Eleventh Circuit Case Number: 23-10995

Appeal from the United States District Court

D.C. Docket No. 4:21-cv-10094

ON PETITION FOR WRIT OF CERTIORARI

SECOND APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE APPLICATION FOR WRIT OF CERTIORARI

(Sup. Ct. R. 13.5)

Relief Sought

Petitioner respectfully moves this Court for an order granting an extension of time to file the application for a writ of certiorari, extending the time by sixty (60) days from the date that this Amended Application is granted, or, alternatively, 30 days from the date Singer receives notice that this second application has been granted.

Prior History

On May 12, 2025, Singer submitted its original Application for Extension of Time to File Application for Writ of Certiorari. The application was sent by Certified Mail - Return Receipt Requested and Regular First-Class Mail on that date.

The “green card” returned to Singer by the post office indicates that the Court did not receive the Application until May 28, 2025.

On May 30, 2025, the Court sent a letter to Singer, indicating that the Application would not be considered because Singer had not explicitly requested a review of the Eleventh Circuit's Order of the Court dated March 4, 2025. The Application expressly mentioned a copy of the Order under review, and a copy of the order was attached as the only exhibit to the Application.

Singer respectfully suggests that the Order to be reviewed was, in fact, specifically set forth in the Application.

On June 10, 2025, Singer filed an Amended Application for an extension of time (the “Amended Application”) to cure any perceived error in the original Application.

The Amended Application was granted on June 20, 2025, but only provided Singer with a 12-day extension of time, rather than the 60-day extension Singer had sought.

Apparently, on June 24, 2025, the Court sent the order to the Eleventh Circuit, which then docketed the order on June 27, 2025.

A copy of the Court's letter to the Eleventh Circuit is attached and incorporated herein by reference for all purposes.

Singer just found out about the Court's order. By the time Singer had notice of the order, Singer had but five days to complete and file the petition for the writ of certiorari. Because of Singer's inexperience in these matters, there is not enough time to do what is required. Singer had begun work on the petition but stopped when he discovered he could request more time. Singer still needs an additional 60 days to complete the petition, appendix, and send the required number of copies to the Court.

Grounds for Relief

The grounds for this motion are:

1. The final action by the Eleventh Circuit took place on March 4, 2025, when it issued its "Order of the Court." Singer is seeking review of this Order. A copy of the disputed order is attached for the Court's reference.
2. According to Petitioner's calculation, the application for the writ of certiorari was due on June 2, 2025. The original Application was filed within a reasonable time before the due date of Singer's application for a writ of certiorari.

3. Petitioner is proceeding pro se, as Petitioner cannot afford an appellate attorney.

4. Petitioner has no legal training.

5. Petitioner needs more time to gather the facts, study the law, and adequately prepare the application for the writ of certiorari and the appendix.

6. Petitioner is a disabled veteran and has medical issues that must be dealt with.

7. Neither the Court nor the Respondent will be prejudiced or unduly inconvenienced by the short extension of time requested.

Conclusion

For the reasons stated, Petitioner requests that the time for filing the application for the writ of certiorari be extended by sixty (60) days from the date that this Amended Application is granted.

Dated: June 30, 2025.

Respectfully Submitted,
