Fourth District Court of Appeal
4D2024-1153 June 12, 2026

IV. APPELLANT WAS DEPRIVED OF HIS RIGHT TO A TWELVE-MEMBER JURY.

Appellant recognizes that Florida allows a jury of six in non-capital cases. Art. I, § 22, Fla. Const.; § 913.10, Fla. Stat. The Supreme Court held Florida's six-member jury system does not violate the Sixth Amendment as applied to the states by the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment in Williams v. Florida, 399 U.S. 78 (1970). He submits, however, that Williams was incorrectly decided and is contrary to the understanding of the Sixth Amendment at the time of the Founding. See Cunningham v. State, 144 S. Ct. 1287–88 (2024) (Gorsuch, J., dissenting from denial of certiorari). Accordingly, section 913.10, which authorizes six-member juries in non-capital criminal cases, is facially unconstitutional.

Appellant also recognizes that this Court has rejected similar claims. See, e.g., Guzman v. State, 350 So. 3d 72 (Fla. 4th DCA 2022), rev. denied SC2022–1597 (Fla. June 6, 2023), cert. denied No. 23–5173 (U.S. May 28, 2024). Nonetheless, he maintains that the correct view is set out in Justice Gorsuch's dissent in Cunningham.

The error is fundamental. Waiver of the constitutional right of trial by the proper number of jurors must be made personally by the defendant. See Blair v. State, 698 So. 2d 1210, 1217 (Fla. 1997) (finding valid defendant's agreement to verdict by five-member jury valid when made "in a colloquy at issue here, including a personal on-the-record waiver," and sufficient to pass muster under the federal and state constitutions," and his decision was made "toward the end of his trial, after having ample time to analyze the jury and assess the prosecution's case against him. He affirmatively chose to proceed with a reduced jury as opposed to a continuance or starting with another jury.") and Wallace v. State, 722 So. 2d 913 (Fla. 2d DCA 1998) (reversing on grounds of fundamental error where defendant was tried by five-member jury and judge did not inform the defendant of his right to six-person jury).

In this regard, Appellant recognizes that this Court wrote in Albritton v. State, 360 So. 3d 1145 (Fla. 4th DCA 2023):

The defendant did not raise this argument in the trial court. Therefore, the defendant did not preserve this argument. See Harrell v. State, 894 So. 2d 935, 940 (Fla. 2005) (proper preservation requires a litigant to make a timely, contemporaneous objection to place the trial court on notice that error may have been committed and provide the trial court with an opportunity to correct the error at an early stage of the proceedings).

Id. at 1147.

Appellant respectfully submits that this statement in Albritton is flawed.

First, it is contrary to Blair and Wallace. Under those cases, the waiver of a constitutionally-required number of jurors must be made by the defendant personally after being informed of the right being relinquished.

Second, the Harrell case cited in Albritton involved a run-of-the-mill pleading issue. It did not involve the denial of a constitutional right.

Third, the Sixth Amendment jury right is tightly bound with the Due Process Clause — see Erlinger v. United States, 602 U.S. 821, 831 (2024), and issues of due process rights and other issues of the facial constitutionality of a statute may be raised as fundamental error. See, e.g., Edenfield v. State, 379 So. 3d 5, 7 n.1 (Fla. 1st DCA 2023) (conviction based on facially invalid statute is fundamental error); State v. Johnson, 616 So. 2d 1, 3–4 (Fla. 1993) (holding a defendant may raise the constitutionality of a sentencing statute for the first time on appeal); Mincey v. State, 889 So. 2d 211, 212 (Fla. 4th DCA 2004) (same); Chang v. State, 50 Fla. Law Weekly D1073, D1079 (Fla. 2d DCA May 14, 2025) (“Consideration of improper sentencing factors constitutes a due process violation that results in fundamental error.”); Reed (erroneous jury instruction on contested element constitutes fundamental error); Santiago-Gonzalez v. State, 301 So. 3d 157, 175 (Fla. 2020) (fundamental error may apply where there has been “a denial of due process”); Wallace.

In the present case, fundamental error occurred and the convictions and sentences should be reversed.
