QUESTION(S) PRESENTED

1. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of Counsel. Here, the State presented an expert witness to vouch for the truthfulness and credibility of a witness/victim. Does defense counsel's failure to object to such expert testimony violate a criminal defendant's right to effective assistance of counsel?
2. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of counsel. Here, the defense counsel failed to call Demetrius, Brianna, and Devonte Bolton as well as CPT. Worker Arabia Davis and Det. William Katsaracos as witnesses for the defense. Does defense counsel's failure to call the witnesses violate due process for a criminal defendant?
3. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of counsel. In this case, defense counsel failed to object to improper comments made by the State regarding a witness/victim's intellectual capacity during closing arguments. Does defense counsel's failure to object to such comments violate the defendant's right to effective assistance of counsel?
4. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of Counsel. Here, the State filed motions in limine which denied the defendant the opportunity to present witnesses and exculpatory testimony. Does defense counsel's failure to object violate the defendant's compulsory process rights?

QUESTION(S) PRESENTED

5. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of counsel. In Mr. Britton's case, during pretrial and trial proceedings, the presiding judge departed from the position as a neutral arbiter. Does defense counsel's failure to move to disqualify the trial judge violate the defendant's right to effective assistance of counsel?

6. The 6th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution guarantees a defendant a right to effective assistance of counsel. Here, defense counsel failed to object to coerced testimony, failed to call witnesses, and failed to object to the violation of the defendant's compulsory process rights. Does the cumulative effect of defense counsel's failures deprive the defendant of a fair trial?

CONSTITUTIONAL AND STATUTORY PROVISIONS INVOLVED

U.S. Constitution 6th Amendment
U.S. Constitution 14th Amendment

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In his first claim, Mr. Bolton's assertion is that the State presented testimony that improperly weighed for the credibility of the victim and defense counsel did not object. The testimony was as follows:

Q: In S.E.'s case in particular, did you see any physical indications of abuse?

A: I did not

Q: At the conclusion of your examination, what if any recommendations or findings did you make?

A: My findings were that of sexual abuse result by history and that the physical findings were consistent with history.

In Sheriden v. Singleton, 135 F.3d 732, 738-39 (11th Cir. 1998), the court held that "A medical expert's opinion based on 'the history' of the victim, not on the expert's expertise is not admissible, being nothing more than opinion that the victim's truthful. See also, Minton v. Sec'y Doc., 2008 U.S. App. LEXIS 1117 (11th Cir. June 3, 2008); Michigan v. Harris, 2012 Mich. App. LEXIS 27742 (Mich. App. July 19, 2012); and Ohio v. Wintereich, 2008 Ohio App. 1813, 2008 WL 1747, 433 (Ohio App. 2008).

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In Claim two, Mr. Bolton asserts that defense counsel failed to call Demetrius, Brianna and Deonte Britton as well as CPT. Warner Arabia Davis and Det. William Katsouras as defense witnesses.

In September 2013, Mr. Bolton met with defense counsel and gave him three names of individuals to interview, and he never talked to the potential witnesses. Also, on July 14, 2014 prior to entering the courtroom to select a jury for trial, defense counsel wanted the defendant's permission to ask for a continuance for the sole purpose of locating CPT. Warner Arabia Davis and Det. William to testify as witnesses. The continuance was granted and trial was rescheduled for October 13, 2014. On the day of trial, defense informed Bolton that he decided not to call any of the witnesses, and that he never spoke to them.

Demetrius and Brianna Britton would have testified that during an argument with the brother of the victim K.E., he told them that he would "call the police and tell them something to get their clock in trouble if he ever made him mad. Deonte Bolton would have testified that K.E. stood in front of him, exposed his penis and began shaking it in his face.

Arabia Davis would have testified that on November 19, 2013, S.E. disclosed to her that her brother K.E. began molesting her when she was 9 years old at the residence where they lived with Mr. Bolton and their mother at the time.

Det. Katsouras would have testified that upon questioning K.E. about why he performed oral sex on his sister, he said that she asked him to do it because she wanted to know what it felt like.

Due process requires a fair opportunity to defend against charges, including calling and cross examining witnesses. Keeping information, including witnesses from the jury may violate "due process." U.S. v. Webster, 162 F.3d 308 (11th Cir. 1998);

"Due process requires that a criminal defendant be afforded the opportunity to present favorable evidence, and the rights to confront and cross examine witnesses and to call witnesses in one's own behalf." U.S. v. Morris, 489 Fed. Appx. 405 (11th Cir. 2012).

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In Claim three, Bolton asserts that defense counsel failed to object to State's improper comments claiming kidnapping.

Prosecutors stated the following:

Ms. Licametro: "And S.E. She's a wonderful child and I mean her no disrespect, but it's very clear from seeing her and it's clear too combined with what some other witnesses told you that S.E. does have limitations."

Ms. Licametro: "S.E. is simply not a child who would have the capacity to make up something so serious."

Ms. Licametro: "She does not have the intellectual capacity to do that."

See, U.S. v. Tolliver, 400 Fed. Appx. 823 (11th Cir. 2010); "A prosecutor is not permitted to express personal opinion regarding the credibility of a witness. By giving opinion, an attorney may increase the apparent probative force of evidence by virtue of personal influence." See also, U.S. v. Villanueva, 2018 Fed. Appx. 22746 (11th Cir. 2018).

In Claim four, Mr. Bolton asserts that after the victim S.E.'s brother K.E. was arrested for molesting his sister, the State filed two motions in limine that denied him the opportunity to present his defense which violated his compulsory process rights. In January, 2013, Mr. Bolton was questioned regarding sexual abuse accusations made by S.E. Bolton denied the accusations and told police that he suspected that S.E. was being molested by her brother K.E. In November 2013, K.E. was arrested for molesting S.E. The State immediately filed motions in limine requesting the following;

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

1. Any and all arguments, testimony or evidence involving the case of K.E. be excluded.
2. Any witnesses listed by defense pertaining to the case of i.E. be stricken from testifying regarding the facts and nature of the case.
3. Any mention of how the mother, m.E. knew that her son was molesting his sister, and did not report it. Also, any mention of m.E. being molested as a child.
4. Any mention of Mr. Bolton's lack of a criminal history and any statements he made to law enforcement.

The compulsory process clause protects a criminal defendant's right to call who can offer material testimony. A criminal defendant's compulsory process rights can be offended when no government arbitrarily prevents him from calling such a witness." U.S. v. Crook, 479 Fed. Appx. 5568 (11th Cir. 2012); also, Johnson v. Moore, 472 Fed. 2d 1344 (Feb. 2, 2001 11th Cir.) and, U.S. v. Williams, 509 Fed. Appx. 899 (11th Cir. 2013).

Claim five, Mr. Bolton asserts that defense counsel failed to move to disqualify the trial judge when he departed from his position as a neutral arbiter when he advised the State in whom to object during sidebar. Also during a pretrial hearing the judge made a statement showing prejudice toward the defendant.

During a sidebar out loud, the judge said:

"I don't understand why people don't object to some things."

During a pretrial proceeding, the judge said:

"...we're going to move on to the brother K.E. who also molested the victim."

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

In his 6th and final claim, Mr. Bolton asserts that the cumulative effect of defense counsel errors deprived him of a fair trial.

Each one of defense counsel's errors and omissions standing alone are sufficient to warrant relief in Bolton's case. However, when taken in the aggregate (especially given the paucity of the State's evidence), those errors demonstrate that the defendant has been deprived of the effective assistance of counsel guaranteed by Federal and State constitutions. See, U.S. Constitution, 6th and 14th amendment.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE PETITION

Defense Counsel's errors cumulatively prejudiced the outcome of the defendant's trial.

Error #1: Defense Counsel failed to object to Expert witness testimony which vouched for the credibility and veracity of S.E.

Error #2: Defense Counsel failed to call witnesses to testify at trial violating compulsory process rights.

Error #3: Defense Counsel failed to object to the State's "pinpoint" of S.E.'s intellectual and mental capacity.

Error #4: Defense Counsel failed to argue that the State's motions in limine were unconstitutional as the defendant was denied the opportunity to properly defend himself.

Error #5: Defense Counsel failed to move to disqualify trial judge when he could not remain unbiased and took on the role of prosecutor.

CONCLUSION

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

Earnest D. Bolton

v.

Sec'y, Florida Dept. of

12b. 21-14319-F

Petition for Rehearing

Earnest D. Bolton, Petitioner, acting pro se, petitions this court for a rehearing on the dismissal of appeal for the following reasons.

1. On December 2, 2021 the petitioner received notice that his Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus had been assigned to a different judge. (See Exhibit A, pg. 1).
2. On December 3, 2021 the petitioner received notice that his Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus had been denied by the U.S. District Court, Jacksonville Division. (See Exhibit A, pg. 2).
3. On December 16, 2021 the petitioner filed a Notice of Appeal on the denial of his Petition for writ of Habeas Corpus, Case no. 3:19-cv-00041-HLA-LLL with the U.S. District Court. Mr. Bolton asserts that upon the filing of the notice he never received a response, nor did he receive the above 11th Cir. Case number. It was only after making multiple inquiries between February, and July, 2022 did the petitioner receive notice that his appeal had been dismissed for failure to pay filing and docketing fees with the District Court or alternatively file a motion to proceed in forma pauperis. This notice was filed in February, 2022.

Inevitably, the petitioner never received the above case number (See Exhibit A), and as a result he was denied the opportunity proceed any further because he had no case number to do so. Mr Bolton was denied proper due process in this regard.

It is also the petitioners assertion that he was not informed that he was in jeopardy of his appeal being dismissed as he received nothing from the U.S. District Court after December 3, 2021 until July 27, 2022 (See Exhibit A), when he received notice, only after making multiple inquiries (See Exhibit B), that his appeal had been dismissed for failure to pay fees or to proceed in forma pauperis which is precisely what he would have done as to forcing the court with several inquiries, further delaying proceedings in his own case.

Petitioner requests that the court reverse its decision to dismiss his appeal and grant him the opportunity to proceed in forma pauperis.

Respectfully Submitted,

Ernest D. Bolton J54103
