

03-1696 EXXON MOBIL CORP. V. SAUDI BASIC INDUSTRIES CORP.

DECISION BELOW: 364 F3d 102

LOWER COURT CASE NUMBER: 02-2130

QUESTION PRESENTED:

May the Rooker-Feldman doctrine, which bars lower federal courts from conducting de facto appellate review of decisions by state courts, be expansively interpreted to additionally incorporate preclusion principles and divest federal courts of jurisdiction solely because a pending state-court proceeding presents identical issues, notwithstanding the long-established system of dual federal and state jurisdiction?

CERT. GRANTED 10/12/2004