

United States Court of Appeals for the Armed Forces
Washington, D.C.

United States,

Appellee

USCA Dkt. No. 24-0179/AR

Crim.App. No. 20180058

v.

David J.
Rudometkin,

Appellant

ORDER

On consideration of Appellant's pro se motion to extend time to file a supplement or alternatively stay the case, and a motion to withdraw as appellate defense counsel submitted by Commander Jason Roberts, U.S. Coast Guard, and Captain Colin Norton, U.S. Marine Corps, it is noted that each of Appellant's previous military and civilian appellate defense counsel have moved to withdraw from representation of Appellant before this Court, that most of those motions were based on conflicts of interest, and that Appellant has already been granted five extensions of time to file the supplement. Accordingly, it is, by the Court, this 17th day of December, 2024,

ORDERED:

That the motion to withdraw as counsel is granted;

That the pro se motion to extend time to file a supplement is construed as a sixth motion to extend time to file the supplement, and that motion is granted, but only until 31 January 2025;

That Appellant may retain civilian counsel at his own expense to assist him with filing the supplement, or he may file a pro se supplement; and

D. 81a

U.S. v. Rudometkin, Dkt. No. 24-0179/AR

That no further enlargements of time will be granted. If the supplement is not filed by 31 January 2025, this Court will proceed to review the matters previously submitted by Appellant, and the record of trial, and decide the petition for grant of review.

For the Court,

/s/ David A. Anderson
Deputy Clerk of the Court

cc: The Judge Advocate General of the Army
Appellant (Pro Se)
Appellate Government Counsel
