

UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

v.

Case No 20-8087

RAYMOND AIGBERAEN

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

NOW COMES defendant Raymond Aigberaen and enters this motion pleading with the clerk to accept his motion for rehearing. The defendant did not receive a notice of denial of the writ of Certiorari until July 18, 2021. The defendant does not receive immediate notification as he is currently incarcerated. The mail system was slow during the 4th of July holidays; also the compound at FCI Danbury is on lockdown and the mailroom sends the mail late having only one employee. For example, the Mail denying rehearing was postmarked August 27 but the defendant received it today Sept. 15, 2021 almost three weeks later; Defendant also suffers from significant mental illness, and is frequently in a state of derealization and acute onset mania during which he is placed in the SHU, separated from his paperwork.

Defendant submits that a gross miscarriage of justice would occur if the Court does not vacate the conviction in this case. A similar case U-S v. Cano had the sentence and conviction vacated and it is a due process violation of equal protection under the laws. The defendant is being denied his constitutional right just based on his skin color. The Court does not work for black men. Please reconsider the delay was based on COVID-19 and this Court has granted by Standing Order an extension of time to file a writ of certiorari and the defendant submits that the COVID-19 difficulties still exist and as such the Standing order should also apply to application for rehearing.

The defendant gave his life in battle for this country and it is manifest injustice for this Court to ignore this very fact.

Respectfully Submitted:
