ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 21A272. Donald J. Trump, former President of the United States, Applicant v. Bennie G. Thompson, in His Official Capacity as Chairman of the United States House Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol, et al. On application for stay of mandate and injunction pending review. Application for stay of mandate and injunction pending review presented to The Chief Justice and by him referred to the Court denied. The questions whether and in what circumstances a former President may obtain a court order preventing disclosure of privileged records from his tenure in office, in the face of a determination by the incumbent President to waive the privilege, are unprecedented and raise serious and substantial concerns. The Court of Appeals, however, had no occasion to decide these questions because it analyzed and rejected President Trump’s privilege claims “under any of the tests [he] advocated,” Trump v. Thompson, 20 F. 4th 10, 33 (CADDC 2021), without regard to his status as a former President, id., at 40–46. Because the Court of Appeals concluded that President Trump's claims would have failed even if he were the incumbent, his status as a former President necessarily made no difference to the court's decision. Id., at 33 (noting no "need [to] conclusively resolve whether and to what extent a court," at a former President's behest, may "second guess the sitting President's" decision to release privileged documents); see also id., at 17, n. 2. Any discussion of the Court of Appeals concerning President Trump's status as a former President must therefore be regarded as nonbinding dicta. Justice Thomas would grant the application. Statement of Justice Kavanaugh respecting denial of application.

OPINION

No. 19–1401. April Hughes, et al., Petitioners v. Northwestern University, et al. On writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. Judgment vacated, and case remanded to the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit for further proceedings consistent with the opinion of the Court. Opinion by Justice Sotomayor. Justice Barrett took no part in the consideration or decision of this case.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 21A360. Donald Anthony Grant, et al., Applicants v. Scott Crow, Director, Oklahoma Department of Corrections, et al. Application for stay of execution of sentence of death presented to Justice Kavanaugh and by him referred to the Court denied.

Justice Gorsuch took no part in the consideration or decision of this application.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Thomas, Justice Breyer, Justice Alito, Justice Sotomayor, Justice Kagan, Justice Gorsuch, Justice Kavanaugh, and Justice Barrett.

ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 21A372. John Q. Hamm, Commissioner, Alabama Department of Corrections, et al., Applicants v. Matthew Reeves. Application to vacate injunction presented to Justice Thomas and by him referred to the Court granted. The January 7, 2022 order of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Alabama is vacated.

Justice Barrett would deny the application.

Justice Kagan, with whom Justice Breyer and Justice Sotomayor join, dissenting.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Thomas, Justice Breyer, Justice Alito, Justice Sotomayor, Justice Kagan, Justice Gorsuch, Justice Kavanaugh, and Justice Barrett.

ORDERS IN PENDING CASES

No. 21A375 (21-1086). John H. Merrill, Alabama Secretary of State, et al., Applicants v. Evan Milligan, et al.; and

No. 21A376 (21-1087). John H. Merrill, Alabama Secretary of State, et al., Applicants v. Marcus Caster, et al. The application for a stay or injunctive relief presented to Justice Thomas and by him referred to the Court in No. 21A375 is treated as a jurisdictional statement, and probable jurisdiction is noted. The application for a stay or injunctive relief presented to Justice Thomas and by him referred to the Court in No. 21A376 is treated as a petition for writ of certiorari before judgment. Respondents in No. 21A376 do not oppose treating the application as a petition for a writ of certiorari before judgment and do not oppose granting the petition (although they do oppose granting a stay). With that fact taken into account, the petition is granted. The district court's January 24, 2022 preliminary injunctions in No. 2:21-cv-1530 and No. 2:21-cv-1536 are stayed pending further order of the Court.

Justice Kavanaugh, with whom Justice Alito joins, concurring in grant of applications for stays.

The Chief Justice, dissenting from grant of applications for stays.

Justice Kagan, with whom Justice Breyer and Justice Sotomayor join, dissenting from grant of applications for stays.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Thomas, Justice Breyer, Justice Alito, Justice Sotomayor, Justice Kagan, Justice Gorsuch, Justice Kavanaugh, and Justice Barrett.

No. 21–5261. Shakeel Kahn, Petitioner v. United States. Motion of petitioners for divided argument granted, and the time is divided as follows: 15 minutes for petitioner in No. 20–1410 and 15 minutes for petitioner in No. 21–5261.

No. 20–1641. Marietta Memorial Hospital Employee Health Benefit Plan, et al., Petitioners v. Davita Inc., et al. Motion of the Solicitor General for leave to participate in oral argument as amicus curiae, for divided argument, and for enlargement of time for oral argument granted.

CERTIORARI GRANTED

No. 21–954. Joseph R. Biden, Jr., President of the United States, et al., Petitioners v. Texas, et al. Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit granted. The case will be set for argument in the second week of the April 2022 argument session. Petitioners’ brief on the merits is to be filed on or before Monday, March 14, 2022. Respondents’ brief on the merits is to be filed on or before Thursday, April 7, 2022. The reply brief is to be filed with the Clerk and served upon opposing counsel on or before 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 20, 2022.

ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 21A217. John Doe, et al., Applicants v. San Diego Unified School District, et al. Application for injunctive relief presented to Justice

Kagan and by her referred to the Court denied in light of changed circumstances. Because respondents have delayed implementation of the challenged policy, and because they have not settled on the form any policy will now take, emergency relief is not warranted at this time. Applicants' alternative request for a writ of certiorari before judgment and a stay pending resolution is denied for the same reason. The Court's denial is without prejudice to applicants seeking a new injunction if circumstances warrant.

SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

Present: Chief Justice Roberts, Justice Thomas, Justice Breyer, Justice Alito, Justice Sotomayor, Justice Kagan, Justice Gorsuch, Justice Kavanaugh, and Justice Barrett.

The Chief Justice said:

“Today’s orders of the Court have been duly entered and certified, and filed with the Clerk.”

Schauf for the respondent, and by Mr. Deputy Solicitor General Edwin S. Kneedler for the United States as amicus curiae, by special leave of the Court, in support of the respondent.

The Chief Justice said:

“Mr. Kneedler, I note for the record that this is the 150th case in which you have presented oral argument before the Court. And on behalf of the Court, I thank you for your skilled advocacy over the years.

“As you may have heard, Justice Breyer has announced his retirement from the Court, effective when we rise for the summer recess. That means that the oral argument we have just concluded is the last the Court will hear with Justice Breyer on the Bench.

“For 28 years this has been his arena for remarks profound and moving, questions challenging and insightful, and hypotheticals downright silly. This sitting alone has brought us radioactive muskrats and John the Tiger Man.

“At the appropriate time, we will in accordance with tradition and practice read and enter into the record an exchange of letters between the Court and Justice Breyer marking his retirement.

“For now, we leave the Courtroom with deep appreciation for the privilege of sharing this Bench with him.”

The Chief Justice said:

“The Court is in Special Session this afternoon to receive the resolutions of the Bar of the Supreme Court in tribute to Justice John Paul Stevens. The Court recognizes the Solicitor General.”

The Solicitor General said:

“Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court:

“At a meeting today of the Bar of this Court, resolutions memorializing our deep respect and affection for Justice John Paul Stevens were adopted unanimously.

“Today, the Bar of this Court gathers to pay tribute to Justice Stevens, a model of integrity, independence, and intellectual honesty, who served the nation for 35 years as an Associate Justice of this Court.

“Justice Stevens was a lawyer of the highest quality and a human being of the highest character. He was gifted with an agile and curious mind, and he used it well, writing more than 1,000 Supreme Court opinions, three books, and countless articles. He was a patriot with a profound infectious sense of optimism. Yet, his eyes stayed clear, and his pragmatism never waned. Independent to the core and thoroughly decent, Justice Stevens lived a life dedicated to the rule of law and to equal justice under it.

“John Paul Stevens was born in 1920 in Chicago’s Hyde Park neighborhood. For college, he enrolled at the University of Chicago to study English literature. He graduated Phi Beta Kappa with the university’s highest honors.

“Justice Stevens served as a Naval officer during World War II. He spent much of the war stationed at Pearl Harbor, working as an intelligence officer breaking Japanese codes. He was awarded the Bronze Star for his service.

“After the war, Justice Stevens enrolled in Northwestern University School of Law. Northwestern’s emphasis on facts, context, and procedure, rather than legal rules alone, had a lasting effect on his thinking. He often quoted his professor’s advice: ‘Beware of glittering generalities.’ Justice Stevens became Co-Editor-in-Chief of Northwestern’s Law Review and graduated first in his class with the highest grades to date in the school’s history. His brilliant record earned him a Supreme Court clerkship with Justice Wiley Rutledge during the 1947 Term.

“Following his clerkship, Justice Stevens returned to Chicago and soon distinguished himself as a leading antitrust litigator. He argued a case before this Court and taught antitrust law at both Northwestern and the University of Chicago.

“Public service formed a cornerstone of his years practicing law. He served as associate counsel to a House Judiciary subcommittee studying monopoly power. He also served as counsel to a special commission convened to investigate charges of corruption leveled at the Illinois Supreme Court. And he generously accepted pro bono appointments, including a case where he persuaded the Illinois Supreme Court to reverse a conviction procured by beating a defendant until he confessed. That and other experiences influenced his insistence that criminal defendants receive full and fair trials and appeals.

“In 1970, President Nixon nominated Justice Stevens to the Seventh Circuit, where he served for the next five years. In 1975, President Ford nominated him to this Court. Justice Stevens was confirmed by a vote of 98 to zero just 19 days after his nomination.

“President Ford chose Justice Stevens for his integrity and his excellence. Plain-spoken and direct, Justice Stevens avoided one-size-fits-all solutions to complex legal problems. He instead grounded his approach in the facts, in our constitutional tradition, and in careful consideration of precedent, context, and common sense.

“His commitment to the rule of law was second to none, and for him, that meant the conscientious exercise of independent judgment. Indeed, over more than three decades on the Court, Justice Stevens fearlessly exercised independent judgment across myriad areas of the law, too many to recount here. For example, early in his tenure on the Court, he declared his independence from the orthodoxy of different tiers of scrutiny under the Equal Protection Clause, writing that the clause does not make some groups of citizens more equal than others.

“His independence wasn’t limited to constitutional law. In the realm of statutory interpretation, he rejected what he called a purely literal approach and refused to wear, in his words, ‘thick grammarian spectacles.’ He didn’t ignore the words of statutes. Many of his opinions engaged in close analysis of the specific statutory terms and structure, but he also sought guidance from context, legislative history, and the purpose behind the legislation. He stood by that approach to the end, defending attention to legislative history against textualist critics even after he retired from the Court.

“Justice Stevens viewed the courts as a refuge for the powerless. His unwavering commitment to procedural regularity took center stage when he authored the Court’s opinion holding that the federal habeas statute applies to detainees held in Guantánamo Bay after 9/11. That opinion vindicated the core insight of Justice Rutledge’s dissenting opinion from 56 years earlier in Ahrens v. Clark, an opinion decided during Justice Stevens’ tenure as a law clerk.

“Decency, independence, and humble brilliance ran through Justice Stevens’ work. He was kind, gracious, quick to smile, and unfailingly polite. At oral argument, he usually prefaced his questions with a disarming, ‘May I ask you this?’ His clerks adored him, describing him as the best boss they could ever hope to have.

“To prepare for oral argument, he didn’t ask his clerks for bench memos. Instead, after he read all the papers, he would stroll into the clerks’ office and settle into a well-worn armchair. He would talk through cases there, aided by his near-perfect recall of earlier precedents.

“And when he had an opinion to write, he always prepared the first draft himself. Many of these drafts were separate opinions. Indeed, he wrote more dissents than any other Justice in this Court’s history and more concurring opinions too. With his fearless independence, he was untroubled by being one against eight, although he wished his colleagues would rethink their votes.

“Most of his dissents remain dissents, enduring markers of how Justice Stevens believed we could achieve a more just society. But they sometimes paved the way for future change. Justice Stevens dissented in Bowers v. Hardwick, writing that individual decisions about intimate relationships are a form of liberty protected by the Due Process Clause.

“Seventeen years later, Justice Stevens assigned Justice Kennedy to write the Court’s opinion in Lawrence v. Texas, overruling Bowers. The opinion stated: ‘Justice Stevens’ analysis in our view should have been controlling in Bowers and should control here.’

“Justice Stevens dedicated himself to a lifetime of learning. Intellectual curiosity and openness were, in his view, essential virtues of any good judge. Through it all, he remained true to his own incremental and nonideological vision of judging. On the 30th anniversary of his appointment, President Ford put it just right, saying: ‘He has served his nation well, at all times carrying out his judicial duties with dignity, intellect, and without partisan political concern. Justice Stevens has made me and our nation and our fellow citizens proud.’

“Gathered here together, looking back at his extraordinary life, the members of the Bar of this Court express our great admiration and respect for Justice John Paul Stevens, our deep sense of loss upon his death, our appreciation for his contribution to the law, to the Court, and to the nation, and our gratitude for an example of a life well spent.

“On behalf of the Bar of the Supreme Court, it is my privilege to present to the Court the resolutions adopted today so that the Attorney General may move their inscription on the Court’s permanent record.”

The Chief Justice said:

“Thank you, General Prelogar. I recognize the Attorney General of the United States.”

The Attorney General said:

“Mr. Chief Justice, and may it please the Court:

“Actually, I do not think that traditional prayer is necessary today because I am pretty sure that the request I will be making at the end of these remarks will please the Court.

“The Bar of the Court met today to honor the memory of John Paul Stevens, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court from 1975 to 2010. Justice Stevens was humble, curious, and generous both as a judge and as a human being.

“He exemplified open-mindedness, collegiality, and integrity. He was unfailingly well prepared, civil, and intellectually formidable on every case he heard. He modeled the best of the judicial craft and was a proud and tireless guardian of judicial independence.

“Justice Stevens was born on April 20, 1920, in Chicago. He attended the University of Chicago Laboratory Schools for elementary and high school and then the University of Chicago for college.

“Justice Stevens graduated in 1941 and had begun work on a Master’s degree in English when his dean asked him to consider cryptographic work for the Navy. He took the suggestion to heart, and he was commissioned as a Naval officer.

“In his distinguished Navy career, Justice Stevens helped crack codes with important consequences for the war effort. He did this through his knack for seeing angles in problems that others had missed, an ability that would be recognized throughout his subsequent career.

“When he left the service, Justice Stevens pursued law school at the suggestion of his brother. At Northwestern, he became Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Law Review and graduated first in his class. His outstanding performance and a lucky coin flip with a classmate won him a clerkship with Justice Wiley B. Rutledge.

“Upon completion of the 1947 Term, Justice Rutledge gave Justice Stevens a photo inscribed ‘To my friend and former clerk with appreciation and affection.’ Years later, Justice Stevens made a practice of inscribing photos to his own clerks in the same way.

“After his clerkship, Justice Stevens returned home to Chicago. He became a leading litigator in private practice and argued a case in this Court. He specialized in antitrust law, a subject he also taught as an adjunct professor of law at Northwestern and at the University of Chicago.

“He accepted important opportunities for public service, including as an advisor on the Attorney General’s Advisory Committee on the antitrust laws and as a counsel to a special commission to investigate charges of corruption in the Illinois Supreme Court.

“He took cases pro bono, including a criminal matter in which he won reversal of his client’s murder conviction premised on a coerced confession.

“In 1970, he became a judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, and then, in 1975, President Gerald R. Ford appointed him to the Supreme Court of the United States.

“My distinguished predecessor, Attorney General Edward Levi, called Stevens, ‘a craftsman of the highest order whose opinions were gems of perfection.’

“In 2005, former President Ford reflected on the appointment with pride, writing of his own presidency, ‘I am prepared to allow history’s judgment of my term in office to rest, if necessary, exclusively on my nomination 30 years ago of Justice John Paul Stevens to the U. S. Supreme Court.’

“As a member of this Court, Justice Stevens was independent, insightful, and prolific. His vast body of opinions touched almost every corner of federal law. It would be impossible to do justice to that remarkable body of judicial work in these brief remarks, so I will limit myself to just a few examples.

“In the realm of criminal law, Justice Stevens’ landmark opinion in Apprendi v. New Jersey was the first in a line of cases that transformed the law of sentencing, a line that also included Justice Stevens’ opinions in United States v. Booker and Gall v. United States.

“His opinions in INS v. St. Cyr, Rasul v. Bush, and Hamdan v. Rumsfeld protected the writ of habeas corpus as a means of testing the legality of executive decisions.

“His opinion in Chevron v. Natural Resources Defense Council, holding that courts must defer to reasonable agency interpretations of ambiguous statutes, has chartered the course of administrative law for a generation.

“And in antitrust law, his first love, his influential opinions in cases like NCAA v. Board of Regents and American Needle v. NFL have guided the principles governing horizontal restraints adopted by associations and joint ventures.

“Justice Stevens’ time on the Court was defined not only by what he contributed to the law but by how he did so. He was kind and unassuming without any airs. He would often preface his questions from the bench with, ‘May I ask you a question?’

“He was a warm colleague both on and off the Bench. The affection that his fellow Justices felt for him was manifest. He also made good on the words he inscribed on the photos he gave his law clerks. They were both his former clerks and his friends.

“I first met the Justice just a few years after he came on the Court. As a new clerk for Justice Brennan, I dropped by the Stevens Chambers to talk with his clerks about a case. When he heard us talking in the clerks’ room, the Justice came in, plopped himself down in an easy chair and immediately entered into the conversation.

“It was clear that he loved the give and take of the conversation. It was clear that this kind of discussion was central to the way he made up his mind about cases. It was very clear that even though he was very attentive to what we thought, the final decision would be his based on his own independent judgment. And it was also very clear that his clerks loved being part of that process.

“For a moment, I was jealous of the fact that he had hired only two clerks who had undoubtedly become closer to their Justice than the rest of us in chambers with twice that many, but then I remembered, because they were not in the cert. pool, those two clerks would be working on every single cert. petition.

“But, while he was a congenial colleague and boss, Justice Stevens was also fearless in going it alone, whether piloting small airplanes, disputing that William Shakespeare actually wrote the Shakespeare plays, rooting for the Cubs as a south-sider, writing the first drafts of his opinions, or concurring or dissenting solo when his views departed from those of other Justices.

“He placed a premium on exercising independent judgment and was insistent on explaining the legal reasoning underlying that judgment. He also believed that it was important to change your mind when you concluded that your original position was wrong or even if one of your published opinions was wrong.

“As he put it just a few years before his retirement, ‘Learning on the bench has been one of the most important and rewarding aspects of my own experience over the last 35 years.’

“Justice Stevens embodied the independence and commitment to judging each case on its own merits. That is essential to the rule of law.

“When Justice Stevens retired from the Court at age 90, he had been working long after most people his age had retired. Yet he appeared to have become younger each year he sat on the bench. In the words of President Obama, he retired ‘at the top of his game.’ Not that he really retired in any conventional sense. In the years after leaving the Court, he published three books, including ‘The Making of a Justice: Reflections on My First 94 Years.’

“Although he traded tennis for ping-pong and acceded to his family’s wishes that he stop swimming in the open ocean on his own, he kept up the kind of pace that made many believe there might well be a second 94 years.

“In his last days, he flew to Portugal to participate in a conference. His travel companions reported he hadn’t lost a step. At the time of his passing in 2019, Justice Stevens had been retired from active service for nearly a decade and yet, in the words of Justice David Souter, he remained ‘the soul of principle and an irreplaceable friend.’

“Justice Stevens will long be remembered for his extraordinary service to our country, for his commitment to the rule of law, for his fundamental decency, and for the integrity with which he worked and lived.

“Mr. Chief Justice, on behalf of the lawyers of this nation and in particular the members of this Court’s Bar, I respectfully request that the resolutions presented to you in honor of John Paul Stevens be accepted by the Court and that together with the chronicle of these proceedings, they be ordered be kept for all time in the records of this Court.”

The Chief Justice said:

“Thank you, General Garland, General Prelogar, for your presentations in memory of Justice John Paul Stevens. We also extend our appreciation for the resolutions you have read today to Co-Chairs Jamal Greene and Carol Lee and members of the Committee on Resolutions and to Co-Chairs David Barron and Teresa Wynn Roseborough and the members of the Arrangements Committee.

“Your motion that they be made part of the permanent record of the Court is granted.

“As you’ve heard, John Paul Stevens was nominated to the office of United States Circuit Judge for the Seventh Circuit by President Richard M. Nixon on September 22, 1970. And just five years later, President Gerald Ford nominated him to be the 101st member of this Court. As Justice Stevens often noted, his appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee marked the last untelevised confirmation hearing for a Supreme Court nominee. The Senate confirmed him unanimously, and he took his seat on December 19, 1975.

“He led an extraordinary life of exemplary service to our country. He was born in Chicago. In the year he was born, Woodrow Wilson was president, and Prohibition had just become the law of the land. William Howard Taft had not yet become Chief Justice, and the Supreme Court did not yet have a building of its own. Young John’s parents ensured that he had an extraordinary upbringing. In 1927, he met both Amelia Earhart and Charles Lindbergh at the grand opening of the Stevens Hotel launched by his family in Chicago. Perhaps those encounters influenced his enthusiasm for aviation.

“Although he grew up in a steadfastly Republican family, his father took John to see President Franklin Roosevelt’s acceptance speech on the last day of the Democratic Party’s convention in 1932, at which FDR first used the term ‘New Deal.’ FDR was just the first of many presidents John Paul Stevens encountered personally. Eighty years later, in another memorable encounter, President Barack Obama awarded Justice Stevens the Presidential Medal of Freedom, citing his ‘clear and graceful manner in the defense of individual rights and the rule of law always favoring a pragmatic solution over an ideological one.’

“Among other memorable encounters with persons of note, John was in attendance at Wrigley Field when Babe Ruth made his famous ‘called shot’ home run. A life-long Cubs fan, he proudly displayed the box score from that game in his office. In 2006, he became the first Supreme Court Justice to step on the mound at Wrigley Field and throw out the first pitch at a Cubs game. He threw a strike. He called that the high point of his career.

“But there were, to say the least, other impressive accomplishments. He attended the University of Chicago and, upon graduation in 1941, enrolled, you’ve heard, in a secret program for cryptographic work in the United States Navy. Stationed in Oahu, Lieutenant Commander Stevens was part of a team of signal officers that cracked Japanese codes and hastened the end of the war.

“After that, he chose to study at Northwestern Law, both for its excellence and because of the opportunity it offered to complete three years of law study in two years. He became Co-Editor-in-Chief of the Law Review and earned record grades. He paid for his legal education through the GI Bill, and it proved to be an outstanding investment both for Stevens and for the country.

“John Paul Stevens came to the Supreme Court as a law clerk for Wiley Rutledge, and among the cases decided by the Court that Term was Ahrens against Clark, a challenge to postwar deportation brought by German prisoners detained on Ellis Island. Justice Rutledge dissented from an opinion limiting the writ of habeas corpus. In 2004, then Justice Stevens relied on the Rutledge dissent when writing for the Court in Rasul v. Bush, which found that federal courts were not barred from reviewing the constitutionality of detention of terrorists at Guantánamo Bay.

“He was always confident that a judge’s job was simply to articulate the best way to decide each case. And when in dissent, he never seemed to doubt that the Court would eventually see things his way.

“Following his clerkship, John Paul Stevens returned to practice in Chicago. He initially joined the firm that is now known as Jenner & Block, where he developed a specialized interest in antitrust law. His focus on that field led to his appointment as an associate counsel to the Subcommittee on the Study of Monopoly Power of the House Committee on the Judiciary.

“In 1952, he co-founded his own law firm. He devoted his time and considerable energy to various public service and pro bono work, observing later that most good lawyers devote a significant amount of time to public service for which they receive no pay.

“After 18 years in private practice, John Paul Stevens began his career of distinguished service to the judiciary. In nearly 35 years on this Court, Justice Stevens wrote 400 majority and plurality opinions for the Court, beginning with Mathews v. Diaz in 1976. On a few occasions, 1,415 to be precise, he wrote a concurring or dissenting opinion or separate statement.

“In this courtroom, Justice Stevens was universally polite and probing. He consistently asked questions that illuminated aspects of the case others had not spotted. Indeed, Justice Stevens’ penetrating perception extended even to matters of civility and grace. In 1980, before Sandra Day O’Connor joined the Court, he was a catalyst for dropping the traditional salutation of ‘Mr. Justice’ in favor of simply ‘Justice.’ When he retired in 2010, he noted with satisfaction that a letter written to the other Justices when he joined the Court would have been addressed ‘Dear Brethren,’ but he would begin ‘Dear Colleagues.’

“He did it all with a smile, an even keel, and a warm generosity, not just to those with life tenure or learned in the law but to all people he encountered. His service would be noteworthy alone for its length, the third longest tenure in the Court’s history and just a few months shy of the record. But he will remain an enduring inspiration to everyone associated with this Court because he served so well and with such a spirit of decency and kindness.

“John Paul Stevens said that he hoped his legacy would be to be remembered as an honest judge and a good judge who tried to reach the best result in every case. Perhaps he would have welcomed our affirmation of that sentiment to be the last word today. But I hope he would not mind a concurring opinion from the members of the Court and the members of the Bar of this Court that this one-of-a-kind American will long be remembered for his extraordinary patriotism, humanity, and contributions to the rule of law.”

STATEMENT FROM THE CHIEF JUSTICE

“I am authorized to announce that the Court has acted upon all cases submitted to the Court for decision this Term. Disposition of items considered at conference yesterday will be reflected on an Order List that will be released at 10:45 a.m. today. The Court will then be in recess from today until the first Monday in October 2022, at which time the October 2021 Term of the Court will be adjourned, and the October 2022 Term of the Court will begin, as provided by law.

“On behalf of all the Justices, I would like to thank the Supreme Court employees for their outstanding work and dedication to their important responsibilities this Term. I thank the members of the Court’s bar as well for their professionalism and cooperation.

“Before we rise for the summer, I have a number of employees to recognize. Collectively, these individuals have rendered more than five centuries of Supreme Court service.

“From the Clerk’s Office, Michael Duggan retired with more than 30 years of Supreme Court service, and Gary Kemp retired with nearly 30 years of service. From the Marshal’s Office, Dannie Veney retired with more than 38 years of Supreme Court service, Earnest Hicks retired with more than 36 years of service, and Willie Clayton retired with more than 25 years of service. Chief Deputy Marshal Richard Nelson will retire with more than 18 years of Supreme Court service and more than 48 years of federal service. From chambers, Michele “Shelly” Blincoe retires with more than 39 years of Supreme Court service, Janice Harley retired with more than 36 years of Supreme Court service, and Toni Daluge retires with more than 14 years of Supreme Court service.

“From the Supreme Court Police, Jeff Banaszak retired with more than 31 years of Supreme Court service, Bernard Bishop retired with more than 27 years of service, Eliud Rodriguez will retire with more than 26 years of service, Arthur Mackie retired with more than 25 years of service, Jeff Cooper retired with more than 20 years of service, and Casey Hills retired with more than 20 years of service.

“We sadly note deaths among long-serving employees this year. Virginia Singletary passed after more than 41 years of Supreme Court service, and Raymond Billeaud passed after more than 21 years as a Supreme Court Police Officer. Moses Humes passed shortly after his retirement from more than 22 years of Supreme Court service and more than 47 years of federal service.

“Robert J. Hawkins retired as the Court’s Director of Information Technology after more than 27 years of Supreme Court service. Mr. Hawkins ably led a department that provides key support to nearly every aspect of Court operations. He and his team were creative, agile, and essential in allowing us to discharge the public’s work through the coronavirus pandemic.

“Linda S. Maslow, who has served since 2012 as the 11th Librarian of the Court, will retire this summer after nearly 34 years of Supreme Court service. Ms. Maslow has guided our Library to embrace digital tools and resources while safeguarding its unique collection and extending a tradition of outstanding responsiveness to the Justices, employees, and bar members.

“The Court thanks our retiring employees for dedicated public service to Court and Country. We wish each of you well in your retirement.”

ORDER IN PENDING CASE

No. 22A136. Richard Rose, et al., Applicants v. Brad Raffensperger, Georgia Secretary of State. Application to vacate stay presented to Justice Thomas and by him referred to the Court granted. The August 12, 2022 order of the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit staying the district court's injunction is vacated. Respondent's emergency motion for a stay pending appeal relied on the traditional stay factors and a likelihood of success on the merits, see Nken v. Holder, 556 U. S. 418 (2009), yet the Eleventh Circuit failed to analyze the motion under that framework. Instead, it applied a version of the Purcell principle, see Purcell v. Gonzalez, 549 U. S. 1 (2006) (per curiam), that respondent could not fairly have advanced himself in light of his previous representations to the district court that the schedule on which the district court proceeded was sufficient to enable effectual relief as to the November elections should applicants win at trial. The Eleventh Circuit may reconsider whether a stay pending appeal is appropriate, subject to sound equitable discretion.
