QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether an appellate court must apply the standard laid out in this Court's decision in Jackson v. Virginia to determine whether the State has disproved self-defense beyond a reasonable doubt.
2. Whether a defendant may be held criminally liable for injuries sustained by state official during the execution of an illegally obtained search warrant for a crime alleged to be committed outside the state court jurisdiction.
3. Whether, under the Court's decision in Blockburger and its progeny. Petitioner's convictions for assault and battery with a deadly weapon and maiming violate Double Jeopardy.

LIST OF PARTIES

All parties appear in the caption of the case on the cover page.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Petitioner Alex Warren Klingler was tried by a jury in the District Court of Grady County, CF-2017-284, and convicted of three counts of Assault and Battery with Deadly Weapon, in violation of 21 O.S. 2001, § 652(C), six counts of Shooting with Intent to Kill, in violation of 21 O.S. 2001, § 652(A), and one count of Maiming, in violation of 21 O.S. 2001, § 751.

Petitioner appealed to the Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals claiming that the State failed to introduce sufficient evidence to overcome his affirmative defense of self-defense and that his convictions for both Assault and Battery and Maiming run afoul of Double Jeopardy. The Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed and this Petition for Writ of Certiorari ensued.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE WRIT

The interplay between tribal and state criminal jurisdiction when crimes occur within the boundaries of an Indian reservation and that Indian reservation is within the territorial limits of a state is a very new concept to Oklahoma authorities and courts. Since this Court's ruling in McGirt v. Oklahoma, state actors have yet to fully appreciate or apply this Court's precedents with respect to treaties, Indian status and jurisdiction.

The presenting case, where Petitioner and his longtime intimate partner got into a physical altercation over narcotics that resulted in injuries to the intimate partner, proved an excellent opportunity for this Court to provide jurisdictional guidance when a non-Indian is accused of a crime within an Indian reservation where he also resides.

Apparently, despite decades of this Court's rulings on the jurisdiction of authorities when issuing search warrants, arrest warrants, prosecutions and sentencing with respect to non-Indians in Indian country, Oklahoma is determinatively unaware and in violation.

Additionally, Oklahoma courts will struggle with when a criminal episode constitutes a single act or two or more separate, distinct acts.

CONCLUSION

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.
