BODHISATTVA SKANDHA

vs.

WILLIAM BATES.<sup>1</sup>

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER PURSUANT TO RULE 1:28

The plaintiff, Bodhisattva Skandha, is an inmate currently incarcerated at Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Norfolk (MCI-Norfolk). He appeals from an order dismissing his complaint in which he seeks to prevent the Massachusetts Department of Correction (DOC) from serving him a powdered drink mix instead of real fruit juice. The complaint alleges, in relevant part, that the plaintiff is a practicing Pure Land Buddhist who, since 2010, has received religious vegan meals from a special menu. Beginning in 2010, in accordance with that menu, he was provided with fresh, chemical-free fruit juice for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Beginning in February 2013, the DOC began substituting a certain powdered drink mix for the real juice at the lunch and dinner meals. The plaintiff contends that the powdered drink mix is contaminated with certain chemicals that are forbidden by his religion and harmful to his health.

The defendant, William Bates, is the Director of Food Services at MCI-Norfolk. He moved to dismiss the complaint pursuant to Mass. R. Civ. P. 12 (b) (6), 365 Mass. 754 (1974), on the ground that principles of res judicata preclude the plaintiff from pursuing his claim. The defendant argued that the plaintiff made essentially the same claim in a prior action filed in Worcester Superior Court, Skandha v. Casey, No. 1485-cv-01519 (the prior action). In the prior action, the plaintiff sought to prevent the DOC from serving him other food items to which he objected on religious grounds. Specifically, the plaintiff claimed that serving him bulk breakfast cereal was forbidden by his religion because it was contaminated. At the time the plaintiff brought the prior action case, he was being served the powdered drink mix at issue here. The prior action was dismissed by stipulation with prejudice in September 2014. Because, the defendant asserted, the plaintiff could have but did not challenge DOC's substitution of powdered drink mix for fresh fruit juice in the prior action, the plaintiff is barred from doing so now. In a well-reasoned memorandum of decision, a judge of the Superior Court agreed with the defendant and dismissed the plaintiff's complaint.

"We review the allowance of a motion to dismiss de novo, accepting as true the facts alleged in the plaintiff's complaint as well as any favorable inferences that reasonably can be drawn from them" (quotation and citation omitted). United Oil Heat, Inc. v. M.J. Meehan Excavating, Inc., 95 Mass. App. Ct. 579, 581 (2019). We have conducted an independent de novo review and for substantially the same reasons articulated by the judge we conclude that the complaint fails to state a cause of action. As the judge observed, three elements are required for successful application of the doctrine of res judicata: "(1) the identity or privity of the parties to the present and prior actions, (2) identity of the cause of action, and (3) prior final judgment on the merits." DaLuz v. Department of Correction, 434 Mass. 40, 45 (2001). All three elements are met here. In particular, we note that it does not matter that the prior action involved a challenge to breakfast cereal while the present case involves powdered drink mix. A claim is the same for res judicata purposes where the underlying facts are substantially similar and reasonably related in time. See St. Louis v. Baystate Med. Ctr., Inc., 30 Mass. App. Ct. 393, 399 (1991). The plaintiff had the incentive and opportunity to litigate the substitution of the powdered mix for fruit juice when he brought the prior action. See Santos v. U.S. Bank Nat'l Ass'n, 89 Mass. App. Ct. 687, 692 (2016). He could have included the claim he now raises in the prior action and his failure to do so bars him from asserting it now.

The plaintiff also filed an objection to defense counsel's appearance on the ground that she is not a Special Assistant Attorney General. The defendant has not claimed any cognizable injury in connection with this argument, and thus lacks standing to challenge defense counsel's appearance on this ground. See Enos v. Secretary of Envtl. Affairs, 432 Mass. 132, 135 (2000).

Order of dismissal affirmed.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT

CLERK OF THE COURT
SUFFOLK COUNTY

SJC2015----- 299

Bodhisattva Skandha, Plaintiff)

-v-

William Bates, Defendant

COMPLAINT FOR A
DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

RECEIVED

JUL 27 2015

MAURA S. DOYLE CLERK
OF THE SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT
FOR SUFFOLK COUNTY

The plaintiff is a prisoner who worships Buddha as a Pure Land member. Since May 2010 the plaintiff has received a Vegan Religious meal, accompanied with an official Summer/Winter Vegan Menu. According to the menu, plaintiff is to receive 8 oz. of Personal Container (PC) juice (Apple, Orange, and/or Prune) three (3) times a day. His religion forbids him eating/drinking contaminated food. This complaint is for a Declaratory Judgment that the plaintiff, based on his religious beliefs, is entitled to be given food free from contaminants which are harmful to his body.

Jurisdiction

1. The Supreme Judicial Court has jurisdiction in this matter pursuant to g.L. c. 231A §§1, 2, G.L. c. 127 §88, and Article 2 of the Massachusetts Declaration Of Rights.

7. Plaintiff's Vegan meal is provided to him according to the tenets of his religion which forbids him from taking into his body any food made from a living being, or food that is contaminated by a living being.
8. The regulation for the guidance of the defendant's administration of the Vegan meal is 103 CMR 471.0, et. seq., enabled by G.L. c. 127 §88, which delineates how the defendant is to respond to the serious beliefs of the plaintiff.
9. In August, 2014, the plaintiff impleaded the defendant in Worcester Superior Court for sending him open trays of contaminated hot breakfast cereal. [WOCV2014-01519-D], which, after the defendant, through counsel Richard McFarland, agreed to utilize sealed cold cereal packets, according to the Vegan Menu, plaintiff agreed by stipulation to voluntarily dismiss the case.
10. Beginning February 2013, the defendant commenced to sent the plaintiff "Good Solutions" drink mix.
11. The defendant did not inform the plaintiff that he was discontinuing the personal container juices which the plaintiff was allowed for the 33 months.

19. The PC juices previously provided by the official Vegan Menu are all natural extractions from the fruits themselves, 100% chemical-free uncontaminated.
20. The plaintiff, according to his religious beliefs and the right to practice his religion freely must be provided according to the official Vegan Menu; is entitled to PC juice for each and every meal.
21. Defendant Bates, in providing the Good Solutions drink mix with all its chemicals is maliciously indifferent to the plaintiff's religious beliefs of only eating/drinking non-contaminated food/drink.

Relief Requested

- A. The plaintiff requests this Court to issue findings of facts and rulings of law which find the defendant violated the plaintiff's Constitutional rights under the First and Eighth Amendments to the United States Constitution.
- B. The Court is requested to issue injunctive relief that the defendant cease and desist infringing upon
