[703] MEMORANDUM

Defendants German Ramirez-Gonzalez and Mary Aragon (collectively, "Defendants") [2] appeal their convictions for transporting an illegal alien or aliens within the United States, in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1324(a)(1)(A)(ii) and (v)(II), and three supervised release conditions imposed on Ramirez-Gonzalez. We affirm, except as to the challenged supervised release conditions.

1. Because the Acting United States Attorney for the Southern District of California was validly appointed under 28 U.S.C. § 546(d), the United States had the legal authority to indict and prosecute Defendants. See CFPB v. Gordon, 819 F.3d 1179, 1187 (9th Cir. 2016) (applying de novo review to questions of constitutional law). We need not consider the constitutionality of Acting Attorney General Whitaker's appointment because, to be valid, "indictments need only be signed by 'an attorney for the government.'" See United States v. Gant, 194 F.3d 987, 998 (9th Cir. 1999) (quoting Fed. R. Crim. P. 7(c)(1)) (overruled on other grounds by United States v. W.R. Grace, 526 F.3d 499, 506 (9th Cir. 2008)).

^{*}The Honorable Timothy S. Hillman, United States District Judge for the District of Massachusetts, sitting by designation.

^{*}This disposition is not appropriate for publication and is not precedent except as provided by Ninth Circuit Rule 36-3.

2. The Third Superseding Indictment did not prejudicially misstate the scienter element of the alien transportation statute when it charged that Defendants acted with "knowing and in reckless disregard" to violate federal immigration law. ER 1-2 (emphasis added). Defendants cannot show prejudice on plain error review because framing the indictment conjunctively to require both "knowing and in reckless disregard" worked to the Defendants' advantage by [3] making it harder for the government to prove its case. See United States v. Leos-Maldonado, 302 F.3d 1061, 1064 (9th Cir. 2002) ("[R]eview of an untimely objection to the sufficiency of the indictment is limited to the plain error test.").

3. Applying plain error review, United States v. Conti, 804 F.3d 977, 981 (9th Cir. 2015), the district court's jury instructions on aiding and abetting liability satisfied the rule announced in Rosemond v. United States that an accomplice must have advance knowledge of the crime so that he or she has the requisite intent to assist in its commission. 572 U.S. 65, 77-81, 134 S. Ct. 1240, 188 L. Ed. 2d 248 (2014).

4. We review de novo the district court's denial of Defendants' Rule 29 motions for judgments of acquittal. See United States v. Goyal, 629 F.3d 912, 914 (9th Cir. 2010). Having considered the evidence presented by the Government at trial in the light most favorable to the prosecution, we agree that there was sufficient evidence for the jury to find beyond a reasonable doubt that Aragon not only aided and abetted co-Defendant Patara in the transportation, but also that she acted as a principal. See Jackson v. Virginia, 443 U.S. 307, 319, 99 S. Ct. 2781, 61 L. Ed. 2d 560 (1979) (providing standard for district courts to evaluate the sufficiency of evidence to support a criminal conviction). We also agree that there was sufficient evidence to show that Ramirez-Gonzalez aided and abetted Patara in transporting Lopez, an undocumented passenger in Patara's car. Defendants [4] can be convicted of aiding and abetting even though one alleged principal, co-Defendant Patara, was acquitted. As noted, the evidence sufficed to show that Aragon acted as a principal, and the government pressed that alternative theory at trial. Regardless of Patara's acquittal, inconsistent verdicts are not a ground for reversal in this case because the evidence sufficed to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that someone, whether Aragon or Patara, committed the underlying substantive crime. United States v. Martinez, 806 F.2d 945, 947 (9th Cir. 1986).

5. The district court committed plain error by imposing Standard Supervised Release Conditions 4, 5, and 13 on Ramirez-Gonzalez. See United States v. Vega, 545 F.3d 743, 747 (9th Cir. 2008) (applying plain error review to supervised release conditions not challenged at sentencing). We previously held those conditions to be unconstitutionally vague in United States v. Evans, 883 F.3d 1154, 1162 (9th Cir. 2018). Accordingly, we vacate Standard Supervised Release Conditions 4, 5, and 13 for Ramirez-Gonzalez and remand to the district court with instructions to issue an amended judgment consistent with our decision in Evans. Id. at 1162-64.

AFFIRMED in part, REVERSED in part, and REMANDED as to Standard Supervised Release Conditions 4, 5, and 13.

ORDER DENYING DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

[ECF No. 73]

This matter comes before the Court on the Defendants' motion to dismiss the third superseding indictment for violation of the Appointments Clause of the United States Constitution, filed on November 16, 2018. (ECF No. 73 ("Def.'s MTD").)¹ The government filed a response in opposition on December 1, 2018. (ECF No. 84 ("Government's Opp'n").) Defendant filed a reply in support of the motion on December 4, 2018. (ECF No. 86 ("Def.'s Reply").) The Court held a hearing on this motion on December 18, 2018. For the following reasons, the motion to dismiss is denied.

¹ On November 26, 2018, Defendant Mary Aragon filed a motion to join Defendant Ramírez-Gonzalez's original motion. (See ECF No. 79-1 at 6.)

I. BACKGROUND

A. Factual Background

3 On April 15, 2018, the government filed a complaint charging Defendant
4 Mambasse Koulabalo Patara with the illegal transportation of Mr. Fermín Lopez
5 and Mr. German Ramirez-Gonzalez. (ECF No. 1.) On May 9, 2018, the grand
6 jury indicted Defendant Patara. (ECF No. 17.) On July 5, 2018, the grand jury
7 returned a superseding indictment charging Defendants Patara and Ramirez-
8 Gonzalez with the illegal transportation of Mr. Lopez. (ECF No. 37.) On October
9 4, 2018, the grand jury returned a second superseding indictment, adding Mary
10 Aragon as a defendant for assisting with the transportation of Mr. Lopez. (ECF 11 No. 55.) Finally, on November 15, 2018, the grand jury returned a third 12 superseding indictment. (ECF No. 71.) Under 8 U.S.C. §§ 1324(a)(1)(A)(ii) and 13 (v)(II), Defendants Patara, Ramirez-Gonzalez, and Aragon are charged in 14 count 1 with the illegal transportation of Lopez, and Defendants Patara and 15 Aragon are charged in count 2 with the illegal transportation of Mr. Ramirez-
16 Gonzalez. (Id.) Thus, Mr. Ramirez-Gonzalez is a defendant with respect to 17 count 1 and an alleged smuggled alien with respect to count 2. (Id.)

B. Appointments Background

19 Mr. Adam L. Braverman served as United States Attorney in this district 20 from November 17, 2017 to January 16, 2018. See General Order 669, In the 21 Matter of the Appointment of Adam L. Braverman as United States Attorney
22 (March 12, 2018) (hereinafter “General Order 669”); see also Department
23 of Justice, Robert S. Brewer, Jr. Sworn in as United States Attorney for the 24 Southern District of California, <https://www.justice.gov/usao-sdca/pr/robert-s-brewer-jr-sworn-united-states-attorney-southern-district-california> (last visited 25 Feb. 7, 2019) (hereinafter “Brewer Press Release”). Initially, under 28 U.S.C.
26 § 546(a), former Attorney General Jeff Sessions appointed Mr. Braverman to be 27 the United States Attorney for the Southern District of California for 120 days.
28

1 effective on November 17, 2017. General Order 669. Then, upon the expiration
2 of that time period, under 28 U.S.C. § 546(d), this Court appointed Mr.
3 Braverman as United States Attorney. Id.

4 Mr. Robert S. Brewer is currently the United States Attorney for the 5 Southern District of California, having been sworn in by the Court on January 16, 6 2019. See Brewer Press Release. President Trump nominated Mr. Brewer to 7 serve as United States Attorney for this district on June 25, 2018, upon the 8 recommendation of U.S. Senators Kamala Harris and Dianne Feinstein. Id. The 9 full Senate unanimously confirmed his appointment on January 2, 2019. Id.

10 Mr. Matthew G. Whitaker is currently the acting Attorney General of the 11 United States. See Designating an Acting Attorney General, 42 Op. O.L.C. No.
12 1, *1 (Nov. 14, 2018) (hereinafter the “OLC Opinion”). On November 7, 2018,
13 former Attorney General Jeff Sessions resigned from office. Id. On the same
14 day, President Trump directed Mr. Whitaker to serve as acting Attorney General
15 under the Federal Vacancies Reform Act (“FVRA”), 5 U.S.C §§ 3345-3349d. Id.
16 Before Mr. Whitaker was appointed to the role of acting Attorney General, he was 17 Chief of Staff and Senior Counselor to the Attorney General, a position that did 18 not require Senate confirmation. Id. at 1, 4.

19 II. LEGAL STANDARD

20 Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 12 permits a court to consider pretrial
21 motions that raise “any defense, objection, or request” that can be determined 22 “without a trial on the merits.” Fed. R. Crim. P. 12(b)(1). “A pretrial motion is 23 generally capable of determination before trial if it involves questions of law
24 rather than fact.” United States v. Shortt Accountancy Corp., 785 F.2d 1448, 25 1452 (9th Cir. 1986).

26 III. DISCUSSION

27 Defendants bring this motion to dismiss, arguing that the appointment of 28 Mr. Whitaker as acting Attorney General is invalid. First, Defendants argue that

1 the appointment violates the Attorney General Succession Act, because under
2 that statute, the Deputy Attorney General becomes the acting Attorney General
3 when there is a vacancy in the office of Attorney General. Second, Defendants
4 argue that the appointment is in violation of the Appointments Clause of the 5 United States Constitution because Mr. Whitaker is not confirmed by the Senate.
6 Consequently, Defendants assert that the judicial appointment of Mr. Braverman
7 also violates the Appointments Clause during the time period he served as 8 United States Attorney when there was no Senate confirmed Attorney General
9 who directed and supervised his work. Thus, Defendants argue that any 10 continuation of the prosecution has no force or effect.

11 The Court disagrees. First, as a statutory matter, the appointment of 12 Mr. Whitaker was valid under the Federal Vacancies Reform Act ("FVRA"), 13 codified in 5 U.S.C. §§ 3345-3349d. Second, the Court need not reach the 14 constitutional question of whether that appointment violates the Appointments
15 Clause, because even if it does, the United States Attorney in this district has 16 had at all times the authority to prosecute the Defendants' case.

17 A. The Appointment of the Acting Attorney General Is Statutorily Valid

18 Defendants argue that under the Attorney General Succession Act, the 19 Deputy Attorney General is the acting Attorney General. See 28 U.S.C. § 508.
20 Defendants argue that because this statute creates the line of succession for the 21 office of the Attorney General, the President did not have authority to appoint
22 Mr. Whitaker. The government argues, however, that the President had statutory 23 authorization under a separate statute, the FVRA. See 5 U.S.C. §§ 3345-3349d.
24 Defendants argue that the FVRA is inapplicable to a vacancy in the office of the 25 Attorney General because the Attorney General Succession Act supersedes the 26 FVRA, while the government argues that the Attorney General Succession Act is 27 not the exclusive means for addressing such a vacancy. The Court agrees with 28 the government.

1 1. Plain Meaning

2 First, based on the plain meaning of the Attorney General Succession Act
3 and the FVRA, the Court finds that the two statutes operate as alternatives for 4 determining the succession of the Attorney General in light of a vacancy. The 5 Court focuses on the statutory text because as the Ninth Circuit has stated, “[t]he 6 preeminent canon of statutory interpretation requires us to presume that [the]
7 legislature says in a statute what it means and means in a statute what it says
8 there. Thus, our inquiry begins with the statutory text, and ends there as well if 9 the text is unambiguous.” Satterfield v. Simon & Schuster, Inc., 569 F.3d 946, 10 951 (9th Cir. 2009) (citing McDonald v. Sun Oil Co., 548 F.3d 774, 780 (9th Cir.
11 2008)); see also Palmer v. Stassinos, 348 F. Supp. 2d 1070, 1078 (N.D. Cal.
12 2004) (citing Connecticut Nat'l Bank v. Germain, 503 U.S. 249, 253 (1992)) (“A 13 court should first apply the plain meaning rule: if the meaning of the statute is 14 clear, no further construction is required”).

15 The Attorney General Succession Act establishes a default line of 16 succession, and the FVRA provides an alternative that authorizes the President
17 to appoint an officer or employee within certain limitations. The Attorney General
18 Succession Act states:

19 (a) In case of a vacancy in the office of Attorney General, or of his 20 absence or disability, the Deputy Attorney General may exercise all 21 the duties of that office, and for the purpose of section 3345 of title 5 the Deputy Attorney General is the first assistant to the Attorney
22 General.

23 (b) When by reason of absence, disability, or vacancy in office, 24 neither the Attorney General nor the Deputy Attorney General is 25 available to exercise the duties of the office of Attorney General, the Associate Attorney General shall act as Attorney General. The 26 Attorney General may designate the Solicitor General and the Assistant Attorneys General, in further order of succession, to act as 27 Attorney General.

28 U.S.C. § 508. Based on the plain text of the Attorney General Succession

1 Act, it is clear that the Deputy Attorney General is the successor to the Attorney
2 General. Id. at § 508(a). Moreover, the statute further delineates a line of 3 succession when the Deputy Attorney General is not able to exercise the duties
4 of Attorney General. Id. at § 508(b).

5 The FVRA states, in relevant part:

6 (a) If an officer of an Executive agency (including the Executive Office
7 of the President, and other than the Government Accountability
8 Office) whose appointment to office is required to be made by the 9 President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, dies, resigns, or is otherwise unable to perform the functions and duties of the office—

10 (1) the first assistant to the office of such officer shall perform the 11 functions and duties of the office temporarily in an acting capacity subject to the time limitations of section 3346;

12 (2) notwithstanding paragraph (1), the President (and only the 13 President) may direct a person who serves in an office for which 14 appointment is required to be made by the President, by and with 15 the advice and consent of the Senate, to perform the functions and 16 duties of the vacant office temporarily in an acting capacity subject 17 to the time limitations of section 3346; or

18 (3) notwithstanding paragraph (1), the President (and only the 19 President) may direct an officer or employee of such Executive
20 agency to perform the functions and duties of the vacant office
21 temporarily in an acting capacity, subject to the time limitations of 22 section 3346, if—

23 (A) during the 365-day period preceding the date of death,
24 resignation, or beginning of inability to serve of the applicable officer, the officer or employee served in a position in such agency for not less than 90 days; and

(B) the rate of pay for the position described under subparagraph (A) is equal to or greater than the minimum rate of pay payable for a position at GS-15 of the General Schedule.

25 5 U.S.C. § 3345. The FVRA provides three vehicles for filling the vacancy of an 26 officer of an executive agency. The first, § 3345(a)(1), provides for an automatic 27 successor. The second and third, § 3345(a)(2)-(3), permit the President to

1 appoint a Senate confirmed officer or employee of the executive agency as long
2 as certain conditions are satisfied.

3 As a preliminary matter, § 3345(a)(1) determines that the first assistant to 4 the officer shall perform the duties of the office on a temporary basis. Id. at 5 § 3345(a)(1). The imperative use of shall indicates that the operation of 6 § 3345(a)(1) is automatic, thus establishing that the immediate successor to a 7 vacant executive office is that office's "first assistant." Id. There is no conflict
8 between the Attorney General Succession Act and § 3345(a)(1). Indeed, the 9 Attorney General Succession Act references § 3345(a)(1), establishing that "for 10 the purpose of" § 3345(a)(1), the Deputy Attorney General is the first assistant.

11 The potential point of tension surfaces with § 3345(a)(2)-(3), which when 12 applied to the office of Attorney General would allow the President to appoint an 13 officer or employee outside of the line of succession devised in the Attorney
14 General Succession Act. President Trump appointed Mr. Whitaker under 15 § 3345(a)(3) specifically. See OLC Opinion at 1. There is no dispute that the 16 appointment of Mr. Whitaker comports with the requirements of § 3345(a)(3).
17 Rather, Defendants argue that in light of the Attorney General Succession Act,
18 § 3345(a)(3) does not authorize the President to appoint a successor. The Court
19 holds, however, that there is nothing in either statute that would support this 20 argument, and moreover, there is evidence to the contrary.

21 § 3345(a)(3) begins with "notwithstanding paragraph (1), the President (and 22 only the President) may . . ." Id. at § 3345(a)(3) (emphasis added). Thus, while 23 the operation of § 3345(a)(1) is automatic, § 3345(a)(3) allows the President to 24 override § 3345(a)(1). As discussed above, § 3345 incorporates the Attorney
25 General Succession Act by way of the latter's direct reference. Thus, 26 notwithstanding the fact that § 3345(a)(1) deems the first assistant to be the 27 successor to the officer of an executive agency, and notwithstanding the fact that 28 the Attorney General Succession Act provides that the Deputy Attorney General

1 is the first assistant to the Attorney General for the purpose of § 3345, the 2 President may still direct an officer or employee to fill the vacancy of Attorney
3 General.

4 Defendants argue that the FRVA is ineffective when another statutory 5 provision expressly designates an officer or employee to fill a vacant office.
6 Because the Attorney General Succession Act is such a statutory provision,
7 Defendants contend that the FVRA does not apply to the succession of the office
8 of Attorney General. Defendants base this argument on § 3347 of the FVRA.

9 § 3347 is entitled "Exclusivity" and states in relevant part:

10 (a) Sections 3345 and 3346 are the exclusive means for temporarily
11 authorizing an acting official to perform the functions and duties of 12 any office of an Executive agency (including the Executive Office of 13 the President, and other than the Government Accountability Office)
14 for which appointment is required to be made by the President, by 15 and with the advice and consent of the Senate, unless—

16 (1) a statutory provision expressly—

17 (A) authorizes the President, a court, or the head of an 18 Executive department, to designate an officer or employee to 19 perform the functions and duties of a specified office temporarily in an acting capacity; or

20 (B) designates an officer or employee to perform the functions
21 and duties of a specified office temporarily in an acting
22 capacity

23 5 U.S.C. § 3347. The plain meaning of the text does not support Defendants'
24 argument. § 3347(a) first provides that the FVRA is the exclusive vehicle for 25 temporarily filling a vacancy in an office of an executive agency. It then allows 26 for an exception based on the express content of two particular kinds of statutes, 27 described in § 3347(a)(1)(A) and § 3347(a)(1)(B). The office of the Attorney 28 General falls under the exception underlined in § 3347(a)(1)(B), because the Attorney General Succession Act is such a statute that "designates an officer or employee to perform the functions and duties of a specified office temporarily in an acting capacity." Thus, the office of the Attorney General is merely excepted

1 from the requirement in § 3347(a) that the FVRA be the exclusive means for 2 filling a vacancy. In the case of the office of Attorney General, both the Attorney
3 General Succession Act and the FVRA are available for determining which officer
4 or employee will fill a vacancy. The Attorney General Succession Act may 5 provide a default rule. Nonetheless, the President may choose to rely on the 6 FVRA and fill a vacancy with an officer or employee outside the line of 7 succession delineated in the Attorney General Succession Act.

8 Moreover, the language of the Attorney General Succession Act does not 9 mandate that the Deputy Attorney General must "exercise all the duties" of the 10 office of Attorney General in the case of a vacancy. See 28 U.S.C. § 508(a).
11 Instead, the statute reads that the Deputy Attorney General "may exercise all the 12 duties of that office." Id. (emphasis added). The permissive, rather than 13 mandatory, use of may is a further indication that the statute is one vehicle for 14 filling a vacancy but not the only option available. See Halo Elecs., Inc. v. Pulse 15 Elecs., Inc., 136 S. Ct. 1923, 1931 (2016) (noting that when interpreting statutory 16 text, the Supreme Court has "emphasized that the word 'may' clearly connotes 17 discretion") (internal quotations and citations omitted).

18 2. Legislative History

19 The recent legislative history of the FVRA further supports the Court's 20 reading of the plain meaning of the statutes. "When the statute is ambiguous or 21 the statutory language does not resolve an interpretive issue, 'our approach to 22 statutory interpretation is to look to legislative history.'" SEC v. McCarthy, 322
23 F.3d 650, 655 (9th Cir. 2003) (quoting Nw. Forest Res. Council v. Glickman, 82
24 F.3d 825, 834 (9th Cir. 1996)). While the Court does not find the text of either
25 the Attorney General Succession Act or the FVRA to be ambiguous with respect
26 to which statute applies when there is a vacancy in the office of the Attorney
27 General, the Court nonetheless examines the legislative history of the FVRA as it 28 reinforces the plain meaning of the statutes.

1 The most recent amendments to the FVRA were passed in 1998. Before
2 the new amendments were voted on, the Senate Committee on Governmental
3 Affairs published a report on the amendments as devised by the Senate. See 4 S. Rep. No. 250, 105th Cong., 2d Sess. (1998) (hereinafter the "Senate Report").
5 There are several distinctions between the draft presented in the Senate Report
6 and the statute that became law. Most relevant here is the fact that the version
7 in the Senate Report contained a provision that stated "[w]ith respect to the office
8 of the Attorney General of the United States, the provisions of section 508 of title
9 28 shall be applicable." Senate Report at 25. Moreover, in the analysis of this 10 provision, the Senate Report described that "[w]ith respect to a vacancy in the 11 office of the Attorney General, 28 U.S.C. S 508 will remain applicable. That 12 section ensures that Senate confirmed Justice Department officials will be the 13 only persons eligible to serve as Acting Attorney General." Id. at 13. The 14 amendments that went into effect in 1998, however, excluded this particular 15 provision in its entirety. Thus, not only is there nothing explicit in the FVRA nor 16 the Attorney General Succession Act to indicate that the Attorney General
17 Succession Act supersedes the FVRA, the legislative history reflects that 18 Congress considered this question and ultimately decided not to exclude the 19 office of Attorney General from the offices covered by the FVRA.

21 B. The United States Attorney Has Had Authority to Bring this
22 Prosecution At All Times

23 In addition to his statutory argument, Defendants also argue that the 24 appointment of Mr. Whitaker violates the Appointments Clause of Art. II of the 25 U.S. Constitution because he was not Senate confirmed. The Court, however,
26 need not reach the issue of whether the appointment was constitutional. "A 27 fundamental and longstanding principle of judicial restraint requires that courts 28 avoid reaching constitutional questions in advance of the necessity of deciding

1 them." Lee v. Walters, 433 F.3d 672, 677 (9th Cir. 2005) (quoting Lyng v. Nw.
2 Indian Cemetery Protective Ass'n, 485 U.S. 439, 445 (1988)); see also United 3 States v. Sandoval-Lopez, 122 F.3d 797, 802 n.9 (9th Cir. 1997) ("We avoid
4 constitutional questions when an alternative basis for disposing of the case
5 presents itself."). Notwithstanding the constitutionality of the appointment of the 6 acting Attorney General, the United States Attorney in this district has had the 7 authority to prosecute Defendants' case. Therefore, dismissal on the basis of a 8 violation under the Appointments Clause is not warranted.

9 Defendants argue that if the appointment of Mr. Whitaker is 10 unconstitutional, the judicial appointment of the former U.S. Attorney, Mr. Adam 11 Braverman, violates the Appointments Clause as well since there was no Senate 12 confirmed Attorney General who directed and supervised his work at the time of 13 the return of the third superseding indictment. The Court disagrees. Mr.
14 Braverman held a valid appointment to his office and had statutory authorization
15 to prosecute offenses in this district. Moreover, Mr. Braverman was supervised
16 and directed by the Senate confirmed Deputy Attorney General, who Defendants
17 argue should be the acting AG under the Attorney General Succession Act.

18 First, the appointment of Mr. Braverman was constitutional and statutorily
19 valid. There is no dispute that the United States Attorney is an inferior officer.
20 See United States v. Gantt, 194 F.3d 987, 999 (9th Cir. 1999), overruled on other 21 grounds by United States v. W.R. Grace, 526 F.3d 499 (9th Cir. 2008). The 22 Appointments Clause provides that "Congress may by law vest the appointment
23 of such inferior officers, as they think proper, in the President alone, in the courts
24 of law, or in the heads of departments." U.S. Const. art. II, § 2, cl. 2. Under 28
25 U.S.C. § 546(d), Congress provided that when a temporary appointment of a 26 United States Attorney by the Attorney General expires, the district court may 27 appoint a United States Attorney to serve until the vacancy is filled. 28 U.S.C.
28 § 546(d). Thus, this Court's appointment of Mr. Braverman on March 12, 2018

1 was constitutional under the Appointments Clause and statutorily valid under 28
2 U.S.C. § 546(d).

3 Second, the United States Attorney has the authority to prosecute all cases
4 in his or her district. While the Attorney General is the head of the Department of 5 Justice, 28 U.S.C. § 503, the United States Attorney is the head federal 6 prosecutor in his or her judicial district, 28 U.S.C. § 541(a). Furthermore,
7 Congress has established that each United States Attorney, within his or her
8 district "shall—(1) prosecute for all offenses against the United States." 28
9 U.S.C. § 547(1). Thus, the United States Attorney has statutory authorization,
10 independent of any authorization by the office of the Attorney General, to conduct 11 prosecutions.

12 Third, the Deputy Attorney General, who Defendants argue should be the 13 acting Attorney General, is authorized to supervise the office of the United States
14 Attorney. Under 28 C.F.R. § 0.15(a), the "Deputy Attorney General is authorized 15 to exercise all the power and authority of the Attorney General, unless any such 16 power or authority is required by law to be exercised by the Attorney General
17 personally." 28 C.F.R. §0.15(a). Moreover, according to the Justice

18 Management Division's description of the office of the Deputy Attorney General, 19 the "Deputy Attorney, appointed by the President with the advice and consent of 20 the Senate, is the Department's second-ranking official and functions as a Chief 21 Operating Officer; 25 components and 93 U.S. Attorneys report directly to the 22 Deputy and 13 additional components report to the Deputy through the Associate 23 Attorney General." Department of Justice, Organization, Mission & Functions
24 Manual: Attorney General, Deputy and Associate,

25 https://www.justice.gov/jmd/organization-mission-and-functions-manual-attorney-
26 general#ag, (last visited Feb. 7, 2019). The current Deputy Attorney General, 27 Mr. Rod Rosenstein, was appointed by the President and confirmed by the 28 Senate and was sworn in to office on April 26, 2017. See Department of Justice,

1 Meet the Deputy Attorney General, <https://www.justice.gov/dag/staff-profile/meet-deputy-attorney-general>, (last visited Feb. 7, 2019). The current Senate
2 confirmed Deputy Attorney General is both authorized and expected to direct and 3 supervise the United States Attorney in this district.

5 Thus, because Mr. Braverman was, and Mr. Brewer is, validly appointed,
6 authorized to prosecute federal offenses in this district, and supervised by a
7 Senate confirmed officer in the Department of Justice, the United States
8 Attorney's office has had the authority to prosecute the Defendants at all times
9 throughout this case, notwithstanding whether Mr. Whitaker's appointment as 10 acting Attorney General comports with the requirements under the Appointments
11 Clause.

STANDARD CONDITIONS OF SUPERVISION

As part of the defendant's supervised release, the defendant must comply with the following standard conditions of supervision. These conditions are imposed because they establish the basic expectations for the defendant's behavior while on supervision and identify the minimum tools needed by probation officers to keep informed, report to the court about, and bring about improvements in the defendant's conduct and condition.

1. The defendant must report to the probation office in the federal judicial district where they are authorized to reside within 72 hours of their release from imprisonment, unless the probation officer instructs the defendant to report to a different probation office or within a different time frame.
2. After initially reporting to the probation office, the defendant will receive instructions from the court or the probation officer about how and when the defendant must report to the probation officer, and the defendant must report to the probation officer as instructed.
3. The defendant must not knowingly leave the federal judicial district where the defendant is authorized to reside without first getting permission from the court or the probation officer.
4. The defendant must answer truthfully the questions asked by their probation officer.
5. The defendant must live at a place approved by the probation officer. If the defendant plans to change where they live or anything about their living arrangements (such as the people living with the defendant), the defendant must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, the defendant must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
6. The defendant must allow the probation officer to visit them at any time at their home or elsewhere, and the defendant must permit the probation officer to take any items prohibited by the conditions of their supervision that he or she observes in plain view.
7. The defendant must work full time (at least 30 hours per week) at a lawful type of employment, unless the probation officer excuses the defendant from doing so. If the defendant does not have full-time employment the defendant must try to find full-time employment, unless the probation officer excuses the defendant from doing so. If the defendant plans to change where the defendant works or anything about their work (such as their position or their job responsibilities), the defendant must notify the probation officer at least 10 days before the change. If notifying the probation officer at least 10 days in advance is not possible due to unanticipated circumstances, the defendant must notify the probation officer within 72 hours of becoming aware of a change or expected change.
8. The defendant must not communicate or interact with someone they know is engaged in criminal activity. If the defendant knows someone has been convicted of a felony, they must not knowingly communicate or interact with that person without first getting the permission of the probation officer.
9. If the defendant is arrested or questioned by a law enforcement officer, the defendant must notify the probation officer within 72 hours.
10. The defendant must not own, possess, or have access to a firearm, ammunition, destructive device, or dangerous weapon (i.e., anything that was designed, or was modified for, the specific purpose of causing bodily injury or death to another person such as nunchakus or tasers).
11. The defendant must not act or make any agreement with a law enforcement agency to act as a confidential human source or informant without first getting the permission of the court.
12. CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINT:

PROBABLE CAUSE STATEMENT

Furthermore, the complainant states that Fermin LOPEZ and German RAMIREZ-Gonzalez, are citizens of a country other than the United States; that said aliens have admitted that they are exportable; that their testimony is material, that it is impracticable to secure their attendance at the trial by subpoena; and they are material witnesses in relation to this criminal charge and should be held or admitted to bail pursuant to Title 18, United States Code, Section 3144.

On April 24, 2018, Border Patrol Agents F. Gamez and A. Moreno were assigned to the Interstate 8 Border Patrol Immigration checkpoint near Pine Valley, California. The checkpoint is located approximately twelve miles north of the United States/Mexico International Boundary, and eight miles east of the Tecate, California Port of Entry. All warnings signs, cones and lights were operational.

At approximately 12:15 AM, Agent Gamez observed a Black 2006 Toyota Corolla four door sedan approach the primary inspection area. Agent Gamez noticed the vehicle was occupied by a driver, later identified as Mambasse Koulabalo PATARA, a male front passenger, later identified as German RAMIREZ-Gonzalez, and another individual sleeping in the backseat later identified as Fermin LOPEZ.

As the vehicle came to a complete stop at the primary position, PATARA immediately stated he is a United States Citizen, an off duty police officer and showed a Los Angeles Police Department identification card. PATARA appeared to be nervous and was visibly shaking. PATARA also stated the LAPD does not give their officers badges. Agent Gamez immediately noticed RAMIREZ appeared very nervous and constantly kept looking away and avoided eye contact.

Agent Gamez asked PATARA what LOPEZ' citizenship was. PATARA said LOPEZ is a United States citizen. Agent Gamez then woke up LOPEZ and asked him where he was from and if he was a United States citizen. LOPEZ said yes but answered as if he didn't understand the question. Agent Gamez repeated his questions in the Spanish language and LOPEZ said he is a United States citizen and did not have any kind of photographic identification.

Agent Gamez asked PATARA where they were coming from. PATARA said they were coming from the Golden Acorn Casino. PATARA and LOPEZ appeared very nervous, and due to this behavior, Agent Gamez referred the subjects and vehicle to secondary inspection for further questioning and document checks.

CONTINUATION OF COMPLAINT:
Mambasse Koulabalo PATARA

As the vehicle pulled into the secondary inspection area, Border Patrol Agent A. Moreno approached it and began to talk to the PATARA. At this point, PATARA informed Agent Moreno that he was a police officer with the Los Angeles Police Department and that he was in possession of his service issued weapon. PATARA handed Agent Moreno what appeared to be a legitimate Los Angeles Police Department identification card. Agent Moreno then had PATARA exit the vehicle. Agent Moreno performed a pat down on PATARA, discovered a pistol concealed in the rear of PATARA's waistband and secured the weapon. Agent Moreno then performed an immigration inspection on both RAMIREZ and LOPEZ. Both RAMIREZ and LOPEZ stated that they did not possess immigration documents that would allow them to enter or remain in the United States legally.

PATARA, RAMIREZ and LOPEZ were transported to the Campo Border Patrol Station for further investigation. At the station, both RAMIREZ and LOPEZ were queried through various Department of Homeland Security databases. RAMIREZ and LOPEZ were confirmed to be illegally present in the United States. At approximately 1:30 AM, PATARA, RAMIREZ, and LOPEZ were placed under arrest.

Material witnesses Fermin LOPEZ, and German RAMIREZ-Gonzalez admitted to being citizens of Mexico illegally present in the United States. Neither of the material witnesses claimed to have made any smuggling arrangements.

LOPEZ stated that he illegally entered the United States along with RAMIREZ, his nephew, on April 22, 2018 between the hours of ten and eleven in the morning. LOPEZ stated that they walked for a day and a half before reaching the Golden Acorn Casino. LOPEZ stated that once arriving at the casino, he washed up in one of the bathrooms. Shortly after exiting the bathroom, RAMIREZ informed him that he was able to procure transportation. LOPEZ was unsure how RAMIREZ was able to convince an unknown person to give them a ride. LOPEZ was instructed by RAMIREZ to get into the black four door sedan. LOPEZ sat in the rear seat until they arrived at the Border Patrol checkpoint.

RAMIREZ claimed he and LOPEZ illegally crossed the border six days prior. They were able to get a ride to Los Angeles, California by an unknown individual. RAMIREZ continued to say he has known PATARA for about five years. RAMIREZ referred to PATARA by his first name. RAMIREZ also said he has done some work on PATARA's property. Referring to his arrest with PATARA, RAMIREZ said that he decided to travel with PATARA from San Fontana, California to the Viejas Casino in Alpine, California. They gambled at the Viejas Casino for approximately one hour then they decided to go to the Golden Acorn Casino in Campo, California. He stated that they were at the Golden Acorn Casino for approximately 10 to 15 minutes. They left the casino between 8:00 PM and 9:00 PM and drove towards Los Angeles. When asked if they had made any stops, RAMIREZ stated that they drove directly from the casino to the checkpoint. When asked if he knew how long the drive is from the casino to the checkpoint, he replied that we should know that since we work the area. RAMIREZ stated that the vehicle never traveled east of the Golden Acorn Casino. RAMIREZ was asked how it was possible for a 15-20 minute drive to the checkpoint took over three hours RAMIREZ stated that he does not know.

When presented with a photographic lineup Material witness German RAMIREZ-Gonzalez was able to positively identify PATARA as the driver in this smuggling event.

Assistant U.S. Attorney

1 the first thing that Mr. Patara said was he was an off-duty
2 LAPD officer, and he had his -- an ID card with him stating
3 LAPD.

4 Q. And did he display that ID card?

5 A. Yes, he did.

6 Q. Had you asked him anything at that point?

7 A. No, I hadn't asked him anything.

8 Q. After he said that to you, what was your response?

9 A. I -- I went back to my immigration question, which is if 10 he -- if he was a United States citizen.

11 Q. And what was his response to that question?

12 A. He said, "Yes."

13 Q. And what did you do next?

14 A. I then asked the front passenger if he was a United States
15 citizen.

16 Q. And what was his response?

17 A. He said he was, "Yes."

18 Q. And in connection with the front seat passenger, how would 19 you describe his demeanor?

20 A. He kept avoiding eye contact, looking around our 21 checkpoint, very nervous. Really wouldn't pay attention to 22 when I was asking him the question.

23 Q. And after you finished asking the front seat --

24 THE COURT: So I'll ask the jury to disregard the 25 conclusions by the witness that the front seat passenger was

1 first?

2 Mr. Johnson, I'm glad to have you back. A couple hours,
3 and you would have gotten stuck.

4 MR. JOHNSON: Thank you very much, Your Honor. I
5 think I dodged a bullet by about eight hours,

6 THE COURT: Right.

7 Do you want to -- Mr. Zugman said you want to go first.

8 MR. JOHNSON: Yes, Your Honor.

9 I -- so we're bringing a general Rule 29 as to all the 10 elements of the offense. I do have something short I can file
11 if the Court would take it under submission.

12 My major point is that he is at all times a passenger in 13 this scheme. It's unclear to me even at this point which 14 particular acts the Government are alleging are aiding and 15 abetting, and since the indictment alleges on or about the 16 24th, I'm assuming we're talking about the travel to the 17 checkpoint on that date.

18 But with the Government -- I would ask the Government to 19 clarify that, what they intend to argue. And with that, I
20 would submit it and ask the Court permission to file a very 21 short brief on that later.

22 THE COURT: Well, if I'm going to rule on it now, the 23 briefs, I guess, would be in support of a motion once all the 24 evidence is in.

25 MR. JOHNSON: That -- that's right, and so the major

1 point I wanted to write up is the fact that he is at all times
2 a passenger. There's no evidence that he ever drove a car, and 3 we believe that, based on the simple fact that he's just a
4 passenger, he can't be part of a criminal enterprise in a 1324
5 prosecution. And I have a case that says that, and I should 6 note that Mr. Zugman found the case and shared it with me. So
7 he gets the credit for this.

8 Now, it is actually a guidelines issue as presented to the 9 Ninth Circuit where a defendant said, "You" -- "you cannot give 10 me a reckless endangerment for recklessly endangering the 11 passengers in a vehicle because they are participants in the 12 offense."

13 And the Government said -- or the Court -- or excuse me --
14 the Ninth Circuit said, "No. The people who are passengers are 15 not part of the criminal enterprise."

16 And the Government, about five or six years after that 17 fact, couldn't find any citations to that case other than the 18 United States arguing it in a case in Arizona, United States v.
19 Arizona, that went to the Supreme Court where the Government
20 made the point that Arizona's statutory scheme that 21 criminalized certain alien transportation conduct was 22 unconstitutional.

23 And one of the cases they relied upon was that specific 24 case where the Ninth Circuit had said passengers are not part 25 of the criminal enterprise, and that differed somewhat from

1 the -- the Arizona scheme.

2 So my point of all that is that -- and, again, it becomes
3 very simple. My client was a passenger, never drove a car.
4 And based on the evidence as it stands and the indictment as it
5 stands, I believe there's insufficient evidence to convict him
6 of aiding and abetting or transporting any aliens.

7 THE COURT: Let's hear from the Government.

8 MS. PREWITT: Yes, Your Honor.

9 First, I'll begin by pointing out that the statute in the 10 case, 8 U.S.C. 1324, does criminalize those who aid or abet the 11 commission of any of the preceding acts, and one of those 12 preceding acts is transporting illegal aliens.

13 The United States, of course, has charged that 14 aiding-and-abetting section of the statute as well as the 15 substantive offense, and the United States believes that 16 there's ample evidence here for the jury to conclude that 17 defendant Ramirez did aid and abet in the transportation in 18 this case.

19 Now, the indictment in this case does charge that on or 20 about April 24th that this event occurred. However, there are 21 numerous acts that the United States would argue is part and 22 parcel of the entire offense leading up to that April 24th
23 attempt to make it through the checkpoint, and the United 24 States believes that the following would be sufficient for the 25 jury to find beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant

1 committed a transportation offense through an
2 aiding-and-abetting theory.

3 The facts and evidence show that Mr. Ramirez arranged for 4 Aragon to pick him and Mr. Lopez up in the United States after 5 they illegal -- illegally crossed on April 21st. And then they 6 were brought to El Centro, where they waited out to see how 7 they were going to get through the checkpoint.

8 He then on April 23rd, leading up to the morning of the 9 24th, arranged with Mr. Patara to be transported to the Los 10 Angeles area; that when they were at the McDonald's, he 11 directed Lopez -- Mr. Lopez to get into Mr. Patara's car; that 12 on the route from the McDonald's to the casino, he -- defendant
13 Aragon, defendant Patara, and Ms. Hernandez, Mr. Patara's wife,
14 shared information about the Border Patrol and the operational
15 status of the checkpoint.

16 They also spoke about the checkpoint at the McDonald's in 17 the parking lot, Mr. Ramirez and Mr. Patara. At the 18 checkpoint, while they were waiting in line --

19 THE COURT: I think that is enough. If the jury
20 believes what Mr. Lopez said as to what happened at the 21 McDonald's, that would be enough by itself.

22 MR. JOHNSON: Your Honor, I would -- I understand the 23 direction the Court's going. I would simply point out that the 24 Government indicted this case as on or about the 24th, and they 25 didn't indict it once. They indicted it, I think, three or

1 thank you for Your Honor's clarification with respect to the 2 transportation charge. That's exactly what Ms. Aragon intends
3 on arguing, that the Government needs to prove that she aided 4 and abetted with respect to the transportation to the 5 checkpoint.

6 And I submit that the Government at this point has mere
7 presence. All they -- the best they have is the phone call
8 between Ms. Aragon and Mr. Ramirez after Ms. Aragon goes
9 through an open checkpoint. But as I pointed out in opening
10 statement, going through an opening checkpoint isn't -- open
11 checkpoint isn't going to help the smuggling.

12 If you're scouting, you're scouting to say the checkpoint
13 is closed, not that it's open.

14 MS. PREWITT: Your Honor, we would again disagree. We 15 think that there is sufficient evidence again that Ms. Aragon
16 aided the transportation but also that she participated in a 17 transportation offense herself. She is the one that took 18 Mr. Ramirez and Mr. Lopez to the McDonald's meeting point, 19 which is where they then, Mr. Patara and Mr. Ramirez, had 20 discussions about the checkpoint.

21 And then when they were driving to the checkpoint, we have 22 those kind of text messages at issue, the one from 23 Ms. Hernandez, Mr. Patara's wife, to him stating that "Be 24 careful, Border Patrol just passed." We have one minute after 25 that text message is received Mr. Ramirez and Ms. Aragon

1 speaking to each other on the phone.

2 We then, of course, have -- once they get to the 3 checkpoint -- a couple minutes before they pass through the 4 checkpoint, Ms. Aragon and Mr. Ramirez are speaking to each
5 other. And then one minute after she passes through the 6 checkpoint, we have that very long conversation, almost nine 7 minutes, where we know that the guys are at the casino and 8 Ms. Aragon and Ms. Hernandez are -- are at the checkpoint.

9 We think that the strong inference there, Your Honor, is 10 that they are continuing the discussion that began at the 11 McDonald's, and that's the discussion about the checkpoint and 12 its status.

13 The fact that it was open, we believe, is neither here nor 14 there. The evidence established that the checkpoint had just 15 recently opened again after being closed for a long period of 16 time and that when it reopened, it was opened nearly 24/7
17 unless inclement weather was at play.

18 And so we think that it's still absolutely reasonable and 19 an inference that the jury could draw that a person could still 20 be scouting even if the information back is not "The checkpoint
21 is closed" but the information back is "Hey, I just got waved
22 through, and so did the people around me."

23 THE COURT: I agree with you. Ms. Prewitt's facts
24 would be sufficient for a reasonable jury to find that there
25 was actual transportation or aiding and abetting.

1 So the motion as to Mr. Ramirez and Ms. Aragon is denied.

2 MR. CARLOS: So, Your Honor, as to Mr. Patara,
3 certainly from the evidence that's been presented, he's in a 4 much different position. There's absolutely no evidence that 5 he was involved in any of the conversations in Mexico. There's 6 absolutely no evidence that he was involved in any 7 conversations that took place the week before the incident or 8 the day before the incident.

9 So the first contact that Mr. -- that Mr. Patara has is 10 really in the afternoon of the -- of the incident that we're at 11 trial for. There's no evidence of what the conversation was 12 about other than he was going to meet them. Mr. Patara at some 13 point asked them can they get to the 15, which means that he's 14 not concerned with any type of checkpoint.

15 There's -- there's really nothing here other than 16 speculation and innuendo because he's present with them, and 17 mere presence is not enough. The only thing that kind of ties
18 it all together is Mr. Lopez's testimony and his testimony now
19 for the first time that he heard something about a checkpoint
20 in the parking lot.

21 But Your Honor was present in court while this individual
22 testified under oath under questioning from one, two, three,
23 four different lawyers. He never said anything about this 24 conversation about the checkpoint. He was asked by the 25 prosecution what happened -- you know, what happened, you know,

1 THE COURT: All right. And so fill it out and bring 2 it into court when you come in,

3 Thank you for your attention and for your courtesy. Have 4 a safe trip home.

5 Remember the rules that govern the conduct of jurors. Do
6 not discuss the case, the people involved, or the issues
7 involved among yourselves or with anyone else. If someone 8 should try to talk to you, please report it to me as soon as 9 you can.

10 Don't do any research on the case, and you cannot look up
11 things on the Internet, even in the Dictionary. If you need a 12 word defined, I will do it for you. And avoid any news stories
13 that may even in the most remote way bear in relation to the 14 case.

15 And finally, do not form any opinion about the case. You
16 haven't heard the instructions by the Court, and most 17 importantly, you haven't heard the views of your fellow jurors.
18 Please keep an open mind until then.

19 Thank you. Have a safe trip home and an enjoyable

21 (Proceedings were heard out of the presence of the jury.)

1 (Laughter)

2 MR. JOHNSON: Correct.

3 MR. CARLOS: Your Honor.

1 the checkpoint?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Okay. And what were your duties on the midnight shift?

4 Where were you assigned?

5 A. I was -- I arrived at the primary inspection.

6 Q. Okay. Now, I'd like you to take a look at Government's 7 Exhibit 4. Was this -- was this a photograph that was taken on 8 the 24th a little bit after midnight?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. And do you recognize this photograph?

11 A. Yes.

12 MR. COUGHLIN: Your Honor, at this time I'd like to 13 move into evidence Government's Exhibit 4.

14 MR. CARLOS: No objection.

15 MR. ZUGMAN: No objection.

16 MR. JOHNSON: No objection.

17 THE COURT: 4 in evidence.

18 (Government's Exhibit 4 received in evidence)

19 BY MR. COUGHLIN:

20 Q. Could you tell us what Government's Exhibit 4 depicts?

21 A. That is me on primary inspection area with the Toyota
22 Corolla, and I'm sending it through into secondary inspection.

23 Q. Is this the Toyota Corolla that was driven by Mr. Patara?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Okay. I'd like you to take a look at Government's

1 Exhibit 4A and ask you if you recognize it.

2 A. Yes, I do.

3 Q. And is that an accurate photograph of the area you were 4 working that evening --

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. -- at around 10 minutes after midnight?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. It appears as though the photograph also dates and 9 timestamp; is that correct?

10 A. Yes.

11 MR. COUGHLIN: Your Honor, at this time I'd like to 12 move into evidence Government's Exhibit 4A.

13 MR. CARLOS: No objection.

14 MR. ZUGMAN: No objection.

15 MR. JOHNSON: No objection.

16 THE COURT: 4A in evidence.

17 (Government's Exhibit 4A received in evidence)

18 BY MR. COUGHLIN:

19 Q. So in connection with 4A, it looks like at this time of 20 day, is that what you meant by just one lane being operational?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And could you tell us who else is present in this 23 photograph?

24 A. Some of the K9 inspectors are there.

25 Q. Okay. Is that you speaking to the driver there of the 1 Toyota Corolla?

2 A. Yes, that is me.

3 Q. All right. And is this particular border patrol unit, does 4 that block the lane so just one lane can come through?

5 A. Correct.

6 Q. All right. So in connection with motorists, do they pull
7 up to where you're standing, and you're going to have contact
8 with them? Is that generally what happens?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. Do people always pull all the way up to where you're 11 standing?

12 A. No, not always.

13 Q. What would be -- what has been some of your experience of 14 people pulling up to the checkpoint where you're standing?

15 MR. JOHNSON: Objection, relevance.

16 THE COURT: Sustained.

17 BY MR. COUGHLIN:

18 Q. When a car doesn't pull all the way up, does that raise 19 your suspicion in connection with your inspection?

20 MR. CARLOS: Objection. It's leading.

21 THE COURT: Sustained.

22 BY MR. COUGHLIN:

23 Q. Do you have cars that don't actually pull all the way to 24 your location?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. And how often does that happen?

2 A. It's rare.

3 Q. And when that happens, what do you believe is occurring?

4 MR. CARLOS: Objection. Relevance.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 BY MR. COUGHLIN:

7 Q. Now, have you had a chance to view a video in connection
8 with this time period?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. And does it accurately depict the events on April 24th
11 involving the Toyota Corolla and its occupants?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. And have you had an opportunity to look at a disk that's up
14 there in front of you?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. And does this accurately depict the video that we're about 17 to see?

18 A. Yes.

19 MR. COUGHLIN: Your Honor, at this time I'd like to 20 move into evidence Government's Exhibit 5, which is a video of 21 the time that Mr. Patara was in primary.

22 MR. CARLOS: No objection.

23 MR. ZUGMAN: No objection.

24 MR. JOHNSON: No objection.

25 THE COURT: I will allow it in, but first, do you have
