UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

IKE JACKSON, JR.,

Defendant-Appellant.

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Middle District of Georgia
D.C. Docket No. 5:24-cr-00060-MTT-CHW-1

Before JILL PRYOR, BRANCH, and MARCUS, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:

Ike Jackson appeals his 200-month sentence of imprisonment for possession with intent to distribute 40 grams or more of fentanyl, seeking to argue that his attorney rendered ineffective assistance of counsel at his sentencing. The government, in turn, moves to dismiss Jackson's appeal pursuant to the sentence appeal waiver in his plea agreement, an issue Jackson anticipated and addresses in his brief. After thorough review, we dismiss the appeal.

We review the validity of a sentence appeal waiver de novo. United States v. Johnson, 541 F.3d 1064, 1066 (11th Cir. 2008). We also review de novo whether a defendant knowingly and voluntarily waived his right to appeal his sentence. United States v. Benitez-Zapata, 131 F.3d 1444, 1446 (11th Cir. 1997).

A sentence appeal waiver found in a plea agreement will be enforced if it was made knowingly and voluntarily. United States v. Bushert, 997 F.2d 1343, 1350 (11th Cir. 1993). To establish that a sentence appeal waiver was made knowingly and voluntarily, the government must show either that: (1) the district court specifically questioned the defendant about the waiver during the plea colloquy; or (2) the record makes clear that the defendant otherwise understood the full significance of the waiver. Id. at 1351; see also Fed. R. Crim. P. 11(b)(1)(N) (requiring that the district court inform the defendant of the terms of an appeal waiver). The touchstone for assessing whether an appeal waiver was knowing and voluntary is whether it was clearly conveyed to the defendant that he was giving up his right to appeal under most circumstances. United States v. Boyd, 975 F.3d 1185, 1192 (11th Cir. 2020).

"Plea agreements, like contracts, should be interpreted consistent with the parties' intent." United States v. Hardman, 778 F.3d 896, 900 (11th Cir. 2014). “The language of a plea agreement should be given its ordinary and natural meaning unless the parties indicate otherwise.” Id. “[A]s long as an appeal waiver is voluntarily and knowingly entered into as part of a valid plea agreement, and that agreement is accepted by the court, the waiver is enforceable” and “cannot be vitiated or altered by comments the court makes during sentencing.” United States v. Bascomb, 451 F.3d 1292, 1297 (11th Cir. 2006). Further, we’ve “never adopted a general ‘miscarriage of justice’ exception to the rule that valid appeal waivers must be enforced according to their terms.” King v. United States, 41 F.4th 1363, 1368 n.3 (11th Cir. 2022). “An appeal waiver includes the waiver of the right to appeal difficult or debatable legal issues or even blatant error.” United States v. Grinard-Henry, 399 F.3d 1294, 1296 (11th Cir. 2005). There is a strong presumption that the statements made during a plea colloquy are true. United States v. Medlock, 12 F.3d 185, 187 (11th Cir. 1994).

The Supreme Court has granted a petition for writ of certiorari to consider: (1) whether the only permissible exceptions to a sentence appeal waiver are for claims of ineffective assistance of counsel or that a sentence exceeds the statutory maximum; and (2) whether an appeal waiver applies when the sentencing court advises a defendant that he has the right to appeal and the government does not object. Hunter v. United States, 146 S. Ct. 288 (2025). However, we’ve explained that “[g]rants of certiorari do not themselves change the law, and must not be used by courts as a basis to grant relief that would otherwise be denied.” In re Bradford, 830

F.3d 1273, 1275 (11th Cir. 2016) (citation modified). “Until the Supreme Court issues a decision that actually changes the law, we are duty-bound” to apply our precedent. Gissendaner v. Comm’r, Georgia Dep’t of Corr., 779 F.3d 1275, 1284 (11th Cir. 2015).

Here, Jackson’s appeal waiver is enforceable. For starters, the record reflects that Jackson was competent to waive his right to appeal his sentence. At the change-of-plea hearing, Jackson confirmed that he had obtained a General Equivalency Diploma, could read and write, and was not under the influence of any drugs, alcohol, or medication. As for the Presentence Investigation Report’s reference to Jackson’s history of mental health and substance abuse issues, Jackson reported at the change-of-plea hearing that his mind was clear, he was not receiving any treatment for any mental illness, and he was not suffering from any serious illnesses. As we’ve noted, Jackson’s statements to the district court under oath at the hearing are entitled to a presumption of truth. Medlock, 12 F.3d at 187. This is especially true since nothing else in the hearing suggests that Jackson was incompetent to enter his plea agreement, and Jackson never argues to us that any competency issues affected his ability to knowingly and voluntarily enter into the plea.

The record also shows that Jackson knowingly and voluntarily waived the right to appeal his sentence. Bushert, 997 F.2d at 1351. At the hearing, Jackson stated that he had signed and initialed the plea agreement, had read and reviewed the agreement with his counsel, and understood the plea agreement. The appeal waiver in the agreement he signed provided that:

[Jackson] knowingly and voluntarily waives any right to appeal [his] sentence . . . [Jackson]'s sentence appeal waiver does not apply if:

(1) the Court imposes a sentence that exceeds the advisory guideline range as that range has been calculated by the Court at the time of sentencing; (2) the Court imposes a sentence that exceeds the statutory maximum; or (3) the United States appeals [Jackson]'s sentence under the authority of 18 U.S.C. § 3742(b).

The agreement further stated that Jackson “waive[d] any right to collaterally attack [his] conviction and sentence under 28 U.S.C. § 2255, or to bring any other collateral attack, except that [he] shall retain the right to bring a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel.” It also provided that the waiver did not bar him from filing a habeas corpus petition under 28 U.S.C. § 2241.

At the hearing, the district court detailed the appeal waiver provision, noting that Jackson had “give[n] up [his] right to appeal and [his] right to seek review of [his] sentence,” subject to three exceptions. The court asked if Jackson had reviewed the waiver provision with his counsel, and Jackson said that he had. The court then listed the exceptions to the waiver like this: “You can appeal if I give you a sentence longer than the guideline range I have calculated, you can appeal if I give you a sentence longer than the statutory maximum, and you can appeal if the Government files an appeal.” The court continued: “With regard to your right to seek review of your sentence, sometimes called collateral review or habeas corpus review, you give that right up except on the grounds of ineffective assistance of counsel.” Jackson affirmed that he “freely and voluntarily” agreed to “give up [his] right to appeal and [his] right to seek review of [his] sentence except as stated in the plea agreement,” and that he understood the court’s explanation and did not have any questions about giving up his right to appeal or seek review of his sentence. The district court thus expressly discussed the appeal waiver with Jackson and Jackson confirmed that he understood its terms and was freely entering his guilty plea. The waiver was made knowingly and voluntarily.

Further, the claim Jackson seeks to raise on appeal is that his trial attorney was ineffective for failing to object at sentencing when the district court imposed a sentence within the guideline range after commenting that: (1) based on Jackson’s criminal history and the circumstances of the current offense involving fentanyl, “a sentence at the top of the guideline would be warranted”; (2) based on his “actual role in the offense,” a sentence “below the bottom of the guideline range is appropriate”; and (3) the sentence would be 200 months, which the court later correctly described as “within” the guidelines. But bringing an ineffectiveness claim on direct appeal plainly is barred by the sentence appeal waiver in his plea agreement. The appeal waiver bars any appeal of his sentence, on direct appeal or collaterally, except where his sentence exceeded the advisory guideline range or the statutory maximum; the government appeals his sentence; or he raises, collaterally, a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. Jackson’s 200-month sentence does not exceed the statutory maximum of 40 years’ imprisonment, nor is it above the calculated guideline imprisonment range of 188 to 235 months, nor has the government appealed his sentence. And to the extent he seeks to raise a claim based on his counsel's ineffective performance at sentencing, the plain language of the agreement preserved this kind of claim only on collateral attack. Indeed, the plea agreement expressly says that Jackson may bring an ineffective-assistance-of-counsel claim in a collateral attack but did not include the same language for direct appeals, reflecting that the parties intended to preclude Jackson from pursuing an ineffective-assistance-of-counsel claim on direct appeal.

There are no other applicable exceptions that would allow Jackson's ineffective-assistance claim to proceed. Jackson argues that his appeal waiver should not be enforced because to do so would constitute a miscarriage of justice, but we've never recognized this kind of exception to the enforcement of valid appeal waivers. King, 41 F.4th at 1368 n.3. Additionally, while the Supreme Court has granted certiorari in a case addressing the permissible exceptions to an appeal waiver, we must apply our precedent until the Supreme Court issues a decision changing our Court's law. Gissendaner, 779 F.3d at 1275. As for Jackson's argument that a direct appeal is appropriate based on certain of the court's comments -- that a sentence below the guideline range was appropriate and that his counsel would file a notice of appeal on his behalf if he wished -- it is foreclosed by our precedent. As we've squarely held, a district court's comments at sentencing do not alter the sentence appeal waiver. Bascomb, 451 F.3d at 1297. And finally, Jackson's appeal waiver is enforceable even if the district court blatantly erred by imposing sentence within the guideline range after commenting that a sentence below the range was appropriate. Grinard-Henry, 399 F.3d at 1296.

Accordingly, we GRANT the government's motion to dismiss this appeal pursuant to the appeal waiver in Jackson's plea agreement.

DISMISSED.

MACON DIVISION

v.

IKE JACKSON,

Defendant.

CASE NO. 5:24-CR-60-MTT

PLEA AGREEMENT

The United States Attorney for the Middle District of Georgia ("United States") and Defendant IKE JACKSON enter into this plea agreement, agreeing as follows:

(1)

Defendant acknowledges that Defendant has reviewed and discussed the Indictment against Defendant in this matter with Defendant's attorney and Defendant's attorney has explained to Defendant his understanding of the United States' evidence.

(2)

Defendant understands that Defendant is not required to plead guilty, and that Defendant has the right to plead not guilty and to elect instead to be tried by a jury. Defendant understands that at a jury trial Defendant would enjoy a presumption of innocence, and that the United States would have the burden of proving Defendant's guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. Defendant understands that Defendant would be entitled to the services of an attorney at all stages of such a trial. Defendant understands that Defendant would be entitled to confront and to cross-examine the United States' witnesses, and to present witnesses and evidence in Defendant's own behalf. Defendant understands that Defendant would have the right to testify in Defendant's own behalf.

11

but that Defendant could not be compelled to do so. Defendant has discussed these rights with Defendant's attorney. Defendant knowingly and voluntarily waives Defendant's right to plead not guilty and to proceed to trial.

(3)

Being fully cognizant of Defendant's rights, and in exchange for the considerations to be made by the United States as set forth in Paragraph (4) below, Defendant agrees pursuant to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 11(c)(1)(A), as follows:

(A) Defendant is guilty and will knowingly and voluntarily enter a plea of guilty to Count One of the Indictment which charges Defendant with Possession of Fentanyl with Intent to Distribute in violation of Title 21, United States Code, Sections 841(a)(1) and 841(b)(1)(B)(vi).

(B) Defendant fully understands that Defendant's plea of guilty as set forth in Subparagraph (A), above, will subject Defendant to the following penalties on Count One:

- a maximum sentence of 40 years imprisonment;
- a minimum sentence of 5 years imprisonment;
- a maximum fine of $5,000,000.00, or both; and
- a term of supervised release of 5 year(s).

Defendant further acknowledges that the Court is required to impose a mandatory assessment of $100.00 per count.

(C) Defendant acknowledges and understands that the Court is not bound by any estimate of the probable sentencing range that Defendant may have received from Defendant's attorney, the United States, or the Probation Office. Defendant further acknowledges and agrees that Defendant will not be allowed to withdraw Defendant's plea on the ground that Defendant received an estimated guideline range from the United States, Defendant's attorney, or the Probation Office which is different from the guideline range computed by the Probation Office in the Presentence Investigation Report or different from the guideline range found by the Court to be the correct guideline range.

(D) Defendant understands fully and has discussed with Defendant's attorney that the Court will not be able to determine the appropriate guideline sentence until after a Presentence Investigation Report has been completed. Defendant understands and has discussed with Defendant's attorney that Defendant will have the opportunity to review the Presentence Investigation Report and to object to and challenge any facts reported therein. Defendant understands and has discussed with Defendant's attorney that any objections or challenges by Defendant or Defendant's attorney to the facts or recommendations presented in the Presentence Investigation Report or any disagreement with the Court's rulings on such objections or challenges will not be grounds for withdrawing the plea of guilty. Nothing in this agreement precludes the United States from providing full and accurate information to the Court and the Probation Office for use in calculating the advisory guideline range applicable to Defendant.

(E) Defendant understands and has discussed with Defendant's attorney that after the Court determines the advisory guideline range applicable to Defendant, the Court has the discretion and authority to impose a sentence that is more severe or less severe than the sentence recommended by the guidelines.

(F) Although 18 U.S.C. § 3742 authorizes defendants to appeal their sentences under certain circumstances, Defendant knowingly and voluntarily waives any right to appeal Defendant's sentence, including the amount of any restitution imposed as part of Defendant's sentence. Defendant's sentence appeal waiver does not apply if: (I) the Court imposes a sentence that exceeds the advisory guideline range as that range has been calculated by the Court at the time of sentencing; (2) the Court imposes a sentence that exceeds the statutory maximum; or (3) the United States appeals Defendant's sentence under the authority of 18 U.S.C. § 3742(b). Nothing in this agreement shall deprive the United States of its right to appeal Defendant's sentence, as authorized by 18 U.S.C. § 3742(b). If, however, the United States appeals Defendant's sentence pursuant to this statute, Defendant is released from Defendant's waiver of Defendant's right to appeal altogether.

Defendant waives any right to collaterally attack Defendant's conviction and sentence under 28 U.S.C. § 2255, or to bring any other collateral attack, except that Defendant shall retain the right to bring a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. This provision shall not bar the filing of a petition for writ of habeas corpus, as permitted by 28 U.S.C. § 2241.

Defendant understands and acknowledges that the waivers outlined herein may result in the dismissal of any appeal or collateral attack Defendant might file challenging Defendant's conviction or sentence. If Defendant files a notice of appeal or collateral attack, notwithstanding this agreement, Defendant agrees that this case shall, upon motion of the United States, be remanded to the Court to determine whether Defendant is in breach of this agreement and, if so, to permit the United States to withdraw from the plea agreement.

(G) Defendant agrees to provide complete, candid, and truthful statements to law enforcement officers regarding Defendant's involvement and the involvement of all others involved in the charges alleged in the present Indictment as well as any and all criminal violations about which Defendant has knowledge or information and that such information provided will be pursuant to and covered by this agreement. Defendant further agrees to provide complete, candid, and truthful testimony regarding such matters in any proceeding. Defendant understands that this agreement does not require Defendant to implicate any particular individual or individuals or to "make a case." Rather, this agreement requires Defendant to be truthful and to testify truthfully whenever called upon.

(H) Defendant further agrees that all evidence, except biological evidence as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 3600A, if any, obtained in this investigation and prosecution may be destroyed or returned to its rightful owner 30 days after entry of the judgment or thereafter.

(I) The United States and Defendant hereby agree that any breach of this agreement by Defendant occasioned by a failure to cooperate, by withholding information, giving of false information, perjury, or failure to testify in any judicial proceeding in connection with the individuals, matters, and transactions referred to in the Indictment, would: (a) not relieve Defendant of Defendant's plea of guilty; (b) permit the United States to reinstate and proceed with prosecution on any other charges arising from the matters referred to in this Indictment; (c) permit the United States to instigate and proceed with the prosecution of any other offenses arising from a breach of this agreement, including perjury, false declaration, false statement, and/or obstruction of justice; and (d) permit the United States to utilize against Defendant in any subsequent judicial proceeding any and all statements made by Defendant. If a legitimate issue arises as to whether or not there has been a breach of this agreement, said question shall be determined by the United States District Court for the Middle District of Georgia. The burden of establishing such a breach shall be upon the United States and shall be established by a preponderance of the evidence. The Federal Rules of Evidence shall not apply in any hearing to establish such a breach, but evidence shall be admitted and excluded at the Court's discretion.

In exchange for the consideration set forth in Paragraph (3) above, the United States agrees as follows:

(A) The United States will accept the plea of guilty by Defendant as provided in Paragraph (3)(A), above, in full satisfaction of all possible federal criminal charges, known to the United States Attorney at the time of Defendant's guilty plea, which might have been brought against Defendant solely in this district. The United States agrees to dismiss all remaining counts of the pending Indictment in exchange for Defendant's plea of guilty to Count One of the Indictment.

(B) If Defendant cooperates truthfully and completely with the United States, including being debriefed and providing truthful testimony at any proceeding resulting from or related to Defendant's cooperation, then the United States will make the extent of Defendant's cooperation known to the sentencing court. If Defendant is not completely truthful and candid in Defendant's cooperation with the United States, Defendant may be subject to prosecution for perjury, false statements, obstruction of justice, and/or any other applicable charge. If Defendant's cooperation is completed before sentencing, the United States will consider whether such cooperation qualifies as "substantial assistance" pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3553(e) and/or U.S.S.G. § 5K1.1 and warrants the filing of a motion at the time of sentencing recommending a downward departure from the applicable guideline range. If Defendant's cooperation is completed after sentencing, the United States will consider whether such cooperation qualifies as "substantial assistance" pursuant to Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 35(b) and warrants the filing of a motion for reduction of sentence. In either case, Defendant understands that the determination as to whether Defendant has provided "substantial assistance" rests solely with the United States. Any good faith efforts on the part of Defendant that do not substantially assist in the investigation or prosecution of another person who has committed a crime will not result in either a motion for downward departure or a Rule 35(b) motion. In addition, should Defendant fail to cooperate truthfully and completely with the United States, or if Defendant engages in any additional criminal conduct, Defendant shall not be entitled to consideration pursuant to this paragraph.

(C) Pursuant to U.S.S.G. § 1B1.8, the United States agrees that any self-incriminating information which was previously unknown to the United States and is provided to the United States by Defendant in connection with Defendant's cooperation and as a result of Defendant's plea agreement to cooperate will not be used in determining the applicable guideline range. Further, the United States agrees not to bring additional charges against Defendant, with the exception of charges resulting from or related to a violent felony, as defined in 18 U.S.C. § 924(e)(2)(B), based on any information provided by Defendant in connection with Defendant's cooperation, which information was not known to the United States prior to said cooperation. This does not restrict the United States' use of information previously known or independently obtained for such purposes.

(D) The United States agrees that it will file a motion requesting that Defendant's offense level be reduced by one level under U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1(b) for timely notifying the United States of Defendant's intention to enter a guilty plea, but Defendant understands that whether Defendant is entitled to any offense-level reduction under U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1 is entirely within the Court's discretion. The United States reserves the right to furnish the Court with full and accurate information and/or argue against the two-level reduction for acceptance of responsibility if Defendant engages or has engaged in conduct inconsistent with accepting responsibility, as defined in U.S.S.G. § 3E1.1 and its commentary.

Nothing herein limits the sentencing discretion of the Court. The United States and Defendant understand and agree that the Court should consider its sentence in light of the advisory

United States Sentencing Guidelines. Defendant therefore agrees that at sentencing the Court may determine any fact pertinent to Defendant's sentence by a preponderance of the evidence and the Court may consider any reliable information, including hearsay. Defendant expressly waives any claim of right to an indictment, trial by jury, and/or proof beyond a reasonable doubt on any factual determinations that pertain to the sentence to be imposed by the Court.

(7)

This agreement constitutes the entire agreement between Defendant and the United States, and no other promises or inducements have been made, directly or indirectly, by any agent of the United States, including any Assistant United States Attorney, concerning any plea to be entered in this case. In particular, Defendant acknowledges and agrees that no one has promised Defendant that the Court will impose any particular sentence or a sentence within any particular range in order to induce this plea. In addition, Defendant states that no person has, directly or indirectly, threatened, or coerced Defendant to do or refrain from doing anything in connection with any aspect of this case, including entering a plea of guilty.

Defendant understands that this agreement binds only the Office of the United States Attorney for the Middle District of Georgia, and that the agreement does not bind any other component of the United States Department of Justice, nor does it bind any state or local prosecuting authority, unless expressly stated herein.

(8)

As an aid to this Court, the United States and Defendant, by and through Defendant's attorney, enter into the following Stipulation of Fact. This stipulation is entered into in good faith with all parties understanding that the stipulation is not binding on the Court. Under U.S.S.G. § 6B1.4(d) (Policy Statement), this Court may accept this stipulation as written. The facts set forth below are intended to allow the Court to satisfy its obligation under Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure 11(b)(3) to ensure that an adequate factual basis to support the plea exists. In determining an appropriate guideline range or ultimate sentence, the Court, in its discretion, and consistent with its obligation to determine the facts relevant to sentencing, may consider other information in addition to the facts set forth here.

Subject to the above paragraph, the United States and Defendant stipulate and agree that Defendant is in fact guilty of the offense to which Defendant is pleading guilty, that the following facts are true and correct, and that the United States at trial could prove the following facts beyond a reasonable doubt:

On the evening of February 15, 2024, investigators established surveillance in the areas of 6000 Harrison Road, Macon, GA ("Bridgeview Inn and Suites"), the address provided by a confidential informant for a drug transaction to take place.

See 1/16/24
Agents observed the Jackson walk down the breezeway and knock on room 302, where the drug transaction was to be conducted in. Jackson then walked down the stairs, left the motel, and headed towards the intersection of Eisenhower Parkway and Harrison Road. Marked Bibb County Sheriff's Office units activated their lights and made contact with Jackson. During the search of the Jackson's person, deputies found 27.69 grams of crystal methamphetamine, a cellphone, and a hotel room key card.

See 1/16/24
Agents confirmed with the motel that Jackson rented room 128. A warrant was authorized and granted to search room 128 of the Bridgeview Inn and Suites. Agents entered the empty room and located a black backpack. Inside the backpack was a black handheld radio with the name "IKE" taped on it, a headphone box secured with black tape, and plastic baggies. Inside the headphones box was a clear bag containing an opened kilogram of fentanyl and a brick of fentanyl inside a vacuum sealed bag. The total amount of fentanyl seized was 1,713.7 grams.

ACCEPTANCE OF PLEA AGREEMENT

Defendant understands and has fully discussed with Defendant's attorney that this agreement shall become effective only upon the Court's acceptance of this agreement and the Court's acceptance of the plea of guilty by Defendant.

SO AGREED, this 21 day of February, 25.

APPENDIX D:

Sentencing Hearing,
United States v. Jackson, No. 5:24-CR-00060-MTT-CHW (M.D. GA. June 30, 2025),
ECF No. 52.

4 P R O C E E D I N G S

5 THE COURT: I call next Mr. Campbell -- I'm sorry,
6 Mr. Jackson.

7 For the government we have Ms. Brunette; and for 8 Mr. Jackson, Mr. Cognac.

9 I have in Mr. Jackson's case the presentence report
10 that was prepared after he entered his guilty plea. The base
11 offense level is 32; he's a career offender so that becomes 34.
12 There is a 3-level decrease for acceptance. The criminal
13 history category is VI. The guideline range is 188 to 235
14 months.

15 And I do have a sentencing memorandum Mr. Cognac has 16 prepared on behalf of Mr. Jackson. And I have reviewed that.

17 Good morning, Mr. Jackson.

18 THE DEFENDANT: Good morning, sir.

19 THE COURT: I have been talking about the presentence
20 report that was prepared after you entered your guilty plea.

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22 THE COURT: Have you received a copy -- have you
23 reviewed that report with Mr. Cognac?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

25 THE COURT: Do you have any questions about it?

1 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

2 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Cognac, I will hear from
3 you regarding a reasonable sentence.

4 MR. COGNAC: Your Honor, I am briefly going to go
5 over the arguments I made in my sentencing memorandum -- I know
6 the Court has reviewed that -- specifically, for a request for 7 a variance. His guidelines are as stated. You know, his 8 involvement in this was driven by his own addiction, and he was 9 doing this to service his own addiction.

10 He does qualify as a career offender under current 11 case law.

12 It is interesting to note in this particular area of 13 law, I will not say that it's become devoid of reason and 14 logic, but it has certainly begun to strain reason and logic.
15 His 2017 conviction in Paragraph 57, the Aggravated Assault
16 with a Deadly Weapon and the Terroristic Threats, both of those 17 qualify as a crime of violence. U.S. v Hicks is the Eleventh
18 Circuit case for the aggravated assault with a deadly weapon,
19 and then U.S. v Najee Oliver, that's a 2020 case, for the 20 terroristic threats to commit a crime of violence. And that's 21 the only permutation of terroristic threats under Georgia law
22 that would qualify.

23 And his 2011 conviction, he had a False Imprisonment,
24 which would not qualify as a crime of violence under U.S. v
25 Chitwood. It only ever would qualify under the old residual

1 clause, and that was removed from the sentencing guidelines in 2 2016.

3 The misdemeanor conviction would not qualify because 4 under 4B1.2(a) the offense would have to be punishable by 5 imprisonment for a term exceeding one year.

6 So, really what qualifies for that second one is the 7 Terroristic Threats to Commit a Crime of Violence. And the 8 Najee Oliver decision in 2020--that's at 946 F.3d 1276--is 9 interesting because under -- the Eleventh Circuit in January of 10 2020 issued an opinion stating that Georgia's terroristic
11 threat statute was indivisible and overbroad and therefore did
12 not qualify as a predicate offense as a crime of violence under 13 the Armed Career Criminal Act, which would be analogous to this 14 case.

15 Subsequently, six months later, without any change of 16 facts, without any change of circumstances, the Eleventh
17 Circuit vacated Oliver II and issued Oliver III, ruling in fact
18 the Georgia terroristic threat statute is divisible and that a
19 threat to commit a crime of violence is a qualifying predicate
20 offense under the Armed Career Criminal offense. So, if he 21 would have been sentenced after January but before June, he 22 would in fact not qualify as a career offender.

23 And there are other cases that seem to defy logic as 24 to what qualifies as a crime of violence. For instance,
25 Attempted Carjacking does not qualify as a crime of violence.

1 Hobbs Act Extortion does not qualify as a crime of violence.
2 Attempt to Commit Hobbs Act Robbery or Conspiracy to Commit
3 Hobbs Act Robbery do not qualify as a crime of violence.
4 Hostage Taking, Involuntary Manslaughter, Kidnapping, and 5 Murder For Hire do not qualify as a crime of violence.

6 So, this area of law, it seems to be so constrained 7 that -- whether it applies or doesn't apply, it's so -- the 8 vagaries of it are so difficult for an individual to understand
9 that their prior history amounts to career offender that it's 10 just -- in my mind I think the Court should vary downward from 11 that career offender guideline because this area of law is 12 really straining reason and logic at this point.

13 Secondly, Mr. Jackson, because he qualifies as a 14 career offender, does not -- or is not allowed a reduction for 15 role in the offense. And that's U.S. v Jeter, 329 F.3d, 1229.
16 That's a 2003 decision.

17 His actions in all of this were that of a courier.
18 The undercover agent was talking with someone in Mexico who 19 arranged this deal, and my client was to deliver what the 20 arrangements were. The undercover agent at the time was at the 21 hotel where this took place, was speaking with this person who 22 they believed was in Mexico, who had arranged all this, had 23 negotiated all of this.

24 My client, he didn't fully understand the scope.
25 Again, he was just doing what he was instructed to do. He was

1 addicted to drugs and trying to get a little money or a little
2 bit of drugs to feed his addiction. He didn't plan or organize
3 the activity. He didn't exercise decision-making authority.
4 His role was that of a courier. And though he does not qualify
5 because he's career offender, we think the facts would have 6 supported a reduction for role in the offense.

7 THE COURT: Let me ask you this. How is it that --
8 this doesn't, from what I see, sound quite like the typical 9 courier situation. I mean, he's -- his contact is with the 10 actual source of supply -- in Mexico?

11 MR. COGNAC: The undercover was contacting a source
12 of supply in Mexico. My understanding from my client was he 13 was not in direct contact with that person. That was coming 14 through a third-party intermediary on where to go and what to 15 do and what to deliver.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 MR. COGNAC: I have -- I went on the United States
18 Sentencing Commission and they have a "Quick Facts for Career
19 Offender". I have given a copy of this to the government and I
20 will provide a copy to the Court. And there's a lot of 21 interesting information in there, but the bottom line is across 22 the country -- and this is for 2023 -- the average sentence in 23 months in 2023 was 154 months; in 2019, it was 152 months for 24 all career offenders across the country.

25 You know, my client has been trying to deal with his

1 drug addiction for a long time, and he has been accepted into
2 an in-house treatment program here in Macon. And I have a
3 letter. But, obviously, he's going to have to serve a
4 significant period of time before he can do that. But he is 5 actively trying to deal with his addiction.

6 He is also trying to just improve his condition while 7 he's in custody. There's a copy of a transcript of the 8 numerous courses he's taken, online courses he's taken while 9 he's been in custody in Butts County. He is just trying to 10 improve his circumstance.

11 So, there is one other matter if we approach, Your 12 Honor, I would like to address the Court. And the government
13 has agreed to this. Just briefly, Your Honor.

14 (Discussion was held at the bench, out of the hearing
15 of the general public at 11:18 a.m.):

16 MR. COGNAC: So, my client had agreed to cooperate --
17 he was actually sent letters, one, to cooperate from the time
18 he was arrested before he even was indicted in this case. We 19 met with the government, he gave a proffer, he gave 20 information, which I understand was truthful, but will not be 21 resulting in a 5K motion. He is concerned for his safety if 22 something were to get out and the other people in the jail find 23 out that he attempted to cooperate. And although he does not 24 qualify for a 5K, he did provide information that was truthful.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MS. BRUNETTE: Do you want me to tell them now while
2 we're here?

3 THE COURT: Yes.

4 MS. BRUNETTE: It is true that since he was 5 incarcerated and he found out about this indictment, he has 6 been more than willing to talk to the government. He has
7 called the FBI numerous times, and we had to tell him to stop
8 and wait for his attorney. So, I agree with the defense that 9 he wanted to cooperate from the get-go.

10 During the proffer, the information that was 11 provided -- while some of it I know for a fact was truthful, we 12 couldn't confirm all of the information. The information that 13 was provided didn't provide any substantial assistance, which 14 is why he didn't receive a 5K, because he was on probation, 15 pursuant to individuals the government has already charged had 16 already had change of pleas and were already facing sentencing
17 on, as well as information about John houses that we have 18 already busted five or six times. So I will agree with the 19 defense that he did provide or attempt to provide information;
20 however, the ones that I could confirm didn't relate to the 21 substantial assistance in any way for the government in the 22 little bit that I was looking for me to know.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Thanks.

24 (Proceedings resumed on the record in open court at 25 11:20 a.m.:)

1 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else, Mr. Cognac?

2 MR. COGNAC: Again, Your Honor, taking into
3 consideration all the factors of 3553(a), we believe that a
4 sentence of 120 months is reasonable under the circumstances.

5 We would also request that he be given credit for 6 time served. The offense charged is the same one he was 7 arrested on in the State on February 15th of 2024. He was 8 writted into the federal custody in December 19th of 2024, but 9 we would, because of his same offense, request that he be given
10 credit back to February of 2024.

11 We would request a recommendation to the Residential 12 Drug and Alcohol Program and to a facility as close to Macon as 13 possible. My client would like to address the Court.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Jackson? Yes, sir.

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

16 THE COURT: We'll hear from you.

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

18 THE COURT: Would you like to say anything, sir?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir. I, um, I want to -- I want
20 y'all to forgive me for my actions and stuff, and I apologize,
21 sir.

22 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

23 Ms. Brunette?

24 MS. BRUNETTE: The government believes that the 25 guideline range is more than fair given the nature of this

1 charge. When you look at Mr. Jackson's history, what you see
2 is the only time he has not been in trouble was when he -- for 3 an extended period of time was when he was incarcerated.
4 Almost every time after he gets out of an incarceration, within 5 one to two years he's picking up more crimes.

6 And since eighteen years old to now, what we are
7 seeing is an increase in his behavior from Simple Battery
8 charged as a Family Violence to increasing to Terroristic
9 Threats, False Imprisonment, and then Aggravated Assault, and 10 now drug trafficking large amounts of fentanyl.

11 Defense highlights that terroristic threats should or 12 should not be considered for a violent offense, and he keeps
13 referencing Armed Career Criminal. Armed Career Criminal Act
14 is different than a career offender. He isn't charged as an 15 armed career criminal. He's gotten an enhancement under the 16 Career Offender Act, and he got the Career Offender Act because 17 of his repeat offenses and his history of serious violent
18 felonies that continue to increase over time.

19 There is a difference between what qualifies as a
20 violent offense under Career Offender and Armed Career
21 Criminal. And the reason for that is Armed Career Criminal
22 imposes a mandatory minimum of 15 years; Career Offender
23 doesn't do that. It increases the -- and leads to enhanced 24 sentencing range, but it doesn't give a mandatory minimum. And 25 so to argue that counts shouldn't be considered as a violent

1 offense I think is misrepresenting what is being alleged in the 2 PSR.

3 Mr. Jackson, I do believe, was a courier. I don't 4 think that there is any dispute that he was acting at the 5 behest of somebody else. But that doesn't change the fact that 6 he willingly chose to engage in behavior with individuals while
7 on probation, and he was serving time on probation violations
8 because of -- he got revoked because of this, which is why he 9 was writted.

10 And he was on probation for extremely serious and 11 violent crimes. So, to get out and be on probation, to 12 immediately go out and start engaging with those same
13 individual--where, as defense said, he was feeding his own
14 habit--there has been no show by him to change his behavior or 15 remove himself from a path that's going to continue criminal
16 conduct. And for that reason I do think that the guideline
17 range is appropriate. I think the Career Offender has been 18 properly applied, and I think a low- to mid-range of guidelines
19 is appropriate in this matter.

20 THE COURT: Thank you, Ms. Brunette.

21 Mr. Jackson, I have considered the presentence report
22 that was prepared after you entered your guilty plea. I accept 23 the Plea Agreement you have with the government, and you are 24 adjudicated guilty of Count One of the Indictment.

25 As we have discussed, your guideline range is 188 to

1 235 months based on a career offender adjusted offense level of
2 31 and a criminal history category of VI.

3 In imposing the sentence, I have considered the 4 advisory sentencing range and the sentencing factors found at 5 18 U.S.C. Section 3553(a), and I have made an individualized
6 assessment of the facts of your case.

7 There is one mitigating factor that I see, or at 8 least one that I attach particular significance to, as I always 9 have done, and that is the fact that it is clear you were 10 operating as a courier. Otherwise, given your criminal history
11 and the circumstances of this offense, particularly the drugs
12 involved--fentanyl--a sentence at the top of the guideline
13 would be warranted.

14 However, taking into account your actual role in the 15 offense, I believe a sentence below the bottom of the guideline
16 range is appropriate. I commit you to the Bureau of Prisons
17 for a period of 200 months, and that sentence will run
18 consecutively to any term of imprisonment that may be imposed
19 in Bibb County Superior Court Case Number 17-CR-75142.

20 I will recommend to the Bureau of Prisons that you
21 participate in the RDAP Program.

22 I will not make a recommendation as to the location
23 of your incarceration, particularly given your criminal history
24 and the nature of this offense.

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

1 THE COURT: The Bureau of Prisons is in a much better
2 position to make that determination.

3 Now, Mr. Cognac, what was the date of State custody?

4 MR. COGNAC: February 15th of 2024, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: "15th"?

6 MR. COGNAC: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: And that was for this offense?

8 MR. COGNAC: Yes, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: I do believe on the facts I have it would 10 be appropriate that your sentence should run from 11 February 15th, 2024.

12 Because the sentence is within an advisory guideline
13 range greater than 24 months, I am required to state the reason
14 for the sentence. I believe the sentence at the level I have 15 decided on adequately reflects the defendant's criminal
16 history, the seriousness of the offense, and it affords
17 adequate deterrence to future criminal conduct.

18 I impose a mandatory assessment in the amount of 19 $100. I waive the imposition of a fine and any alternative 20 sanction based on your financial condition. Any financial 21 penalties shall be paid in accordance with the Court's Standing
22 Order 2017-2.

23 Your term of imprisonment will be followed by a
24 period of supervised release of five years. That shall include
25 the mandatory, standard, and special conditions as noted in the

1 presentence report and the Court's Standing Order 2017-2.

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: In your Plea Agreement you knowingly and
4 voluntarily waived your right to appeal with some exceptions.
5 Should you decide to appeal, Mr. Cognac will continue to 6 represent you and he will file a notice of appeal or a waiver
7 of appeal on your behalf.

8 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: Now that the findings of the Court have 10 been made and sentence imposed, are there any objections to the 11 sentence as to the findings of fact and conclusions of law,
12 Mr. Cognac?

13 MR. COGNAC: No, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Ms. Brunette?

15 MS. BRUNETTE: No, Your Honor.
