IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

No. 25-5550

JERMAINE NELSON, PETITIONER

v.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

ON PETITION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI
TO THE UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE SECOND CIRCUIT

MEMORANDUM FOR THE UNITED STATES IN OPPOSITION

Petitioner contends (Pet. 9-11) that 18 U.S.C. 922(g)(1) violates the Second Amendment on its face and as applied to him. For the reasons set out in the government's brief opposing certiorari in French v. United States, 145 S. Ct. 2709 (2025), the contention that Section 922(g)(1) is facially unconstitutional does not warrant this Court's review. See ibid. (denying certiorari). As the government explained in French, that contention plainly lacks merit, and every court of appeals to consider the issue since United States v. Rahimi, 602 U.S. 680 (2024), has determined that the statute has at least some valid applications. See Br. in Opp. at 3-6, French, supra (No. 24-6623).

Similarly, for the reasons set out in the government's brief opposing certiorari in Vincent v. Bondi, No. 24-1155 (Aug. 11, 2025), the contention that Section 922(g)(1) violates the Second Amendment as applied to petitioner does not warrant this Court's review. Although there is some disagreement among the courts of appeals regarding whether Section 922(g)(1) is susceptible to individualized as-applied challenges, that disagreement is shallow. See Br. in Opp. at 11-14, Vincent, supra (No. 24-1155). This Court has previously denied plenary review when faced with similarly narrow disagreements among the circuits about the availability of as-applied challenges to Section 922(g)(1). See id. at 13-14. And any disagreement among the circuits may evaporate given the Department of Justice's recent reestablishment of the administrative process under 18 U.S.C. 925(c) for granting relief from federal firearms disabilities. See Br. in Opp. at 8-11, Vincent, supra (No. 24-1155).

Furthermore, Section 922(g)(1) does not raise any constitutional concerns as applied to petitioner. Petitioner possessed a firearm in this case while being arrested for accosting a woman and threatening bystanders, and he had sustained a previous felony conviction for unlawful possession of a loaded firearm. Presentence Investigation Report ¶¶ 7-13, 46; see Pet. 4. Given his criminal history, petitioner cannot show that he would prevail on an as-applied challenge in any circuit. See, e.g., United States v. White, No. 23-3013, 2025 WL 384112, at *2 (3d Cir. Feb. 4, 2025) (rejecting as-applied challenge by felon with previous conviction for, inter alia, carrying a firearm without a license), cert. denied, 145 S. Ct. 2805 (2025); United States v. Morgan, 147 F.4th 522, 528 (5th Cir. 2025) (rejecting as-applied challenge by felon with prior state felony conviction for illegal use of weapons).

The petition for a writ of certiorari should be denied.*

Respectfully submitted.
