MEMORANDUM AND OPINION

Bertin, S.J. 4/12/22
Visiting Judge

As a result of Plaintiff Wife's ("Cynthia L. Pollick") obdurate, vexatious, and dilatory conduct, the undersigned entered counsel fees against her under 42 PA C.S. § 2503(7), (9) in the amount of $26,950, giving her (20) twenty days from the docketing of the order, to wit, by August 12, 2021. Eight (8) months have passed and wife has refused and failed to pay said sum.

On April 12, 2022, this Court held a contempt hearing on the record in open court and will hold wife in contempt of said order because she has willfully failed and refused to pay the same, and had on the date of the order, and has now, the present ability to pay the same, but refuses to do so.

On July 20, 2021, at page 12 of this Court's Equitable Distribution opinion and order, Wife's evidence shows (Wife's Exhibit 4) that she had in her SEPA, (Pension), the sum of $74,059.46 on date of marriage (1/1/17), $83,523.22 (6/20/19), and $88,375.20 (1/24/20).

This fund is liquid, consisting of marketable securities and investments, and easily accessible now for immediate payment of the $26,950. In fact, there was clear testimony from Wife that she voluntarily, in her sole discretion, accessed this account last year in 2021, in the amount of $30,000 to pay some debts that she chose to pay. Any time an owner of a deferred income plan, whether it be an Ira, a SEPA, or a 401k, as Wife is with her SEPA, may take an early distribution and simply pay the appropriate income taxes thereon and any penalty for early distribution, which Wife did in the amount of $30,000 in 2021. The Court estimates over the past 2.5 years, Wife's account has increased to about $100,000, so her voluntary withdrawal of $30,000, leaves plenty of money to satisfy the $26,950 payment.

The Court finds that Wife has the present ability, beyond a reasonable doubt, to immediately pay what the Court has ordered her to pay ten (10) months ago. Accordingly, the Court will enter the order below. Before entering the order below, the Court is compelled to comment on Wife's outrageous conduct throughout the entire case, and today. She is willfully disrespectful to court personnel, counsel, and the Court. She seems to justify this behavior in total disregard of the code of conduct for a lawyer by constantly referring to herself as citing to the Court and opposing counsel, that she is acting "pro se," as if that title authorizes her to behave in such a disgraceful manner.

ORDER

AND Now, this 12th day of April 2022, the Court having found Wife in contempt of Court for willfully disobeying the Court's Order and beyond a reasonable doubt, and having present ability to pay the same, this Court orders the following:

- (1) Wife (Cynthia L. Pollick) shall forthwith withdraw from her SEPA believed to be in Oppenheimer or some successor entity, sufficient funds, after payment of administrative fees, costs, income tax, and penalties, the sum of $26,950 and make payment of the same to Anthony P. Trozzolillo.
- (2) Wife shall file an affidavit with the Lackawanna County Prothonotary's Office on or before Friday, April 22, 2022, swearing she has complied with this Order and payment has been made to Anthony P. Trozzolillo.
- (3) In the event said affidavit is not filed as stated here before on the date required, the Sheriff is HEREBY ORDERED AND DIRECTED to serve a bench warrant for the arrest of Cynthia L. Pollick and to forthwith bring her to the Lackawanna County Prison and notify the Court when she is incarcerated for further enforcement proceedings.
- (4) Wife is hereby enjoined and restrained from making any withdrawals from said SEPA account prior to the payment of the $26,950 to Anthony P. Trozzolillo. If Wife violates this directive, Court will consider said withdrawals
