Re: Apple Inc. v. Qualcomm Incorporated, No. 21-1327

Dear Mr. Harris:

I am counsel of record for the respondent Qualcomm Incorporated (“Qualcomm”) in the above-referenced case. Pursuant to Supreme Court Rule 30.4, Qualcomm respectfully requests a 21-day extension of time within which to file its response to the petition for certiorari. The response is currently due June 9, 2022, and the extension is requested until June 30, 2022. The extension is sought in light of previously scheduled deadlines and other commitments, including an oral argument I will be presenting before the Eleventh Circuit on June 8, 2022. In addition, the extension is requested because it is anticipated that by the end of May the Solicitor General will file her brief, as invited by the Court, in the related case of Apple Inc. v. Qualcomm Incorporated, No. 21-746, in which Qualcomm is separately represented. Assuming that brief is filed within the expected time frame, additional time would be needed to review and take account of the Solicitor General’s views in coordination with Qualcomm and its counsel in the related case.

Thank you in advance for your attention to this matter, and please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Jonathan S. Franklin".

Jonathan S. Franklin
