Appeal from the United States District Court
for the Northern District of California
Charles R. Breyer, District Judge, Presiding

Submitted March 20, 2024**
San Francisco, California

MEMORANDUM***

Before: FRIEDLAND, SANCHEZ, and H.A.
THOMAS, Circuit Judges.

* This disposition is not appropriate for publication and is not precedent except as provided by Ninth Circuit Rule 36-3.

** The panel unanimously concludes this case is suitable for decision without oral argument. See Fed. R. App. P. 34(a)(2).

Plaintiff-Appellant Rakesh Dhingra appeals the district court's order dismissing his case as frivolous. We have jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1291 based on the district court's entry of final judgment. We affirm.

1. In 2002, a jury convicted Rakesh Dhingra of using the internet to solicit sexual activity from a minor, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2422(b). We affirmed Dhingra's conviction two years later. United States v. Dhingra, 371 F.3d 557, 559 (9th Cir. 2004). Dhingra then launched "repetitive and baseless" efforts to overturn his conviction post-appeal. See United States v. Dhingra, 01-cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. No. 193, at 1 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 27, 2021). He has also filed multiple civil actions indirectly challenging his conviction, which the district court has dismissed as "frivolous." See Dhingra v. United States, No. C 16-03803 SBA, 2016 WL 5394117, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 27, 2016), aff'd, 2017 WL 6028628, at *1 (9th Cir. May 17, 2017); Dhingra v. Belenkiy, No. C 16-06827 SBA, 2017 WL 995366, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 15, 2017); Dhingra v. United States, No. C 16-03803 SBA, 2019 WL 248907, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 17, 2019).

2. A "district court must dismiss a [plaintiff's] in forma pauperis case 'at any time' if the court determines that the action is (i) ‘frivolous or malicious’; (ii) ‘fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted’; or (iii) ‘seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such relief.’” O’Neal v. Price, 531 F.3d 1146, 1153 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)); see also Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127 (9th Cir. 2000) (“It is . . . clear that section 1915(e) not only permits but requires a district court to dismiss an in forma pauperis complaint that fails to state a claim.”). We review the district court’s denial of leave to amend for abuse of discretion. See Yakama Indian Nation v. Washington Dep’t of Revenue, 176 F.3d 1241, 1246 (9th Cir. 1999).

The district court properly dismissed Dhingra’s present case as “frivolous” under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i). Dhingra again alleges that “the victim of his crime wasn’t a minor and was a decoy working with an FBI ‘Cyber Squad,’” violating his constitutional rights to due process. Dhingra continues to provide “no evidence to support this fiction.” Further, Dhingra presents no newly discovered or previously unavailable evidence that might warrant further review of his previously rejected constitutional claims. See Dhingra, 371 F.3d 557; Dhingra, 2016 WL 5394117, aff’d, 2017 WL 6028628; Dhingra, 2019 WL 248907. The district court did not abuse its discretion in dismissing Dhingra’s frivolous case without leave to amend.

AFFIRMED.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

Case No. 22-cv-02207-AGT

RAKESH DHINGRA,
Plaintiff,
v.

CHARLES ESPOSITO, et al.,
Defendants.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

A district judge should dismiss this case. The plaintiff is proceeding in forma pauperis and his claims are “frivolous.” 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i).

In 2002, a jury convicted Rakesh Dhingra of using the internet to solicit sexual activity from a minor, in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2422(b). The Ninth Circuit affirmed Dhingra’s conviction, see United States v. Dhingra, 371 F.3d 557, 559 (9th Cir. 2004), and Dhingra’s “repetitive” efforts to overturn his conviction post-appeal have been characterized by this Court as “baseless,” United States v. Dhingra, 01-cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. 193 at 1 (N.D. Cal.). His civil actions, in which he has indirectly challenged his conviction, have fared no better and have been dismissed as “frivolous.” Dhingra v. United States, No. 16-cv-03803-SBA, Dkt. 6 at 4 (N.D. Cal.), aff’d, 2017 WL 6028628, at *1 (9th Cir. May 17, 2017); Dhingra v. Belenkiy, 16-cv-06827-SBA (N.D. Cal.), Dkt. 13 at 5; Dhingra v. United States, 18-cv-06627-SBA (N.D. Cal.), Dkt. 21 at 5.

This civil action is materially the same as the others. Dhingra recycles a claim he made in each of the cases cited above—that the victim of his crime wasn’t a minor and was a decoy working with an FBI “Cyber Squad.” Compl. ¶ 1. The Court previously held there was “no evidence to support this fiction,” 01-cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. 179 at 4 (emphasis omitted), and that remains the case today. Dhingra also continues to insist that he hasn’t used his culture as a defense. See Compl. ¶¶ 103–07. The Court already held otherwise. See 01-cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. 160 at 9 (“Indeed, alt-hough Petitioner claims he did not use his Indian culture as a defense, he continues to invoke his background to explain his conduct.”) (emphasis in original). Finally, as for Dhingra’s allegations that FBI agents moved in next door, rented a room in his house, and placed undercover operatives in his Airbnb guest room in order to rifle through his papers and emails more than a decade after his conviction, see Compl. ¶¶ 37–45, ¶¶ 113–26, these allegations, especially in light of Dhingra’s litigation history and the remainder of his complaint, are “fanciful.” Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 33 (1992); cf. Dhingra, 01-cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. 179 at 6 (“[Dhingra] continues to misrep-resent the so-called new evidence (as well as this Court’s prior orders), and his asserted grounds for relief are rooted in fanciful notions that have no basis in fact or law.”).

Dhingra’s case should be dismissed. Any party may object to this report and recommenda-tion but must do so within fourteen days of being served with a copy of it. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(C); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b). The Clerk of the Court is directed to reassign this case to a district judge.

Case No. 22-cv-02207-AGT

RAKESH DHINGRA,
Plaintiff,
v.

CHARLES ESPOSITO, et al.,
Defendants.

ORDER ADOPTING REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION AND DISMISSING CASE

The Court has carefully reviewed the Report and Recommendation filed by Magistrate Judge Alex G. Tse in this matter, see R&R (dkt. 7), as well as the objection (dkt. 10) and letter ( dkt. 11) filed by pro se Plaintiff Rakesh Dhingra. The Court finds the R&R correct, well-reasoned, and thorough. As the R&R concludes, the lawsuit is frivolous and seeks to relitigate arguments that have been rejected repeatedly. See R&R at 1 (citing United States v. Dhingra, 01- cr-40144-SBA, Dkt. 193 at 1(N.D. Cal)) ("Dhingra's 'repetitive' efforts to overturn his conviction post-appeal have been characterized by this Court as 'baseless.'").

Accordingly, the Court DISMISSES this case.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Hello Mr. Dhingra,

I looked over your Coplogic report. It seems that you were involved in an FBI sting in 2000 that occurred on the campus of Los Medanos College and in a park in the City of Pittsburg. The Community College police took a report, which you referenced. If you have a complaint about the incident, you will have to contact the parties involved, namely the FBI and/or the Community College Police. You may also contact the District Attorney's office should you choose. The Contra Costa Sheriff's Office is not involved in this incident in any way.
