I aint telling on nobody, im just telling what happened, yall mutherfuckers pushed that boy down the hill man yall broke his leg, yall wen to far (they broke his leg?) yeah see he got killed iin front of calvin yard. Well when me and tanna ran outside actually im panicking, coco already telling me and tanna (bitch ill kill yall) if we said anything about it dadada, so me and tanna started freaking out. Loc must have tried to pick josh up and put him in the car or sump but he couldn't yea they pushed him down the hill that's where his car and body was found that's why nobody knew about it hell calvin momma nem auntie was up in there (talking bout aunt Charlene) yeah she never seen it cause she didn't know to look down that hill. But se coco he gotta get rid of the evidence know what im saying he wasn't going to leave him in the front yard and then I get to thinking, well loc why you running why you go hide. Coco really aint hiding yea coco out there. So what I think has come to a point in the case where they charged somebody but now they made a mistake. I mean Devontae passed the polygraph test gun residue he did have on his hands but that could have been from the day before but he didn't kill him I mean that's over kill that's somebody in their feelings. Coco do shit like that I mean coco shot black baby I remember when he did it at the louaoul I remember when he done it I mean that's like shooting evi dence. (so its loc and coco the one that did it?) yea I mean either way loc helped him clean it up he an accessory (hell yeah you is) Devontae was not there, Devontae had a few minutes before see Devontae had gotten there a little drunk to where he had probably been up all night his buzz probably weared away Dominique and kim was there and dominique was fixing to leave with kim cause coco had just got done beating her ass coco just got his ass beat by josh alright they already having confrontation. Devontae asked kim if he could go with her, kim says nawl she had something she had to do or something so Devontae didn't go Devontae went and laid down I remember. Now Devontae said he got up to go piss that what he told me when I got to see him. And I asked him I said why you didn't take the pistol and lay it beside the bed any other time you have that mutherfucker on you cocked loaded and everything shit why you didn't do it this time? Cause he said he had just got his pistol back from trell he said because he stop wearing like that it would be more safe. He said he went to go piss he laid it on the bed. I remember when Devontae said it cause I had asked him, pooh and devine and all them all had just left and josh and coco was already fussing so wasn't nobody paying Devontae no attention. Devontae was suppose to leave with me and josh to go to the store to ger a black so that's why I know they wouldn have no problem. Devontae told me don't leave him he was gonna walk up the road to devins cause they hadn't been to long left. Vontae when he went up the road maybe five minutes he told me bitch hurry the fuck up and use the bathroom cause I had already been trying to get in there with tanna. I made it I walked into calvins house went to the back I said knock knock tanna bitch hurry the fuck up man I gotta piss, let me in let me piss. She let me in and as I was getting ready to piss pow pow pow pow, at that pow so close we know its right there, I didn't piss. Tanna behind me we go to the door actually calvins front door aint got the screen on it no more its already open so I go to the door and I go to the door and wasn't nobody holding that gun by this time now I didn't I fell to realize the gun was on the mustang which is where coco was standing and that's when Devontae walked back up and found it (and he grabbed it) yeah but he didn't know nothing at this time ok coco an loc I start flipping out at that phone and the time I didn't have a phone at the time I didn't have a phone , give me a phone that don't even work and that's when coco had said he was gonna kill us he told me and tanna and when they pushed the car down the hill actually they had already walked away so I had already freaked out so I take off behind calvins and go down like in the bushes that's why they couldn't see me when they come up the hill. Well me and tanna was trying to get josh's car cause he was down there well I wasn't finna just walk up to that car it was too bad to see. We take off through the woods we walk to my house from jaynesville all the way back to 35 now when I got to my house the law said why didn't you call this in, what the fuck man im already freaking the fuck out now I wasn't about to call yall, I got to my house I freshened up and I walked to trel's momma and then by that time the law had been called cause we called the law oh well shit im not running from you guys. Ok Devontae told me that when he come back down he said lady was the only one there, coco must have ran through the woods or whatever, he didn't know that josh's car was down there he walked up on the porch he got his headphones in so he walked down the road naturally him heard the shots he probably thought it came from anywhere when that close to him. He said he just happened to look on the mustang and there his pistol was so he grabbed it he said it wasn't even a hour later he was gone, he caught a ride to the jungle or whatever. Vontae said when he got to the jungle that's when he heard about josh he said he panicked not knowing anything. Later on that day his momma talked him into turning himself in. Vontae went up there, the investigator told me that when Devontae got there he said he walked in the pistol was in his back pocket he gave it to him and said, the only thing I can tell you is I didn't do it, and still to this day that's all Devontae is telling them, I didn't do it. He didn't hell and like I told them I said honestly we are criminals and I can go break the law bond out and ia aint coming to coming to court and that's on a misdemeanor now I go kill somebody I don't care how bad I feel afterwards I aint gonna turn myself in, hell nawl. Hell I aint coming in bringing no pistol turning myself in. you think Devontae just said aww fuck it I just killed this dude I aint gave myself time to freak out or come to my senses fuck it ima go turn myself in hey hey here iam, nawl aint nobody gonna do that. (Cuz did that cause he know he didn't do it), that's right he didn't do it and he got to thinking damn my pistol was missing coincidently when I left josh was right there, see he thought josh left, cause when rell, rell said this is what made him look, he said he pulled up he said something told him, he asked Devontae where josh was, he said I don't know man I guess he left,(he didn't know) he said rell aid that something told him to go down to quinn's he said he pulled in the driveway and that's when he seen the car down there. He said when he seen it he told loc to call 911 and loc told him nawl man I got drugs on me. Ok he got his grandnma to call, his grandma didn't want to call, the investigator said when he come through not knowing that the crime took place there they pass it own up going to where the call came from. When they get to rell's grandma he said when he passed loc was in his yard right there beside him he said by the time they come back nobody was in sight when actually when they get to the house they only there for a few minutes cause hold up aint nobody insight nobody here so they start looming for everybody so they run up on calvins at Keiths alright then they run up on loc, I think they found him in the apartments or something. Devontae willing to come turn himself in (yeah they found loc in the partments) yeah alright Devontae willing to come turn himself in and loc got blood on him ok they got them, coco and Dominique the next day coco and Dominique come running up to me hey hey hey we was together I left with kim. A few days later the investigator said he talked to kim. Whatup rabbit.

They called the police and told the police that the mutherfucker dead. That's where they gonna get his ass at, being got dam crazy. I told them, yall some dumb muthefuckers instead of them going to do the shit, like I said by theyself you had to have multiple people in that shit cause josh wasnt going out like that and the only way you gonna get that muthafucker close to anything is pussy, nigga aint finna get close to. He said he aint finna ride with no got dam fuck niggas if he didn't come get me or his brother, he aint finna fuck with nobody. That's how they had to trick him out there then by him by rell nem going to get him and he got loc nem riding with him the boy rushed him that's how loc got the blood on him. Cause when he stuck that gun in there he went over loc pop shot him that's how loc got all that blood and shit on him but what they just don't know the second man hit with the other 45 remember the other 45 I told you? He hit him with that, that's the one dead shot him with. Not the one trell gave him the one derrick gave him and finished him off that's why they kept saying two different guns just aint adding up. You know in one gun the bullet short and the other gun the bullet bout that big. I aint heard that they said the bullets wasn't adding up. Im telling you that's what, I should have been a damn FBI. I aint heard that I just heard he got shot one time, yeah I heard he got shot one time. See the reason why they said that the second muthafucker he did shoot him one time, shot him in the neck that was the first slug the gun hunged up and bro came through with the other gun and finished him.

before they come to me with that bullshit, they know before I turn myself in ima get everyone of them. My thang is Raymond, what? Im not finna go down there cause this muthafucker scared to tell on a mutherfucker (his momma bout to go fuckin crazy) that's his dumbass. Look how old Vontae is, Vontae aint nothing but 24 years old, when he get outta there he might be 54 when he get up out that mutherfucka. You don't think he gon, if he don't say fuck how a muthafucka feel about him fuck how a muthafucka do him or what they gon say, I told him he can come stay with me and I wont let nobody fuck with him. I jumped infront of the gun when they done that shit with my brother, I jumped infront of the gun and told bro nem if yall shoot him yall gon have to shoot me to. And I had a big ass 380 on me and I told them but they didn think I had a gun on me, just like I got my shit in my pocket now it aint showing but you can see the print. They said well ima gon head air them out ima air him out now and I said niggaman hold up, I jumped infront that nigga just like this bruh and told him if yall fuck with that nigga then yall gon have to fuck with me to and every since then Vontae he said man them niggas scared of you aint they. I said man I don't fear for yo life, I said if you aint done nothing quit fucking with these fuck ass niggas. You aint done nothing don't go do no time for a muthafucker if yoh aint done nothing cause a muthafucker aint gon put nan got damn penny and yo ass gon be in there without nothing. (so uh when Vontae said he was walking from his daddy house walking up the road and that boy asked where josh was he was, he was dead then wasn't he) yea he was dead then. (so why did they put it on Vontae? They had to put it off on somebody thats why they called reggie and told reggie that me and bruh shot him (that's fucked up). Cause they knowed if they get me out the way bruh gone tell it, cause you think ima do 40 years for a son of a bitch, hell nawl. There he go right there (Vontae bout to go do 40 years for a lot muthafuckers)
