STATEMENT OF THE CASE

I was returning back to work from an approved medical leave of absence, I was shopping at Wal-Mart in Wausau, WI the night before 10/12/2020 with my boyfriend and my son when we reached the checkout area, I gave my return to work slip with accommodation of a stool for my back. to Robin, she's a job coach that was standing at the checkout area, she asked me if I can start my shift tomorrow morning (October 13th, 2020) I told were I would be there no problem. The next day I went to work on time as scheduled and I noticed that I wasn't on the scheduled as I punched in the time clock. I went to look for Christine she was in hr. dept., but I couldn't find her, so I asked at the customer service desk where to find Robin the job coach and nobody knew where she was either. So I picked up my sitting stool behind the service desk and I was given my assigned register. I signed in my register and turned my lite on and started work, As I was tending to my customers a member of management abruptly, sneaking by sitting stool from me as I was using my sitting stool and viciously threw my sitting stool against the wall so hard that it knocked over and customers and i both were looking at what happened in shock. As I was trying to finish up scanning the groceries for my customers in front of me and they were asking me if I was ok and asked the member of management why she did that and she just ran off and ignored me and my customers. I was then told that I was fired so I clocked out and left the building. I haven't been back to the Wausau Wal Mart since that day.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE PETITION

The reason for granting the petition is because I was denied a rehearing and I don't know why.

CONCLUSION

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

Angela McLaren
