Constitutional statutory provision involved

1. Title 42 United States Code 1985(3)
2. Ineffective Counsel
3. Due Process

Statement of Case
24-cv-487

This stems from a private conspiracy of a Title 42 United States Code 1985(3). If not mistake a conspiracy is two or more people. There is a violation of equal protection of rights because the class animus is three different ones sex, age, and disability and then the constitutional rights are due process and ineffective counsel.

The judge, Lawrence Joseph Vilarado sees to not understand the nature of the statute since he claims it's a "Bivens cause of action" but since a state official was involved which was clothed with new state law had made it also a Title 42 United States Code 1983 not a "Bivens Cause of action" since it is a state agent not a federal agent.

Then the Heck v Humphrey, 114 SCT 2364 that claim there was two charges in which one was thrown out because of no probable cause which the matter of the charge was Title 18 United States Code 2423(b). That is what bypasses the Heck rule since the respondents claimed the indictment on both which brings to a breach of contract or maybe even fraud. But the fact is that charge bypasses the Heck rule since the issue was about filing an appeal for bail since it has no bearing on the case only that it's just a poor excuse.

Reason to Grant Writ
23-cv-487

Since this becomes an issue under what can be under the civil rights laws a review is nessarry to determined the full extent of Title 42 United States code 1985(3).

CONCLUSION

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,
