Constitutional and Statutory Provisions
Involved
23-cv-1121

1. Title 28 United States Code 1915
2. Title 28 United States Code 1915A
3. Due Process'
4. Title 28 United States Code 144
5. Title 28 United States Code 137

Statement of Case
23-cv-1121

The petitioner had filed the complaint in which a retained lawyer for a criminal case had forged the petitioner name. Of course the only way to file a complaint was by the complaint form since if had handwritten it the courts would have stated it doesn't comply with the forms they use, which the petitioner been having much problems with that court.

But the issue is does a private party have the effect of what Title 42 United States Code 1983 has for the government since it was design to filter out lawsuits that were against the government not private parties.

The other quest is "Immident Danger," if a forgery can be construed as so, since forging a name can be at any moment.

There also is a problem with the selection of judges assignment since everytime a new case is filed it gets assigned to the same judge that is prejudice. It can be three cases at once and in number order were its case one, two, three and the judge will be assigned to all three without it being divided between the district judges.

Reasons to grant petition
23-cv-1121

This is to know if such consdiered as to an "Imment Danger," and to know if a private party is covered under Title 28 United States Code 1915(g).

That for "Imment Danger" Can fall under a person name being forged.

CONCLUSION

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

AL
