You are hereby notified that the Court has entered the following order:

No. 2017AP1704-W Bach v. Borowski L.C.#2006GN501

On September 1, 2017, Margaret Bach, a licensed attorney proceeding pro se, filed a document entitled "Petition for Supervisory Writ, Writ of Prohibition." Attorney Bach applied for a waiver of the filing fee due to indigency, which this court granted pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 814.29. Under § 814.29, this court may require the payment of, or the giving of security for, costs, fees, and service if the court determines that Attorney Bach's allegation of poverty is untrue or that she has failed to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. See § 814.29(1)(c) (requiring an indigent litigant to state a "claim, defense or appeal upon which the court may grant relief"); § 814.29(2) ("The court may later require the payment of, or the giving of security for, costs, fees and service if the court determines that the person no longer meets any of the requirements under sub. (1).") See also State ex rel. Girouard v. Circuit Court for Jackson Cty., 155 Wis. 2d 148, 159, 454 N.W.2d 792 (1990) ("[A] meritless assertion by a putative appellant will not furnish a foundation for a judicially ordered waiver of fees. The individual must be found to be indigent by the court, and the person must present a claim upon which relief can be granted.")

After considering Attorney Bach's filing, this court concludes that her petition fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, and more specifically contains baseless and objectionable allegations, including a wholly unsupported accusation that the circuit court judge and court reporter are engaged in corruption and "conspiring to alter transcripts." We conclude that Attorney Bach has abused the privilege of litigating without prepayment of fees in this matter. Therefore,

IT IS ORDERED that the "Petition for Supervisory Writ, Writ of Prohibition" is denied, ex parte; and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 814.29(2), Margaret Bach shall pay the $195.00 filing fee required under Wis. Stat. § (Rule) 809.25(2) within 30 days of the date of this order.

Clerk of Supreme Court
