19-123 FULTON V. PHILADELPHIA, PA

DECISION BELOW: 922 F.3d 140

LOWER COURT CASE NUMBER: 18-2574

QUESTION PRESENTED:

The City of Philadelphia chose to exclude a religious agency from the City's foster care system unless the agency agreed to act and speak in a manner inconsistent with its sincere religious beliefs about marriage. The Third Circuit upheld that action under Employment Division v. Smith.

The questions presented are:

- 1. Whether free exercise plaintiffs can only succeed by proving a particular type of discrimination claim-namely that the government would allow the same conduct by someone who held different religious views-as two circuits have held, or whether courts must consider other evidence that a law is not neutral and generally applicable, as six circuits have held?
 - 2. Whether Employment Division v. Smith should be revisited?
- 3. Whether a government violates the First Amendment by conditioning a religious agency's ability to participate in the foster care system on taking actions and making statements that directly contradict the agency's religious beliefs?
