

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS
SEVENTH CIRCUIT

25: 1289

Timothy Mackall,

Appellant,

v.

2:24-CV-296-MPB-MG

Katherine Sweeney Bell, et al.,

Appellee.

Motion for Time Extension

The Petitioner, Timothy Mackall, and moves the Court for his motion to extend time for filing Petition for Writ of Certiorari, pursuant to S.C.R. 30(2), in the following words:

1. Petitioner intends to seek certiorari in the underlying cause, presenting two (2) questions, each of which are presently divided amongst the Circuit Courts:

- I. Is Heck a waivable defense, and is it rightly raised ex mero motu by a district court on §1915 screening or otherwise?

- II. Does Heck apply (regardless of the relief sought) to the challenge of a civil procedural “forms” provision that imposed no custody upon the suitor so habeas relief is unavailable?

2. The instant petition is due on or about 21 July 2026.

3. The case is unusual in that three (3) courts and cause numbers are involved, each of the latter relating to the former with the initial case claiming to be non-punitive, while the derivative proceedings are criminal, resulting in a lower court Heck bar.
4. Petitioner seeks invalidation of a state provision that mandates a judicial branch administrative agency to “develop and adopt” invariant, fill-in-the-blank, injunctive relief forms upon which a judgment (that does not impose detention) issues; the lower courts have yet been unable to unravel the “form” from the judgment.
5. Worse, the three (3) state court cases each remain in fieri, and none of which has jurisdiction of the offense.
6. Petitioner seeks an extension because each of the State court cases are undergoing another round of direct appeal, which is interfering with the instant petition.
7. Accordingly, the Petitioner respectfully requests the Court grant an extension of sixty (60) days to file the instant Petition.
8. Petitioner risks with every communication that extends beyond the prison walls, retrospective punishment for violating ad infinitum “no contact” condition of two sentencing court’s sentences.

Respectfully submitted.

2 July 2026.

Petitioner, Timothy W. Mackall.
