UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff-Appellee

v.

JOSE ANGEL HERNANDEZ,

Defendant-Appellant

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas
USDC No. 5:19-CR-39-1

Before HIGGINBOTHAM, HO, and ENGELHARDT, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Jose Angel Hernandez pleaded guilty to one count of possession of a firearm by a felon. He now appeals his conviction and his 96 month, above-guidelines sentence.

First, Hernandez argues that his sentence is substantively unreasonable because it is greater than necessary to achieve the sentencing goals set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a). This court reviews the substantive reasonableness of a sentence under the abuse of discretion standard. Gall v. United States, 552 U.S. 38, 51 (2007). A non-guidelines sentence is substantively unreasonable if it fails to reflect the § 3553(a) sentencing factors in that it: “(1) does not account for a factor that should have received significant weight, (2) gives significant weight to an irrelevant or improper factor, or (3) represents a clear error of judgment in balancing the sentencing factors.” United States v. Smith, 440 F.3d 704, 708 (5th Cir. 2006).

* Pursuant to 5TH CIR. R. 47.5, the court has determined that this opinion should not be published and is not precedent except under the limited circumstances set forth in 5TH CIR. R. 47.5.4.

Hernandez asserts that the district court failed to consider the mitigating factors presented at sentencing. Despite Hernandez’s assertion to the contrary, the district court specifically stated that it considered defense counsel’s “compelling argument,” which was devoted entirely to mitigating factors. The district court considered Hernandez’s mitigating arguments but found them to be outweighed by the aggravating facts of the offense and his criminal history. There is no requirement that the district court must accord a mitigating factor dispositive weight. United States v. Lopez-Velasquez, 526 F.3d 804, 807 (5th Cir. 2008). Thus, Hernandez has not shown that the district court failed to consider a factor that should have been given significant weight. See Smith, 440 F.3d at 708.

In addition, Hernandez contends that the district court gave “unwarranted weight to at least two factors that were already considered” in the guidelines calculation, namely, his pointing of a gun at another person and his criminal history. This, he states, represents a clear error of judgment in balancing the sentencing factors. However, the district court may give additional weight to factors included in calculating the applicable advisory guidelines range. Lopez-Velasquez, 526 F.3d at 807. This includes criminal history. See Smith, 440 F.3d at 709. Thus, Hernandez has not shown that the district court made a clear error of judgment in balancing the sentencing factors. See Smith, 440 F.3d at 708.

Hernandez further argues that his conviction for violation of 18 U.S.C. § 922(g) is unconstitutional facially and as applied to him and that there is an insufficient factual basis as to his knowledge of the interstate commerce element. Hernandez's argument that past movement of a firearm in interstate commerce is insufficient is foreclosed by United States v. Daugherty, 264 F.3d 513, 518 (5th Cir. 2001); United States v. Rawls, 85 F.3d 240, 242-43 (5th Cir. 1996). His argument challenging the constitutionality of § 922(g) as exceeding the Commerce Clause is foreclosed by United States v. Alcantar, 733 F.3d 143, 145-46 (5th Cir. 2013). His mens rea argument is foreclosed by United States v. Rose, 587 F.3d 695, 705-06 (5th Cir. 2009); United States v. Dancy, 861 F.2d 77, 80-82 (5th Cir. 1988); Rehaif v. United States, 139 S. Ct. 2191, 2194, 2196 (2019).

Accordingly, the judgment is AFFIRMED.

DEFENDANT: JOSE ANGEL HERNANDEZ
CASE NUMBER: 5:19-CR-00039-H-BQ(1)

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF SUPERVISION

As part of your supervised release, you must comply with the following standard conditions of supervision. These conditions are imposed because they establish the basic expectations for your behavior while on supervision and identify the minimum tools needed by probation officers to keep informed, report to the court about, and bring about improvements in your conduct and condition.

1. You must report to the probation office in the federal judicial district where you are authorized to reside within 72 hours of your release from imprisonment, unless the probation officer instructs you to report to a different probation office or within a different time frame.
2. After initially reporting to the probation office, you will receive instructions from the court or the probation officer about how and when you must report to the probation officer, and you must report to the probation officer as instructed.
3. You must not knowingly leave the federal judicial district where you are authorized to reside without first getting permission from the court or the probation officer.
4. You must answer truthfully the questions asked by your probation officer.
5. You must live at a place approved by the probation officer. If you plan to change where you live or anything about your living arrangements (such as the people you live with), you must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
6. You must allow the probation officer to visit you at any time at your home or elsewhere, and you must permit the probation officer to take any items prohibited by the conditions of your supervision that he or she observes in plain view.
7. You must work full time (at least 30 hours per week) at a lawful type of employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. If you do not have full-time employment you must try to find full-time employment, unless the probation officer excuses you from doing so. If you plan to change where you work or anything about your work (such as your position or your job responsibilities), you must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer at least 10 days in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
8. You must not communicate or interact with someone you know is engaged in criminal activity. If you know someone has been convicted of a felony, you must not knowingly communicate or interact with that person without first getting the permission of the probation officer.
9. If you are arrested or questioned by a law enforcement officer, you must notify the probation officer within 72 hours.
10. You must not own, possess, or have access to a firearm, ammunition, destructive device, or dangerous weapon (i.e., anything that was designed, or was modified for, the specific purpose of causing bodily injury or death to another person such as nunchakus or tasers).
11. You must not act or make any agreement with a law enforcement agency to act as a confidential human source or informant without first getting the permission of the court.
12. If the probation officer determines that you pose a risk to another person (including an organization), the probation officer may require you to notify the person about the risk and you must comply with that instruction. The probation officer may contact the person and confirm that you have notified the person about the risk.
13. You must follow the instructions of the probation officer related to the conditions of supervision.
