APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE A PETITION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI

To the Honorable Sonia Sotomayor, Circuit Justice for the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit

In accordance with Rule 13.5 of the United States Supreme Court Rules, Anthony Papapietro requests a sixty (60) day extension of time, up to and including November 21, 2022, within which to file his petition for writ of certiorari. Papapietro's petition for certiorari is currently due September 22, 2022. In support of this application, he states:

1. Anthony Papapietro's case raises an important constitutional question:
-Does the 5th Amendment right to due process attach when the banks and servicing companies involved in this pending foreclosure action cause an unwarranted loss of liberty and deprive an individual of life, liberty or property without due process of law.
2. On June 24, 2022, the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit denied Papapietro relief to his petition for panel rehearing, or, in the alternative, for rehearing en banc, and upheld the decision for summary judgment in favor of Defendants by the United States Court, Eastern District of New York, which was handed down by Justice William F. Kuntz, II, during a global pandemic and without warning. Papapietro holds that he was not properly served on the matter of foreclosure, and was denied the right to face/fight several banks and servicing companies for his right and liberties as American Citizen to own his property, on his claims that they violated federal law by imposing improper fees, charging for force-placed insurance and misleading him on a loan modification, resulting in a foreclosure action. The government has fined these banks and servicing companies billions of dollars for similar federal violations and mortgage scams.

3. The Supreme Court has certiorari jurisdiction over this case under 28 U.S.C § 1254(1).

4. Anthony Papapietro currently has until September 22, 2022 to file a petition for writ of certiorari. See U.S.S. Ct. R. 13.1

5. Under Rule 13.5, a Supreme Court Justice may extend the time for seeking certiorari for up to sixty (60) additional days.

6. Mr. Papapietro requests an additional sixty (60) days to properly prepare and file his petition for writ of certiorari.

7. Anthony Papapietro is a small business owner in Staten Island, New York, and has important jobs lined up for several weeks. Since, Mr. Papapietro is entering this application for an extension of time to file a writ of certiorari, Pro Se, he would use this additional time to consult and/or retain counsel. Therefore, granting an additional sixty (60) days will ensure that these important issues to be raised are properly presented to the Court.

Wherefore, Anthony Papapietro requests that he be granted a sixty (60) day extension of time, to and including November 21, 2022, within which to file a petition for writ of certiorari.
