

IN THE
SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Terenece J. Barnett, Pro Se – PETITIONER vs.

District of Columbia Court of Appeals, et al., -- RESPONDENT(S)

PETITION FOR REHEARING FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI

This Petition for Rehearing for a Writ of Certiorari is in response to the Supreme Court's decision dated January 11, 2018 denying my Petition for Writ of Certiorari dated August 21, 2017. I am providing this document for the following reasons. It is my belief that due to the ineffective counsel, failure to challenge inadequate forensic testing, and not objecting to the harsh sentence that was imposed upon an innocent man, among other issues, my 6th Amendment was violated. It is also my belief that false information was used to show probable cause/issue indictment/issue search warrant/issue arrest warrant and later used to convict, this constituted a violation of my 5th & 14th Amendments when the trial attorney failed to confront the judge about his conversation with a juror that the judge specifically wanted to be seated as a juror (see voir dire). Also for failure to challenge the evidence that had already been tested and then 10 years later didn't mention that there was no DNA found on the same evidence that came up tainted and sparse, which should have been compared to the monthly cycle panties that the trial attorney never had examined or tested to prove that the blood in the panties were in fact that from a monthly cycle; in which I had told the trial attorney and not that of an open wound from an injury that was alleged by the prosecutor. Material facts and legal matters were overlooked; and this matter involved questions of exceptional importance.

I am Innocent of this crime, and I will continue to pray for Justice to be granted for a fair trial and not for some alternative facts that were used to convict me.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, this Court should grant the Petition for the Rehearing for a Writ of Certiorari, vacate the order denying/dismissing the Writ of Certiorari, and restore this case to its merits and grant the Petition for a Writ of Certiorari.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
