IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF LANCASTER COUNTY, NEBRASKA

CLERK OF THE
DISTRICT COURT

2020 APR 10 AM 9:43

LANCASTER COUNTY

CHARLES L. FILEDGROVE,

Case No. CI 20-926

Petitioner,

vs.

ORDER

SCOTT R. FRAKES, Director,
Nebraska Department of Correctional Services;
MICHELE WILHELM, Warden,
Nebraska State Penitentiary,

Respondents.

This matter comes before the court on this 10th day of April, 2020, on a petition for writ of habeas corpus filed by petitioner, Charles Fieldgrove. The court has considered the petitioner's petition and finds that it fails to set forth grounds for issuance of a writ of habeas corpus for the reasons set forth herein.

Habeas Corpus in Nebraska

"A writ of habeas corpus in this state is quite limited in comparison to those of federal courts, which allow a writ of habeas corpus to a prisoner when he or she is in custody in violation of the federal Constitution, law, or treaties of the United States." Peterson v. Houston, 284 Neb. 861, 867, 824 N.W.2d 26, 32 (2012). "Under Nebraska law, an action for habeas corpus is a collateral attack on a judgment of conviction." Id. at 867, 824 N.W.2d at 32-33. "Only a void judgment may be collaterally attacked." Id. at 867, 824 N.W.2d at 33. "Where the court has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter, its judgment is not subject to collateral attack.” Id. “Thus, a writ of habeas corpus will not lie to discharge a person from a sentence of penal servitude where the court imposing the sentence had jurisdiction of the offense and the person of the defendant, and the sentence was within the power of the court to impose.” Id. “A writ of habeas corpus is not a writ for correction of errors, and its use will not be permitted for that purpose.” Id. “[T]he regularity of the proceedings leading up to the sentence in a criminal case cannot be inquired into on an application for writ of habeas corpus, for that matter is available only in a direct proceeding.” Id. (internal quotation omitted).

Discussing habeas corpus, the Nebraska Supreme Court has described it as a “special civil proceeding providing a summary remedy to persons illegally detained. . . [which] challenges and tests the legality of a person’s detention, imprisonment, or custodial deprivation of liberty.” Gonzalez v. Gage, 290 Neb. 671, 675 (2015) (citations omitted). “Habeas corpus requires the showing of legal cause, that is, that a person is detained illegally and is entitled to the benefits of the writ.” Id., at 675 (citation omitted).

In Rehbein v. Clarke, 257 Neb. 406, 409 (1999) (citation omitted), the Nebraska Supreme Court stated that, “[a] writ of habeas corpus in this state is quite limited in comparison to those of federal courts, which allow a writ of habeas corpus to a prisoner when he is in custody in violation of the federal Constitution, law, or treaties of the United States.” In Nebraska, habeas corpus is a collateral attack. In discussing a collateral attack, the Rehbein court went on to say:

Only a void judgment may be collaterally attacked. Where the court has jurisdiction of the parties and the subject matter, its judgment is not subject to collateral attack. A writ of habeas corpus will not lie to discharge a person from a sentence of penal servitude where the court imposing the sentence had jurisdiction of the offense, had jurisdiction of the person of the defendant, and the sentence was within the power of the court to impose.

Id. at 410.

Petitioner's Allegations

Petitioner asserts he is being detained pursuant to convictions in two cases originating in the District Court of Sherman County, Nebraska and that his detention is illegal.

He alleges the illegality of his detention is because Neb. Rev. Stat. § 28-319(1) and 28-320.02(1) violate the Nebraska Constitution in that said statutes violate the single-subject rule, are overly broad, and/or are overly vague. He further alleges that since these statutes are overly broad, overly vague, and violate the single-subject rule, his convictions are void. (The court assumes for purposes of this analysis that petitioner was convicted under these statutes.)

The allegations petitioner makes are collateral attacks on his convictions, exactly what Nebraska habeas corpus <sup>jurisprudence</sup> ~~jurisdiction~~ does not permit.

There are no allegations that the Sherman County District Court lacked personal or subject matter jurisdiction. Therefore, petitioner is not entitled to issuance of the writ as requested.

For the above and foregoing reasons, the court finds that the petition for writ of habeas corpus should be, and hereby is, overruled. This case stands dismissed.

DATED this 10th day of April, 2020.
