SUPERIOR COURT JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF LITCHFIELD AT TORRINGTON 5/20/2019 ORDER

The following order is entered in the above matter:

ORDER: This case was brought by the plaintiff, U.S.

Bank Trust, N.A., as Trustee for LSF9 Master Participation Trust, to foreclose on a mortgage encumbering property at 114 Wetmore Avenue in Winsted, Connecticut ("the property"). The current defendants are Mark E. O'Brien ("Mr. O'Brien"), Kathleen M. O'Brien, Thomas J. O'Brien, and the State of Connecticut, Department of Revenue Services. Mr. O'Brien has appeared on his own behalf, but the other defendants are non-appearing. The non-appearing defendants were defaulted for failure to appear on February 17, 2017. The matter was tried to the court on February 27, 2019. The plaintiff presented testimony from witnesses and submitted documentary evidence. Mr. O'Brien appeared at the trial, cross examined witnesses and was heard. The other defendants did not appear for trial. The plaintiff and Mr. O'Brien submitted post-trial briefs, the last of which was filed on March 27, 2019. The operative complaint is dated December 2, 2016. Mr. O'Brien filed an answer dated February 27, 2017 in which he admits that on December 16, 2004 Caroline S. O'Brien borrowed $50,000 from Fleet National Bank ("Fleet") as evidenced by a promissory note and that, to secure the note, she mortgaged the property to Fleet. He also admits that Fleet merged with and into Bank of America, NA. and that the mortgage was assigned to the plaintiff, U.S. Bank Trust, N.A., as Trustee for LSF9 Master Participation Trust. He denies that the plaintiff is the party entitled to collect the debt and enforce the mortgage. Based on military affidavits on file, the court finds that the defendants, Kathleen M. O'Brien and Thomas J. O'Brien, are not in the military service of the United States. The court heard evidence from Joseph Grella, a real estate appraiser. Based on his testimony, the court finds that the value of the property is $110,000. The court next heard from Phillip Luna, an employee of Caliber Home Loans, Inc.. Caliber is a mortgage loan servicer which services the loan being foreclosed upon. Mr. Luna is in charge of a portfolio of loans including this one. The issue before the court is whether Mr. Luna's testimony is sufficient to prove that the plaintiff owns the loan and is entitled to prosecute this foreclosure. The plaintiff offered into evidence affidavits to establish that on June 23, 2009 the amount of the loan was increased to $119,000 and that a new promissory note was signed by Caroline S. O'Brien acting by her attorney in fact, Kathleen M. O'Brien; that this promissory note was lost and that a good faith effort has failed to locate it; that the mortgage securing this note was duly assigned to the plaintiff; and that the note is in default and the total debt due to the plaintiff is $184,358.02. Despite the defendant's objections to these affidavits, the court admitted them as full exhibits and will not revisit this decision. The court finds that Mr. Luna's testimony is admissible and persuasive. The arguments made by Mr. O'Brien in his memorandum of law are rejected. Most of them rely on citations to internet articles which were not introduced into evidence. He makes allegations of fact which are not based on any evidence offered or admitted at the trial. Based on the evidence which was admitted the court finds that the plaintiff is the party entitled to collect the debt reflected by the lost note and is the party entitled to enforce the mortgage. The court finds that the note and mortgage are in default by virtue of nonpayment of the monthly installment due on April 28, 2011 and every month thereafter, and that the plaintiff has exercised its option to accelerate the loan. A comparison of the total debt and the value of the property reveals that there is no equity. Therefore, the LLICV166014383S 5/20/2019 Page 1 of 2 court orders a judgment of strict foreclosure with the first law day being Monday, August 5, 2019. The plaintiff is awarded an appraisal fee of $450, title search fee of $225, and attorneys fees of $2,975.
