and X,
2 the defendant is sentenced to the state prison for the term
3 prescribed by law.

4 He is remanded to the custody of the sheriff for 5 delivery by the sheriff to the California Institution for Men
6 at Chino.

7 The four counts are to run concurrently.

8 MR. WATSON: Does the court find them to be first degree?

9 THE COURT: They were pled to as first degree, Mr.
10 Watson.

11 MR. WATSON: I always understood that a specific finding 12 had to appear in the minute order at the time of sentencing.

13 THE COURT: I wasn't aware of that. But, they are all
14 robberies in the first degree.

15 The only count to which he admitted the armed and 16 use allegation is Count I. As to that count, the armed finding 17 is stricken.

18 MR. WATSON: Now, am I still instructed to go ahead with 19 investigation into the interstate compact?

20 THE COURT: Do you want to talk to your attorney about
21 that?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Your Honor, could I ask for a few more
23 things.

24 Like the district attorney last time said I was 25 planning to escape from court with guns.

26 I don't know where he got this information. He told
27 this to my family.

28 I feel all that going in front of the prison is

1 going to make me look bad, which is not true at all.

2 And that I jumped bail. He's putting a jacket on 3 me of being hostile in the county jail.

4 MR. BERNAY: The question is:

5 Do you want to do your time here in California or 6 do you want to go under an assumed name, if it can be arranged,
7 to another state, and do your time there? You've got the 8 election.

9 THE DEFENDANT: Could I ask one thing? Does the Nejedly
10 bill apply to other states?

11 I am sentenced to this state, time here. Or how 12 does the situation work?

13 THE COURT: Whatever time you will serve, Mr. Bowell, the 14 Nejedly bill goes into effect on the first of July. There
15 are some amendments that may be in before it even goes into 16 effect. They may go in afterwards.

17 If the bill stands the way it is now, you will be 18 given the benefit of the Nejedly bill whatever happens to it.
19 And it doesn't matter whether you are serving your time here
20 or the other state. It's California that determines the length
21 of time you serve. S.B. 42 211 P.C. Effective 7-1-77 2, 3, or 4, years.

22 THE DEFENDANT: Could I add one other thing?

23 I was told that I would get no more than six months
24 to life under the Youth Act in prison, if I had to go to prison.
25 Instead of a five to life.

26 I was told it would be a six months to life. The 27 Youth Act.

28 I don't know anything about the Youth Act. That's

REMANDED

X-286822

Defendant's motions for new trial and petition for writ of habeas corpus are called for hearing, are argued, and denied.

Defendant is arraigned for sentencing and the court denies any legal cause why sentence should not be imposed.

Probation is denied. Sentence is imposed as follows:

Defendant is imprisoned in state prison for a total of 11 years.

The court selects the high term of 6 years for the base term as to Count 2, violation of Penal Code Section 220. The court finds the factors in aggravation outweigh the factors in mitigation.

As to Count 1, violation of Penal Code Section 664/207(a), the court sentences the defendant to the middle term of 2½ years in state prison. Pursuant to Penal Code Section 654, the court stays the punishment in Count 1 as it is the same incident as Count 2.

As to the prior conviction in Case A325882, pursuant to Penal Code Section 667(a), the defendant is sentenced to 5 years in state prison to run consecutive to the sentence in Count 2.

RE: Case No.: 19-O-19691
Respondent(s): Nancy Lorraine Tetreault

Dear Mr. BoWell:

The Complaint Review Unit received your correspondence on December 02, 2019, requesting reconsideration of the decision to close your complaint. An attorney reviewed all the information provided and has determined that there is not a sufficient basis to recommend reopening your complaint.

The Complaint Review Unit will recommend reopening a complaint when there is significant new evidence or when we determine there is good cause to recommend that the matter be reopened. The State Bar Court is authorized to impose or recommend disciplinary sanctions only if there is clear and convincing evidence to establish that the attorney has committed a violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct or the State Bar Act. Therefore, the Complaint Review Unit will not recommend that a matter be reopened unless there is a reasonable possibility that a disciplinary violation can be proven by clear and convincing evidence.

By letter to you dated November 13, 2019 ("Closing Letter"), the Office of Chief Trial Counsel ("OCTC") closed your complaint against attorney Nancy Tetreault.

You requested review by the Complaint Review Unit of OCTC's decision to close your complaint by letter dated November 25, 2019.

After a thorough review of the complaint file, we have concluded that OCTC's closing decision was correct, including for the reasons set forth in the Closing Letter. The Closing Letter accurately summarized your allegations against Ms. Tetreault, as well as its reasons for closing your complaints, as follows:

You stated in your complaint dated July 18, 2019, that your attorney, Ms. Tetreault, failed to raise constitutional issues in your state habeas proceedings (Court of Appeal, case no. B285434). In a letter dated August 7, 2019, this office asked for additional information as to whether you presented the issues to the attorney, and whether the attorney responded. The letter requested you provide copies of all pertinent correspondence with the attorney. In response, you sent a copy of a letter from the attorney dated August 1, 2019, showing that the attorney had considered the issues you wanted the attorney to raise in your case, and the attorney concluded that those issues could not be raised due to the limited scope of the proceedings in which she was appointed to represent you.

Based on our evaluation of the information provided, we are closing your complaint. Under the laws of California, the facts as you have alleged them would not be grounds for disciplinary action. It is misconduct for an attorney to intentionally, recklessly, with gross negligence, or repeatedly fail to perform legal services with competence. (Rules Prof. Conduct, rule 1.1.) In contrast, mere negligence or poor judgment by an attorney does not provide a basis for discipline. Moreover, an attorney has “latitude in choosing among legitimate but competing considerations, and is not liable for an informed tactical choice within the range of reasonable competence. [Citations.]” (Barner v. Leeds (2000) 24 Cal.4th 676, 690.) Here, the facts you alleged show that the attorney made an informed and reasonable decision that the claims you wanted her to raise were outside the scope of the proceedings in which she was appointed to represent you.

Furthermore, it is misconduct for an attorney to fail to reasonably consult with the client about the means by which to accomplish the client’s objectives (Rules of Prof. Conduct, rule 1.4(a)(2)), or to fail to promptly comply with reasonable requests for information (Rules of Prof. Conduct, rule 1.4(a)(3)). Based on the attorney’s August 1, 2019, correspondence, it appears the attorney reasonably consulted with you about your claims and promptly responded to your requests for information.

OCTC’s analysis of your allegations and the conclusions it reached were correct. In your request for review, you do not set forth any new facts or good cause that would support reopening your complaint. Rather, your request for review appears to cite various cases for the general proposition that it can amount to ineffective assistance of counsel for an attorney to fail to raise Constitutional arguments. That point is not relevant to the question at issue here, which is whether Ms. Tetreault—who determined that she represented you only on a limited issue—committed misconduct by not raising various Constitutional issues that she determined were outside of the single appellate matter in which she was representing you. While we understand that you may wish that Ms. Tetreault represented you on all of the arguments you wished to make, her representation of you was limited in scope, and it was not misconduct for her to decline to pursue arguments that she reasonably concluded were outside the scope of her representation of you.

Thus, having received no new material evidence and finding no good cause, we are without a sufficient basis to recommend that your complaint be reopened.

If you disagree with this decision, you may file an accusation against the attorney with the California Supreme Court. A copy of the applicable rule is enclosed. (See Rule 9.13, subsections (d) through (f), California Rules of Court.) If you choose to file an accusation, you must do so within 60 days of the date of the mailing of this letter. Together with your accusation, you should provide the Supreme Court (1) a copy of this letter and (2) a copy of the original closing letter from the Office of Chief Trial Counsel.

The State Bar cannot give you legal advice or representation. If you have not already done so, you may wish to consult with an attorney for advice regarding any other remedies which may be available to you. Attorneys can be located by contacting a lawyer referral service certified by the State Bar in your area. RE: Case Number: 19-O-19691
Respondent: Nancy Tetreault

Dear Mr. BoWell:

The State Bar's Office of Chief Trial Counsel has reviewed your complaint against Nancy Tetreault to determine whether there are sufficient grounds to prosecute a possible violation of the State Bar Act and/or Rules of Professional Conduct.

You stated in your complaint dated July 18, 2019, that your attorney, Ms. Tetreault, failed to raise constitutional issues in your state habeas proceedings (Court of Appeal, case no. B285434). In a letter dated August 7, 2019, this office asked for additional information as to whether you presented the issues to the attorney, and whether the attorney responded. The letter requested you provide copies of all pertinent correspondence with the attorney. In response, you sent a copy of a letter from the attorney dated August 1, 2019, showing that the attorney had considered the issues you wanted the attorney to raise in your case, and the attorney concluded that those issues could not be raised due to the limited scope of the proceedings in which she was appointed to represent you.

It is misconduct for an attorney to intentionally, recklessly, with gross negligence, or repeatedly fail to perform legal services with competence. (Rules Prof. Conduct, rule 1.1.) considerations, and is not liable for an informed tactical choice within the range of reasonable competence. [Citations.]” (Barner v. Leeds (2000) 24 Cal.4th 676, 690.) Here, the facts you alleged show that the attorney made an informed and reasonable decision that the claims you wanted her to raise were outside the scope of the proceedings in which she was appointed to represent you.

Furthermore, it is misconduct for an attorney to fail to reasonably consult with the client about the means by which to accomplish the client's objectives (Rules of Prof. Conduct, rule 1.4(a)(2)), or to fail to promptly comply with reasonable requests for information (Rules of Prof. Conduct, rule 1.4(a)(3)). Based on the attorney's August 1, 2019, correspondence, it appears the attorney reasonably consulted with you about your claims and promptly responded to your requests for information.

For these reasons, the State Bar is closing this matter.

If you have new facts and circumstances that you believe may change our determination to close your complaint, you may submit a written statement with the new information to the Intake Unit for review. If you have any questions about this process, you may call Deputy Trial Counsel Tyrone Sandoval at 213-765-1469. If you leave a voice message, be sure to clearly identify the lawyer complained of, the case number assigned, and your telephone number including the area code. We should return your call within two business days.

If you are not aware of new facts or circumstances but otherwise disagree with the decision to close your complaint, you may submit a request for review by the State Bar's Complaint Review Unit, which will review your complaint and the Intake Unit's decision to close the complaint. The Complaint Review Unit may reopen your complaint if it determines that your complaint was inappropriately closed or that you presented new, significant evidence to support your complaint. To request review by the Complaint Review Unit, you must submit your request in writing, together with any new evidence you wish to be considered, post-marked within 90 days of the date of this letter, to:

of Mexico as just one factor supporting the denial of his CAT petition:

In assessing whether it is more likely than not that the respondent would be tortured in Mexico, all evidence relevant to the possibility of future torture shall be considered, including evidence of past torture inflicted upon the respondent and evidence that the respondent could relocate where torture is unlikely. See, 8 C.F.R. § 208.16(c)(3)(ii).

The BIA credited Maldonado's testimony that the police, in Michoacán, had previously tortured him, but concluded that Maldonado "did not show that the influence of the corrupt police officers located in Morelia extended country wide." The BIA went on to analyze the other factors, explaining that "the 2007 Country Report indicates that the Mexican government is aggressively prosecuting those who are involved in police corruption.... Therefore, the Mexican government will provide protection to the respondent from any corrupt police officers." The BIA determined that record evidence of other human rights violations in Mexico was not relevant to Maldonado's CAT claim because these violations were perpetrated against members of organized drug gangs, and Maldonado does not claim to be a member of such an organization. In denying Maldonado's petition, the BIA ultimately concluded: "Given that the respondent has not shown that the corrupt police officers could locate him anywhere in Mexico, and the Mexican government is aggressively prosecuting police corruption, the respondent has failed to show that internal relocation within Mexico is impossible."

A CAT petitioner is not required to conclusively prove that internal relocation is impossible—but the BIA did not hold Maldonado to such a standard here. I would dismiss this case as moot, but were I to reach the merits, I would affirm the decision of the BIA.

I respectfully dissent.

JOSHUA CROSS,
Defendant and Appellant.

S212157
Ct.App. 3 C070271
Sacramento County
Super. Ct. Nos. 09F06395, 11F03888
Supreme Court of California
Filed May 18, 2015

Penal Code section 273.5 defines various domestic violence crimes. Defendant Joshua Cross was charged with felony infliction of corporal injury in violation of section 273.5, subdivision (a) (hereafter section 273.5(a)). The information further alleged that Cross had suffered a prior conviction under section 273.5. At trial, Cross stipulated to the prior conviction, and the trial court accepted the stipulation without advising Cross of any trial rights or eliciting his waiver of those rights. The jury found Cross guilty of the charged offense under section 273.5(a) and also found true the prior conviction allegation. As provided in section 273.5, former subdivision (e) (now § 273.5, subd. (f)), Cross's prior conviction exposed him to a prison term of two, four, or five years instead of two, three, or four years. The trial court sentenced Cross to the maximum term of five years.

On appeal, Cross argues that because his unwarned stipulation to the prior conviction had the direct consequence of subjecting him to a longer prison term, the stipulation was invalid under In re Yurko (1974) 10 Cal.3d 857 (Yurko). We agree and therefore conclude that Cross's sentence must be set aside.

I.

On May 20, 2011, Cross went to see the mother of his children at her apartment. In the course of a dispute, Cross slapped, punched, and choked her, resulting in a charge of felony infliction of corporal injury, in violation of Penal Code section 273.5(a). (All undesignated statutory references are to the Penal Code.) A violation of section 273.5(a) is punishable by two, three, or four years in prison or up to one year in the county jail.

The information further alleged that Cross had previously been "convicted of the crime of [8] We recognize the injustice of denying recovery to a nonemployee which would not be denied to an employee performing the same task in the same manner as did petitioner.³ But it is for Congress to amend the statute to prevent such injustice. It is not permitted the Court to rewrite the statute.

Affirmed.

Mr. Justice BLACK, with whom The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice DOUGLAS join, dissenting.

Congress, not the States, passed the Federal Safety Appliance Act of 1893, 27 Stat. 531, 45 U.S.C. § 1 et seq. Consequently, I think the question of a railroad's liability to a person injured by a violation of that Act is a federal, not a state, question. Although it is true that several old cases, cited by the Court, gave the Safety Appliance Act a different interpretation, and left injured workers to whatever remedies they might have under state law, the premises of these old decisions have been thoroughly and I think properly discredited. See J. I. Case Co. v. Borak, 377 U.S. 426, 84 S.Ct. 1555, 12 L.Ed.2d 423 (1964).

The Federal Employers' Liability Act of 1908, 35 Stat. 65, as amended, 45 U.S.C. § 51 et seq., allows railroad employees injured by violations of the Safety Appliance Act to recover against their employer, and contributory negligence of the employee is not a defense. I cannot believe that Congress intended that contributory negligence should become a defense simply because the action is brought by a nonemployee, when an employee doing the same work and subjected to the same violation of the Safety Appliance Act could clearly recover. For this reason I would hold that under federal law contributory negligence is not a defense in this case and reverse the judgment of the Iowa Supreme Court.

Edward BOYKIN, Jr., Petitioner,

State of ALABAMA.
No. 642.
Argued March 4, 1969.

The defendant was convicted in the Circuit Court, Mobile County, of robbery and he was sentenced to death by electrocution. The defendant appealed. The Alabama Supreme Court, 281 Ala. 659, 207 So.2d 412, affirmed. Certiorari was granted. The Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Douglas, held that there was reversible error where record did not disclose that defendant voluntarily and understandingly entered his pleas of guilty.

The Court thus in effect fastens upon the States, as a matter of federal constitutional law, the rigid prophylactic requirements of Rule 11 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. L.Ed.2d 16 (1969). Moreover, the Court does all this at the behest of a petitioner who has never at any time alleged that his guilty plea was involuntary or made without knowledge of the consequences. I cannot possibly subscribe to so bizarre a result.

I.

In June 1966, an Alabama grand jury returned five indictments against petitioner Boykin, on five separate charges of common-law robbery. He was determined to be indigent, and on July 11 an attorney was appointed to represent him. Petitioner was arraigned three days later. At that time, in open court and in the presence of his attorney, petitioner pleaded guilty to all five indictments. The record does not show what inquiries were made by the arraigning judge to confirm that the plea was made voluntarily and knowingly.¹

Petitioner was not sentenced immediately after the acceptance of his plea. Instead, pursuant to an Alabama statute, the court ordered that "witnesses * * be examined, to ascertain the character of the offense," in the presence of a jury which would then fix petitioner's sentence.

See Ala.Code, Tit. 14, § 415 (1958); Tit. 15, § 277. That proceeding occurred some two months after petitioner pleaded guilty. During that period, petitioner made no attempt to withdraw his plea. Petitioner was pres-
