APPEALS COURT

SONDRA MYERS & others* vs.
JON MYERS

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER PURSUANT TO RULE 23.0

This is an appeal in one of a series of cases between Jon Myers and various family members, including his father Morey Myers' his mother Sondra Myers; his now-deceased former wife Margaret Carney; and his brother, David Nathan Myers. Jon entered into a 2011 settlement agreement wherein he agreed to "cease and desist from ...filing or threatening to file any and lawsuits on any matter whatsoever against any of his family members." Further on February 11, 2014, Morey, Sondra, and Margaret, entered into an agreement for judgment with Jon, where the parties agreed that Jon would be precluded from filing a new suit against each of them "or against any relative," among others, without first obtaining leave from the Regional Administrative Justice. The 2014 agreement for judgment was entered as an order of the court.

*Morey Myers and Margaret Carney. Defendant Jon Myers asserts that plaintiff Margaret Carney died in 2016; however, no suggestion of death has been filed.

On June 28, 2022, pursuant to the agreement for judgment, Jon filed a motion seeking approval to file a suit against David. On July 7, 2022, a Superior Court judge denied the motion “because” [Jon] identified[d] no plausible claim, nor any claim not barred by the prior judgment, and fail[ed] to identify what relief [was]s sought.” Jon’s subsequent motion for reconsideration was also denied. This appeal followed, although he does not attempt to explain how the judge erred.

We discern no error. The proposed suit is against a family member, Jon’s brother. The Motions states that the situation at issue stems back to 1988, before the prior suits. The claims are barred by both the prior settlement agreement and the agreement for judgment. See Jaroz v. Palmer, 436 Mass. 526, 536 (2002) (claim preclusion bars relitigation of claim dismissed with prejudice). (While the motion that Jon filed was a request to file suit against David, the motion was filed in a case involving Jon’s parents and his former wife. Jon’s parents filed the appellees’ brief in this appeal).

CONCLUSION

The order dated July 7, 2022, denying the request to commence a new lawsuit is affirmed. The order dated July 19, 2022, denying the motion for reconsideration is affirmed.

So ordered.

Plaintiff

v.

JON MYERS

Defendant

MOTION TO ALLOW A CIVIL LAWSUIT for equitable relief and to establish societal standards of evil and insanity.

MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION

Now comes, Jon Myers ("Myers") Defendant in above named action and respectfully request
Reconsideration of the Honorable Judge Christopher Barry-Smith's ruling of July 7, 2022 denying the request to commence a new lawsuit and for reasons states:

1. This is a fundamental misunderstanding of the element of emotional abuse. Emotional abuse is a thoroughly confusing and deceptive entity. The pattern of emotionally abuse behavior not only has been going on for over thirty years, but it is also continuing through today. As an analogy, it would be foolhardy to think that any recognized form of abuse, sexual, physical, or otherwise, would be allowed to continue as most people would find it abhorrent. Myers is not making random statements, he is calling forth intense abuse, and adding significant societal understandings in the process. Myers is consistently claiming throughout his Motion and Memorandum that he has been victimized, by what he calls the worst case of emotional abuse in history, given the intensity and deceptive nature of the pattern.

2. The previous agreements do not prohibit a new lawsuit. This point was made to Myers, by Attorney Michael R. Perry (“Perry”) esteem Counsel for the Plaintiffs. When Myers years back, said he was barred, Perry’s response was that he “was not barred; he needed to seek consent;” which is indeed the process Myers is ensuing in this instance. The unraveling of the true source of the pattern of behavior has taken years, and even decades to decipher, given the degree of rage directed at him.
3. This is not even a lawsuit, and thereby strict standards of identifying every level of claim and/or relief are not applicable. This is an individual and for that matter, his children and other family members, being deeply harmed, and Myers is in good faith, bringing this before an appropriate authority. The denial of a request even for a hearing is egregious. If the court is so certain that Myers has no validity, which he does, then hear him out. A person, in Myers is averring a profound level of abuse and harm; the onus, ion on the court to decipher whether is abuse is indeed occurring. Myers understands that the court could be confused by the repetitive nature of Myers's claims, given the extraordinarily challenging nature of understanding emotional abuse. Still the err, if any must be on the side of the pursuit of truth, rather than the cloaking of abuse. Myers's only reason to bring this forward is for truth and appropriate relief, which need not be fully defined at this stage.

4. Myers does not use lightly, a word such as "evil." Most of us do not want to see evil in any form. Evil entails, not just malice, accompanying that malice is deceit, AND an ongoing nature to keep that process intact. Strains of evil run through society, affecting most of us, who desire a peaceful and respectful society. Failing to appropriately confront evil, puts society at risk, by harming our standards, and accepting reckless, actions. Respectfully, Myers pushes for courts to realign towards principles of fairness and equality which are so needed by common people today.

For these reasons, Myers PRAYS that the Honorable Christopher K. Barry-Smith will RECONSIDER his ruling of July 7, 2022 and allow at least a hearing on the matter.

Respectfully submitted,
/s/ Jon Myers

MOTION TO ALLOW A CIVIL LAWSUIT for

REQUEST FOR HEARING

Now comes, Jon Myers ("Myers") Plaintiff in above named proceeding and respectfully requests this Honorable Court to allow a hearing if there is any doubt whatsoever, in the merit of Myers' claims and for reasons states:

1. Myers has lived under the horror of emotional abuse for thirty years, as have his children, and it must be defeated.
2. This is a challenging subject matter that requires full assessment.
3. Previous opposition from Defendant(s) has uniformly dismissed and/or ridiculed Myers, further the capacity for more emotional harm.

Respectfully submitted,
Jon Myers

2014 AGREEMENT FOR JUDGMENT

Relevant portion:

1. Specifically, the Parties agree that Jon Myers, shall be permanently enjoined from filing any additional lawsuits in any Massachusetts Superior Court against his mother, Sondra Myers, his father Morey Myers, or his ex-wife Margaret Carney or against any relative, attorney, employee or other agent of Sondra or Morey Myers or Margaret Carney without first obtaining prior approval to do so from the Regional Administrative Justice of the county in which Jon Myers seeks to file such a lawsuit and without providing at least ten days written notice to Plaintiffs/Defendants-in Counterclaims Counsel Michael R. Perry.
