ORDER

Before MATHESON and PHILLIPS, Circuit Judges.

On October 9, 2020, the court entered an order directing the appellant to show cause as to why the appellate filing fees should not be paid in full before proceeding in this prisoner civil rights appeal. The appellant filed a response to the show cause order, in which he notes that the underlying case did not begin in federal court and asserts that he is indigent and unable to pay the appellate filing fees.

After reviewing the response, and in light of this court's decision in Hafed v. Federal Bureau of Prisons, 635 F.3d 1172 (10th Cir. 2011), we have determined that the Prison Litigation Reform Act applies to this appeal. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g) ("In no event shall a prisoner bring a civil action or appeal . . . under this section. . .") The appellant has not argued that the statutory exception to the prepayment requirement should be invoked in this case, nor would we find that it applies had he done so.

Therefore, the appellant is ordered to pay the $505.00 appellate filing fees to the district court on or before December 15, 2020. If full payment of the appellate filing fees is not received by the stated date, the appeal will be dismissed for lack of prosecution.

See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g); 10th Cir. R. 3.3(B), 42.1.

ORDER DENYING LEAVE TO PROCEED
ON APPEAL PURSUANT TO 28 U.S.C. § 1915

Plaintiff has filed pro se a second Prisoner's Motion and Affidavit for Leave to Proceed Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915 (# 90) seeking leave to proceed in forma pauperis on appeal. The motion is deficient because it is not submitted on the proper form and, as a result, Plaintiff has not provided a signed authorization to calculate and disburse filing fee payments that references the correct amount of the appellate filing fee. The Court also notes that the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit has ordered Plaintiff to pay the appellate filing fee in full because he is subject to the filing restriction in 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), and Plaintiff has not shown that the "imminent danger" he claims in his motion (namely, fear of contracting COVID-19) is connected to the legal claims he asserts here (namely, complaints about the contents of meals he was served at a jail facility where he is no longer housed). See Boles v. Colorado Dept. of Corrections, 794 Fed.Appx. 767, 770 (10th Cir. 2019). Accordingly, it is

ORDERED that the Prisoner's Motion and Affidavit for Leave to Proceed

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915 (# 90) is denied.

Dated this 9th day of December, 2020.

ORDER: To the extent Mr. Robledo-Valdez's Response [100] can be deemed to be a request for reconsideration of the Court's 2/2/21 Order [99], the motion is denied. The letter Mr. Robledo-Valdez attaches gives no instruction to Mr. Robledo-Valdez to file anything in the District Court, nor suggests that this Court has any authority to make any orders regarding the outstanding filing fee Mr. Robledo-Valdez owes to the 10th Circuit. Rather, the letter is clear that, before Mr. Robledo-Valdez can file anything further in the 10th Circuit regarding this case, he must first pay the outstanding $505 filing fee in full to that court. received by the district court within 40 days, this appeal will be dismissed for failure to prosecute. See 10th Cir. R. 3.3(B) & 42.1.

The court further notes that Appellant requests leave to prepay the filing fee in his other appeal, Case No. 20-1367, which was dismissed for lack of prosecution and failure to pay the filing fee. If Appellant wishes to pursue his appeal and pay the fee, he must submit to the court a motion to reinstate the appeal, see 10th Cir. R. 42.2, and cure the deficiency that resulted in the appeal being dismissed, i.e. pay the appellate filing fee in full.
