PETITION FOR REHEARING

Pursuant to Rule 44 of this Court, Petitioner Jerry M. Brewer, hereby respectfully petitions for rehearing of this matter before a full-Member Court.

1. This case involves a 10th Amendment violation that smacks in the face of laws reserved to and for the several states by the United States Constitution. Here, the district court erred by even allowing the federal Government to file a clearly criminal insurance fraud case in a federal district court under the guise of underlying federal statutes not meant to give federal jurisdiction in insurance fraud cases.
2. Congress has never passed any federal statutes – laws, pertaining to the business of insurance, with the one exception of THE AFFORDABLE CARE ACT, aka, Obama Care, and (sic) district courts lack jurisdiction over such matters.
3. In such situations, this Court has consistently found that the federal district courts lack jurisdiction to hear such matters reserved to the several states, and as such, here, there is a substantial ground for relief not previously presented for want of jurisdiction by the government. Notwithstanding, this Court can hear federal jurisdictional challenges at any time without procedural restrictions.
4. Unless, this Court resolves this case in a precedential manner, as a matter of first impression; it will be endorsing the federal courts jurisdiction in state matters by allowing the federal Government to infringe upon the state's right to prosecute its insurance fraud cases. Denying this matter of great importance by the Court will effectively limit the grounds for relief found in the special circumstances of this unprecedented case. This Court therefore should grant rehearing to provide for a decision that will prevent the federal Government from overstepping its jurisdictional boundaries in the business of insurance.

For the foregoing reasons, the Petition For Rehearing should be granted.

Respectfully submitted.
