Re: Johnson & Johnson v. Ingham, No. 20-1223

Dear Mr. Harris:

We represent Petitioners in this matter. We write to request under the Court's COVID-19 order that distribution of the petition and brief in opposition be delayed by seven days to May 11, 2021. We contacted counsel for Respondents regarding this request, who advise that they have no objection.

The COVID-19 pandemic presents personal and logistical challenges for Petitioners' counsel, who must balance their work commitments—including this case—with continued child-care and other responsibilities, all while still working fully remotely. Respondents' unanticipated early filing of the brief in opposition makes it difficult to add the reply brief in this case to the already significant number of briefs Petitioners' counsel has due between now and May 4, including (1) a brief in opposition in Just Energy Marketing Corp v. Hurt, No. 20-1093, due April 28; (2) an opening brief in In re Citibank August 11, 2020 Wire Transfers, No. 21-487 (2d Cir.), due April 29; and (3) a reply brief in support of certiorari in National Coalition for Men v. Selective Service System, No. 20-928, which is scheduled for distribution on May 4. In addition, two attorneys responsible for drafting the reply brief are scheduled to receive their second dose of the COVID-19 vaccine in the next seven days, and they may require time to recover before resuming work on the brief.

Thank you for your kind courtesies.

The Honorable Scott S. Harris
Clerk of the Court
